

Raising of Thetis May Take 10 Days, Admiralty Asserts

Fleet of Salvage Vessels
Is Hampered by Treacherous Currents

BRITISH PUBLIC ASKS FACTS ABOUT TRAGEDY

Parliament Expected to Air
Case at Session This Morning

Birkenhead, England, June 4 (AP)—A fleet of salvage vessels worked frantically today over the sunken submarine Thetis but with little hope that the treacherous currents of the Irish sea would give up the submersible and her 99 dead for five or 10 days.

While an aroused nation awaited official light on the worst disaster in submarine annals, the toll of dead was revised to 99 when it was disclosed that one man, unlisted heretofore, was aboard the Thetis when she went down on a trial run last Thursday.

He was Donald Vivian Tyler, 42-year-old fitter employed by the Vickers-Armstrong works.

The country's best salvage equipment and 30 expert divers were able to work for only about 10 minutes in the swift sea currents at each tide at the spot where the Thetis lies on an even keel in Liverpool bay, 130 feet under water.

Raising Ship Long Job

A high official of the Mersey dock and harbor board, which is directing salvage operations in cooperation with Cammell Laird, Ltd., builders of the Thetis, predicted the crew, mysteriously disabled craft would not be brought to the surface for at least five, possibly ten days. Pointed questions concerning the disaster, arising throughout the nation and reflected in press comment, brought an admiralty statement that "a full inquiry will be held as soon as practicable."

It was assumed the inquiry before a naval board would be secret, although public inquests over the dead are required.

The attitude of some quarters of the press questioning the efficiency of rescue operations was given support when Chief Divier William McKenzie returned to Liverpool from the scene and expressed the opinion that if divers had arrived 12 to 15 hours earlier he believed virtually all hands could have been saved. Newspapers asked "could these men have been saved?" and "who was to blame?"

Parliament May Act

The opening session of parliament tomorrow was expected to result in more questions from members wanting the admiralty to explain the many mysteries of the disaster and the subsequent rescue work.

The sorrow of the entire nation was reflected at the great ship-building center of Birkenhead and Liverpool where flags flew at half-mast and holiday crowds on the docks spoke in subdued tones. In village churches, in cathedrals and aboard all warships special prayers were offered.

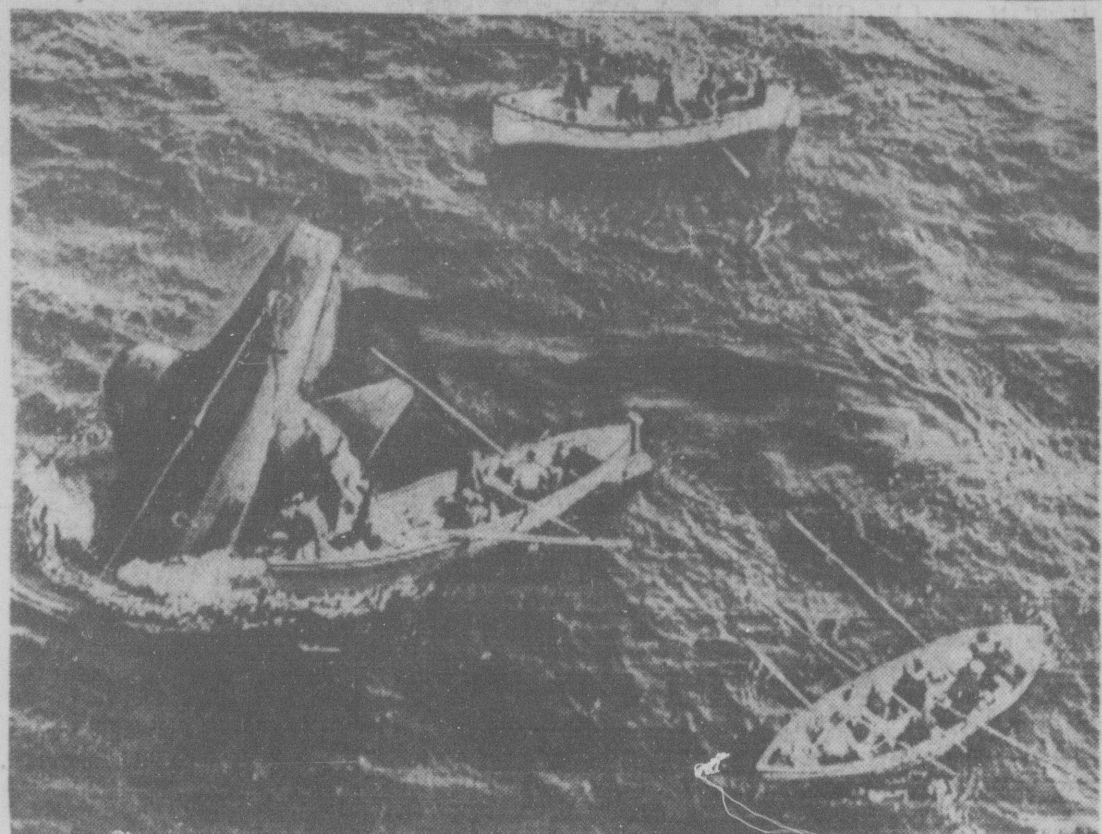

A few relatives attended the services but most hid their grief in the privacy of their homes. To them came a message from King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, now on a North American tour, expressing "deep sympathy." Queen Mother Mary likewise sent condolences. Men of the salvage ships, anchored near the spot where the Thetis lay, held short memorial services for the dead.

The mayor of Birkenhead said a meeting would be called tomorrow to consider raising funds for dependents of the dead. He said inquiries had been received from all parts of the country from people eager to help.

Of four survivors of the Thetis, two still were suffering from shock.

(Continued on Page Two)

Thetis, with Nose In the Mud, 130 Feet Down

Three boats from British naval craft gather about the upturned stern of the submarine Thetis, fourteen miles off the coast of North Wales, stuck tight in the mud 130 feet down. Four of the 78 men aboard were quickly brought up by use of the Davis "third lung" similar to the U. S. Momsen lung. The submersible went down during test run as the Admiralty made final tests before acceptance.

200,000 Thrilled By Stunt Fliers At Birmingham

Nation's Most Daring
Pilots Thrill Record
Crowd

By DEVON FRANCIS

Birmingham, Ala., June 4 (AP)—Down here in the hot blizzard and candlelit rain, where they never do things by halves, the city of Birmingham concluded a two-day air show today which probably played to a bigger audience than pilots have had in the history of American flying.

Fully 200,000 spectators, and more than likely 225,000, watched the close of the 1939 annual national air carnival, which is to Birmingham what the tournament of roses is to Pasadena.

And every mother's son of them got in free. The air carnival set a national record for attendance by those who crane their necks to watch smoke writers and low-flying aerobatics, it also attracted the cream of fliers who earn their living by conjuring new stunts for crowds whose memories go back to the flying circus of the post-war days.

Maryland Flier Stars

Vincent "Squeek" Burnett of College Park, Md., whose bride of five months lectured him severely on the hazards of "grass cutting" with his ten-year-old plane before he went aloft, promptly proceeded to fly inverted over the airport with no more than 15 feet of daylight between his cockpit and the ground.

Clem Whittenbeck of Lincoln, Neb., did an outside loop, one of the most difficult in the catechism of stunt flying because a pilot is likely to lose control of his faculties when centrifugal force causes congestion of blood in his head.

Dick Graner, Canadian world war ace now living in Chicago, took off in a silver plane to touch the turf with first one wing and then the other in a demonstration of how flying should not be done. Bobby Lupton of Detroit, one of the country's most accomplished women fliers, did a reverse spin with her fast, low-winged monoplane, turning to the right and then to the left and recovering at a safe distance from the ground.

Air Hostess Entertains

Miss Katherine Wilson of San Francisco, an air hostess, chosen last night by a harried group of judges as "Miss American Aviation" for 1939, reigned today over the

(Continued on Page Two)

Parking Meters and Curfew Laws To Go If Miss Detamore Is Mayor

Webster Springs, Va., June 4 (AP)—Parking meters and curfew laws will go if Webster Springs gets a new mayor.

Miss Detamore is again 'em. The 24-year-old waitress and cook has hopes of being mayor after next Tuesday's election. Although the man who has the job now thinks he'll win in a walk.

The dark-haired, blue-eyed candidate put the last nails in her opponent today.

"I'm running just because I want to," she said, and added: "The way the law is now women aren't supposed to go out on the streets at night."

"And another thing: We have parking meters and a town like this can't big enough to have parking meters."

"If I elected both those things I'm going out—quick."

Now for Mayor Kenneth White's view of the issues at hand: The mayor can't see why anyone

Memorial to Rudy Voted by Council

Mt. Airy, Md., June 4 (AP)—Municipal aid for the construction of a band stand as a memorial to the late Walter R. Rudy, commissioner of motor vehicles, was assured today by a vote of the mayor and council.

The city gave permission for erection of the stand in the municipal park, on land given by Rudy, who died two months ago. The Memorial Association has collected several thousand dollars for the construction and federal aid will be asked for the rest.

30,000 Jews May Soon Find Haven In Philippines

U. S. Officials Want Them
There To Offset Japan's
Influence

Washington, June 4 (AP)—Settlement of tens of thousands of German Jewish refugees in the Philippines to offset Japanese influence is a possibility being turned over in the minds of officials here.

A decision will await the report of a special committee recently sent to the Philippines to make a survey by the president's advisory committee on refugees.

The tentative plan, in which the Philippine commonwealth is reliably reported to have joined, is to settle some 30,000 German political exiles in the island of Mindanao, where the Japanese in the Philippines are concentrated.

Both the Philippine government and United States authorities in touch with the Philippines are preoccupied with the growing Japanese colony at Davao, on Mindanao, second largest of the Philippine group.

There are now 20,000 Japanese there. Furthermore, their influence is out of all proportion to their numbers—and presumably it will multiply after the islands reach their independence.

At Davao the Japanese own more than 50 per cent of the arable land, 70 per cent of the abaca production. They control more than 50 per cent of the lumber, copra, hemp and fish exports, 95 per cent of Davao's exports to the United States. Significantly, Davao buys only 2 per cent of its imports from the United States, more than 80 per cent from Japan.

Mindanao is rich in iron, coal, chromium and timber. The Japanese at Davao are a compact unit. They do not amalgamate with the rest of the population. Mindanao is regarded by the Japanese as a vast potential field for immigration and settlement.

The number of Jewish refugees likely to be settled in Mindanao is 30,000, according to present plans, but this figure may be raised or lowered as a result of the forthcoming report of the investigating committee.

According to estimates of officials here, some 1,000 German Jewish refugees already have reached Mindanao. It is significant that no restrictions are being imposed on the type of refugee.

Hitler Cables Regrets Over Thetis Sinking

Berlin, June 4 (AP)—Reichsfuehrer Hitler today sent a cablegram to King George VI expressing regret over the loss of life in the sinking of the British submarine Thetis and extending the sympathy of the German people to relatives of the submarine's victims. The text of the Fuehrer's message was not disclosed.

King and Queen Go to Church in Canadian Village

Later Talk with Disabled
War Veterans at Winnipeg

By FRANK H. KING

Winnipeg, Manitoba, June 4 (AP)—King George VI and Queen Elizabeth went to church today with the plain people of Canada at a service of united denominations in the little town of Portage la Prairie, blackland farming center 54 miles west of Winnipeg.

After the service they came to Winnipeg by train, where they met and talked with disabled war veterans on hospital beds and in arm chairs in the rotunda of the railway station.

The meeting was arranged today for the veterans because they had no opportunity of seeing the royal visitors when their train stopped here on its westward trip across Canada 11 days ago.

Change Itinerary

The second Winnipeg visit and the stop for the church service at Portage la Prairie were not on the official itinerary but were made at the request of the king and queen. This afternoon the blue and silver royal train started for western Ontario by a northerly route through the wilderness at the top of the Lake of the Woods and Lake Nipigon.

There will be several short unofficial pauses tomorrow and a 50-minute stop at Sudbury at 6:40 p. m., EST., a dozen brief stops also will be made Tuesday and Wednesday at towns and cities in the Niagara peninsula before the king and queen cross at 9:30 p. m. Wednesday.

(Continued on Page Two)

Lou Fette, Star Boston Pitcher, Shows Speed in Marrying Pretty Missouri Girl

Boston, June 4 (AP)—Lou Fette, (above) husky right-handed pitcher of the Boston Bees, stepped "out of bounds" today on a matrimonial venture, and had to make a quick run-back from Brookline into Boston before he could be married.

Lou, and his fiancée, pretty Miss Lucille Greer, of Alma, Mo., (also above) were all set to be married at the Brookline Baptist Church when the officiating clergyman—"umpr-ing" for the nonce—found Lou's license under a 5-day waiver clause, would enable him to be married only within the confines of Boston.

The clergyman, the Rev. Samuel M. Lindsay, called time out for a conference while the wedding couple, and their attendants, Mr. and Mrs. Danny MacPayden, waited. Then, arrangements were made for the ceremony to be performed at the second Unitarian church in Boston—three quarters of a mile away.

Everything went off as scheduled thereafter.

Danny MacPayden, as best man, was pinch-hitting for Jim Turner, who was injured in yesterday's Bees game.

Barred from Cuba 907 German Jews Anchor off Miami

Negotiators Seeking Permission for Them To Land at Havana

Have No Clearance Papers
To Permit Landing in United States

Miami, Fla., June 4 (AP)—The German steamship St. Louis, bearing 907 Jewish refugees from Nazi Germany and apparently steaming in aimless circles as negotiators sought to gain them entry into Cuba, dropped anchor about three miles off Miami beach today.

A coast guard patrol boat, sent out when immigration authorities made a routine inquiry as to the vessel's position, first sighted the craft moving extremely slowly past Lauderdale, bound southward.

Anchor off Miami

The patrol boat fell in behind the ocean liner and by radio reported its position to shore stations. When the big craft dropped anchor off the Miami light two coast guard planes were dispatched from the Miami base to keep it under surveillance. After about two hours the St. Louis lifted its anchor and resumed its slow cruise toward the southeast.

That is the direction of Cuba, where attorneys for agencies interested in the refugees' welfare were reported negotiating with the government to permit them to land. The ship left Hamburg May 15 for Havana, and was forced to sail from the Cuban capital Friday by orders of President Frederico Laredo Bru.

Barred from U. S.

Immigration Inspector Walter B. Thomas said the craft, with no clearance papers from Havana to a United States port, could not put into Miami or Key West unless in distress.

The captain of the St. Louis said

(Continued on Page Two)

11 Injured When Excursion Train Runs into Freight

Lake Hopatcong, N. J., June 4 (AP)—Eleven persons were injured and almost 400 homeward-bound world's fair visitors milled in panic in the eerie light of blazing cars today as a Lackawanna railroad excursion train crashed into the rear of a 96-car freight train shortly after midnight.

Three cars of the excursion train bound for Scranton, Pa., carried fair scouts and there were also 90 boys aboard. Seven fair scouts, two of the freight train crew and two men passengers in the excursion train were injured and taken to Dover General Hospital.

The passenger engine left the track and was wrecked as it derailed the caboose and three cars ahead of it in the freight train.

The stove inside set fire to the caboose and the flames spread quickly to the other three derailed freight cars, lighting up the countryside and adding to the terror of the passengers.

Rep. Hawks Calls For Square Deal, End of New Deal

Congressman Flays Roosevelt Administration
in Address

Declares Hopkins Will Not Allow Business To Go Ahead

Washington, June 4.—The "in-consistencies" of the New Deal "are something to marvel at," Representative Hawks, Jr., elected to the National House from Wisconsin in the Republican landslide of 1938, declared tonight in an address broadcast coast-to-coast.

Hawks pointed out that the Roosevelt administration "has been trying to put 12 million unemployed back to work since 1932" at the same time that "they have consistently passed legislation designed to drive capital and industry deeper into their holes."

"The amazing part of it is," Hawks said, "that meantime they have demanded that business and industry open up and expand their activities!"

Scores Harry Hopkins

Calling the appointment of Harry L. Hopkins to the secretaryship of commerce "a blow below the belt" to business, Hawks asserted that "these professional boondogglers have no love for private industry and Harry Hopkins has no intention of offering to business an opportunity to go ahead." He contrasted the efforts of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace to curtail farm production in this country at the same time that "the state Department was entering into so-called trade agreements that permitted the dumping into the American market of cheap foreign produce."

Hawks declared that by the building of a "top-heavy bureaucracy, we have just about destroyed local governments."

"Local County Boards," he continued, "meet to set up the budget for the coming year, and are at once confronted with the necessity of meeting mandatory obligations imposed upon them by the State and National government." In November, 1938, as a member of the County Board of my county in Wisconsin, we discovered that of the million-dollar budget we had set up, 63 per cent of the moneys appropriated were required of us by reason of state and federal demands. In other words, the basic unit of government in this country, the county board, could control only 37 per cent of its activities.

Would Restore State Rights

"I believe it should be Republican policy to return immediately to the states and other local units of gov-

(Continued on Page Two)

Byrnes Seeking Change in Scale Of Age Pensions

Washington, June 4 (AP)—Senator Byrnes (D-SO) proposed today that federal contributions to the states for old age assistance payments be made on a sliding scale based on the state's per capita income.

Asserting this would assure a minimum payment of at least $15 a month even in the poorer states, Byrnes said it would be "a great deal more practical benefit" than increasing the present maximum $15 a month federal contribution as recommended by the House Ways and Means Committee.

Under the present social security law, monthly old age assistance payments are made by the states, but the federal government matches state funds dollar-for-dollar up to $15. Thus if the payment in a state is $30, $15 comes from the state and $15 from the federal government.

In recommending amendments to the Social Security law, the House committee proposed yesterday that the federal government match state payments up to $20 a month.

Byrnes' plan provides for the federal government to contribute one-half to two-thirds of the total payment, but in no case more than $15. Whatever percentage the state would have to put up under his plan would be determined by the relation of the state's per capita income to the national average.

This would mean that in the state of lowest per capita income, if the old age assistance payment was $15 a month, the federal government would contribute $10 of the total and the state $5. On the other hand, if the state of greatest per capita income wished to make payments of $15 a month it would have to put up $7.50 and the government would contribute $7.50.

Byrnes said payments in some states now run as low as $8 a month because the states could afford only $4 and the federal government could share only on a 50-50 basis.

Byrnes said he also would propose a $5 minimum unemployment compensation payment—it now runs lower in some states

Hitler Defies London, Paris For Practices

INDICTED BY U. S.

Mrs. James C. Ayer

Mrs. Mae Hancock Ayer of New York, wealthy widow of the late Dr. James C. Ayer, is under federal indictment on six counts charging smuggling of jewelry, furs and other apparel. The smugglings, the charges declare, took place in 1937 and 1938. If convicted, Mrs. Ayer would face a maximum sentence of 12 years and a $30,000 fine.

Much Damage Is Caused by Rains In West Virginia

(By The Associated Press)

West Virginia, swinging from the threat of drought, tallied up Sunday a heavy 60-hour loss from storms and torrential rains.

One municipality reckoned damages from cloudburst, another from residential district floods while two cities repaired damages done in electrical storms.

The cloudburst flooded Cameron with a foot of water in portions Friday and ruined large stores of merchandise in the low-lying business district.

Sewers became clogged and water poured across sidewalks into basements and in the rear of the old Romine building a timber retaining wall was swept out.

Rainfall within a half-hour was estimated at two inches.

A woman was forced to wade waist-deep in water at Hinton to carry her young son from flood dangers, and at least one other family was driven from home.

In a 14-hour period, starting Friday, 2.75 inches of rain fell, flooding houses, damaging trees and leaving from two to four inches of mud and gravel on streets and sidewalks in the west end.

Water rose in the home of Ed Adkins on a bank below Summers street and Mrs. Adkins was forced to wade to carry her son to safety.

On Friday also lightning set afire three oil tanks at Morgantown, where 1.54 inches of rain was reported in one hour.

Telephonic communications were disrupted.

Telephones were likewise thrown out of order temporarily at Fairmont when lightning struck a cable. Heavy rains were reported at Beckley and Wheeling.

Skies cleared Sunday for most of the state and temperatures over a large portion remained in the 70's and 80's.

Struck by Train, Man Apologizes To Company for Being on Track

By GLADWIN HILL

New York, June 4 (AP)—If you ever apologized to a train, fought a duel with custard pies, or got robbed by a man with a 29-inch waist, you know how some of the stars in last week's calvaries of cockeyed occurrences felt.

Hit by a train, an Oklahoma man wrote the railroad apologizing for being on the track. . . . A Nebraska girl had to move to California because whenever anybody said "sneeze" she sneezed, and everybody in town knew it. . . .

To settle a literary argument, two Louisiana co-eds fought a duel with chocolate pies. . . . When a car crashed into the living room of a Pittsburgh home, a woman eye-witness exclaimed: "what lovely curtains!"

A New York judge ruled it's legal to thumb your nose at somebody if they're more than 16 feet away. . . . Held up by two men, a Chicago

Fuehrer Says British and French Are Reviving Course of Action Which He Declares Led to War

Declares Germany Is Un- impressed by Threats No Matter from What Quarter They Come

Kassel, Germany, June 4 (AP)—Reichsfuehrer Hitler today told a vast crowd of German war veterans that Britain and France were pursuing a policy of "encirclement," reviving international practices which he said led to the world war.

But, Hitler declared, there have been fundamental changes in Germany, the chief being a determination not to neglect armament and defense as, he said, they were neglected by the Kaiser's government before 1914.

Today, he said, "Germany is 'un-impressed by threats no matter from what quarter they come.'"

The former corporal told his world war comrades-at-arms that Germany's leaders must be solidly.

Insists Upon Good Soldiers

"I have seen to it that anyone who has anything to do with the leadership of the state is a 100 per cent man and soldier," he said. "If ever I observe that any person cannot measure up to those responsibilities he will be dismissed from his post—no matter who he may be."

"It is my unalterable determination to see to it that the highest leadership of the state and army thinks with the courage of the simple musketeer who, without thought of self, gives up his life if orders require him to do so."

There was conjecture in Nazi party quarters whether the Fuehrer's remark might mean that some persons in high places were slated for removal.

300,000 Greet Fuehrer

Hitler flew from Berlin in a military plane and was greeted enthusiastically by throngs which accompanied him through beflagged streets to the Karlsruhe, a field on the edge of this Prussian city where a crowd estimated by Nazi authorities at 300,000 awaited him.

Hitler's condemnation of what he again called "encirclement" was applauded enthusiastically. It followed his rejection of the thesis of German "war guilt" and his charge that "the treaty of Versailles demonstrated that were the real war aims of the French and British encirclement politicians of that time."

Those, he declared, "were the robbery of the German colonies, destruction of German commerce, and annihilation of the German merchant fleet and thereby of the fundamental basis of German existence and frustration of German political aspirations—in other words the same objectives which animate the encirclement politicians of today."

Daladier Confident He Can Extend Allied Front

Paris, June 4 (AP)—Premier Daladier predicted today a "prompt and successful conclusion" to efforts to extend the British-French front and again proclaimed France's "no to aggression."

The premier, who has virtual dictatorial power to rule France by decree until next November, delivered an account of his leadership of French domestic and foreign policy to the executive committee of his radical Socialist party. It was broadcast throughout the nation.

The committee unanimously adopted a resolution approving Daladier's policies and another expression of endorsement came from

(Continued on Page Two)

Raising of Thetis May Take 10 Days, Admiralty Asserts

Fleet of Salvage Vessels
Is Hampered by Treacherous Currents

BRITISH PUBLIC ASKS FACTS ABOUT TRAGEDY

Parliament Expected to Air
Case at Session This Morning

Birkenhead, England, June 4 (AP)—A fleet of salvage vessels worked frantically today over the sunken submarine Thetis but with little hope that the treacherous currents of the Irish sea would give up the submersible and her 99 dead for five or 10 days.

While an aroused nation awaited official light on the worst disaster in submarine annals, the toll of dead was revised to 99 when it was disclosed that one man, unlisted heretofore, was aboard the Thetis when she went down on a trial run last Thursday.

He was Donald Vivian Tyler, 42-year-old fitter employed by the Wickers-Armstrong works.

The country's best salvage equipment and 30 expert divers were able to work for only about 40 minutes in the swift sea currents at each tide at the spot where the Thetis lies on an even keel in Liverpool bay, 130 feet under water.

Raising Ship Long Job

A high official of the Mersey dock and harbor board, which is directing salvage operations in cooperation with Cammell Laird, Ltd., builders of the Thetis, predicted the new, mysteriously disabled craft would not be brought to the surface for at least five, possibly ten days.

Pointed questions concerning the disaster, arising throughout the nation and reflected in press comment, brought an admiralty statement that "a full inquiry will be held as soon as practicable."

It was assumed the inquiry before a naval board would be secret, although public inquests over the dead are required.

The attitude of some quarters of the press questioning the efficiency of rescue operations was given support when Chief Diver William McKenzie returned to Liverpool from the scene and expressed the opinion that if divers had arrived 12 to 15 hours earlier he believed virtually all hands could have been saved.

Newspapers asked "could these men have been saved?" and "who was to blame?"

Parliament May Act

The opening session of parliament tomorrow was expected to result in more questions from members wanting the admiralty to explain the many mysteries of the disaster and the subsequent rescue work.

The sorrow of the entire nation was reflected at the great ship-building center of Birkenhead and Liverpool where flags flew at half-staff and holiday crowds on the docks spoke in subdued tones.

In village churches, in cathedrals and aboard all warships special prayers were offered.

A few relatives attended the services but most hid their grief in the privacy of their homes. To them came a message from King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, now on a North American tour, expressing "deep sympathy." Queen Mother Mary likewise sent condolences.

Men of the salvage ships, anchored near the spot where the Thetis lay, held short memorial services for the dead.

The mayor of Birkenhead said a meeting would be called tomorrow to consider raising funds for dependents of the dead. He said inquiries had been received from all parts of the country from people eager to help.

Of four survivors of the Thetis, two still were suffering from shock.

(Continued on Page Two)

Thetis, with Nose In the Mud, 130 Feet Down

Three boats from British naval craft gather about the upturned stern of the submarine Thetis, fourteen miles off the coast of North Wales, stuck tight in the mud 130 feet down. Four of the 78 men aboard were quickly brought up by use of the Davis "third lung" similar to the U. S. Momsen lung. The submersible went down during test run as the Admiralty made final tests before acceptance.

200,000 Thrilled By Stunt Fliers At Birmingham

Nation's Most Daring
Pilots Thrill Record
Crowd

By DEVON FRANCIS

Birmingham, Ala., June 4 (AP)—Down here in the hot biscuit and candied yam belt, where they never do things by halves, the city of Birmingham concluded a two-day air show today which probably played to a bigger audience than pilots have had in the history of American flying.

Fully 200,000 spectators, and more than likely 225,000, watched the close of the ninth annual national air carnival, which is to Birmingham what the tournament of roses is to Pasadena.

And every mother's son of them got in free. The air carnival set a national record for attendance by those who crane their necks to watch smoke writers and low-flying aerobatics, it also attracted the cream of fliers who earn their living by conjuring new stunts for crowds whose memories go back to the flying circus of the post-war days.

Maryland Flier Stars

Vincent "Squeek" Burnett of College Park, Md., whose bride of five months lectured him severely on the hazards of "grass cutting" with his ten-year-old plane before he went aloft, promptly proceeded to fly inverted over the airport with no more than 15 feet of daylight between his cockpit and the ground. Clem Whittenbeck of Lincoln, Neb., did an outside loop, one of the most difficult in the catechism of stunt flying because a pilot is likely to lose control of his faculties when centrifugal force causes congestion of blood in his head.

Dick Granere, Canadian world war ace now living in Chicago, took off in a flivver plane to touch the turf with first one wing and then the other in a demonstration of how flying should not be done. Bobby Lupton of Detroit, one of the country's most accomplished women fliers, did a reverse spin with her fast, low-winged monoplane, turning to the right and then to the left and recovering at a safe distance from the ground.

Air Hostess Entertains

Miss Katherine Wilson of San Francisco, an air hostess, chosen last night by a harried group of judges as "Miss American Aviation" for 1939, reigned today over the

(Continued on Page Two)

Memorial to Rudy Voted by Council

Mt. Airy, Md., June 4 (AP)—Municipal aid for the construction of a band stand as a memorial to the late Walter R. Rudy, commissioner of motor vehicles, was assured today by a vote of the mayor and council.

The city gave permission for erection of the stand in the municipal park, on land given by Rudy, who died two months ago. The Memorial Association has collected several thousand dollars for the construction and federal aid will be asked for the rest.

30,000 Jews May Soon Find Haven In Philippines

U. S. Officials Want Them
There To Offset Japan's
Influence

Washington, June 4 (AP)—Settlement of tens of thousands of German Jewish refugees in the Philippines to offset Japanese influence is a possibility being turned over in the minds of officials here.

A decision will await the report of a special committee recently sent to the Philippines to make a survey by the president's advisory committee on refugees.

The tentative plan, in which the Philippine commonwealth is reportedly to have joined, is to settle some 30,000 German political exiles in the island of Mindanao, where the Japanese in the Philippines are concentrated.

Both the Philippine government and United States authorities in touch with the Philippines are preoccupied with the growing Japanese colony at Davao, on Mindanao, second largest of the Philippine group.

There are now 20,000 Japanese there. Furthermore, their influence is out of all proportion to their numbers — and presumably it will multiply after the islands reach their independence.

At Davao the Japanese own more than 50 per cent of the arable land, 70 per cent of the abaca production. They control more than 50 per cent of the lumber, copra, hemp and fish exports. 95 per cent of Davao's exports to the United States, significantly, Davao buys only 2 per cent of its imports from the United States, more than 80 per cent from Japan.

Mindanao is rich in iron, coal, chromium and timber. The Japanese at Davao are a compact unit. They do not amalgamate with the rest of the population. Mindanao is regarded by the Japanese as a vast potential field for immigration and settlement.

The number of Jewish refugees likely to be settled in Mindanao is 30,000, according to present plans, but this figure may be raised or lowered as a result of the forthcoming report of the investigating committee.

According to estimates of officials here, some 1,000 German Jewish refugees already have reached Mindanao. It is significant that no restrictions are being imposed on the type of refugee.

Hitler Cables Regrets Over Thetis Sinking

Berlin, June 4 (AP)—Reichsfuehrer Hitler today sent a cablegram to King George VI expressing regret over the loss of life in the sinking of the British submarine Thetis and extending the sympathy of the German people to relatives of the submarine's victims. The text of the Fuehrer's message was not disclosed.

King and Queen Go to Church in Canadian Village

Later Talk with Disabled
War Veterans at Winnipeg

By FRANK H. KING

Winnipeg, Manitoba, June 4 (AP)—King George VI and Queen Elizabeth went to church today with the plain people of Canada at a service of united denominations in the little town of Portage La Prairie, blackland farming center 54 miles west of Winnipeg.

After the service they came to Winnipeg by train, where they met and talked with disabled war veterans on hospital beds and in arm chairs in the rotunda of the railway station.

The meeting was arranged today for the veterans because they had no opportunity of seeing the royal visitors when their train stopped here on its westward trip across Canada 11 days ago.

Change Itinerary

The second Winnipeg visit and the stop for the church service at Portage La Prairie were not on the official itinerary but were made at the request of the king and queen.

This afternoon the blue and silver train started for western Ontario by a northerly route through the wilderness at the top of the Lake of the Woods and Lake Nipigon.

There will be several short unofficial pauses tomorrow and a 50-minute stop at Sudbury at 6:40 p. m. EST., a dozen brief stops also will be made Tuesday and Wednesday at towns and cities in the Niagara peninsula before the king and queen cross at 9:30 p. m. Wednesday.

(Continued on Page Two)

Lou Fette, Star Boston Pitcher, Shows Speed in Marrying Pretty Missouri Girl

Boston, June 4 (AP)—Lou Fette, (above) husky right-handed pitcher of the Boston Bees, stepped "out of bounds" today on a matrimonial venture, and had to make a quick run-back from Brookline into Boston before he could be married.

Lou, and his fiancée, pretty Miss Lucille Greer, of Alma, Mo., (also above) were all set to be married at the Brookline Baptist Church when the officiating clergyman—"umpr-ing" for the nonce—found Lou's license under a 5-day waiver clause, would enable him to be married only within the confines of Boston.

Barred from Cuba 907 German Jews Anchor off Miami

Negotiators Seeking Permission for Them To
Land at Havana

Have No Clearance Papers
To Permit Landing in
United States

Miami, Fla., June 4 (AP)—The German steamship St. Louis, bearing 907 Jewish refugees from Nazi Germany and apparently steaming in aimless circles as negotiators sought to gain them entry into Cuba, dropped anchor about three miles off Miami beach today.

A coast guard patrol boat, sent out when immigration authorities made a routine inquiry as to the vessel's position, first sighted the craft moving extremely slowly past Lauderdale, bound southward.

Anchor off Miami

The patrol boat fell in behind the ocean liner and by radio reported its position to shore stations. When the big craft dropped anchor off the Miami light two coast guard planes were dispatched from the Miami base to keep it under surveillance. After about two hours the St. Louis lifted its anchor and resumed its slow cruise toward the southeast.

That is the direction of Cuba, where attorneys for agencies interested in the refugees' welfare were reported negotiating with the government to permit them to land. The ship left Hamburg May 15 for Havana, and was forced to sail from the Cuban capital Friday by orders of President Frederico Laredo Bru.

Barred from U. S.

Immigration Inspector Walter B. Thomas said the craft, with no clearance papers from Havana to a United States port, could not put into Miami or Key West unless in distress.

The captain of the St. Louis said

(Continued on Page Two)

11 Injured When Excursion Train Runs into Freight

Lake Hopatcong, N. J., June 4 (AP)—Eleven persons were injured and almost 400 homeward-bound world's fair visitors milled in panic in the eerie light of blazing cars today as a Lackawanna railroad excursion train crashed into the rear of a 96-car freight train shortly after midnight.

Three cars of the excursion train bound for Scranton, Pa., carried girl scouts and there were also 90 boys aboard. Seven girl scouts, two of the freight train crew and two men passengers in the excursion train were injured and taken to Dover General Hospital.

The passenger engine left "the track and was wrecked as it derailed the caboose and three cars ahead of it in the freight train."

The stove inside set fire to the caboose and the flames spread quickly to the other three derailed freight cars, lighting up the countryside and adding to the terror of the passengers.

Rep. Hawks Calls For Square Deal, End of New Deal

Congressman Flays Roosevelt Administration
in Address

Declares Hopkins Will Not Allow Business To
Go Ahead

Washington, June 4 (AP)—The "inconsistencies" of the New Deal "are something to marvel at," Representative Hawks, Jr., elected to the National House from Wisconsin in the Republican landslide of 1938, declared tonight in an address broadcast coast-to-coast.

Hawks pointed out that the Roosevelt administration "has been trying to put 12 million unemployed back to work since 1933" at the same time that "they have consistently passed legislation designed to drive capital and industry deeper into their holes."

"The amazing part of it is," Hawks said, "that meantime they have demanded that business and industry open up and expand their activities."

Scores Harry Hopkins

Calling the appointment of Harry L. Hopkins to the secretaryship of commerce "a blow below the belt" to business, Hawks asserted that "these professional bondholders have no love for private industry and Harry Hopkins has no intention of offering to business an opportunity to go ahead." He contrasted the efforts of Secretary of Agriculture Wallace to curtail farm production in this country at the same time that "the state Department was entering into so-called trade agreements that permitted the dumping into the American market of cheap foreign produce."

Hawks declared that by the building of a "top-heavy bureaucracy, we have just about destroyed local governments."

"Local County Boards," he continued, "meet to set up the budget for the coming year, and are at once confronted with the necessity of meeting mandatory obligations imposed upon them by the State and National governments." In November, 1938, as a member of the County Board of my county in Wisconsin, we discovered that of the million-dollar budget we had set up, 63 per cent of the moneys appropriated were required of us by reason of state and federal demands. In other words, the basic unit of government in this country, the county board, could control only 37 per cent of its activities.

Would Restore State Rights

"I believe it should be Republican policy to return immediately to the states and other local units of gov-

(Continued on Page Two)

Byrnes Seeking Change in Scale Of Age Pensions

Washington, June 4 (AP)—Senator Byrnes (D-S.C.) proposed today that federal contributions to the states for old age assistance payments be made on a sliding scale based on the state's per capita income.

Asserting this would assure a minimum payment of at least $15 a month even in the poorer states, Byrnes said it would be of "a great deal more practical benefit" than increasing the present maximum $15 a month federal contribution as recommended by the House Ways and Means Committee.

Under the present social security law, monthly old age assistance payments are made by the states, but the federal government matches state funds dollar-for-dollar up to $15. Thus if the payment in a state is $30, $15 comes from the state and $15 from the federal government.

In recommending amendments to the Social Security law, the House committee proposed yesterday that the federal government match state payments up to $20 a month.

Byrnes' plan provides for the federal government to contribute one-half to two-thirds of the total payment, but in no case more than $15. Whatever percentage the state would have to put up under his plan would be determined by the relation of the state's per capita income to the national average.

This would mean that in the state of lowest per capita income, if the old age assistance payment was $15 a month, the federal government would contribute $10 of the total and the state $5. On the other hand, if the state of greatest per capita income wished to make payments of $15 a month it would have to put up $7.50 and the government would contribute $7.50.

Byrnes said payments in some states now run as low as $8 a month because the states could afford only $4 and the federal government could share only on a 50-50 basis.

Byrnes said he also would propose a $5 minimum unemployment compensation payment—it now runs lower in some states.

Hitler Defies London, Paris For Practices

INDICTED BY U. S.

Mrs. James C. Ayer

Mrs. Mae Hancock Ayer of New York, wealthy widow of the late Dr. James C. Ayer, is under federal indictment on six counts charging smuggling of jewelry, furs and other apparel. The smugglings, the charges declare, took place in 1937 and 1938. If convicted, Mrs. Ayer would face a maximum sentence of 12 years and a $30,000 fine.

Much Damage Is Caused by Rains In West Virginia

(By The Associated Press)

West Virginia, swinging from the threat of drought, talked up Sunday a heavy 60-hour loss from storms and torrential rains.

One municipality reckoned damages from cloudburst, another from residential district floods while two cities repaired damages done in electrical storms.

The cloudburst flooded Cameron with a foot of water in portions Friday and ruined large stores of merchandise in the low-lying business district.

Sewers became clogged and water poured across sidewalks into basements and in the rear of the old Romine building a timber retaining wall was swept out.

Rainfall within a half-hour was estimated at two inches. A woman was forced to wade waist-deep in water at Hinton to carry her young son from flood dangers, and at least one other family was driven from home.

In a 14-hour period, starting Friday, 2.75 inches of rain fell, flooding houses, damaging trees and leaving from two to four inches of mud and gravel on streets and sidewalks in the west end.

Water rose in the home of Ed Adkins on a bank below Summers street and Mrs. Adkins was forced to wade to carry her son to safety.

On Friday also lightning set afire three oil tanks at Morgantown, where 1.54 inches of rain was reported in one hour.

Telephone communications were disrupted.

Telephones were likewise thrown out of order temporarily at Fairmont when lightning struck a cable. Heavy rains were reported at Beckley and Wheeling.

Skies cleared Sunday for most of the state and temperatures over a large portion remained in the 70's and 80's.

(Continued on Page Two)

Fuehrer Says British and French Are Reviving Course of Action Which He Declares Led to War

Declares Germany Is Unimpressed by Threats
No Matter from What Quarter They Come

Kassel, Germany, June 4 (AP)—Reichsfuehrer Hitler today told a vast crowd of German war veterans that Britain and France were pursuing a policy of "encirclement," reviving international practices which he said led to the world war.

But, Hitler declared, there have been fundamental changes in Germany, the chief being a determination not to neglect armament and defense as, he said, they were neglected by the Kaiser's government before 1914.

Today, he said, "Germany is 'un-impressed by threats no matter from what quarter they come.'"

The former corporal told his world war comrades-at-arms that Germany's leaders must be soldierly.

Insists Upon Good Soldiers

"I have seen to it that anyone who has anything to do with the leadership of the state is a 100 per cent man and soldier," he said. "If ever I observe that any person cannot measure up to those responsibilities he will be dismissed from his post—no matter who he may be."

"It is my unalterable determination to see to it that the highest leadership of the state and army thinks with the courage of the simple musketeer who, without thought of self, gives up his life if orders require him to do so."

There was conjecture in Nazi party quarters whether the Fuehrer's remark might mean that some persons in high places were slated for removal.

300,000 Greet Fuehrer

Hitler flew from Berlin in a military plane and was greeted enthusiastically by throngs which accompanied him through beflagged streets to the Karlsruhe, a field on the edge of this Prussian city where a crowd estimated by Nazi authorities at 300,000 awaited him.

Hitler's condemnation of what he again called "encirclement" was applauded enthusiastically. It followed his rejection of the thesis of German "war guilt" and his charge that "the treaty of Versailles demonstrated what were the real aims of the French and British encirclement politicians to that time."

Those, he declared, "were the robbery of the German colonies, destruction of German commerce, and annihilation of the German merchant fleet and thereby of the fundamental basis of German existence and frustration of German political aspirations—in other words the same objectives which animate the encirclement politicians of today."

Daladier Confident He Can Extend Allied Front

Paris, June 4 (AP)—Premier Daladier predicted today a "prompt and successful conclusion" to efforts to extend the British-French front and again proclaimed France's "no to aggression."

The premier, who has virtual dictatorial power to rule France by decree until next November, delivered an account of his leadership of French domestic and foreign policy to the executive committee of his radical Socialist party. It was broadcast throughout the nation.

The committee unanimously adopted a resolution approving Daladier's policies and another expression of endorsement came from

(Continued on Page Two)

Parking Meters and Curfew Laws To Go If Miss Detamore Is Mayor

Webster Springs, Va., June 4 (AP)—Parking meters and curfew laws will go if Webster Springs gets petitioned government.

Juanita Detamore is again 'em. Miss Detamore, 24-year-old waitress and cook has hopes of being mayor after next Tuesday's election, although the man who has the job now thinks he'll win in a walk.

The dark-haired, blue-eyed candidate put the last nails in her platform today.

"I'm running just because I want to — and I think I can be mayor," she said, and added: "The way the law is now women aren't supposed to go out on the streets at night."

"And another thing: We have parking meters and a town like this isn't big enough to have parking meters."

should object to the curfew law. Even though it can apply to anyone, man or woman, who goes out on the street after 7 p. m.

It's just a vagrancy law, says White, and even if it does have "teeth" they were put there merely to apply to anyone of doubtful character who ventures out on the boulevards of this valley town in the heart of the Webster county mountains.

Webster Springs, known too as the town of Addison, will join with 132 other small towns in biennial municipal elections Tuesday.

Miss Detamore, White, Eldon and magistrate W. S. Hamrick are all running for mayor.

White opined: "Personally, I don't think they can beat me."

He predicted Miss Detamore wouldn't poll more than 50 of the town's 800 votes.

The young woman declined to entertain that opinion, reiterating that "I think I can win."

Struck by Train, Man Apologizes To Company for Being on Track

By GLADWIN HILL

New York, June 4 (AP)—If you ever apologized to a train, fought a duel with custard pies, or got robbed by a man with a 26-inch waist, you know how some of the stars in last week's calvacade of cockeyed occurrences felt.

Hit by a train, an Oklahoma man wrote the railroad apologizing for being on the track. . . . A Nebraska girl had to move to California because whenever anybody said "sneeze" she sneezed, and everybody in town knew it. . . .

To settle a literary argument, two Louisiana co-eds fought a duel with chocolate pies. . . . When a car crashed into the living room of a Pittsburgh home, a woman eye-witness exclaimed: "what lovely curtains!"

A New York judge ruled it legal to thumb your nose at somebody if they're more than 10 feet away. . . . Held up by two men, a Chicago tailor described his assailants to police as men with 29-inch waists and 36-inch coats. . . .

Reluctant to admit peace with the United States, Seminole Indians tried to figure out some way of cashing their WPA checks without endorsing them. . . . A California couple were married by long distance telephone. . . .

When they ran out of speech material two Florida legislature filibusters repeated themselves in Spanish, Italian, Portuguese and Yiddish. . . . An alligator blocked traffic in Mifflintown, Pa.

A robin's nest with three eggs in it journeyed safely 400 miles from Springfield, Ohio, to Springfield, Ill., under the fenders of a truck. . . . An Illinois woman unwittingly went around with her neck broken for three weeks, and a Pennsylvania man didn't find out he was shot until somebody told him.

Roosevelt Third Term Talk To Get Impetus in West

Trip to Frisco Fair Likely To Revive Political Speculation

GARNER IS DEFINITELY SEEKING NOMINATION

Vice President's Friends Say He Is Sure To Be Candidate

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Washington, June 4 (AP)—Roosevelt third-term talk is expected by politicians to reach a new high during the president's coming trip to the west coast.

For that reason, more than the usual interest attends the anticipated announcement this week of his departure date and the itinerary of his route to and from the San Francisco fair, with a side trip to Alaska.

It was augmented, too, by word passed yesterday by close friends of Vice-President Garner that the Texan definitely would be a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination; for around these two men—Roosevelt and Garner—has revolved most of the speculation concerning Democratic prospects in 1940.

No Statement Expected

While there is increasing evidence that Roosevelt third term champions are planning to make the most of the opportunity his cross-country tour will afford for demonstrations at train stops, politicians here discount the possibility of any hint from the president during the journey as to his 1940 plans.

As they see it, any intimation that he would or would not accept the nomination would lessen the particular advantage he now enjoys in party leadership.

There already is evidence that in many states without "favorite son" candidates of their own the third-term movement is taking the form of urging that untried delegates be sent to the national convention next year. An advantage of that course is that it permits the state to step aboard any nomination bandwagon early—be it a Roosevelt third-term vehicle or any other.

14 States Have Primaries

Only 14 of the 48 states have presidential preference primaries in some form. All of those will come in April and May of next year. A survey of state laws governing such primaries has satisfied some Democratic political experts that there is nothing in them to require the president to disclose his intentions before the convention meets.

Yet Mr. Roosevelt's western trip will carry him probably to some of the electorally important states which do call for presidential primary preference expressions by voters. California is one. So is Oregon, Illinois, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Ohio and West Virginia. A striking indication of Roosevelt third-term sentiment in any of those states this summer could be a noteworthy prelude to the preference primaries in April and May, 1940.

Whatever his thought as to a third term, however, Mr. Roosevelt's swing across the continent and back at this stage of his second term offers an opportunity for his party supporters to rally under that standard on a scale to reinforce his party leadership for the closing scenes of this session of Congress.

16 Year Old Pitcher Hurls 2-Hit Game

Portsmouth, O., June 4 (AP)—Max Surkont, Portsmouth hurler who will not be 16 years old until June 17, limited the Dayton Redbirds won a 5 to 1 mid-Atlantic league contest.

Surkont held the visitors hitless in the last seven innings.

The Flock's 10-hit barrage was paced by Eddie Murphy and Chip Marshall, who accounted for two runs each with triples.

Dayton..... 016 000 000—1 2 0
Portsmouth..... 000 000 000—5 10 0
Red, Surkont and Hoffman; Surkont and Marshall.

Boys' State Opens At Jackson's Mill

Jackson's Mill, W. Va., June 4 (AP)—A state within a state came into being today, and the political campaigning got a little hot for the election of "governor."

The Mountaineer Boys' State, Inc., opened its fourth annual school and the youngsters made ready to shove their "government" into high gear.

Under direction of judges, state officials and other government experts they will get a week's training in how to deal with the affairs of a state.

First they name a governor, a board of public works, a legislature and fill in with the various heads of departments.

Nominating conventions were on the program today and then the "politicians" got set for speech making and barrel-head campaigning.

West Virginia's real governor—Homer A. Holt—probably will attend the inauguration of his counterpart.

Civic groups and other organizations named the boys to attend the school, and about 350 showed up for the opening rounds.

Watch Their Kin Sail to Port off Miami

Small boats crowded with tearful relatives mass aboard the German liner, St. Louis, as that vessel sailed from Havana with 907 Jewish refugees on board. Cuba denied them entry because they lacked legal permits. The ship anchored three miles out of Miami.

Hood To Graduate 86 Seniors Today

Frederick, Md., June 4 (AP)—Hood college's 86 seniors, their relatives and friends jammed Hood outdoor theater today for open baccalaureate services which with commencement exercises tomorrow will bring the school year to a close.

Today's speaker was Dr. George W. Richards, president of the Evangelical and Reform church, Lancaster, Pa.

Dr. Richards took for his text Isaiah 28:20, "for the bed is short and too narrow for the too short and too narrow for the too narrow of the human soul."

He adapted to the text too many people who, he said, hold various theories of life which are "too short and too narrow for the too narrow of the human soul."

Discussing the theory of intense nationalism, practiced in Russia, Italy and Germany, Dr. Richards said such a system calls forth "certain enthusiasms of youth and develops the body, but neglects the mind and soul, and suppresses the infinite and the eternal."

Dr. James L. McConaughy, president of Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., will deliver the commencement address tomorrow in the outdoor theater.

O'Connor To Parole Five Prisoners

Annapolis, Md., June 4 (AP)—Governor Herbert R. O'Connor announced today he would parole five prisoners now in state institutions, would reduce the sentence of another and would pardon another.

Those paroled were: Lowndes Morsell, serving one year for larceny of tobacco in Calvert county; William Stefkowich, serving a year for assault on his wife in Baltimore county; Randolph Whalen, three years for larceny of tobacco; Albert Ross, a year for larceny; and John Fletcher, a year for receiving stolen goods in Wicomico county.

The 20-year sentence imposed on Gene L. Magnani in Baltimore county was reduced to 10 years and Tobias Vinnick, Baltimore, was pardoned. He was released on parole in 1924 after serving nine months of a two-year sentence and the pardon will restore his citizenship rights.

Martin's Auto Union To Return to AFL

Detroit, June 4 (AP)—Headquarters of Homer Martin's Independent United Automobile Workers Union announced today its union membership had voted "overwhelmingly" to reaffiliate with the American Federation of Labor.

The office said tabulation of a recently-completed membership poll showed 70,354 votes cast, 66,768 in favor of reaffiliation with the A. F. of L. and 3,570 opposed. Blank ballots totaled 178 and 38 were voided.

Martin, president of the Independent UAW, immediately wired William F. Green, head of the A. F. of L., requesting a conference in Washington Tuesday "for the purpose of confirming our reaffiliation and receiving our charter of affiliation."

Starts 58th Year in Printing Business

Centerville, Md., June 4 (AP)—E. Beverly Goldsborough, who boasts proudly he has never been without a job since he began work as a printer, went into his 58th year in the business today.

Goldsborough, 73, was born here the year after the Civil war ended and went to work for the old Centerville Observer on June 1, 1882.

In 1932, Goldsborough equipped a job office which he still operates. Never being without a job made it difficult sometimes for him to see as much baseball as he would like.

His fan club dates from the days when he pitched for a team he called the "Swamp Angels". He also sponsors the story that the Angels' worst opponents were "The debating and literary club baseball team."

Farm Income Off Sharply in 1938

Bureau Reports Total of $9,220,000,000 for the Entire Year

Washington, June 4 (AP)—The Bureau of Agricultural Economics estimated today that American farmers had a gross income in 1938 of $9,220,000,000 from farm production and government subsidies.

This compared with $10,350,000,000 estimated for 1937, $5,562,000,000 for 1932—the lowest for what the bureau called the "depression" period—and $12,791,000,000 for 1929.

The 1938 income included $7,538,000,000 cash from farm marketings, $482,000,000 from government benefit payments, and $1,200,000,000 worth of products retained for farm consumption.

The bureau said the greater portion of the decline in gross income from 1937 to 1938 was due to a decrease in receipts from crops, particularly from grains, fruits, vegetables and cotton.

The gross income from all crops declined 13 per cent, while that from livestock and livestock products dropped less than 9 per cent.

Government benefit payments, on the other hand, were 31 per cent larger in 1938.

In two states—Iowa and South Dakota—the gross income was about 5 per cent higher in 1938 than in 1937, due largely to expanded livestock feeding operations.

The gross income from major commodities for 1937 and 1938, respectively, included:
Corn $617,547,000 and $291,315,000; wheat $66,126,000 and $41,608,000; cotton lint $770,377,000 and $575,741,000; cotton seed $113,399,000 and $91,494,000; tobacco $318,305,000 and $294,063,000; potatoes $235,259,000 and $173,310,000; truck crops $360,204,000 and $318,176,000; citrus fruits $138,755,000 and $81,349,000; apples $143,170,000 and $102,756,000; farm products $199,451,000 and $185,489,000; cattle $1,237,422,000 and $1,165,079,000; hogs $1,161,157,000 and $1,072,800,000; sheep $194,956,000 and $163,065,000; chickens $380,407,000 and $357,958,000; milk $1,960,922,000 and $1,778,813,000; wool $117,270,000 and $71,378,000; and eggs $651,496,000 and $608,015,000.

All-Americans, High Timers, Boosters Win

In games played in the South End Boosters' Junior Softball League yesterday the All-Americans trimmed the Colas 9-7, the Boosters Juniors trounced Mapleside 21-14 and the High Timers whitewashed the Tigers 11-0. The All-Americans and the High Timers won their games on the Penn Avenue field while the Boosters-Mapleside tussle was played on the Taylor layout.

R. Ansel and R. Gilpen maced a double and single each to lead the attack in the All-American-Colas fracas. Calhoun pitched three-hit ball to feature the High Timers' win and Don Gray clouted five singles to head the hitting parade in the Boosters' victory over the Maples. Orndorff and Claude hit homers for the losers in this battle.

The scores:
R-C-Colas..... 105 000 1-7 7 1
All-American..... 302 203 x-9 12 1
R-C-Colas-D. Mills, J. Conley; All-Americans-R. Gilpen, J. Lagratto.
High Timers..... 602 200 6-16 9 6
Tigers..... 000 000 9-8 3 2
High Timers-Calhoun, J. Perkins; Tigers-Sebold, R. Wise, J. Cline.
Boosters..... 211 022 6-21
Mapleside..... 012 110 9-14
Boosters-Hipley and A. Welshans; Mapleside-Redinger and Keller.

22 Killed in Fire In Mexican Theatre

Mexico City, June 4 (AP)—The fire department at Zacatepec, Morelos state, reported today that 22 persons were killed in a theatre fire last night.

Twelve seriously injured persons were brought to hospitals here.

Jose Guadalupe Gomez, at the hospital here, said the theatre was filled with gleeful children thrilled at a Mexican "Western" film, when "suddenly a white light appeared on the screen. A great flame shot from the projection room and immediately the wooden building was afire."

Bergdoll To Aid American Jobless

New York, June 4 (AP)—Grover Cleveland Bergdoll disclosed in a tearful reunion with his wife and three of their five children today in the Castle William military prison that he plans to utilize his wealth to relieve unemployment in the country for which he steadfastly refused to fight.

The notorious "slacker," under 5-year military sentence on governor's island as a world war draft dodger, hopes to reopen his Philadelphia brewery and other properties, his pretty German-born wife said in a formal statement.

She also told of a plan by Bergdoll to start a building project on the 24½-acre Philadelphia farm he used as a private flying field in his harum-scarum youth and of his efforts to recover more than $500,000 the government seized when he fled the United States for a 19-year exile in Europe.

Closely guarded in the old island prison, Bergdoll met his 3-year-old daughter Vega for the first time.

Mrs. Bergdoll will be permitted to visit Bergdoll every two weeks.

Bergdoll returned to this country May 25.

Alleged Stock Swindler Arrested in Kentucky

Lexington, Ky., June 4 (AP)—Arrest of a man booked as Archie H. Carpenter, 35, of Lexington, sought by Rockland county, New York, authorities who charge him with fraudulent oil stock sales, was announced today by Police Chief Austin B. Price.

Price said Carpenter was taken into custody at his home by two detectives. He later was released on $2,000 bond. A preliminary hearing was set for 1:30 p. m. tomorrow in police court. Three Rockland county officers were understood to be flying to Lexington to obtain custody of him.

The police chief quoted Carpenter as saying he would oppose extradition.

Carpenter had been sought since he failed to appear in court at Nyack, N. Y., May 11 to answer to a grand larceny warrant.

Price said he had been living in Lexington about two weeks but was not arrested until after arrival of a fugitive warrant yesterday from New York authorities.

Rep. Hawks Calls For Square Deal, End of New Deal

(Continued from Page One)

ment their proper functions and responsibilities.

"Now, as to the 'good neighbor' policy. How long can you be good neighbors with those who come to borrow your butter, your eggs, your sugar, and your coffee, and never return any of them, who not only continually borrow with no return, but who finally take your lawn-mower and trade it off, barter it away to somebody else for something. Of course, we all subscribe to the 'good neighbor' policy, but a good neighbor policy is a two-way proposition. There is nothing in the philosophy of the Golden Rule that requires us to make paupers of ourselves in order to enrich our neighbors. It is a serious question as to how far we should borrow money, how the tax-payers must repay, to lend to foreign nations, while not as much as one-third of our own citizens who are unemployed have ever had the benefit of any federal relief. It is the young people of today, and their children, who are going to reap the bitter fruits of these mistakes, unless the young people take matters into their own hands and stop these trends and remedy this situation."

"So far as the question of our foreign relations is concerned, it seems to me it can be disposed of completely, in one sentence: If we go in with our dough, we will go in with our dough-boys, later."

"In short, the New Deal has proven to be a very, very bad deal. The American people demand that the political cards be laid on the table and that they be dealt from the top of the deck. Let's have an 'honest deal' for a change."

Bargain Counter Judiciary Probe To Be Continued

Conviction of Manton To Be Followed by Other Actions

New York, June 4 (AP)—A continuing investigation of the federal judiciary was indicated today after the conviction of Former Federal Judge Martin T. Manton on a charge of making his high bench virtually a bargain counter for justice.

John T. Cahill, the youthful U. S. attorney who prosecuted Manton, still was armed with a commission from the attorney general giving him authority to root out evidence of judicial corruption in any district in the country.

From the same skyscraper courthouse where he so recently sat as senior U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals Judge, Manton emerged last night as a convict liable to a sentence of two years in prison and a $10,000 fine. He will be sentenced June 20 unless his counsel's motion for a new trial is granted.

Manton is the first U. S. appellate judge in the 150-year history of the federal judiciary to be convicted—or even accused—of selling his influence.

Convicted with him on a conspiracy charge was George M. Spector, agent of the late Archie M. Andrews, dictograph company president, and the only one of Manton's four co-defendants who had not pleaded guilty to the indictment.

Spector was accused with the other three of acting as an intermediary for Manton in obtaining $664,000 in "loans," either for the judge himself or his many faltering business enterprises, from litigants who had causes pending before the Circuit Court of Appeals.

Hiller Defies London, Paris for Practices

(Continued from Page One)

Lille where President Albert Lebrun addressed a banquet after visiting the northern exposition of social progress.

"We say no to aggression," Daladier asserted in measured tones, "we say no to autarchic tyranny, we say no to ideological fanaticism, we say no to claims of pretended vital space, we say no to all violence and brutality."

Seeks Peace With Honor

"Our refusal is that of all nations attached to peace, that of all free men. It has no other goal than to permit peace to be saved in the honor and independence of all nations."

Daladier said the French government had "exerted all its efforts and still expects them to permit Europe to live happily in free collaboration" but, he added:

"I want to give an assurance to the world that France is in the front rank of powers which will prevent Europe from being drawn into catastrophe by undertakings of domination."

The premier said he was unable to give a detailed account of latest negotiation abroad since some still were in progress, but asserted "everything permits us to hope for a prompt and successful conclusion."

Refers to Russian Plans

Daladier referred here to British efforts, backed by France, to bring Soviet Russia into a three-power mutual assistance accord and to France's efforts to draw up a mutual assistance pact with Turkey paralleling a British-Turkish agreement already concluded.

Insisting that French policy did not constitute encirclement, Daladier said "Europe has the choice between collaboration and domination" and "we are for collaboration which is the opposite of encirclement."

(Almost at the same moment, Reichsfuehrer Hitler, addressing German war veterans at Cassel, Germany, reiterated his charge that British-French diplomacy was aimed at encirclement.)

The French premier declared that "each time we have taken a step in the path of collaboration we have been answered by an action of force."

Latest Russian Terms May Satisfy Britain

London, June 4 (AP)—A reliable source said today Soviet Russia's latest terms for a mutual assistance pact among her, Great Britain and France were "not likely to cause much trouble."

"In Paris, Premier Daladier, in a reference to the British-French negotiations with Russia and French negotiations with Turkey, declared 'everything permits us to hope for a prompt and successful conclusion' of them."

This source said the Soviet note of last Friday, replying to French-supported British proposals for an agreement, suggested the three powers should pledge themselves to lend mutual assistance in event of any direct or indirect threat to the independence of any of the signatories.

Use of the words "direct or indirect" would make the pact much stronger than the terms proposed by the British and French, it was said, and was intended to allay fears in Russia that she might be threatened through an attack on Baltic states without being sure of British-French support.

Prime Minister Chamberlain was expected to mention the negotiations with Russia when parliament convenes tomorrow after the Whit-summer vacation.

ENGLAND RIBS KENNEDY

British collegians stole the show from officials of Bristol University, England, by holding own mock commencement exercises in honor of U. S. Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy (right). He was presented with "degree of fahrenheit," indicative of the warmth of relations between U. S. and Great Britain. Left, a robed student impersonates Winston Churchill, chancellor of the University.

Wall Street Interested in What U. S. Will Do about Idle Funds

Much Speculation over Federal Financial Program Raising of Thetis May Take 10 Days, Admiralty Asserts

By FREDERICK GARDNER

New York, June 4 (AP)—Wall street, long the fountainhead of private spending for business expansion, has plunged deeply into the debate over government "investment" of idle savings in widespread belief this may be the central issue of the 1940 presidential campaign.

With its own investment machinery almost idle, the financial district has been inclined to mark time while the battle of private versus government spending is being fought out on several fronts.

There were scattered indications last week that business was feeling the stimulus of the current federal spend-lead wave, expected to reach its crest this summer. Buying in wholesale textile and other markets was more active. Well-sustained retail trade, considered the chief business beneficiary of government spending to increase consumption, was reported from both urban and rural sections. Steel production advanced in the sharpest weekly boost this year, although industrial gains were largely offset by a steep drop in automobile assemblies.

Discuss Government Spending
The big question posed in the financial district, however, was the future of government spending—whether it would continue at present levels and evolve gradually into long-range programs of "investment."

In the office, some believe may be another stop-gap spending drive but discussion in money circles revolves mainly about the shaping of the "government investment" issue for the 1940 elections.

Wall street students of government spending have noted an increasing tendency among New Dealers in Washington to speak of government "investment" rather than emergency "pump-priming," aimed to give business temporary stimulus.

Meanwhile, reports reaching the financial sector from Europe reveal increasing arms spending abroad has entered the world industrial picture as the greatest exhibit of "pump-priming" witnessed since the world was spending by government.

Fed by the large gold inflow, idle funds remained around peak levels. Under pressure of the huge pools of stagnant money in banks and other institutions, United States government obligations jumped to record-breaking high prices after Secretary Morgenthau announced the treasury would limit its June financing to refunding a maturing note issue.

On the stock exchange, listed share and bond values were inclined to creep ahead in some of the slowest markets the financial district has seen in years. Emphasized by some as the most promising indicator of change for the better in business in coming months was the prolonged stability of essential commodity prices. This was interpreted as meaning inventories were not excessive and that the level of retail trade in time would force heavier buying.

Doctor Dies While Delivering a Baby

Appleton, Wis., June 4 (AP)—Life and death crossed paths late last night in the delivery room of St. Elizabeth's hospital.

Dr. C. E. Ryan, 69, died of a heart attack as he was delivering a baby. Others stepped in to complete his duties, and mother and child are doing well.

Jesse Jones May Head New Federal Lending Agencies

RFC Chairman Looms as Chief of Large Government Bureaus

Washington, June 4 (AP)—President Roosevelt was represented in informed congressional circles today as having made up his mind to appoint Jesse Jones, RFC chairman, as administrator of the new consolidated Federal Lending Agency which will come into existence July 1.

The reported decision to place Jones at the head of the financial corporations to be grouped under the president's first government reorganization plan was hailed in some congressional quarters as a gesture of goodwill to business.

Has Confidence of Many

As RFC chieftain, Jones is credited with having won the confidence of business men generally by the course he has pursued in directing the lending activities of that organization.

The new agency will bring together under one directing head the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Electric Home and Farm Authority, RFC Mortgage Company, Disaster Loan Corporation, Federal National Mortgage Association, Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, Federal Housing Administration and the Export Import Bank.

As head of this agency Jones would have general direction of a proposed program of loans to small businesses, if the Mead bill, now pending in the Senate banking committee, were adopted by Congress. Senator Mead (D-NY) proposed in the measure that the RFC guarantee 90 per cent of loans of less than $100,000 to be made to businesses by banks at a low rate of interest.

As a supplementary proposal, Ernest G. Draper of the Federal Reserve Board sketched broadly to the committee last week a plan for changes in the federal reserve regulations to permit small business loans on more liberal terms than now prevail.

Business Watching Tax Moves

While it awaited developments on this program, business also was watching closely House committee action on corporation tax revision scheduled to remove some "irritants" such as the undistributed profits levy.

The House Ways and Means committee gave business some encouraging news yesterday by approving a list of amendments to the Social Security Act which it estimated would save employers and employees $1,710,000,000 in taxes in the next three years.

With the machinery moving smoothly on these issues, there were indications that legislative leaders would tell President Roosevelt at their weekly conference with him tomorrow that Congress can wind up its work by July 15 if there is no attempt to force final action on neutrality legislation.

"Lucky" Teler Thrills Fairgrounds Crowd; Performer Injured

Despite a sloppy track due to recent rains, Lucky Teler proved conclusively that he was entitled to the rank of world's champion daredevil at the fairgrounds track yesterday afternoon before a crowd of approximately 5,000 thrill seekers by broadjumping automobiles smashing them end-over-end and crashing through flaming board walls.

The performance was held up for almost an hour as workmen prepared the track in an effort to get it in shape for a first-rate speed, exhibition. Meanwhile, spectators were entertained by two daredevil clowns, Major Whipple and his assistant Dizzy.

Ken Arnold, famous for his crashes at the Indianapolis speedway, came through another heavy crash unscathed during the exhibition but his companion stunter, Buddy Toomey, received a dislocated collar bone when he crashed one of the automobiles head-on.

Taking more chances than during an ordinary performance, the stuntmen successfully completed such feats as crashing motorcycle through flaming board walls, riding 10 men on one motorcycle, allowing a three-ton truck to pass completely over a man's body, and performing trick motorcycle stunts.

"Lucky" opened the program with an exhibition of "hell driving" in which he raced up and over several inclined ramps placed in his path and completed "reverse spins" and "wing-overs."

200,000 Thrilled By Stunt Fliers At Birmingham

(Continued from Page One)

closing hours of the military formation flying and individual stunts.

To take in all ages, a state power model contest was held. Van Hayne of Birmingham, 15, launched a model which won the contest by flying 17 minutes, 41 seconds. He will be given flying lessons at the expense of a transport company as a reward.

Weather in Nearby States

Western Pennsylvania—Fair today; Tuesday increasing cloudiness and warmer.
West Virginia—Fair today; Tuesday increasing cloudiness and warmer, followed by showers in afternoon or at night.

Roosevelt Third Term Talk To Get Impetus in West

Trip to Frisco Fair Likely To Revive Political Speculation

GARNER IS DEFINITELY SEEKING NOMINATION

Vice President's Friends Say He Is Sure To Be Candidate

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Washington, June 4 (AP)—Roosevelt third-term talk is expected by politicians to reach a new high during the president's coming trip to the west coast.

For that reason, more than the usual interest attends the anticipated announcement this week of his departure date and the itinerary of his route to and from the San Francisco fair, with a side trip to Alaska.

It was augmented, too, by word passed yesterday by close friends of Vice-President Garner that the Texan definitely would be a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination; for around these two men—Roosevelt and Garner—has revolved most of the speculation concerning Democratic prospects in 1940.

No Statement Expected

While there is increasing evidence that Roosevelt third term champions are planning to make the most of the opportunity his cross-country tour will afford for demonstrations at train stops, politicians here discount the possibility of any hint from the president during the journey as to his 1940 plans.

As they see it, any intimation that he would or would not accept the nomination would lessen the particular advantage he now enjoys in party leadership.

There already is evidence that in many states without "favorite son" candidates of their own the third-term movement is taking the form of urging that uncommitted delegations be sent to the national convention next year. An advantage of that course is that it permits the state to step aboard any nomination bandwagon early—be it a Roosevelt third-term vehicle or any other.

14 States Have Primaries

Only 14 of the 48 states have presidential preference primaries in some form. All of those will come in April and May of next year. A survey of state laws governing such primaries has satisfied some Democratic political experts that there is nothing in them to require the president to disclose his intentions before the convention meets.

Yet Mr. Roosevelt's western trip will carry him probably to some of the electorally important states which do call for presidential primary preference expressions by voters. California is one. So is Oregon, Illinois, Nebraska, Wisconsin, Ohio and West Virginia. A striking indication of Roosevelt third-term sentiment in any of those states this summer could be a noteworthy prelude to the preference primaries in April and May, 1940.

Whatever his thought as to a third term, however, Mr. Roosevelt's swing across the continent and back at this stage of his second term offers an opportunity for his party supporters to rally under that standard on a scale to reinforce his party leadership for the closing scenes of this session of Congress.

16 Year Old Pitcher Hurls 2-Hit Game

Portsmouth, O., June 4 (AP)—Max Surkont, Portsmouth hurler who will not be 16 years old until June 17, limited the Dayton wings to two hits tonight as the Redbirds won a 5 to 1 mid-Atlantic league contest.

Surkont held the visitors hitless in the last seven innings.

The Flock's 10-hit barrage was paced by Eddie Murphy and Chip Marshall, who accounted for two runs each with triples.

Dayton scored 215 000 000—1 2 0

Portsmouth scored 200 000 000—5 10 0

Red, Strunk and Hoffer; Surkont and Marshall.

Boys' State Opens At Jackson's Mill

Jackson's Mill, W. Va., June 4 (AP)—A state within a state came into being today, and the political campaigning got a little hot for the election of "governor."

The Mountaineer Boys' State, Inc., opened its fourth annual school and the youngsters made ready to shove their "government" into high gear.

Under direction of judges, state officials and other government experts they will get a week's training in how to deal with the affairs of a state.

First they name a governor, a board of public works, a legislature and fill in with the various heads of departments.

Nominating conventions were on the program today and then the "politicians" get set for speech making and barrel-head campaigning.

West Virginia's real governor—Homer A. Holt—probably will attend the inauguration of his counterpart.

Civic groups and other organizations named the boys to attend the school, and about 350 showed up for the opening rounds.

Watch Their Kin Sail to Port off Miami

Small boats crowded with tearful relatives mass about the German liner, St. Louis, as that vessel sailed from Havana with 907 Jewish refugees on board. Cuba denied them entry because they lacked legal permits. The ship anchored three miles out of Miami.

Hood To Graduate 86 Seniors Today

Frederick, Md., June 4 (AP)—Hood college's 86 seniors, their relatives and friends jammed Hoodson outdoor theater today for open air baccalaureate services which with commencement exercises tomorrow will bring the school year to a close.

Today's speaker was Dr. George W. Richards, president of the Evangelical and Reform church, Lancaster, Pa.

Dr. Richards took for his text Isaiah 28:20, "for the bed is shorter than that a man can stretch himself on it; and the covering narrower than that he wrap himself in it."

He adapted to the text too many people who, he said, hold various theories of life which are "too short and too narrow for the needs of the human soul."

Discussing the theory of intense nationalism, practiced in Russia, Italy and Germany, Dr. Richards said such a system calls for "certain enthusiasms of youth and develops the body, but neglects the mind and soul, and suppresses the infinite and the eternal."

Dr. James L. McConaughy, president of Wesleyan University, Middletown, Conn., will deliver the commencement address tomorrow in the outdoor theater.

O'Connor To Parole Five Prisoners

Annapolis, Md., June 4 (AP)—Governor Herbert R. O'Connor announced today he would parole five prisoners now in state institutions, would reduce the sentence of another and would pardon another.

Those paroled were: Lowndes Morsell, serving one year for larceny of tobacco in Calvert county; William Stefkovich, serving a year for assault on his wife in Baltimore county; Randolph Whalen, three years for larceny of tobacco; Albert Ross, a year for larceny; and John Fletcher, a year for receiving stolen goods in Wicomico county.

The 20-year sentence imposed on Gene L. Magnani in Baltimore county was reduced to 10 years and Tobias Vinnick, Baltimore, was pardoned. He was released on parole in 1924 after serving nine months of a two-year sentence and the pardon will restore his citizenship rights.

Martin's Auto Union To Return to AFL

Detroit, June 4 (AP)—Headquarters of Homer Martin's Independent United Automobile Workers Union announced today its union membership had voted "overwhelmingly" to reaffiliate with the American Federation of Labor.

The office said tabulation of a recently-completed membership poll showed 70,354 votes cast, 66,768 in favor of reaffiliation with the A. F. of L. and 3,570 opposed. Blank ballots totaled 178 and 38 were voided.

Martin, president of the Independent UAW, immediately wired William P. Green, head of the A. F. of L., requesting a conference in Washington Tuesday "for the purpose of confirming our reaffiliation and receiving our charter of affiliation."

Starts 58th Year in Printing Business

Centerville, Md., June 4 (AP)—E. Beverly Goldsborough, who boasts proudly he has never been without a job since he began work as a printer, went into his 58th year in the business today.

Goldsborough, 73, was born here the year after the Civil war ended and went to work for the old Centerville Observer on June 1, 1882.

In 1932, Goldsborough equipped a job office which he still operates. Never being without a job made it difficult sometimes for him to see as much baseball as he would like.

His fan ship dates from the days when he pitched for a team he says was called the "Swamp Angels." He also sponsors the story that the Angels' worst opponents were "The debating and literary club baseball team."

Farm Income Off Sharply in 1938

Bureau Reports Total of $9,220,000,000 for the Entire Year

Washington, June 4 (AP)—The Bureau of Agricultural Economics estimated today that American farmers had a gross income in 1938 of $9,220,000,000 from farm production and government subsidies.

This compared with $10,350,000,000 estimated for 1937, $5,562,000,000 for 1932—the lowest for what the bureau called the "depression" period—and $12,791,000,000 for 1929.

The 1938 income included $7,538,000,000 cash from farm marketings, $482,000,000 from government benefit payments, and $1,200,000,000 worth of products retained for farm consumption.

The bureau said the greater portion of the decline in gross income from 1937 to 1938 was due to a decrease in receipts from crops, particularly from grains, fruits, vegetables and cotton. The gross income from all crops declined 13 per cent, while that from livestock and livestock products dropped less than 9 per cent.

Government benefit payments, on the other hand, were 31 per cent larger in 1938.

In two states—Towa and South Dakota—the gross income was about 5 per cent higher in 1938 than in 1937, due largely to expanded livestock feeding operations.

The gross income from major commodities for 1937 and 1938, respectively, included:

Corn $248,914,000 and $291,315,000; wheat $617,547,000 and $443,554,000; oats $66,126,000 and $41,808,000; cotton lint $770,377,000 and $575,741,000; cotton seed $113,399,000 and $91,494,000; tobacco $318,305,000 and $294,063,000; potatoes $235,259,000 and $173,310,000; truck crops $360,204,000 and $318,176,000; citrus fruits $138,755,000 and $81,349,000; apples $143,170,000 and $102,756,000; farm gardens $199,451,000 and $185,489,000; cattle $1,237,422,000 and $1,165,079,000; hogs $1,161,157,000 and $1,072,800,000; sheep $194,956,000 and $163,065,000; chickens $390,407,000 and $357,958,000; milk $1,960,922,000 and $1,778,813,000; wool $117,270,000 and $71,378,000; and eggs $651,496,000 and $608,015,000.

All-Americans, High Timers, Boosters Win

In games played in the South End Boosters' Junior Softball League yesterday the All-Americans trimmed the Colas 9-7, the Booster Juniors trounced Mapleside 21-14 and the High Timers whitewashed the Tigers 11-0. The All-Americans and the High Timers won their games on the Penn Avenue field while the Booster-Mapleside tussle was played on the Taylor layout.

R. Ansel and R. Gilpen maced a double and single each to lead the attack in the All-American-Colas fracas. Calhoun pitched three-hit ball to feature the High Timers' win and Don Gray clouted five singles to head the hitting parade in the Boosters' victory over the Maples. Orndorff and Claude hit homers for the losers in this battle.

The scores:

R-C-Colas 195 000 1-7 7 3
All-Americans 302 202 9-13 13 1
R-C-Colas-D. Mills, J. Conley; All-Americans-R. Gilpen, J. Lagarto.
High Timers 602 200 6-10 9 6
Tigers 090 000 5-8 3 2
Mapleside 012 110 2-14 14 1
Tigers-Behold, R. Wise, J. Cline.
Boosters 211 822 6-21 21 6
Mapleside 012 110 2-14 14 1
Boosters-Hipsley and A. Welshans; Mapleside-Redinger and Keller.

22 Killed in Fire In Mexican Theatre

Mexico City, June 4 (AP)—The fire department at Zacatepec, Morelos state, reported today that 22 persons were killed in a theatre fire last night.

Twelve seriously injured persons were brought to hospitals here.

Jose Guadalupe Gomez, at the hospital here, said the theatre was filled with gleeful children thrilled at a Mexican "Western" film, when "suddenly a white light appeared on the screen. A great flame shot from the projection room and immediately the wooden building was afire."

Bergdoll To Aid American Jobless

New York, June 4 (AP)—Grover Cleveland Bergdoll disclosed in a tearful reunion with his wife and three of their five children today in the Castle William military prison that he plans to utilize his wealth to relieve unemployment in the country for which he steadfastly refused to fight.

The notorious "slacker," under 5-year military sentence on governor's island as a world war draft dodger, hopes to reopen his Philadelphia brewery and other properties, his pretty German-born wife said in a formal statement.

She also told of a plan by Bergdoll to start a building project on the 24 1/2-acre Philadelphia farm he used as a private flying field in his harum-scarum youth and of his efforts to recover more than $500,000 the government seized when he fled the United States for a 19-year exile in Europe.

Closely guarded in the old island prison, Bergdoll met his 3-year-old daughter Vega for the first time.

Mrs. Bergdoll will be permitted to visit Bergdoll every two weeks. Bergdoll returned to this country May 25.

Alleged Stock Swindler Arrested in Kentucky

Lexington, Ky., June 4 (AP)—Arrest of a man booked as Archie H. Carpenter, 35, of Lexington, sought by Rockland county, New York, authorities who charge him with fraudulent oil stock sales, was announced today by Police Chief Austin B. Price.

Price said Carpenter was taken into custody at his home by two detectives. He later was released on $2,000 bond. A preliminary hearing was set for 1:30 p. m. tomorrow in police court. Three Rockland county officers were understood to be flying to Lexington to obtain custody of him.

The police chief quoted Carpenter as saying he would oppose extradition.

Carpenter had been sought since he failed to appear in court at Nyack, N. Y., May 11 to answer to a grand larceny warrant.

Price said he had been living in Lexington about two weeks but was not arrested until after arrival of a fugitive warrant yesterday from New York authorities.

Rep. Hawks Calls For Square Deal, End of New Deal

(Continued from Page One)
ment their proper functions and responsibilities.

"Now, as to the 'good neighbor' policy. How long can you be good neighbors with those who come to borrow your butter, your eggs, your sugar, and your coffee, and never return any of them, who not only continually borrow with no return, but who finally take your lawn-mower and trade it off, barter it away to somebody else for something. Of course, we all subscribe to the 'good neighbor' policy, but a good neighbor policy is a two-way proposition. There is nothing in the philosophy of the Golden Rule that requires us to make paupers of ourselves in order to enrich our neighbors. It is a serious question, as to how far we should borrow money, which the tax-payers must repay, to lend to foreign nations, while not as much as one-third of our own citizens who are unemployed have ever had the benefit of any federal relief. It is the young people of today, and their children, who are going to reap the bitter fruits of these mistakes, unless the young people take matters into their own hands and stop these trends and remedy this situation.

"So far as the question of our foreign relations is concerned, it seems to me it can be disposed of completely, in one sentence: If we go in with our dough, we will go in with our dough-boys, later.

"In short, the New Deal has proven to be a very, very bad deal. The American people demand that the political cards be laid on the table, and that they be dealt from the top of the deck. Let's have an 'honest deal' for a change."

Bargain Counter Judiciary Probe To Be Continued

Conviction of Manton To Be Followed by Other Actions

New York, June 4 (AP)—A continuing investigation of the federal judiciary was indicated today after the conviction of Former Federal Judge Martin T. Manton on a charge of making his high bench virtually a bargain counter for justice.

John T. Cahill, the youthful U. S. attorney who prosecuted Manton, still was armed with a commission from the attorney general giving him authority to root out evidence of judicial corruption in any district in the country.

From the same skyscraper courthouse where he so recently sat as senior U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals Judge, Manton emerged last night as a convict liable to a sentence of two years in prison and a $10,000 fine. He will be sentenced June 20 unless his counsel's motion for a new trial is granted.

Manton is the first U. S. appellate judge in the 150-year history of the federal judiciary to be convicted—or even accused—of selling his influence.

Convicted with him on a conspiracy charge was George M. Spector, agent of the late Archie M. Andrews, dictograph company president, and the only one of Manton's four co-defendants who had not pleaded guilty to the indictment.

Spector was accused with the other three of acting as an intermediary for Manton in obtaining $664,000 in "loans," either for the judge himself or his many faltering business enterprises, from litigants who had caused pending before the Circuit Court of Appeals.

Hitler Defies London, Paris for Practices

(Continued from Page One)
Lille where President Albert Lebrun addressed a banquet after visiting the northern exposition of social progress.

"We say no to aggression," Daladier asserted in measured tones, "we say no to autarchic tyranny, we say no to claims of pretended vital space, we say no to all violence and brutality."

Seeks Peace With Honor

"Our refusal is that of all nations attached to peace, that of all free men. It has no other goal than to permit peace to be saved in the honor and independence of all nations."

Daladier said the French government had "exerted all its efforts and still exerts them to permit Europe to live happily in free collaboration," but, he added:

"I want to give an assurance to the world that France is in the front rank of powers which will prevent Europe from being drawn into catastrophe by undertakings of domination."

The premier said he was unable to give a detailed account of latest negotiations abroad since some still were in progress, but asserted "everything permits us to hope for a prompt and successful conclusion."

Refers to Russian Plans

Daladier referred here to Britain's efforts, backed by France, to bring Soviet Russia into a three-power mutual assistance accord and to France's efforts to draw up a mutual assistance pact with Turkey paralleling a British-Turkish agreement already concluded.

Insisting that French policy did not constitute encirclement, Daladier said "Europe has the choice between collaboration and domination which is the opposite of encirclement."

(Almost at the same moment, Reichsfuehrer Hitler, addressing German war veterans at Cassel, Germany, reiterated his charge that British-French diplomacy was aimed at encirclement.)

The French premier declared that "each time we have taken a step in the path of collaboration we have been answered by an action of force."

Latest Russian Terms May Satisfy Britain

London, June 4 (AP)—A reliable source said today Soviet Russia's latest terms for a mutual assistance pact among her, Great Britain and France were "not likely to cause much trouble."

"In Paris, Premier Daladier, in a reference to the British-French negotiations with Russia and French negotiations with Turkey, declared 'everything permits us to hope for a prompt and successful conclusion' of them."

This source said the Soviet note of last Friday, replying to French-supported British proposals for an agreement, suggested the three powers should pledge themselves to lend mutual assistance in event of any direct or indirect threat to the independence of any of the signatories.

Use of the words "direct or indirect" would make the pact much stronger than the terms proposed by the British and French, it was said, and was intended to allay fears in Russia that she might be threatened through an attack on Baltic states without being sure of British-French support.

Prime Minister Chamberlain was expected to mention the negotiations with Russia when parliament reconvenes tomorrow after the Whitaun vacation.

ENGLAND RIBS KENNEDY

British collegians stole the show from officials of Bristol University, England, by holding own mock commencement exercises in honor of U. S. Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy (right). He was presented with "degree of fahrenheit," indicative of the warmth of relations between U. S. and Great Britain. Left, a robed student impersonates Winston Churchill, chancellor of the University.

Wall Street Interested in What U. S. Will Do about Idle Funds

Much Speculation over Federal Financial Program

By FREDERICK GARDNER
New York, June 4 (AP)—Wall street, long the fountainhead of private spending for business expansion, has plunged deeply into the debate over government "investment" of idle savings in widespread belief this may be the central issue of the 1940 presidential campaign.

With its own investment machinery almost idle, the financial district has been inclined to mark time while the battle of private versus government spending is being fought out on several fronts.

There were scattered indications last week that business was feeling the stimulus of the current federal spend-lend wave, expected to reach its crest this summer. Buying in wholesale textile and other markets was more active. Well-sustained retail trade, considered the chief business beneficiary of government spending to increase consumption, was reported from both urban and rural sections. Steel production advanced in the sharpest weekly boost this year, although industrial gains were largely offset by a steep drop in automobile assemblies.

Barred from Cuba 907 German Jews Anchor off Miami

(Continued from Page One)
before leaving Havana. He feared mass suicides or a passenger mutiny if his vessel started back across the Atlantic for Germany.

Meantime, the steamship Orinoco of the Hamburg-America line, which also owns the St. Louis, was called back to Cuxhaven, Germany, and approximately 200 Jews who had started to emigrate to Cuba were landed.

Officials called the Orinoco back from Antwerp, Belgium, yesterday after hearing the refugees would not be permitted to land in Cuba. The unhappy throng, most of them former residents of Cuxhaven, were uncertain as to their future. Some were making arrangements to return to their old homes in Germany.

King and Queen Go to Church in Canadian Village

(Continued from Page One)
into the United States at Niagara Falls for a four-day visit.

Have Trouble With Crowd
A throng of 40,000 people packed around the royal train at Melville, Saskatchewan, last night and forced officials in charge to move the 12-car special out of the town, where the schedule called for it to remain on a siding most of the night.

Clamoring crowds calling for the king and queen were not satisfied with their 10-minute appearance and created the first difficult situation for the mounted police since the tour started.

Paw Paw Wins over Grantsville on 3 Hits

Paw Paw, W. Va., June 4.—Paw Paw jumped into the 500 class in the Tri-County Baseball league here this afternoon by beating Grantsville 2 to 1. The loss was Grantsville's third in five starts.

Paw Paw got only three hits off Miller, Grantsville hurler, but supplied them at the right time. Jamison, on the mound for the Boosters, gave up six hits. Each pitcher fanned six. Paw Paw tallied both of its markers in the fourth inning while Grantsville pushed its lone tally across the payoff platter in the seventh frame. Harry Modispaw's double was the only extra base hit of the game. The score:

Grantsville 000 000 100—1 6 1
Paw Paw 000 200 000—2 3 2
Grantsville-Miller and Diehl. Paw Paw—Jamison and Meyers.

Doctor Dies While Delivering a Baby

Appleton, Wis., June 4 (AP)—Life and death crossed paths late last night in the delivery room of St. Elizabeth's hospital.

Dr. C. E. Ryan, 69, died of a heart attack as he was delivering a baby. Others stepped in to complete his duties, and mother and child are doing well.

Jesse Jones May Head New Federal Lending Agencies

RFC Chairman Looms as Chief of Large Government Bureaus

Washington, June 4 (AP)—President Roosevelt was represented in his formed congressional circles today as having made up his mind to appoint Jesse Jones, RFC chairman, as administrator of the new Consolidated Federal Lending Agency which will come into existence July 1.

The reported decision to place Jones at the head of the financial corporations to be grouped under the president's first government reorganization plan was hailed in some congressional quarters as a gesture of goodwill to business.

Has Confidence of Many

As RFC chieftain, Jones is credited with having won the confidence of business men generally by the course he has pursued in directing the lending activities of that organization.

The new agency will bring together under one directing head the Reconstruction Finance Corporation, Electric Home and Farm Authority, RFC Mortgage Company, Disaster Loan Corporation, Federal National Mortgage Association, Federal Savings and Loan Insurance Corporation, Federal Housing Administration and the Export Import Bank.

As head of this agency Jones thus would have general direction of a proposed program of loans to small businesses, if the Mead bill, now pending in the Senate banking committee, were adopted by Congress. Senator Mead (D-N.Y.) proposed in the measure that the RFC guarantee 90 per cent of loans of less than $1,000,000 to be made to businesses by banks at a low rate of interest.

As a supplementary proposal, Ernest C. Draper of the Federal Reserve Board sketched broadly to the committee last week a plan for changes in the federal reserve regulations to permit small business loans on more liberal terms than now prevail.

Business Watching Tax Moves
While it awaited developments on this program, business also was watching closely House committee action on corporation tax revision scheduled to remove some "infringe" such as the undistributed profits levy.

The House Ways and Means committee gave business some encouraging news yesterday by approving a list of amendments to the Social Security Act which it estimated would save employers and employees $1,710,000,000 in taxes in the next three years.

With the machinery moving smoothly on these issues, there were indications that legislative leaders would tell President Roosevelt at his weekly conference with him tomorrow that Congress can wind up its work by July 15 if there is no attempt to force final action on neutrality legislation.

"Lucky" Teter Thrills Fairgrounds Crowd; Performer Injured

Despite a sloppy track due to recent rains, Lucky Teter proved conclusively that he was entitled to the rank of world's champion daredevil at the fairgrounds track yesterday afternoon before a crowd of approximately 5,000 thrill seekers by broadjumping automobiles smashing them end-over-end and crashing through flaming board walls.

The performance was held up almost an hour as workmen prepared the track in an effort to get it in shape for a first-rate high speed exhibition. Meanwhile, spectators were entertained by the daredevil clown, Major Whipple and his assistant Dizzy.

Ken Arnold, famous for his crashes at the Indianapolis speedway, came through another head-on crash unscathed during the exhibition but his companion stuntman Buddy Toomey, received a dislocated collar bone when he crashed one of the automobiles head-on.

Taking more chances than during an ordinary performance, the stuntmen successfully completed such feats as crashing motorcycles through flaming board walls, riding 10 men on one motorcycle, allowing a three-ton truck to pass completely over a man's body, and performing trick motorcycle stunts.

"Lucky" opened the program with an exhibition of "hell driving" in which he raced up and over several inclined ramps placed in his path and completed "reverse spins" and "wing-overs."

200,000 Thrilled By Stunt Fliers At Birmingham

(Continued from Page One)
closing hours of the military formation flying and individual stunts.

To take in all ages, a state power model contest was held. Van Hayne of Birmingham, 16, launched a model which won the contest by flying 17 minutes, 41 seconds. He will be given flying lessons at the expense of a transport company as a reward.

Weather in Nearby States

Western Pennsylvania—Fair today; Tuesday increasing cloudiness and warmer.

West Virginia—Fair today; Tuesday increasing cloudiness and warmer, followed by showers Wednesday or at night.

Crop Income Down But over Average In Pennsylvania

Price Index Falls Three Points with National Up One

Harrisburg, Pa., June 4 (AP)—Pennsylvania farmers received less for their principal products last year than in April, the federal-state crop reporting service announces, but they still got more than the average American agriculturist.

The index of prices paid in the Keystone state was down three points, and the average for the nation was up one point.

Pennsylvanians got a higher price for their goods than the average American farmer.

For instance, while the price of a bushel of wheat dropped ten cents a ton, to $8.50, the national average for May was only $6.68, up one cent from the preceding month.

Pennsylvania hog prices dropped from $7.40 to $7.10 per hundredweight, while the national average for May was only $6.68, up one cent from the preceding month.

Keystone state eggs brought seventeen and seven-tenths cents a dozen, down half a cent from April, while the average price nationally was fifteen and two-tenths cents.

Rural Youth Doings

Line boys started the fourth annual 4-H Pig-Feeding Club at Blue Ball, near Clearfield.

Approximately twenty-five 4-H club girls in Greene county are planning to attend the annual camp at Ligonier this year.

Girls of the East Forks community organized a 4-H club under the presidency of Joyce Shaffer.

Beulah Arbogast was elected president of the Farmersville 4-H Club.

Weather Notes

The hucksters who chant of "York county strawberries" are complaining that the drought is holding down the crop.

Many farmers around Bentley Springs in York county who did not cultivate their cornfields during the winter "got left" because of the lack of rain, and decided not to plant any corn.

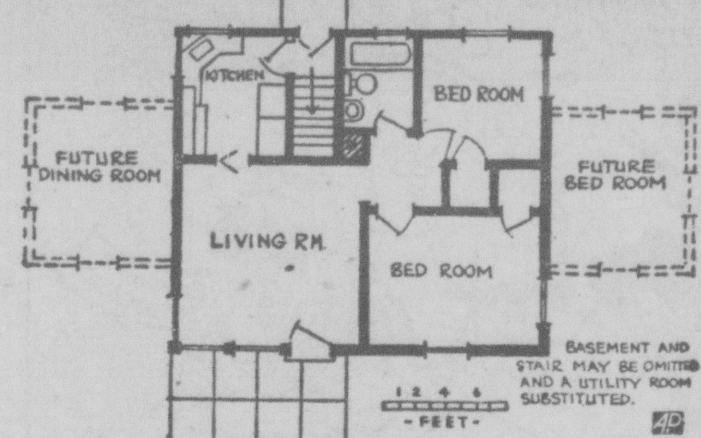

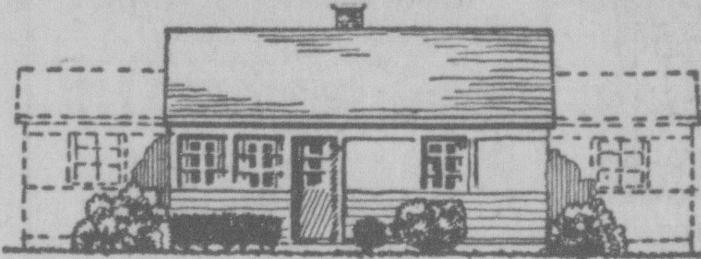

One farmer in southern York county who planted a large acreage in peas reported his crop wouldn't yield him a dollar.

Across the Susquehanna river, in Lancaster county, some farmers have started "making hay," but they say the crop will be short because of dry weather and an early season.

Around the Countryside

The tradition that good neighbors lend a hand when one has had luck still holds good in Pennsylvania. A half-dozen planted corn on Henry Arnold's farm near New Bridgeville when pneumonia laid him low; Edmund Keefe's horse died, but seven tractors and two teams were turned out to plow, harrow and sow thirteen and

Low-Cost' Grow Houses' Designee To Keep Up With Owner's Needs

Here's a suggestion for a basic house to which a bedroom and dining room (dotted lines) can be added. Doors can be cut into both living room and kitchen walls to permit entry into the new dining room. The new bedroom can be entered through a hall cut through the two bedroom closets. Without a basement, the basic house costs about $2,385; with a basement, about $2,725. The future bedroom and dining room add about $690.

one-half acre of his farm near Stillwater.

A "cost of production central committee" was organized among Chester county dairy farmers to work for adequate milk prices.

Sheep and wool growers of Somerset county will hold their annual banquet at the Valley Grange hall June 6, consider bids for the 1939 wool crop, plan for pooling of this year's wool, and elect officers.

Horst Gives Warning Miles Horst, new secretary of the state Grange, warned Delaware and Chester county Grangers meeting at Davout against attempts to "dilute" farm institutions.

The Jay Bee farms of York New Salem shipped two Ayrshire bulls to the Venezuelan government for breeding purposes.

Cambria county farmers launched a cooperative unit under the Rural Electrification Administration.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
Famous Authority On Problems of Love and Marriage. Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Better Live Alone

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX: B. and I have known each other since childhood. We were in high school and college together. B. has all the sterling virtues, but he's a kill joy. We both have fairly good jobs, and since graduation have shared an apartment. But if I want a couple of friends (boys) in for cards, she groans. I'd like to have Sunday light suppers, and have friends in for parties—we have a dandy kitchen. But I'm so sick of B's complaints. She is positively anti-social, sour on life and people, though why, I don't know. She's very pretty, clever and could be a success. She is surely putting a cramp in my style.

DISSATISFIED Lose no time in breaking up your partnership with B. who may very seriously cramp your style not only now but later. Youth, especially bread-winning youth—girls and boys who have jobs—are entitled to "good, clean fun."

And to waive one's birthright to good time, on account of a morbid friend, embittered and anti-

entire increase in deaths in 1937 over 1936 resulted from night accidents. The increase in night accidents since 1930 amounts to 43 per cent.

The average motorist learns to drive in the daytime and seldom takes the trouble to study the particular dangers that apply to night driving. Nor have road engineering and lighting kept pace with safety improvements for daylight driving.

So far as personal problems are concerned, intoxication, the most vicious and serious motor car hazard, is much more likely to be increased at night. Fatigue, a factor also, is increased at night. Speeding is ten times as dangerous at night as in the daytime.

Slow Improvement Headlights have not been improved as rapidly or as completely as other parts of the automobile. The headlights problems are two. One is proper visibility in driving when no cars are ahead, and the other is blinding the approaching motorist.

So far as the first is concerned, headlights lose half their effectiveness if they are not kept clean and adjusted. So far as the second, few cars on the road have efficient dim lights, and even in those states where it is required to dim the lights for an approaching motorist, the rules are not rigidly enforced.

The Michigan Highway Department has collected some valuable statistics regarding reflector buttons on rural highways. On 80 miles of road from Lansing to Detroit reflector buttons were spaced 100 feet apart. There was a reduction in accidents of 73 per cent on this stretch of road in 1938, as compared to a reduction of 19 per cent on a control stretch of highway.

Danger Increased The night pedestrian is in about five times as much danger from motorists as the day pedestrian. It is suggested that night pedestrians carry a light, but this seems to be an imposition that is carrying the thing too far. If you can't be safe walking around at night without a lantern, it has indeed become a dangerous world.

But even carrying a white handkerchief is a considerable safeguard to a pedestrian. The pedestrian may see the motorist's headlights, but that does not mean that the motorist sees him.

Reduction in speed limits at night is definitely necessary. The motorist at night must have his car under full control, so that he can stop within a short time.

Motor accidents as a public health problem occupy first place, largely because they are almost entirely preventable.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of King Features Syndicate, Inc., 235 East Forty-fifth street, New York, N. Y. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

What Makes Night Driving Dangerous

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
The roads and city streets are very well policed by day, and it is becoming more apparent that they should also be well policed at night. Night accidents have been increasing while daytime accidents are numerically almost stationary. The entire increase in deaths in 1937 over 1936 resulted from night accidents. The increase in night accidents since 1930 amounts to 43 per cent.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

The average motorist learns to drive in the daytime and seldom takes the trouble to study the particular dangers that apply to night driving. Nor have road engineering and lighting kept pace with safety improvements for daylight driving.

So far as personal problems are concerned, intoxication, the most vicious and serious motor car hazard, is much more likely to be increased at night. Fatigue, a factor also, is increased at night. Speeding is ten times as dangerous at night as in the daytime.

Slow Improvement Headlights have not been improved as rapidly or as completely as other parts of the automobile. The headlights problems are two. One is proper visibility in driving when no cars are ahead, and the other is blinding the approaching motorist.

So far as the first is concerned, headlights lose half their effectiveness if they are not kept clean and adjusted. So far as the second, few cars on the road have efficient dim lights, and even in those states where it is required to dim the lights for an approaching motorist, the rules are not rigidly enforced.

The Michigan Highway Department has collected some valuable statistics regarding reflector buttons on rural highways. On 80 miles of road from Lansing to Detroit reflector buttons were spaced 100 feet apart. There was a reduction in accidents of 73 per cent on this stretch of road in 1938, as compared to a reduction of 19 per cent on a control stretch of highway.

Danger Increased The night pedestrian is in about five times as much danger from motorists as the day pedestrian. It is suggested that night pedestrians carry a light, but this seems to be an imposition that is carrying the thing too far. If you can't be safe walking around at night without a lantern, it has indeed become a dangerous world.

But even carrying a white handkerchief is a considerable safeguard to a pedestrian. The pedestrian may see the motorist's headlights, but that does not mean that the motorist sees him.

Reduction in speed limits at night is definitely necessary. The motorist at night must have his car under full control, so that he can stop within a short time.

Motor accidents as a public health problem occupy first place, largely because they are almost entirely preventable.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of King Features Syndicate, Inc., 235 East Forty-fifth street, New York, N. Y. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

What Makes Night Driving Dangerous

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
The roads and city streets are very well policed by day, and it is becoming more apparent that they should also be well policed at night. Night accidents have been increasing while daytime accidents are numerically almost stationary. The entire increase in deaths in 1937 over 1936 resulted from night accidents. The increase in night accidents since 1930 amounts to 43 per cent.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

The average motorist learns to drive in the daytime and seldom takes the trouble to study the particular dangers that apply to night driving. Nor have road engineering and lighting kept pace with safety improvements for daylight driving.

So far as personal problems are concerned, intoxication, the most vicious and serious motor car hazard, is much more likely to be increased at night. Fatigue, a factor also, is increased at night. Speeding is ten times as dangerous at night as in the daytime.

Slow Improvement Headlights have not been improved as rapidly or as completely as other parts of the automobile. The headlights problems are two. One is proper visibility in driving when no cars are ahead, and the other is blinding the approaching motorist.

So far as the first is concerned, headlights lose half their effectiveness if they are not kept clean and adjusted. So far as the second, few cars on the road have efficient dim lights, and even in those states where it is required to dim the lights for an approaching motorist, the rules are not rigidly enforced.

The Michigan Highway Department has collected some valuable statistics regarding reflector buttons on rural highways. On 80 miles of road from Lansing to Detroit reflector buttons were spaced 100 feet apart. There was a reduction in accidents of 73 per cent on this stretch of road in 1938, as compared to a reduction of 19 per cent on a control stretch of highway.

Danger Increased The night pedestrian is in about five times as much danger from motorists as the day pedestrian. It is suggested that night pedestrians carry a light, but this seems to be an imposition that is carrying the thing too far. If you can't be safe walking around at night without a lantern, it has indeed become a dangerous world.

But even carrying a white handkerchief is a considerable safeguard to a pedestrian. The pedestrian may see the motorist's headlights, but that does not mean that the motorist sees him.

Reduction in speed limits at night is definitely necessary. The motorist at night must have his car under full control, so that he can stop within a short time.

Motor accidents as a public health problem occupy first place, largely because they are almost entirely preventable.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of King Features Syndicate, Inc., 235 East Forty-fifth street, New York, N. Y. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

What Makes Night Driving Dangerous

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
The roads and city streets are very well policed by day, and it is becoming more apparent that they should also be well policed at night. Night accidents have been increasing while daytime accidents are numerically almost stationary. The entire increase in deaths in 1937 over 1936 resulted from night accidents. The increase in night accidents since 1930 amounts to 43 per cent.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

The average motorist learns to drive in the daytime and seldom takes the trouble to study the particular dangers that apply to night driving. Nor have road engineering and lighting kept pace with safety improvements for daylight driving.

So far as personal problems are concerned, intoxication, the most vicious and serious motor car hazard, is much more likely to be increased at night. Fatigue, a factor also, is increased at night. Speeding is ten times as dangerous at night as in the daytime.

Slow Improvement Headlights have not been improved as rapidly or as completely as other parts of the automobile. The headlights problems are two. One is proper visibility in driving when no cars are ahead, and the other is blinding the approaching motorist.

So far as the first is concerned, headlights lose half their effectiveness if they are not kept clean and adjusted. So far as the second, few cars on the road have efficient dim lights, and even in those states where it is required to dim the lights for an approaching motorist, the rules are not rigidly enforced.

The Michigan Highway Department has collected some valuable statistics regarding reflector buttons on rural highways. On 80 miles of road from Lansing to Detroit reflector buttons were spaced 100 feet apart. There was a reduction in accidents of 73 per cent on this stretch of road in 1938, as compared to a reduction of 19 per cent on a control stretch of highway.

Danger Increased The night pedestrian is in about five times as much danger from motorists as the day pedestrian. It is suggested that night pedestrians carry a light, but this seems to be an imposition that is carrying the thing too far. If you can't be safe walking around at night without a lantern, it has indeed become a dangerous world.

But even carrying a white handkerchief is a considerable safeguard to a pedestrian. The pedestrian may see the motorist's headlights, but that does not mean that the motorist sees him.

Reduction in speed limits at night is definitely necessary. The motorist at night must have his car under full control, so that he can stop within a short time.

Motor accidents as a public health problem occupy first place, largely because they are almost entirely preventable.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of King Features Syndicate, Inc., 235 East Forty-fifth street, New York, N. Y. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

What Makes Night Driving Dangerous

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
The roads and city streets are very well policed by day, and it is becoming more apparent that they should also be well policed at night. Night accidents have been increasing while daytime accidents are numerically almost stationary. The entire increase in deaths in 1937 over 1936 resulted from night accidents. The increase in night accidents since 1930 amounts to 43 per cent.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

The average motorist learns to drive in the daytime and seldom takes the trouble to study the particular dangers that apply to night driving. Nor have road engineering and lighting kept pace with safety improvements for daylight driving.

So far as personal problems are concerned, intoxication, the most vicious and serious motor car hazard, is much more likely to be increased at night. Fatigue, a factor also, is increased at night. Speeding is ten times as dangerous at night as in the daytime.

Slow Improvement Headlights have not been improved as rapidly or as completely as other parts of the automobile. The headlights problems are two. One is proper visibility in driving when no cars are ahead, and the other is blinding the approaching motorist.

So far as the first is concerned, headlights lose half their effectiveness if they are not kept clean and adjusted. So far as the second, few cars on the road have efficient dim lights, and even in those states where it is required to dim the lights for an approaching motorist, the rules are not rigidly enforced.

The Michigan Highway Department has collected some valuable statistics regarding reflector buttons on rural highways. On 80 miles of road from Lansing to Detroit reflector buttons were spaced 100 feet apart. There was a reduction in accidents of 73 per cent on this stretch of road in 1938, as compared to a reduction of 19 per cent on a control stretch of highway.

Danger Increased The night pedestrian is in about five times as much danger from motorists as the day pedestrian. It is suggested that night pedestrians carry a light, but this seems to be an imposition that is carrying the thing too far. If you can't be safe walking around at night without a lantern, it has indeed become a dangerous world.

But even carrying a white handkerchief is a considerable safeguard to a pedestrian. The pedestrian may see the motorist's headlights, but that does not mean that the motorist sees him.

Reduction in speed limits at night is definitely necessary. The motorist at night must have his car under full control, so that he can stop within a short time.

Motor accidents as a public health problem occupy first place, largely because they are almost entirely preventable.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of King Features Syndicate, Inc., 235 East Forty-fifth street, New York, N. Y. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

What Makes Night Driving Dangerous

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
The roads and city streets are very well policed by day, and it is becoming more apparent that they should also be well policed at night. Night accidents have been increasing while daytime accidents are numerically almost stationary. The entire increase in deaths in 1937 over 1936 resulted from night accidents. The increase in night accidents since 1930 amounts to 43 per cent.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

The average motorist learns to drive in the daytime and seldom takes the trouble to study the particular dangers that apply to night driving. Nor have road engineering and lighting kept pace with safety improvements for daylight driving.

So far as personal problems are concerned, intoxication, the most vicious and serious motor car hazard, is much more likely to be increased at night. Fatigue, a factor also, is increased at night. Speeding is ten times as dangerous at night as in the daytime.

Slow Improvement Headlights have not been improved as rapidly or as completely as other parts of the automobile. The headlights problems are two. One is proper visibility in driving when no cars are ahead, and the other is blinding the approaching motorist.

So far as the first is concerned, headlights lose half their effectiveness if they are not kept clean and adjusted. So far as the second, few cars on the road have efficient dim lights, and even in those states where it is required to dim the lights for an approaching motorist, the rules are not rigidly enforced.

The Michigan Highway Department has collected some valuable statistics regarding reflector buttons on rural highways. On 80 miles of road from Lansing to Detroit reflector buttons were spaced 100 feet apart. There was a reduction in accidents of 73 per cent on this stretch of road in 1938, as compared to a reduction of 19 per cent on a control stretch of highway.

Danger Increased The night pedestrian is in about five times as much danger from motorists as the day pedestrian. It is suggested that night pedestrians carry a light, but this seems to be an imposition that is carrying the thing too far. If you can't be safe walking around at night without a lantern, it has indeed become a dangerous world.

But even carrying a white handkerchief is a considerable safeguard to a pedestrian. The pedestrian may see the motorist's headlights, but that does not mean that the motorist sees him.

Reduction in speed limits at night is definitely necessary. The motorist at night must have his car under full control, so that he can stop within a short time.

Motor accidents as a public health problem occupy first place, largely because they are almost entirely preventable.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of King Features Syndicate, Inc., 235 East Forty-fifth street, New York, N. Y. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

What Makes Night Driving Dangerous

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
The roads and city streets are very well policed by day, and it is becoming more apparent that they should also be well policed at night. Night accidents have been increasing while daytime accidents are numerically almost stationary. The entire increase in deaths in 1937 over 1936 resulted from night accidents. The increase in night accidents since 1930 amounts to 43 per cent.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

The average motorist learns to drive in the daytime and seldom takes the trouble to study the particular dangers that apply to night driving. Nor have road engineering and lighting kept pace with safety improvements for daylight driving.

So far as personal problems are concerned, intoxication, the most vicious and serious motor car hazard, is much more likely to be increased at night. Fatigue, a factor also, is increased at night. Speeding is ten times as dangerous at night as in the daytime.

Slow Improvement Headlights have not been improved as rapidly or as completely as other parts of the automobile. The headlights problems are two. One is proper visibility in driving when no cars are ahead, and the other is blinding the approaching motorist.

So far as the first is concerned, headlights lose half their effectiveness if they are not kept clean and adjusted. So far as the second, few cars on the road have efficient dim lights, and even in those states where it is required to dim the lights for an approaching motorist, the rules are not rigidly enforced.

The Michigan Highway Department has collected some valuable statistics regarding reflector buttons on rural highways. On 80 miles of road from Lansing to Detroit reflector buttons were spaced 100 feet apart. There was a reduction in accidents of 73 per cent on this stretch of road in 1938, as compared to a reduction of 19 per cent on a control stretch of highway.

Danger Increased The night pedestrian is in about five times as much danger from motorists as the day pedestrian. It is suggested that night pedestrians carry a light, but this seems to be an imposition that is carrying the thing too far. If you can't be safe walking around at night without a lantern, it has indeed become a dangerous world.

But even carrying a white handkerchief is a considerable safeguard to a pedestrian. The pedestrian may see the motorist's headlights, but that does not mean that the motorist sees him.

Reduction in speed limits at night is definitely necessary. The motorist at night must have his car under full control, so that he can stop within a short time.

Motor accidents as a public health problem occupy first place, largely because they are almost entirely preventable.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of King Features Syndicate, Inc., 235 East Forty-fifth street, New York, N. Y. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

What Makes Night Driving Dangerous

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
The roads and city streets are very well policed by day, and it is becoming more apparent that they should also be well policed at night. Night accidents have been increasing while daytime accidents are numerically almost stationary. The entire increase in deaths in 1937 over 1936 resulted from night accidents. The increase in night accidents since 1930 amounts to 43 per cent.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

The average motorist learns to drive in the daytime and seldom takes the trouble to study the particular dangers that apply to night driving. Nor have road engineering and lighting kept pace with safety improvements for daylight driving.

So far as personal problems are concerned, intoxication, the most vicious and serious motor car hazard, is much more likely to be increased at night. Fatigue, a factor also, is increased at night. Speeding is ten times as dangerous at night as in the daytime.

Slow Improvement Headlights have not been improved as rapidly or as completely as other parts of the automobile. The headlights problems are two. One is proper visibility in driving when no cars are ahead, and the other is blinding the approaching motorist.

So far as the first is concerned, headlights lose half their effectiveness if they are not kept clean and adjusted. So far as the second, few cars on the road have efficient dim lights, and even in those states where it is required to dim the lights for an approaching motorist, the rules are not rigidly enforced.

The Michigan Highway Department has collected some valuable statistics regarding reflector buttons on rural highways. On 80 miles of road from Lansing to Detroit reflector buttons were spaced 100 feet apart. There was a reduction in accidents of 73 per cent on this stretch of road in 1938, as compared to a reduction of 19 per cent on a control stretch of highway.

Danger Increased The night pedestrian is in about five times as much danger from motorists as the day pedestrian. It is suggested that night pedestrians carry a light, but this seems to be an imposition that is carrying the thing too far. If you can't be safe walking around at night without a lantern, it has indeed become a dangerous world.

But even carrying a white handkerchief is a considerable safeguard to a pedestrian. The pedestrian may see the motorist's headlights, but that does not mean that the motorist sees him.

Reduction in speed limits at night is definitely necessary. The motorist at night must have his car under full control, so that he can stop within a short time.

Motor accidents as a public health problem occupy first place, largely because they are almost entirely preventable.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed

Crop Income Down But over Average In Pennsylvania

Price Index Falls Three Points with National Up One

Harrisburg, Pa., June 4 (AP)—Pennsylvania farmers received less for their principal products last year than in April, the federal-state crop reporting service announces—but they still got more than the average American agriculturist.

The index of prices paid in the Keystone state was down three points, and the average for the nation was up one point.

Pennsylvania got a higher price for their goods than the average American farmer.

For instance, while the price of soy in Pennsylvania dropped ten cents a ton, to $8.50, the national average for May was only $6.88, up one cent from the preceding month.

Pennsylvania hog prices dropped from $7.40 to $7.10 per hundredweight, while the national average fell from $6.57 to $6.39.

Keystone state eggs brought seventeen and seven-tenths cents a dozen, down half a cent from April, while the average price nationally was fifteen and two-tenths cents.

Rural Youth Doings

Line boys started the fourth annual 4-H Pig-Feeding Club at Blue Ball, near Clearfield.

Approximately twenty-five 4-H club girls in Greene county are planning to attend the annual camp at Ligonier this year.

Girls of the East Forks community organized a 4-H club under the presidency of Joyce Shaffer.

Beulah Arbogast was elected president of the Farmersville 4-H Club.

Weather Notes

The hucksters who chant of "York county strawberries!" are complaining that the drought is holding down the crop.

Many farmers around Bentley Springs in York county who did not cultivate their cornfields during the winter "got left" because of the lack of rain, and decided not to plant any corn.

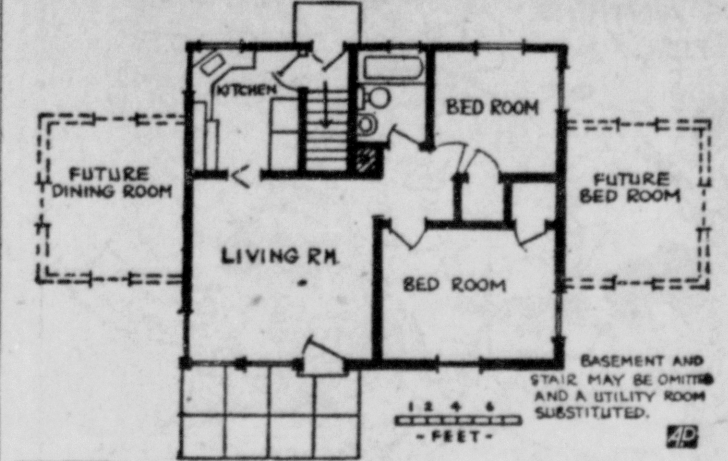

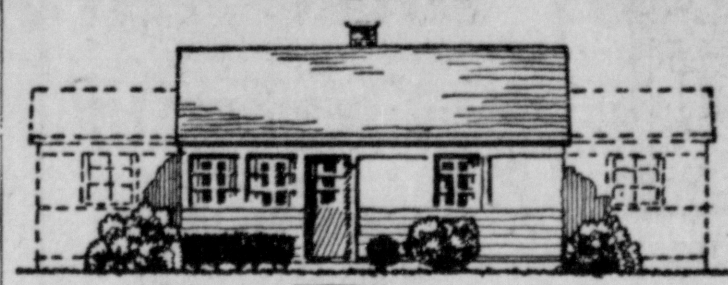

One farmer in southern York county who planted a large acreage in peas reported his crop wouldn't yield him a dollar.

Across the Susquehanna river, in Lancaster county, some farmers have started "making hay," but they say the crop will be short because of dry weather and an early season.

Around the Countryside

The tradition that good neighbors lend a hand when one has had luck still holds good in Pennsylvania. A half-dozen planted corn on Henry Arnold's farm near New Bridgeville when pneumonia laid him low; Edmund Keefe's horse died, but seven tractors and two teams were turned out to plow, harrow and sow thirteen and

Low-Cost' Grow Houses' Designee To Keep Up With Owner's Needs

Here's a suggestion for a basic house to which a bedroom and dining room (dotted lines) can be added. Doors can be cut into both living room and kitchen walls to permit entry into the new dining room. The new bedroom can be entered through a hall cut through the two bedroom closets. Without a basement, the basic house costs about $2,385; with a basement, about $2,725. The future bedroom and dining room add about $690.

one-half acres of his farm near Stillwater.

A "cost of production central committee" was organized among Chester county dairy farmers to work for adequate milk prices.

Sheep and wool growers of Somerset county will hold their annual banquet at the Valley Grange hall June 6, consider bids for the 1939 wool crop, plan for pooling of this year's wool, and elect officers.

Horst Gives Warning

Miles Horst, new secretary of the state Grange, warned Delaware and Chester county Grangers meeting at Devault against attempts to "city" farm institutions.

The Jay Bee farms of York New Salem shipped two Ayshire bulls to the Venezuelan government for breeding purposes.

Cambria county farmers launched a cooperative unit under the Rural Electrification Administration.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX
Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage, Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Better Live Alone

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

B. and I have known each other since childhood. We were in high school and college together. B. has all the sterling virtues, but she's a kill joy. We both have fairly good jobs, and since graduation have shared an apartment. But if I want a couple of friends (boys) in for cards, she groans.

I'd like to have Sunday light suppers, and have friends in for parties—we have a dandy kitchen. But I'm so sick of B's complaints. She is positively anti-social, soured on life and people, though why, I don't know. She's very pretty, clever and could be a success. She is surely putting a cramp in my style.

DISSATISFIED

Lose no time in breaking up your partnership with B. who may very seriously cramp your style not only now but later. Youth, especially bread-winning youth—girls and boys who have jobs—are entitled to "good, clean fun."

And to waive one's birthright to good time, on account of a morbid friend, embittered and anti-

LOANS
UP TO $300
AUTO LOANS
FURNITURE LOANS

INDUSTRIAL LOAN
SOCIETY, INC.
Liberty Trust Building
3rd Floor Phone 97

SHIRTS
Finished Out of Wash 10c

Cumberland Laundry
Phone 440 22 N. Mechanic St.

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

social for no reason at all, is a grave mistake. Go in for some other arrangement.

Parents' Hands Off

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I used to go with a group of which my parents highly approved. They were young people connected with our church. There I met a man somewhat older, who seemed to take a special interest in me, and one night asked me for a date.

Due to his belonging to a different church and being older, my parents did not smile on our friendship. I went off on secret dates with him, and I soon found myself in love. He asked me to marry him and I accepted.

We planned several ways to tell my family, but they always evaded meeting him. Finally we eloped. We are as much in love as ever, but my parents are doing their best to keep us separated. I love them, of course; they've been so good to me. But I can't see why they don't let my husband and me live alone.

So many married people are unhappy, but we are devoted. Their chief objection to my husband is the difference in religion (Continued on Page Seven)

What Makes Night Driving Dangerous

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

The roads and city streets are very well policed by day, and it is becoming more apparent that they should also be well policed at night.

Night accidents have been increasing while daytime accidents are numerically almost stationary. The entire increase in deaths in 1937 over 1936 resulted from night accidents. The increase in night accidents since 1930 amounts to 43 per cent.

Dr. Clendening will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

The average motorist learns to drive in the daytime and seldom takes the trouble to study the particular dangers that apply to night driving. Nor have road engineering and lighting kept pace with safety improvements for daylight driving.

So far as personal problems are concerned, intoxication, the most vicious and serious motor car hazard, is much more likely to be increased at night. Fatigue, a factor also, is increased at night. Speeding is ten times as dangerous at night as in the daytime.

Slow Improvement

Headlights have not been improved as rapidly or as completely as other parts of the automobile. The headlight problems are two. One is proper visibility in driving when no cars are ahead, and the other is blinding the approaching motorist.

So far as the first is concerned, headlights lose half their effectiveness if they are not kept clean and adjusted. So far as the second, few cars on the road have efficient dim lights, and even in those states where it is required to dim the lights for an approaching motorist, the rules are not rigidly enforced.

The Michigan Highway Department has collected some valuable statistics regarding reflector buttons on rural highways. On 80 miles of road from Lansing to Detroit reflector buttons were spaced 100 feet apart. There was a reduction in accidents of 73 per cent on this stretch of road in 1936, as compared to a reduction of 19 per cent on a control stretch of highway.

Danger Increased

The night pedestrian is in about five times as much danger from motorists as the day pedestrian. It is suggested that night pedestrians carry a light, but this seems to be an imposition that is carrying the thing too far. If you can't be safe walking around at night without a lantern, it has indeed become a dangerous world.

But even carrying a white handkerchief is a considerable safeguard to a pedestrian. The pedestrian may see the motorist's headlights, but that does not mean that the motorist sees him.

Reduction in speed limits at night is definitely necessary. The motorist at night must have his car under full control, so that he can stop within a short time.

Motor accidents as a public health problem occupy first place, largely because they are almost entirely preventable.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Clendening has seven pamphlets which can be obtained by readers. Each pamphlet sells for 10 cents. For any one pamphlet desired, send 10 cents in coin, and a self-addressed envelope stamped with a three-cent stamp, to Dr. Logan Clendening, in care of King Features Syndicate, Inc., 235 East Forty-fifth street, New York, N. Y. The pamphlets are: "Three Weeks' Reducing Diet," "Indigestion and Constipation," "Reducing and Gaining," "Infant Feeding," "Instructions for the Treatment of Diabetes," "Feminine Hygiene" and "The Care of the Hair and Skin."

ROSENBAUM'S
WEDNESDAY, 8 P. M.
and
THURSDAY, 8 P. M.
You're Invited
To Attend
Rosenbaum's 6th Annual
BEACH WEAR
REVUE
CELANESE POOL
Attractive Models!
Aquatic Sports! Stunts!
Music! Fun!

This is the first of a series of weekly features on "grow houses." There will be five others. While plans and specifications are not available through this paper, local architects can work out any of the "grow houses" to fit individual needs.

By The AP Feature Service

They call them "grow houses" because they are designed to grow with a family.

Designed for minimum costs, the floor plans have been pared to essentials, but even so they meet with the rigid rules of the Federal Housing Administration.

Each room has cross-ventilation and in each plan the bath is set off in a small hall and can be entered with out stepping through other rooms. Each design has been devised so that future rooms to be added may be entered easily and naturally.

Privacy is emphasized in all plans; sleeping quarters, the kitchen, the bath and the living room may be shut off from each other. Heating is done by a central parlor heater—indicated by a blacked in square on the plans.

Costs quoted are based on an average, middle-western community. Each plan calls for clap-board siding, brick casing on the chimney, and asphalt shingles.

The costs quoted represent only the price of building the house, a contractor's fee of 10 per cent included. The lot, decorating, insulation, refrigerator, range, and architects service would run the cost up about $750. Lots should be at least 50 by 100 feet, says Federal Housing; 60 by 120 feet is preferred.

In all the plans stock windows and doors have been used, and structural members are standard length.

Next Week—A $2,110 House Designed For Two Future Bedrooms.

Dogcatcher's 'Bail' Forced To Take Layoff

Kelso, Wash. (AP)—City Dog-catcher E. L. Donaldson is without the services of his super-efficiency "Mata Hari," his dog with "comph."

Queen, the mongrel Donaldson used as bait for itinerant male canines, would mince along the streets and alleys with a coquetish look in her eyes. When stray males sought introductions, Donaldson would net them and cart them off to the pond.

But Queen's on the sidelines now—she's the mother of five hungry puppies.

LOANS
UP TO $300
AUTO LOANS
FURNITURE LOANS

INDUSTRIAL LOAN
SOCIETY, INC.
Liberty Trust Building
3rd Floor Phone 97

SHIRTS
Finished Out of Wash 10c

Cumberland Laundry
Phone 440 22 N. Mechanic St.

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint & Glass Co.
EDMUND J. KEAN — W. O. WELLS
PITTSBURGH PAINTS
WALLPAPER • FLOORING • WATERPROOF • STAINPROOF
WE NOW CARRY A COMPLETE STOCK OF
GLASS
FOR ALL PURPOSES
• Plate • Window • Ornamental
• Wire • Carrara • Mirrors
SAFETY AUTO GLASS
Installed While You Wait
OFFICE AND STORE 15 N. Mechanic St. WAREHOUSE 141 N. Mechanic St. TELEPHONE 3033

Announcing
A New Service
Queen City Paint &

The Cumberland News

Published every weekday morning, excepting holidays, at 1 and 7 South Mechanic Street, Cumberland Md., by The Times and Allegiance Company.

Entered as second class mail matter at Cumberland, Md.

Member of The Associated Press

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news credited to it, not otherwise credited in this paper and also the local news published herein. All rights of reproduction of special dispatches are also reserved.

TERMS—By carrier, in city, 15 cents a week.
BY MAIL—First, second and third years, one month, $6.00; six months, $12.00; one year, $24.00. Fourth, fifth and sixth years, one month, $1.00; six months, $5.00; one year, $9.00. Seventh and eighth years, one month, $1.25; six months, $6.00; one year, $12.00.

Business Advertising Representative: J. J. Divine and Associates, Inc., New York, 1032 Chrysler Bldg.; Chicago, 397 N. Michigan Ave.; Detroit, 817 New Center Bldg.; Atlanta, 206 Palmer Bldg.; Pittsburgh, 488 Oliver Bldg.; Syracuse, State Tower Bldg.

TELEPHONES

William L. Gogert, Managing Editor	1131
Editorial and News	1131
Advertising (general)	1131
Advertising (want ads)	1131
Sports Editor	2312
Circulation Department	140
Business Office	1022
Printing Office	1022
Longsight Office	1022

Monday Morning, June 5, 1939

Quite Possible

"IS IT POSSIBLE for the leaders of business to do anything themselves to prevent or mitigate trade depressions?" asks Sir Arthur Slater, distinguished British economist, writing in the current Rotarian Magazine.

He proceeds to answer his question with an emphatic "Yes," after pointing out that even more distress may lie ahead unless positive, forward-looking action is taken by those industrial leaders who individually exert great power over business trends.

"A relatively restricted number of leaders," he says, "have the power either to impede or to assist the adjustments that all forms of economic change are constantly requiring." In view of this, what is needed, he asserts, is closer coordination between business leaders and government, especially in the field of broad planning.

Governments have great responsibilities during times of economic stress, but, he points out, "while there are some things which they can usefully do, there are others which offer, or seem to offer, some relief for the moment, but which will involve immensely serious consequences later. One thing is certain. If the leaders of business make no contribution themselves, and if they are not cooperating with the Government and are suspicious of and hostile to what it is doing, no governmental measures can substantially relieve the situation."

Business should take a long time view, he states, and deliberately plan for the inevitable depressions during times of prosperity. "Public utilities and railways, for example, could to a considerable extent," he believes, "restrict capital expenditure during booms and expand it during depressions."

All this is quite true. But when business is arbitrarily deprived by government of the means of planning ahead, the situation resolves into the old drama. Business and industry cannot do any planning, it cannot prepare for lean times and for boom times, if the means for carrying out the plans are taken away from them—if their reserve funds are confiscated in the guise of taxation, here is where a closer coordination between business and government can be effected. There is awakening realization in Washington now that something of the sort has long been direly needed and that the lack of the essential cooperative factors has been more the fault of government policy than it has of business.

Answer, Please!

FROM the Central Statistical Board comes a choice tidbit for business men to chew upon. It is the board's announcement that it is studying 135,700,000 sets of answers that citizens of the nation gave to pertinent and impertinent questions about their affairs which are asked with relentless regularity by 88 Federal agencies.

A total of 97,500,000 answers were supplied for purported administrative purposes in compliance with different laws. One third of these were in connection with taxes.

Some 18,000,000 were tax and informational returns to the Social Security Board.

Next come 12,000,000 containing tax information for the Internal Revenue Bureau.

Another one-third of the administrative blanks consists of applications to the federal government for some service, benefit or privilege.

Every small business had to answer 1,300.

Each railroad had to file more than 1,000 returns with 150 questions to each return—grand total, 150,000 answers.

Makers of automobiles, steel, electrical apparatus and certain other large-scale enterprises had to make 250 returns with sixty-five questions per return.

Retail merchants got off easy. All they had to do was to file ten returns with a total of 500 questions!

The purpose of all this, of course, is alleged to be the stimulation of business, and the promotion of social security and the national welfare.

Perhaps the consumption of midnight oil was increased and kilowatt-hour production of electric current was stepped up as the harassed business men struggled along into the night trying to find the right answers.

But undoubtedly the inclination of most of them was to put out the light and go to bed.

Unwarranted Fear

WHILE deploring fanaticism and book-burnings and choking of the voice of the people, the Rev. Dr. William Ward Ayer, distinguished New York pastor, has issued a warning against bad books. He says there is need of "voluntary book-burning" if we expect to forestall dictatorial government action and the building of book pyres by edict.

America's experience does not give rise to such a fear. America's experience has been that the good books live and the bad books die, much as good, strong, healthy and plentiful green grass does a good job of killing off weeds. We repeat what has been said on many previous occasions, namely that the public can be trusted to distinguish between the worthwhile and the spurious.

The speaker's statement that "there is a definite reaction to lewdness" in American printed matter is not borne out by facts and figures. The circulation millions piled up by periodicals in the United States are added up from a list of publications which are uniformly clean and decent. The other sort has its sensational moment of notoriety, but is short-lived. In the long table of newspapers and magazines of enormous circulation and popularity in all strata of society, there is little material out of which to build a book-burning.

There is no doubt that periodicals and books of a subversive nature, from the moral point of view, do find their way into print, but they are quickly recognized as trash and die of their own inanition. There is no need of talk of book-burning, whether voluntary or by prescription.

Vacation Motor Hazards

A SPECIAL WARNING to motorists respecting their responsibilities for the safety of children during the approaching school vacation season has been issued by the Keystone Automobile Club.

At the same time, the club emphasized parental responsibility, pointing out that mothers and fathers should exercise more than usual vigilance in the months their children are released from school discipline and the daily lessons in safety practices.

"More automobiles are on the highways than ever before," said Edward P. Curran, safety director of the Club. "This means that the chances for accident are increased. Unless motorists are extremely cautious the child accident toll will be heavy during the vacation period. We must urgently ask all drivers to refrain from 'taking chances' where children are concerned."

"It should be recognized by motorists and parents that the hazard to children is greater in the summer months when they are freed from the restraints and safety lessons in the classrooms. Therefore, the duty devolves upon drivers to be doubly careful and upon parents to apply the cautionary measures essential to safety."

"We particularly ask motorists to take into account that youngsters are apt to be more thoughtless during the summer; that they will not be crossing streets under the supervision and guidance of the School Safety Patrols; that they probably will forget to 'cross only at crossings.' In many ways they may deviate from the practices of the school year. Ball playing, roller skating and bicycle riding are a few of the extra hazards motorists should be prepared for."

As Curran says, it is by keeping these things in mind that drivers can avoid the tragic accidents which have marred other vacation periods.

Valuable Quality

CHARM is a mysterious quality. Charm sets one person apart from the general run and gives to its fortunate possessor a distinct advantage in the competition for life's prizes. No definition of charm or personality is agreed upon by those who seek to discover the secret. You have it or you have it not.

The idea of the charm school has titillated the imagination of poets and dramatists and novelists for generations. At the Eastern District high school in Brooklyn an attempt is being made to find out the magic formula for charm or the attractive personality, in an extra-curricular activity which has proved so popular that the courses are filled to capacity and there is a long waiting list.

The students are taught good grooming, good manners, poise, making the most of one's best features, improvement in habits of speech, behavior and social attitude. This earnest endeavor of young persons, yearning to be charming, may not turn one wallflower into what the publicity lads call a glamour girl, but the teaching of good grooming, manners, speech and conduct is far from a waste of time. On the way to the elusive goal, the pupils are sure to acquire what society needs, an orderly and pleasant relationship of its members.

The five most charming sights seen by the British king and queen on their Canadian tour have been, we're sure their majesties will agree, Miss Dionne, Miss Dionne, Miss Dionne, Miss Dionne and Miss Dionne.

A British mathematician has invented what he calls "stretchable time." Just what a fellow needs when the alarm clock sounds off in the morning.

"Europe Faces Crisis," says an eight-column headline. Gosh, is this a brand new one—or just last week's, warmed over?

Today's simile: As sore as a congressman's shoulder at a gathering of patronage seekers.

Life is full of twists and turns, says a philosopher. True, as any radio listener knows.

Who Knows His Place?

By MARSHALL MASLIN

Once, in a restaurant, I heard a man speak sharply to a waiter and send him away pale with humiliation and rage. And the man turned to the woman at his side and said: "That waiter does not know his place."

What had that waiter done? Of what impudence had he been guilty? Simply this. He had known the other man when both were poor, when the man was not as powerful, as imposing, as now, and he had made the mistake of calling him by his first name. Without thinking he had called him "Jim"—easily, naturally—and thus had made the "presumptuous mistake" of not knowing his place. He had offended that man's dignity by daring to break in upon his complacency and treat him as though he were still a human being.

But which of those two men did NOT know his place? Which had failed the more? And where is our place on this wandering earth, among these hundreds of millions of human creatures who travel so perilously from the cradle to the grave?

It's my belief that the failure was with the seated man. He is the man who lost his place in the great book of life and may never find it again. Not that humiliated waiter who was so presumptuous as to believe that humanity still bore fruit in the friend of his youth.

It is true that each of us has a place on this earth, but it is not on the Peaks of Pride. It is down on the great highway where the massed men are treading. Not with those who have traded their souls for something useless, but with our fellows who are friendly because they like us and not because of anything we own.

Other men may not know their places but OURS is on the road where the humble great have gone before. . . . with the Lincolns who grieved for boys on the battle line. . . . for St. Francis who cried brother to wild wolves and gentle rabbits. . . . for Tolstoy who begged us to remember that "we are all men, going home." . . . We float ahead on a slight raft and the only light living men may see is the glow of human companionship. And what room is there on that raft for the man who dares to say that one of his brothers "does not know his place?"

The man who says another does not know his place has not yet learned his OWN.

The Human Side Of the News

BY EDWIN C. HILL

Marching up the ramp, in the play of soft pastel light colors and the subdued throb of organ music, into the world of tomorrow, we'll be looking back over our shoulder. I thought of this the other day when I saw the new "Frankie and Johnny" murals, being painted for a New York night club by Julian Harrison.

This low-life classic, sung by nice people nowadays, has turned up in more than 150 versions, and new ones are still being found. It is not bar-fies and night hawks who are digging up the new versions. It is philologists of the universities and tune wizards like our Sig Spaeth who are forever uncovering some new mother lode of frankieandjohnnyana. Somebody wrote the other day that there are probably ten people in America who know "Frankie and Johnny" to one who knows the "Star-Spangled Banner," but the salty ballad is a lot easier to remember than the national anthem.

Created Many Songs

In the pre-Elizabethan England of Marlowe, Webster, Dekker and Peale, picaresque characters of the pot-houses created many songs, and many of them seeped down into classical literary and musical lore, in the Provencal of France and the Paris of Francois Villon.

In every age, particularly in eras of great vitality, the Minnesingers have spread the songs to the farthest by ways of the realm, and in each region they have been adapted and changed. So with "Frankie and Johnny," in this anthology of Frankie songs, there are the voices of forgotten singers through all of America—cities and towns, mountains and plains.

It is unadulterated low-life—jealousy, violence, murder, revenge. But, for the matter of that, so is Sophocles and Aeschylus and a fair sampling of grand opera and quite a deal of Shakespeare—"Macbeth," for example. It is, indeed, a classical theme. Which might account for the fact that "Frankie and Johnny" has been sung by superb artists in Carnegie hall, as well as by frowsy bums in waterfront flophouses.

Earlier Version Discovered

Song scouts never get quite to the end of the trial in back-trailing "Frankie and Johnny." There was a supposedly authentic tale of some bard having tossed it off in a St. Louis beer joint, in the early nineties, after a jealousy killing in which the details were said to have been accurately reported in the song. But an earlier version was discovered, and now they have run it back to about 1880, whence it came out of the mists and shadows of the Mississippi River and the early railroad towns.

This song, however, had to do with "Frankie and Albert." There were only thirteen verses, whereas it takes twenty-nine to round out the epic story in the generally accepted version of today. It grows with the years, through many forms, "Josie," of the Kentucky hill-billy country is one, and "Sadie," traced to the logging camps and mine pits around Lake Michigan, is another.

And now it shades off into the "Frankie Blues." A friend played the blues version for me on the piano. It has only five verses. There is the usual slur and hitch-hike typical of those adaptations, the music wrenched pretty far out of its pattern, but there just the same. As to the words, they are quite different but they tell the same story—the story of love and death which runs through the classics—low-life and high-life.

Program Abandoned

It might have been presumed that we would carry over with us into the World of Tomorrow the great classics of music. But the Music hall of the World's fair has had to abandon its program of the masters, even at a forty-cent minimum admission charge. "This is for some more informed student of the folkways to examine and explain and appraise for good or ill. But when we pilgrims take staff and scrip to journey into the world of tomorrow, one wonders just what we will abandon and what we will take with us. And who will be the super-cargo, to say: this you may keep and this you must put aside?"

My own idea is that many tributes of the past will flow on into the future. The towers of the

NAVAL AIR CHIEF

Rear-Admiral John H. Towers

Rear-Admiral John H. Towers raises his hand as he is sworn in as new chief of the bureau of aeronautics, of the Navy department, in Washington, automatically assuming the rank. He had previously been a captain.

SATAN ALWAYS FINDS WORK FOR IDLE HANDS TO DO

Passage of Some Kind of Neutrality Law by Congress Deemed Important

By MARK SULLIVAN

Washington, June 4.—This can be said: In no well-managed country would a Congress or parliament adjourn, leaving neutrality in the shape in which America's neutrality now is.

The most important detail of our neutrality policy came to an end, by expiration of a statute, on May 1. That leaves only minor fragments of Mark Sullivan's policy on the books. In anticipation of this condition, and to revamp our policy as a whole, hearings were held by the Senate Foreign Relations committee. The hearings were conducted with exceptional thoroughness. During several weeks, almost literally every person having worth-while views was heard. The utmost diversity of opinion was brought out.

Among the witnesses was the former Republican secretary of state, Mr. Henry L. Stimson. And it is typical of the spirit of the hearings that Mr. Stimson presented a view which differs from that of other Republican leaders. In addition to the persons invited, practically all who wished to volunteer their views were given opportunity. It is perfectly safe to say that every possible view, thought, or idea about neutrality is to be found in the record of those hearings.

"Well, what else is increasing government spending over a prolonged period of time but an increasing degree of government administration of capital? You may disguise it behind any name you choose to give it, but that is what it is in practical fact. And an increasing degree of government administration of capital is the surest road toward an ultimate suppression of democracy. . . . The road they (advocates of government administration of capital) are forced to travel leads directly to the assumption of complete dictatorial powers, in one form or another. And this is true, regardless of whether the tendency of such a program is toward Fascism or toward Communism. On the other hand, democracy and free enterprise are inseparable."

It is unfortunate that so relatively few see the trend of the times with the clear eye of The Weekly editor. It is particularly unfortunate that so many in his own party and his own section are blind to the signs all about us on the road the government now is traveling. This blindness is the one great danger confronting the nation. It is the one thing which conceivably can bring about the reelection of Mr. Roosevelt or a candidate of his choosing.

I said in the beginning that in no well managed country would Congress adjourn leaving neutrality in the shape in which America's neutrality now is. Just for the purpose of proving that America can be well managed is itself a highly urgent reason why Congress should not adjourn until after it passes a neutrality law. The European dictators, in justifying their own autocratic, one-man type of government, assert that all democracies are badly managed, just because they are democracies. Repeatedly Hitler makes that sneer—uses that argument to persuade his own people to keep dictatorship, and to incite other peoples to initiate dictatorship.

Factographs

In the Antarctic fossilized bones of gigantic reptiles and dinosaurs have been found. They exceed in size those found at any other spot on earth.

Canadian Indians recognize a traditional form of copyright which prevents one carver copying the design of another's totem pole.

Establishments canning fish in the United States and Alaska were valued at $141,710,000 in 1938. There were 402 such establishments.

The Amish people observe only two holidays—Christmas and Easter. And they give no gifts at Christmas.

The irrigation canal and ditch system in Arizona's Salt River Valley extends 1,350 miles, including thirty miles of concrete-lined channels.

A possibility that war may break out in Europe. However great that possibility may be, it will be made more great by lack of a neutrality law on our part. Not only will the dictators' contempt for all democracies be increased. In addition, the present status of our neutrality law, a thing of incomplete shreds, happens to work to the interest of the dictatorships if war occurs.

Action Is Important

That Congress should pass a law, some law, is almost more important than the kind of law they pass. Through debate in Congress and discussion in the country, a reasonably good law is likely to come. Give the president as much discretion, or as little, as Congress, after discussion, deems wise. Better than that to keep the present condition—with minor matters covered by binding law and major matters left unprovided for—better than that would be to wipe out the fragments which are now the only law we have. That would at least give us something concrete, by leaving us with the historic rules and practices of international law. No course by Congress, however, can be as satisfactory as to enact a well-thought-out law.

It is for Congress to study the conditions, compare the various views, argue them and write the law. Among private citizens, only the most exceptional can have either the broad information or the thoroughness of thought necessary to arrive at a good law. It is safe to say that every open-minded citizen who today thinks he has a right view about neutrality, would modify that view in one direction or another after making himself familiar with all the other views, and the facts and reasons that support them.

Must Rely on Men

All the average citizen can confidently have is the objective, which is neutrality and peace, for both the immediate present and the long range. For methods, for arriving at the best law and the best execution of it, the average citizen, in this as in many matters, must rely on men. Only through men, men as men and men as symbols, can democracy function. It happens that in this field there is a man, Secretary of State Cordell Hull, in whom America can have the greatest confidence. Every school of thought in Washington respects the character, and intelligence, and sure-footed judgment of the secretary of state. Mr. Hull has asked Congress to write a neutrality law, and has suggested points he thinks should be covered. With that as a beginning, as a suggestion, Congress can proceed to formulate a law.

Parents Have Rights, Too

From the Hagerstown Evening Mail

Parents have rights, too, and should demand consideration from their children because youth cannot expand and grow when everything flows to it.

For the good of youngsters who will some day have to get along with people and for the benefit of parents' personalities, parents should:

1. Demand privacy for themselves.
2. Take a night out occasionally without worrying about the youngsters.
3. Take a vacation or week-end trip occasionally without the children.
4. Not buy all the new clothes for the boys and girls.
5. Make the children do their share of the household chores.
6. Reserve the right to pass on their selection of friends.
7. Require decent home-coming hours.
8. Spend some money on themselves.

Morning Motto

Imagination, where it is truly creative, is a faculty, not a quality. Its seat is in the higher reason, and it is efficient only as the servant of the will. Imagination, as too often understood, is merely fantasy—the image-making power, common to all who have the gift of dreams.—J. R. LOWELL.

Gen. Moseley Is Taken for Sucker

BY HUGH S. JOHNSON

New York City, June 4.—General Moseley has been seeing things under the bed and making all the front-page headlines with his ghost stories about them. The absurdity of his tale of a Communist plot to seize this government by force doesn't lessen the glare of his day in the limelight. The actions of the Dies committee, "investigating" him—heckling and threatening to suppress him—is just water under his wheel.

Frequent reports that the War department is gum-shoeing his recent activities suggests a general court-martial for his rash utterances. That would complete his martyrdom and fill his cup of joy to overflowing.

If it were not for the adverse effect of his publicity capers on other people, the General's little side-show would be a howling joke. Anybody who has a chance to observe the activities of the actual Communists in this country knows that they are just fooling fol-de-rol. Only one other current performance compares with them in unimportance. That is the heeling and posturing of the Naziist monkey show which General Moseley applauds.

A Bold Go-Getter

As concerns the General personally, it is a pity. In his military service he was a bold go-getter who consistently rendered invaluable service to his country, especially in the terrible supply problem of our armies in France. I have served with him for more years than I like to remember, beginning as shaver-tails in Texas. He was always a cutter of red tape—an army realist who got results—a sincere, intense and loyal soldier. It advanced him rapidly and that gave him, as all his comrades know, a marked superiority complex. Removed from the restraints of discipline of active service, he simply exploded in a volcanic eruption of a fire-works personality long repressed.

His being taken for a sucker by bum professional patrioters of the absurd Klu-Klux variety is simply an instance of the innocence and ignorance of the civilian pressures which attend the cloistered life of the average Army officer interspersed upon his own highly specialized profession. As remarked earlier, if it were not for its effect to hurt others, the General's foolishness would be partly pathetic but mostly funny.

Implication Carried

His stuff carries an implication that it represents the Army point of view, that even the chief of staff is sympathetically attentive, and that the Army thinks it could and should move in to regulate political thinking, action and expression in this country—that the president could and should unleash a bunch of military black-shirts and Gestapo "intelligence" officers to purge our democracy of "subversive" elements.

The reverse is the fact. I conducted my annual lecture-and-forum stunt at West Point last week. The first question of those alert kids was about Moseley and it came sizzling with evident hot disapproval. I haven't talked with any kind of Army officer—from these eager young military apprentices to general officers of the highest grade—who did not feel that Moseley was not only off on a crazy tangent personally, but also that he is letting down the reputation of the service for loyalty.

Part of Their Profession

Men do not give up their right of opinion when they enter the Army, but it is a part of the profession that they accept, and execute the final decision of responsible authority as loyally as though it were their own—whether they agree with it or not. If that were not so, we couldn't have any democratic government by majority rule. Military force is more powerful than ballots. Obedience to majority government is a religion in our army. No good officer would any more think of debating an order from the president than he would of contesting one from his immediate commander.

When a man finishes his service and goes on the retired list, he has a right to as wide a freedom of expression as any civilian. But he is certainly off-side if, either by design or accident, represents the Army as taking, or wishing to take any part in political decisions. The unquestioning loyalty of our Army and Navy to their constitutional command—majority government—is the most important safeguard of Democracy.—Distributed by United Feature Syndicate, Inc.

end trip occasionally without the children.

4. Not buy all the new clothes for the boys and girls.

5. Make the children do their share of the household chores.

6. Reserve the right to pass on their selection of friends.

7. Require decent home-coming hours.

8. Spend some money on themselves.

The Cumberland News

Published every weekday morning, excepting holidays, at 1 and 7 South Washington Street, Cumberland, Md., by The Times and Allegiance Company.

Entered as second class mail matter at Cumberland, Md.

Member of The Associated Press

The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publication of all news credited to it or otherwise credited to this paper and also the local news published herein. All rights of reproduction of special dispatches are also reserved.

TERMS—By carrier in city, 15 cents a week. BY MAIL—First, second and third years, one month, $6.00; six months, $10.00; one year, $18.00. Fourth, fifth and sixth years, one month, $4.00; six months, $6.00; one year, $10.00. Seventh and eighth years, one month, $3.50; six months, $5.00; one year, $8.00.

National Advertising Representative: J. J. Divine and Associates, Inc., New York, 1933 Chrysler Bldg., Chicago, 307 N. Michigan Ave., Detroit, 317 New Center Bldg., Atlanta, 995 Palmer Bldg.; Pittsburgh, 448 Oliver Bldg.; Syracuse, State Tower Bldg.

TELEPHONES
William L. Geppert, Managing Editor 23
Editorial and News 112
Advertising (general) 112
Advertising (want ads) 112
Sports Editor 212
Circulation Department 212
Business Office 1022
Pressing Office 1022
Longmanning Office 1022

Monday Morning, June 5, 1939

Quite Possible

"IS IT POSSIBLE for the leaders of business to do anything themselves to prevent or mitigate trade depressions?" asks Sir Arthur Slater, distinguished British economist, writing in the current Rotarian Magazine.

He proceeds to answer his question with an emphatic "Yes," after pointing out that even more distress may lie ahead unless positive, forward-looking action is taken by those industrial leaders who individually exert great power over business trends.

"A relatively restricted number of leaders," he says, "have the power either to impede or to assist the adjustments that all forms of economic change are constantly requiring." In view of this, what is needed, he asserts, is closer coordination between business leaders and government, especially in the field of broad planning.

Governments have great responsibilities during times of economic stress, but, he points out, "while there are some things which they can usefully do, there are others which offer, or seem to offer, some relief for the moment, but which will involve immensely serious consequences later. One thing is certain. If the leaders of business make no contribution themselves, and if they are not cooperating with the Government and are suspicious of and hostile to what it is doing, no governmental measures can substantially relieve the situation."

Business should take a long time view, he states, and deliberately plan for the inevitable depressions during times of prosperity. "Public utilities and railways, for example, could to a considerable extent," he believes, "restrict capital expenditure during booms and expand it during depressions."

All this is quite true. But when business is arbitrarily deprived by government of the means of planning ahead, the situation resolves into the doldrums. Business and industry cannot do any planning. It cannot prepare for lean times and for boom times, if the means for carrying out the plans are taken away from them—if their reserve funds are confiscated in the guise of taxation, here is where a closer coordination between business and government can be effected. There is awakening realization in Washington now that something of the sort has long been direly needed and that the lack of the essential cooperative factors has been more the fault of government policy than it has of business.

Answer, Please!

FROM the Central Statistical Board comes a choice tidbit for business men to chew upon. It is the board's announcement that it is studying 135,700,000 sets of answers that citizens of the nation gave to pertinent and impertinent questions about their affairs which are asked with relentless regularity by 88 Federal agencies.

A total of 97,500,000 answers were supplied for purported administrative purposes in compliance with different laws. One third of these were in connection with taxes.

Some 18,000,000 were tax and informational returns to the Social Security Board.

Next come 12,000,000 containing tax information for the Internal Revenue Bureau.

Another one-third of the administrative blanks consists of applications to the federal government for some service, benefit or privilege.

Every small business had to answer 1,300. Each railroad had to file more than 1,000 returns with 150 questions to each return—grand total, 150,000 answers.

Makers of automobiles, steel, electrical apparatus and certain other large-scale enterprises had to make 250 returns with sixty-five questions per return.

Retail merchants got off easy. All they had to do was to file ten returns with a total of 500 questions!

The purpose of all this, of course, is alleged to be the stimulation of business, and the promotion of social security and the national welfare.

Perhaps the consumption of midnight oil was increased and kilowatt-hour production of electric current was stepped up as the harassed business men struggled along into the night trying to find the right answers.

But undoubtedly the inclination of most of them was to put out the light and go to bed.

Unwarranted Fear

WHILE deploring fanaticism and book-burnings and choking of the voice of the people, the Rev. Dr. William Ward Ayer, distinguished New York pastor, has issued a warning against bad books. He says there is need of "voluntary book-burning" if we expect to forestall dictatorial government action and the building of book pyres by edict.

America's experience does not give rise to such a fear. America's experience has been that the good books live and the bad books die, much as good, strong, healthy and plentiful green grass does a good job of killing off weeds. We repeat what has been said on many previous occasions, namely that the public can be trusted to distinguish between the worthwhile and the spurious.

The speaker's statement that "there is a definite reaction to lewdness" in American printed matter is not borne out by facts and figures. The circulation millions piled up by periodicals in the United States are added up from a list of publications which are uniformly clean and decent. The other sort has its sensational moment of notoriety, but is short-lived. In the long table of newspapers and magazines of enormous circulation and popularity in all strata of society, there is little material out of which to build a book-burning.

There is no doubt that periodicals and books of a subversive nature, from the moral point of view, do find their way into print, but they are quickly recognized as trash and die of their own inanition. There is no need of talk of book-burning, whether voluntary or by prescription.

Vacation Motor Hazards

A SPECIAL WARNING to motorists respecting their responsibilities for the safety of children during the approaching school vacation season has been issued by the Keystone Automobile Club.

At the same time, the club emphasized parental responsibility, pointing out that mothers and fathers should exercise more than usual vigilance in the months their children are released from school discipline and the daily lessons in safety practices.

"More automobiles are on the highways than ever before," said Edward P. Curran, safety director of the Club. "This means that the chances for accident are increased. Unless motorists are extremely cautious the child accident toll will be heavy during the vacation period. We must urgently ask all drivers to refrain from 'taking chances' where children are concerned."

"It should be recognized by motorists and parents that the hazard to children is greater in the summer months when they are freed from the restraints and safety lessons in the classrooms. Therefore, the duty devolves upon drivers to be doubly careful and upon parents to apply the cautionary measures essential to safety."

"We particularly ask motorists to take into account that youngsters are apt to be more thoughtless during the summer; that they will not be crossing streets under the supervision and guidance of the School Safety Patrols; that they probably will forget to 'cross only at crossings.' In many ways they may deviate from the practices of the school year. Ball playing, roller skating and bicycle riding are a few of the extra hazards motorists should be prepared for."

As Curran says, it is by keeping these things in mind that drivers can avoid the tragic accidents which have marred other vacation periods.

Valuable Quality

CHARM is a mysterious quality. Charm sets one person apart from the general run and gives to its fortunate possessor a distinct advantage in the competition for life's prizes. No definition of charm or personality is agreed upon by those who seek to discover the secret. You have it or you have it not.

The idea of the charm school has titillated the imagination of poets and dramatists and novelists for generations. At the Eastern District high school in Brooklyn an attempt is being made to find out the magic formula for charm or the attractive personality, in an extracurricular activity which has proved so popular that the courses are filled to capacity and there is a long waiting list.

The students are taught good grooming, good manners, poise, making the most of one's best features, improvement in habits of speech, behavior and social attitude. This earnest endeavor of young persons, yearning to be charming, may not turn one wallflower into what the publicity lads call a glamour girl, but the teaching of good grooming, manners, speech and conduct is far from a waste of time. On the way to the elusive goal, the pupils are sure to acquire what society needs, an orderly and pleasant relationship of its members.

The five most charming sights seen by the British king and queen on their Canadian tour have been, we're sure their majesties will agree, Miss Dionne, Miss Dionne, Miss Dionne, Miss Dionne and Miss Dionne.

A British mathematician has invented what he calls "stretchable time." Just what a fellow needs when the alarm clock sounds off in the morning.

"Europe Faces Crisis," says an eight-column headline. Gosh, is this a brand new one—or just last week's, warmed over?

Today's simile: As sore as a congressman's shoulder at a gathering of patronage seekers.

Life is full of twists and turns, says a philosopher. True, as any radio listener knows.

Who Knows His Place?

By MARSHALL MASLIN

Once, in a restaurant, I heard a man speak sharply to a waiter and send him away pale with humiliation and rage. And the man turned to the woman at his side and said: "That waiter does not know his place."

What had that waiter done? Of what impudence had he been guilty? Simply this. He had known the other man when both were poor, when the man was not as powerful as he is now, and he had made the mistake of calling him by his first name. Without thinking he had called him "Jim"—and thus had made the "presumptuous mistake" of not knowing his place. He had offended that man's dignity by daring to break in upon his complacency and treat him as though he were still a human being.

But which of those two men did NOT know his place? Which had failed the more? And where is our place on this wandering earth, among these hundreds of millions of human creatures who travel so perilously from the cradle to the grave?

It is my belief that the failure was with the seated man. He is the man who lost his place in the great book of life and may never find it again. Not that humiliated waiter who was so presumptuous as to believe that humanity still bore fruit in the friend of his youth.

It is true that each of us has a place on this earth, but it is not on the Peaks of Pride. It is down on the great highway where the massed men are treading. Not with those who have traded their souls for something useless, but with our fellows who are friendly because they like us and not because of anything we own.

Other men may not know their places but OURS is on the road where the humble great have gone before, . . . with the Lincolns who grieved for boys on the battle line . . . for St. Francis who cried brother to wild wolves and gentle rabbits . . . for Tolstoy who begged us to remember that "we are all men, going home" . . . We float ahead on a slight raft and the only light living men may see is the glow of human companionship. And what room is there on that raft for the man who dares to say that one of his brothers "does not know his place"?

The man who says another does not know his place has not yet learned his OWN.

Rear-Admiral John H. Towers raises his hand as he is sworn in as new chief of the bureau of aeronautics, of the Navy department, in Washington, automatically assuming the rank. He had previously been a captain.

Canadian Indians recognize a traditional form of copyright which prevents one carver copying the design of another's totem pole.

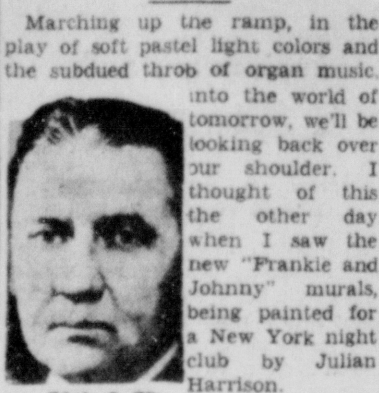

Establishments canning fish in the United States and Alaska were valued at $141,710,000 in 1938. There were 402 such establishments.

The Amish people observe only two holidays—Christmas and Easter. And they give no gifts at Christmas.

The irrigation canal and ditch system in Arizona's Salt River Valley extends 1,350 miles, including thirty miles of concrete-lined channels.

The Human Side Of the News

BY EDWIN C. HILL

Marching up the ramp, in the play of soft pastel light colors and the subdued throb of organ music, into the world of tomorrow, we'll be looking back over our shoulder. I thought of the other day when I saw the new "Frankie and Johnny" murals, being painted for a New York night club by Julian Harrison.

This low-life classic sung by nice people nowadays, has turned up in more than 150 versions, and new ones are still being found. It is not bar-fies and night hawks who are digging up the new versions. It is philologists of the universities and tune wizards like our Sig Spaeth who are forever uncovering some new mother lode of frankieandjohnnyana.

Somebody wrote the other day that there are probably ten people in America who know "Frankie and Johnny" to one who knows the "Star-Spangled Banner," but the salty ballad is a lot easier to remember than the national anthem.

Created Many Songs

In the pre-Elizabethan England of Marlowe, Webster, Dekker and Peale, picaresque characters of the pot-houses created many songs, and many of them seeped on down into classical literary and musical lore, in the Provencal of France and the Paris of Francois Villon.

In every age, particularly in eras of great vitality, the Minnesingers have spread the songs to the farthest by ways of the realm, and in each region they have been adapted and changed. So with "Frankie and Johnny." In this anthology of Frankie songs, there are the voices of forgotten singers through all of America—cities and towns, mountains and plains.

It is unadulterated low-life—jealousy, violence, murder, revenge. But, for the matter of that, so is Sophocles and Aeschylus and a fair sampling of grand opera and culte a deal of Shakespeare—"Macbeth," for example. It is, indeed, a classical theme. Which might account for the fact that "Frankie and Johnny" has been sung by superb artists in Carnegie hall, as well as by frowzy bums in waterfront flophouses.

Earlier Version Discovered

Song scouts never get quite to the end of the trial in back-trailing "Frankie and Johnny." There was a supposedly authentic tale of some bard having tossed it off in a St. Louis beer joint, in the early nineties, after a jealousy killing in which the details were said to have been accurately reported in the song. But an earlier version was discovered, and now they have run it back to about 1880, whence it came out of the mists and shadows of the Mississippi River and the early railroad towns.

This song, however, had to do with "Frankie and Albert." There were only thirteen verses, whereas it takes twenty-nine to round out the epic story in the generally accepted version of today. It grows with the years, through many forms, "Josie," of the Kentucky hill-billy country is one, and "Sadie," traced to the logging camps and mine pits around Lake Michigan, is another. And now it shades off into the "Frankie Blues." A friend played the blues version for me on the piano. It has only five verses. There is the usual slur and hitch-hike typical of those adaptations, the music wrenched pretty far out of its pattern, but there just the same. As to the words, they are quite different but they tell the same story—the story of love and death which runs through the classics—low-life and high-life.

Program Abandoned

It might have been presumed that we would carry over with us into the World of Tomorrow the great classics of music. But the Music hall of the World's fair has had to abandon its program of the masters, even at a forty-cent minimum admission charge. This is for some more informed student of the folkways to examine and explain and appraise for good or ill. But when we pilgrims take staff and scrip to journey into the world of tomorrow, one wonders just what we will abandon and what we will take with us. And who will be the super-cargo, to say: this you may keep and this you must put aside?

My own idea is that many tributes of the past will flow on into the future. The towers of the

NAVAL AIR CHIEF

Rear-Admiral John H. Towers

Rear-Admiral John H. Towers raises his hand as he is sworn in as new chief of the bureau of aeronautics, of the Navy department, in Washington, automatically assuming the rank. He had previously been a captain.

SATAN ALWAYS FINDS WORK FOR IDLE HANDS TO DO

Passage of Some Kind of Neutrality Law by Congress Deemed Important

By MARK SULLIVAN

Washington, June 4—This can be said: In no well-managed country would a Congress or parliament adjourn, leaving neutrality in the shape in which America's neutrality now is.

The most important detail of our neutrality policy came to an end, by expiration of a statute, on May 1. That leaves only minor fragments of Mark Sullivan's policy on the books. In anticipation of this condition, and to revamp our policy as a whole, hearings were held by the Senate Foreign Relations committee. The hearings were conducted with exceptional thoroughness. During several weeks, almost literally every person having worth-while views, was heard. The utmost diversity of opinion was brought out.

Among the witnesses was the former Republican secretary of state, Mr. Henry L. Stimson. And it is typical of the spirit of the hearings which Mr. Stimson presented a view which differs from that of other Republican leaders. In addition to the persons invited, practically all who wished to volunteer their views were given opportunity. It is perfectly safe to say that every possible view, thought, or idea about neutrality is to be found in the record of those hearings.

"Well, what else is increasing government spending over a prolonged period of time but an increasing degree of government administration of capital? You may disguise it behind any name you choose to give it, but that is what it is in practical fact. And an increasing degree of government administration of capital is the surest road toward an ultimate suppression of democracy. . . . The road they (advocates of government administration of capital) are forced to travel leads directly to the assumption of complete dictatorial powers, in one form or another. And this is true, regardless of whether the tendency of such a program is toward Fascism or toward Communism. On the other hand, democracy and free enterprise are inseparable."

It is unfortunate that so relatively few see the trend of the times with the clear eye of The Weekly editor. It is particularly unfortunate that so many in his own party and his own section are blind to the signs all about us on the road the government now is traveling. This blindness is the one great danger confronting the nation. It is the one thing which conceivably can bring about the reelection of Mr. Roosevelt or a candidate of his choosing.

Canadian Indians recognize a traditional form of copyright which prevents one carver copying the design of another's totem pole.

Establishments canning fish in the United States and Alaska were valued at $141,710,000 in 1938. There were 402 such establishments.

The Amish people observe only two holidays—Christmas and Easter. And they give no gifts at Christmas.

The irrigation canal and ditch system in Arizona's Salt River Valley extends 1,350 miles, including thirty miles of concrete-lined channels.

Factographs

In the Antarctic fossilized bones of gigantic reptiles and dinosaurs have been found. They exceed in size those found at any other spot on earth.

Canadian Indians recognize a traditional form of copyright which prevents one carver copying the design of another's totem pole.

Establishments canning fish in the United States and Alaska were valued at $141,710,000 in 1938. There were 402 such establishments.

The Amish people observe only two holidays—Christmas and Easter. And they give no gifts at Christmas.

The irrigation canal and ditch system in Arizona's Salt River Valley extends 1,350 miles, including thirty miles of concrete-lined channels.

Gen. Moseley Is Taken for Sucker

BY HUGH S. JOHNSON

New York City, June 4—General Moseley has been seeing things under the bed and making all the front-page headlines with his ghost stories about them. The absurdity of his tale of a Communist plot to seize this government by force doesn't lessen the glare of his day in the limelight. The actions of the Dies committee, "investigating" him—heckling and threatening to suppress him—is just water under his wheel. Frequent reports that the War department is gumshoeing his recent activities suggests a general court-martial for his rash utterances. That would complete his martyrdom and fill his cup of joy to overflowing.

If it were not for the adverse effect of his publicity capers on other people, the General's little side-show would be a howling joke. Anybody who has a chance to observe the activities of the actual Communists in this country knows that they are just fooling fool-deer. Only one other current performance compares with them in unimportance. That is the heeling and posturing of the Nazi-Fascist monkey show which General Moseley applauds.

As concerns the General personally, it is a pity. In his military service he was a bold go-getter who consistently rendered invaluable service to his country, especially in the terrible supply problem of our armies in France. I have served with him for more years than I like to remember, beginning as shave-tails in Texas. He was always a cutter of red tape—an army realist who got results—a sincere, intense and loyal soldier. It advanced him rapidly and that gave him, as all his comrades know, a marked superiority complex. Removed from the restraints of discipline of active service, he simply exploded in

Late News from the George's Creek and Tri-State Region

Cumberland Man Named Moderator By Church Group

C. H. Taylor, Elected Leader Western District Baptist Association

Pittsburg, June 4.—The meeting of the Western District Baptist Association held Thursday and Friday evenings at the First English Baptist church, this city, set a new record for attendance, the session on both days attracting hundreds of delegates from churches in Allegheny and Garrett counties.

"The Separation of Church and State" was the theme of the principal address Thursday evening by Dr. John Falconer Frazer of the University Baptist church, Baltimore, the purpose of the address being to emphasize the attitude of the Baptist denomination in opposition to the appropriation of public money for sectarian institutions and denominational training in the public schools. The association passed a resolution opposing any legislative act that infringed upon the principle of separation of church and state.

Other speakers at the conference included Miss Ruth Kersey, returned missionary from Obamaso, Africa, and Dr. Joseph T. Watts, general secretary.

Officers elected were Cleveland H. Taylor, Cumberland, moderator; the Rev. Randolph Keefe, Jr., vice-moderator; William P. Copeland, clerk-treasurer; Mrs. John Copeland, superintendent of the Women's Missionary Union, and Melvin Grindle, superintendent of the Sunday School Association. The Rev. E. S. Price, Cumberland, is the retiring moderator.

Luther League Banquet

About 100 persons attended the banquet of the Mountain District Luther League Friday evening at St. Paul's Lutheran church with Miss Winifred Lloyd, this city, retiring president, presiding. The guest speaker of the evening was Prof. James E. Solt of the Port Hill high school faculty, Cumberland, who delivered a stirring address on "Youth and the Church." The soloist of the evening was Miss Wilda Hyde, Cumberland. Greetings were presented by Miss Irma Stallings, St. Paul's Lutheran church, Cumberland; Ralph Roth, St. John's Lutheran church, Cumberland, and Miss Mary Lowery, St. Paul's church, this city.

William Smith, Baltimore, president of the Luther League of the Maryland Synod, announced the program for the eighteenth annual convention of the Luther Leagues of the Maryland Synod, to be held at Gettysburg, Pa., Sept. 2, 3 and 4. Announcement was also made that the annual summer camp of the league would open June 18 at Camp Nawaka, Biglerville, Pa.

Officers of the Mountain District Luther League elected to serve for the ensuing year were Miss Rita Shannon, St. John's church, Cumberland, president; Miss Nadine Sensabaugh, St. John's church, vice-president; Miss Marion Weller, St. Paul's church, Cumberland, secretary; and Miss Margaret Wilton, St. Paul's church, treasurer.

Math Club Meeting

The final meeting of the Beall Math club for the current school year will be held Monday evening when a dinner will be served at Layman's farm in Garrett county, the event being the fifth annual dinner of the club. Miss Margaret E. Hamilton, head of the department of mathematics, Fort Hill high school, Cumberland, will be the guest speaker. The committee arranging the event consists of Mary Virginia Walker, Helen Fuller, Mary Louise Shuckhart, George Chidester, Betty Virginia Wilson, Elizabeth Wilton Jenkins and Anna Davis. The dinner will be served at 6:30 o'clock.

Class Day Exercises

The annual class day exercises of Beall high school held Friday afternoon in the school auditorium were featured with a mock wedding in which the leading roles were taken by Miss Marjorie Sluss as "Miss Senior Class," and Joseph Kelly as "Mr. Life of Service." The "marriage" was staged with all the charm and decorations which usually characterize a real matrimonial event.

Four Hurt in Wreck

Dr. Edward Meyer, 36, 5562 Hobart street, Pittsburgh, and his wife, Mrs. Sarah Meyer, 32, of the same address, were received at Mather hospital Saturday evening, suffering with bruises, cuts and shock, the result of an automobile mishap on Route 40 near Pilsinger's store in Eckhart. The accident happened when the car of Dr. Meyer and Andrew Schlossnagle, Accident, collided.

Mrs. Polly Schlossnagle, mother of one of the drivers, and Mrs. Frederick Hockman, Grantsville, a passenger in the Schlossnagle car were also slightly injured. Both cars were wrecked. The accident is being investigated by Officer Austin (Continued on Page Seven)

LABOR COMMISSIONER

John Pohlhaus, a Baltimore magistrate for eleven years, succeeded A. Stengle Marine as commissioner of labor and statistics in Governor O'Connor's administration. Effective June 1, the $3,500 salary for the post was boosted to $5,000.

Town Officials Will Be Sworn In

D. Clarkson Laird Will Take Office as Mayor for Third Term

Lonaconing, May 3.—D. Clarkson Laird, recently re-elected for his third term of mayor for this city, will be sworn in Monday evening, at 7:30 o'clock, when the mayor and council meet for the first time since their election.

Among the three councilmen to take seats will be councilman-elect Harry Lane, who will be serving the city in this capacity for the first time. Henry McLarkie, who was an unsuccessful candidate for mayor last year, but elected to the council this year, and Douglas Waddell, both former councilmen will also be sworn in.

At the meeting appointments for city clerk and tax collector; street supervisor; city treasurer and city attorney will be made. August H. Eichhorn, present city clerk will seek re-appointment, as will city treasurer, Thomas A. Dixon, and city attorney, Noel Speer Cook. City officer and street supervisor James J. Steele will be opposed for his position by Henry Robertson, Jr.

Simeon Hutchinson, who was re-elected bailiff unopposed will also receive the oath of office and will serve one term of one year. The mayor serves for one year and the councilmen elected this year will serve for two years.

Lonaconing Briefs

The Brady Hotel, landmark of this place, was purchased Thursday, June 1, by Patrick Doolan. The new owner, who has been a life-long resident of this place plans to remodel the three story, frame building into modern apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Graham Brooklyn, N. Y., are visitors here. Mr. and Mrs. Perry Elbeck, and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Elbeck, Akron, O., have returned after visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. John Atkinson, Ardmore, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. James McFarlane, East Pittsburgh, Pa., were recent visitors here.

Miss Emeline Newman, of New York, was the guest of Miss Marie Park, Hanekamp street.

Mr. and Mrs. William Douglas, Sr., and Mr. and Mrs. William Douglas, Jr., and son, have returned to Sharon, Pa., after visiting here for the past several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Matthews entertained the G. T. Club. Honors were won by Mrs. Alexander Gardner, Mrs. James Park, William Henry and Alexander Gardner.

Mrs. Robert M. Grove, Douglas avenue, has returned here from Boston, Mass., where she visited her husband, "Lefty" Grove, of the Boston Red Sox.

The Rev. Rev. John J. Brady and Charles A. Wiese, Cresson, Pa., were recent visitors here.

Miss Nina Kallmyer, Akron, O., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kallmyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph T. Reese, are vacationing in Moline, Ill.

Miss Kathleen McGraw, R. N., Washington, D. C., is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McGraw.

Power Company Offers Reduction In Electric Rate

Oakland Town Council Will Study Proposal at Tonight's Meeting

Oakland, June 4.—A reduction in rate for electric current has been proposed by the West Maryland Power Company to the Mayor and Town Council of Oakland, which would give the town more light for the same amount of money, but which could not be used to reduce the monthly bill.

The matter was presented at a special meeting of the Town Council and action on the matter will be taken at the regular meeting tomorrow evening.

The proposition would give the town eighty-eight 50-watt lights instead of 100-watt lights now in use, and in addition would give seven 400-watt and ten 600-watt lights in the business section. This would give Second street, from the William James hotel to the railroad crossing, Third street, Alder street and Green street, in the business section, almost a "Great White Way," at no additional cost to the town, according to members of the council who have looked over the proposition.

Benefit Picture

"One-third of a Nation," starring Sylvia Sydney, will be presented at the Maryland Theatre, Oakland, Monday, June 12, for the benefit of Oakland Boy Scout Troop No. 1. The money realized from the sale of tickets will go into the camping fund. The troop expects to camp the last week in July and the first week in August.

Homemakers Course

At least fifteen women from Garrett county Homemakers club will attend the Rural Women's Short Course, to be held at the University of Maryland from June 12 to 17, it was announced by Miss Mildred Barton, home demonstration agent.

The largest enrollment of women in history is expected at College Park, Miss Verna M. Keller, assistant director of the Extension Service, has announced. 800 women are expected. The theme of the course will be "Wider Horizons."

Those planning to attend from this county include:

Mrs. C. C. Beachy, Mrs. Silas C. Beachy, Mrs. Kermit Grottel, Bittinger; Mrs. Ernest Townsend, Mrs. Harry Friend, Oakland; Mrs. Harold Miller, Grantsville; Mrs. Zeldia Gnezy, Mountain Lake Park; Mrs. L. W. Duling, Mrs. Anthony Strimel, Mrs. Leslie Ryan, Mrs. Mary Grimes Willis, Kempton; Mrs. Ora Kimble, Mrs. Delma Arnold, Mrs. L. C. Hutson and Mrs. Frances Smith, Kittzmiller.

Brief News Notes

The non-jury term of the Circuit Court for Garrett county will open tomorrow morning, according to Neil C. Fraley, State's Attorney. There are still a few cases on the criminal docket of the March term to be heard, but it was not known whether they would be tried.

State Manager E. A. Olsen, Washington, D. C., will be the principal speaker at a special gathering of members of Garrett Camp No. 44, Woodmen of the World, Tuesday evening at Mt. Lake Park when the camp will observe its twenty-fifth anniversary. The meeting will be held in the I. O. O. F. hall at 8 o'clock.

The occasion will also mark the presentation of quarter century honor badges to fourteen of the camp's membership. Members who will receive these include:

Henry L. Gibson, W. S. Friend, R. O. Friend, B. H. Friend, John Ream, Joseph Cook, R. E. Bittinger, T. C. Bittinger, John Savage, B. H. Long, E. S. Sembower, George O. Switzer and Albert T. Shockey.

At the semi-annual election of officers of Garrett Lodge No. 113, Knights of Pythias, Friday evening Wade Mason, serving as vice-chancellor was advanced to the position of chancellor commander, succeeding Carlton Bowser. The occasion was also known as "Past Chancellor's Night."

Members of the lodge attended church services in a body Sunday morning at the Baptist church in Loch Lynn Heights. The sermon was preached by the Rev. William B. Orndoff.

Verdict Set Aside

Beckley, W. Va., June 4 (P)—Circuit Judge E. B. Pennybacker set aside a criminal court verdict of petit larceny against former constable Leonard Floyd and ordered the case re-tried.

Floyd was convicted of stealing two used automobile tires and tubes.

W. H. Malcolm Dies

Narrows, Va., June 4 (P)—W. H. Malcolm, 58-year-old attorney formerly of Mercer county, W. Va., died at his home yesterday of cancer.

He had lived at Narrows for two years.

Stolen Car Runs Wild at Keyser; Two Persons Hurt

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hickie Escaped with Cuts and Bruises

Keyser, W. Va., June 4.—A stolen car, running wild here last night, ran up on a sidewalk, injured a passing couple, smashed through a fence and came to rest in a private yard.

Police said a Chevrolet sedan, belonging to Arthur Mallory, Keyser, which was stolen from its parking place on Centre street about nine o'clock last night by two fifteen-year-old negro boys apparently got out of control at the corner of Centre and Church streets, where it ran up over the pavement, striking Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hickie, who were passing. The automobile crashed into a fence around the yard of a house on the corner, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Tettenbarn and Mr. and Mrs. John Long.

Mr. and Mrs. Hickie were treated at their home nearby on Church street for cuts, bruises and shock. Mrs. Hickie sustained a bad cut on the left ankle. Mr. Hickie suffered severe bruises on the face and right shoulder.

The negro youths, whose names were listed on the docket at the Mineral county jail, admitted stealing and wrecking the car when they were arrested about an hour after the accident.

Chief of City Police James E. Leatherman and Patrolman Harry Gift, who look the boys into custody said Mallory told them the young negroes were likely suspects, as they had seen him hide the keys to the car above the sun shade over the windshield.

He had given them a lift down town from the "hill" section, he said, and they were with him when he parked the automobile.

Boys Attend Camp

Six Mineral county boys are in Jackson's Mill today as delegates to the "Boys' State"—a six-day camp run on the same lines as the State government.

The six, who were selected to attend the American Legion sponsored camp, by four Keyser civic organizations are:

Ray Umstot, selected by Knights of Pythias; George Neill, selected by Rotary club; Elwood Shell, selected by American Legion Auxiliary, and Frank Mayolo, John Taylor and Earl Tyler, selected by Boyce-Houser Post, American Legion.

The boys were picked to represent the county at the camp for "health, morals, scholarship and leadership."

Marriage Is Announced

Miss Marjorie Ann Cooper, daughter of Mrs. F. E. Cooper, Keyser, and Dr. Fuller Barnard Whitworth, son of Dr. and Mrs. D. P. Whitworth, Westernport, were married yesterday afternoon at Grace and St. Peter's Episcopal church in Baltimore.

Dr. Whitworth graduated yesterday morning at the school of medicine of the University of Maryland. Best man was Dr. Robert T. Coffman, Keyser, who graduated in the same class with the bridegroom.

Dr. and Mrs. Whitworth will live in Baltimore. Keyser guests at the wedding were Mrs. G. O. Workman, Mrs. Fuller Barnard, Mrs. Franklin E. Cooper, Miss Frances Dixon, Miss Betty Bess, Miss Mary Evelyn Sliger, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Coffman, William Coffman and Dr. and Mrs. Thomas E. Bess.

Brief Notes

McNeill Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, will meet tomorrow evening at the home of Mrs. John McMakin, Louisiana avenue, Cumberland.

Mrs. Jessie Reynolds went to Charleston today, where she will visit her sister, Mrs. D. R. Hershey. Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Burke, McCoolie, went to Baltimore yesterday to attend commencement exercises at the University of Maryland, where their daughter, Miss Myrtle Burke, is a graduate.

Bethany College Commencement To Be Held Today

Bethany, W. Va., June 4 (P)—Graduation week at old Bethany college swung toward a climax today with sixty-one seniors scheduled to receive diplomas tomorrow.

The 98th commencement, last before the planned centennial, will have as speaker Richard Harte of Parkersburg, president of the West Virginia Chamber of Commerce.

Graduation week opened Friday with an interfraternity ball. The board of trustees met yesterday and old grads returned for class reunions. Presentation of a portrait of former President T. E. Cramblet, father of the present college head, and an alumni-student dinner were other events.

A baccalaureate sermon and a meeting of historical memorial associations were scheduled today.

The commencement tomorrow will follow a service of ordination at the old Bethany church.

Edward T. Sargus Will Be Ordained Thursday Morning

Westernport Man Will Become Priest at Cathedral in Baltimore

Westernport, June 4.—Edward T. Sargus, Westernport, will be ordained a priest Thursday, June 8, at the Cathedral of the Assumption, Baltimore, by the Most Rev. John M. McNamara, D. D.

The Rev. Mr. Sargus will celebrate his First Solemn Mass Sunday, June 18, at 10:30 o'clock, at St. Peter's church, Westernport. A reception for relatives and friends will be held at the home of his mother from 5 to 9 p. m.

A son of Mrs. Anna Sargus and the late M. D. Sargus, he was born at St. Francis De Sales parish, Newark, and moved to this community with his parents when he was three years of age. After graduating from St. Peter's high school in 1931, he attended St. Charles college, Catonsville, for two years; St. Mary's seminary, Poca street, Baltimore, for two years; and St. Mary's seminary, Roland Park, Baltimore, for four years.

He has received the degrees of bachelor of arts and bachelor of sacred theology.

Miss Kalbaugh Graduates

Miss Hazel Kalbaugh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor S. Kalbaugh, Luke, received the bachelor of arts degree from the College of Education at the commencement exercises of the University of Maryland, Saturday. She majored in English.

A graduate of Bruce high school and of Potomac State school, Keyser, where she received high honors. Miss Kalbaugh also attained high scholastic standing at the university. She was elected to membership in Phi Kappa Phi, a scholastic honorary fraternity, and was a member of the Woman's chorus and a participant in other activities on the campus.

Her parents and her sister, Miss Helen Kalbaugh, who was graduated from Potomac State school Thursday, attended the graduation exercises.

Vacation Bible School

A Daily Vacation Bible school will be held from June 19-30 at the Church of the Brethren, Westernport, with the Rev. Newton D. Cosner, pastor, as principal.

The classes will be held for beginners from three to six years of age; primary, six to nine years; juniors, nine to twelve years; and intermediates, twelve years of age and over.

The closing exercises will be held Sunday evening, July 2, at 7:30 o'clock at the church.

Squires Dance Tonight

The charter dance of the newly formed San Jose circle No. 285, Columbian Squires will be held Monday night, June 5 at 8 o'clock. The dance will be private and admission will be by invitation of a member.

The regular meeting of the Squires will be Friday evening June 9 at 7:30 at the K. of C. home.

Mrs. Howard Dies

Mrs. Ella Howard, 85, widow of William Howard, died early this morning at the home of her grandson, James Howard, 311 Rock street, with whom she resided. A native of Eckhart, she has been a resident of this community for eighty-four years.

She is survived by two sons, John and Joseph Howard, both of Akron, Ohio.

Tri-Town Briefs

The Rev. Newton D. Cosner and daughter, Yvonne, and the Rev. and Mrs. Dugman will leave Monday for a visit in Anderson, Ind.

Orland Biggs, Luke, has returned from a business trip to Tyrone, Pa. Mr. and Mrs. Julian G. Patrick, Westernport, motored to College Park, Saturday, for their daughter, Miss Mary Roberts Patrick, who is a student at the university.

Dr. James Ward and John Morrison have returned from a trip through Canada and the New York World's Fair.

Miss Lorelle Headley, who has been a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Horace P. Whitworth, returned to Baltimore, Sunday, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Headley, and Mr. and Mrs. Graham Headley, who spent the day here at the Whitworth home. She will leave next week for Roanoke, Va., to spend the summer with her uncle and aunt.

Stanton Biggs, who was graduated from Bluefield college, Bluefield, W. Va., Tuesday, returned to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orland Biggs, Luke, Saturday, accompanied by Otto Perez, New York city, and Michael Ferin, Newark, N. J., who spent the week-end with him.

At a recent meeting of the Columbian Squires the following officers were elected: Chief squire, Edward Pendergast; deputy chief squire, William Jenkins; bursar, John Determan; notary, Edward Welsh; marshal, Samuel Widmer; sentry, William Faherty; captains, Charles Pendergast and Jerry Cleaver.

Dr. Dixon Whitworth, resident physician at Church Home and Infirmary, Baltimore, spent the (Continued on Page Seven)

Dr. Black Resigns His Pastorate At Meyersdale

Minister Will End Fifteen Years Service at Reformed Church

Meyersdale, Pa., June 4.—The Rev. Dr. Blanchard Allen Black, who has been pastor of Amity Evangelical and Reformed church since July 1, 1924, last Thursday evening at the regular monthly meeting of the consistory of the church, tendered his resignation as pastor, to become effective July 1 of the present year.

Dr. Black, who is dean of the Meyersdale ministerium, was always active in church and Sunday school work in town and community, and made many friends during his pastorate, both in his own church and the other church organizations of Meyersdale and throughout Somerset county. Mr. Black served the congregation at Irwin, Pa., before locating in Meyersdale.

With his resignation, effective the first of next month, Dr. Black will conclude fifteen years of pastoral service in Amity congregation, and the time set for the effectiveness of his resignation falls exactly on the fifteenth anniversary of his locating in Meyersdale.

Sunday School Meeting

The thirty-fifth annual convention of the Somerset County Sabbath School Association will be held in the Meyersdale Church of the Brethren Thursday and Friday, June 15 and 16, with sessions morning, afternoon and evening of each day.

The theme selected for this year's convention is "The Function of Religion in Democracy." Special musical selections and addresses by widely known state workers and specialists in Sunday school work will be features of the program.

Stores Will Close

By unanimous decision of the members of the Chamber of Commerce, at a recent meeting, it was decided that the stores and business places, beginning Wednesday, will close at 12:30 p. m. for the remainder of the day, and continue each Wednesday with this arrangement in the months of June, July and August.

Marriage Is Announced

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Geraldine Simmons, Parkersburg, W. Va., and Matthew Kerrigan, Meyersdale, which was solemnized May 24 by the Rev. Father Dailey, pastor of St. Xavier's Catholic church, Parkersburg. The attendants were two sisters of the bride and Leo Lief and Clay Garlitz, Meyersdale.

The bride holds a responsible position with the Viscose Company in Parkersburg, while the bridegroom is employed in the tunnel department of the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, being at present located at Mineral, O.

In the near future the bride and groom will leave for a honeymoon trip to the New York World's Fair and Atlantic City.

Brief Items

D. S. Younk and family, Johnstown, were guests of the former's brother, H. C. Younk and family for the past several days.

The Daily Vacation Bible Schools of Amity Evangelical and Reformed and Zion Lutheran churches will begin tomorrow morning and continue for a period of two weeks.

Don Beattie, Pittsburgh, a student in Miami University, Oxford, O., who recently visited his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Wilson, Large street, served as drum major and led the bands of all the colleges in Ohio in massed parade on Memorial Day at Indianapolis, Ind. While on a visit to Meyersdale last summer he led the large American Legion parade held in Frostburg.

Miss Dorothy L. Pfeiffer, R. N., Philadelphia, spent the past week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Pfeiffer, of the South Side. Another daughter, Miss Mildred Pfeiffer, who is employed in Cleveland, O., also spent the week end with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Smith, Auburn, N. Y., who spent the past several days visiting their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Miller and children, returned to their home yesterday.

Mrs. Martha Shoemaker, Johnstown, arrived here last evening to spend two weeks visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Shoemaker and other relatives and friends. James May, Davisville, visited relatives and friends here and at Salisbury over the week end.

Joseph Hersh left yesterday to spend several days visiting his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George H. Hersh, in Greensburg. Mrs. Hersh has been in Greensburg for several weeks caring for her daughter-in-law, who has been seriously ill.

M. H. Boucher has gone to Bethesda to spend some time with his son, John Boucher and family.

Mrs. Annie Hammond, Cumberland, spent the past several days visiting her nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hanandonaom and Mrs. Nat Friedline, North street.

NEW BISHOP

The Rev. William McClelland, of East New Market, Dorchester county, is the new bishop of the Episcopal diocese of Easton. His consecration was the high-light of the seventy-first diocesan convention at Berlin June 2.

Miss Kimble Will Graduate Today

Grant County Girl Popular Student at Fairmont Teachers College

Petersburg, W. Va., June 4.—Miss Edith Kimble, Maysville, W. Va., will graduate from Fairmont Teachers College with a B. A. degree tomorrow morning. She was born at Maysville, Va., attended Grant County schools and was the champion speller of the County when she finished the grade schools here and graduated as valedictorian of her class at Petersburg high school, in 1935.

At college she is president of Marrow Hall, member of Gamma Chi Fraternity and has had a leading part in all social and dramatic activities as well as girl athletics. She has already signed a contract as instructor of English at Bayard high school, Bayard, W. Va. for the 1939-40 term.

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Kimble, of Maysville, W. Va., will attend the commencement exercises.

Brief Mention

Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Leatherman, and son and A. S. Leatherman all of Petersburg spent the week end in Cumberland, visiting Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Leatherman.

Miss Bessie Harr left today for Fairmont, W. Va., where she will attend Fairmont Teachers College for the next six weeks.

Summers Stirling, Bayard, W. Va., was tried before the Lunacy Commission of Grant County Saturday and was ordered sent to the Hospital at Weston, W. Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Snyder and daughter, Summersville, W. Va., are spending two weeks visiting relatives here. Mr. Snyder is County agent of Nicholas County.

The Rev. Carl Welch left today for Bridgewater, Virginia, where he will attend graduating exercises of Bridgewater College this week. He is a graduate of that college and is now pastor of the Brethren church here.

W. T. Moomau, director of the Emergency Relief Office here, spent from Thursday until Saturday in Charleston, W. Va. on business.

The Rev. and Mrs. G. C. Patterson, daughters and son of Cherry Tree, Pa., are spending the week visiting Mr. Patterson's mother, Mrs. Clara E. Patterson at Maysville. The Rev. Patterson is pastor of the First M. E. church, Cherry Tree, Pa., and is formerly from Maysville.

Mrs. Clara E. Patterson, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Patterson, Mrs. Will Franz and E. Quay Patterson all of Maysville, W. Va., and the Rev. G. C. Patterson and family of Cherry Tree, Pa., attended a memorial service at Mt. Union church near Romney, W. Va. Sunday honoring the late Rev. W. H. Patterson, G. C. Patterson and former governor John J. Cornwell spoke.

Earl Manges To Receive Law Degree Tuesday In Washington, D. C.

Cumberland Man Named Moderator By Church Group

Social Items and Ideas of Interest for the Women

Birthday Luncheon of Hadassah Chapter Is Event of Tuesday

Plans have been completed for holding the second annual birthday luncheon of the Cumberland chapter of Hadassah at 1 o'clock Tuesday at the All Ghan Country Club. Mrs. M. R. Sacks will be toastmistress.

The program will include the installation of newly elected officers, reports from committee chairmen and a play, "The Crystal Gazer." In which Meadams Louis Lutz, Meyer Abramson, Leo Schor, Michael Beerman, A. Green, M. Maslin, Joseph Feldstein and M. Wallrich will have parts with Mrs. S. M. Jacobson as director.

The officers to be installed are Mrs. Herman Richmond, president; Mrs. John Yankelwitz, first vice president; Mrs. Leonard Falk, second vice president; Mrs. Louis Lutz, secretary; Mrs. I. Martin, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Harold Hersch, treasurer, and Mrs. Irwin Pariser, auditor.

Tournament To Open

The spring championship tournament of the Women's Golf Association of the Cumberland Country Club will be opened at the meeting of the group Tuesday at the club grounds.

Fourteen members have posted qualifying scores and the competition will consist of a title flight of eight and a second flight of six. All first round matches must be completed by Tuesday evening.

Tea for Nurses

Honoring the visiting nurses here for the annual convention of state organizations of nurses, a tea was given at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Cumberland Country Club by the Allegany - Garrett County Medical Society, with approximately 200 in attendance, including a number of doctors.

Mrs. W. R. Hodges, Sr., and Mrs. H. L. Tolson received at the door. Mrs. Knight Reynolds presided at the punch bowl. The committee which assisted in serving comprised Mrs. A. H. Hawkins, Mrs. George Henderson, Mrs. H. B. Marley, Mrs. H. T. Robinson, Mrs. H. L. Tolson and Mrs. W. R. Hodges, Sr.

Winners Are Feted

Winners of the annual Rotary-Kiwanis annual bowling match, which was taken by the Kiwanis, were honored with the traditional victory dinner Friday evening at the All Ghan Shrine Club.

Charles A. Piper, of the Rotarians, presided as toastmaster with Elmer I. Pearson as chairman of the Kiwanis team and Thomas E. Gilchrist as chairman of the Rotary team. James W. Beacham was the prize winner of the three matches of both clubs. William A. Douglas held the high score for the Rotary Club and Weldon Skyles held high score for the Kiwanis Club.

Will Receive Degree

Hugh Mullaney, of the Windsor hotel, will receive a bachelor of science degree in business and public administration at the one hundred and fortieth annual commencement of Georgetown university this afternoon.

Five hundred and twenty five degrees will be conferred at the commencement, which is to be held on the college lawn and of which Charles H. English, Erie, Pa., will be the chief speaker.

Dinner Dance Set

This year's graduates of the Allegany Hospital Nurses' Training School will be honored with a banquet and dance June 14 at the Clara Club by the nurses' alumnae association.

Miss Mary Margaret Lee will be toastmistress, Miss Ursula Brode will make the invocation, Miss Willa Harrington will introduce the nurses and Miss Nora McGeady will give some reminiscences. The committee

Monday's Special!

Washable House Coats

Sizes All 12 to 20 $1. Colors

Regular $1.98 Values

Hollywood Shops

31 Baltimore St.

AT THE NEW YORK WORLD'S FAIR

Visit the FORWARD MARCH OF AMERICA

AN EXHIBIT OF YOUR ELECTRIC UTILITY

FREE TOUR SERVICE

Ask Our Local Office

POTOMAC EDISON CO.

Events in Brief

The Homemakers' Chorus will hold its final rehearsal of the season at 7:30 o'clock this evening at the Central Y. M. C. A. The concert planned to be given by the chorus at the First Church of Christ, Bedford street, has been postponed.

A weiner roast was given last evening at Constitution park in compliment to Mrs. Helen Barnhart Hardy, of Berkeley Springs, W. Va., who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Barnhart, 20 Pennsylvania avenue.

Miss Louise Cowherd, 747 Washington street, was hostess at a cocktail party Saturday night at her home in honor of Miss Jane Golden, Miss Elizabeth Somerville and Miss Margaret Reinhart, brides-elect.

The Bowling Green Homemakers Club will meet at 11:30 a. m. Tuesday with Mrs. J. E. Tritt for a covered dish luncheon. Following the luncheon the club will join other clubs on a garden tour.

Manhattan temple No. 8 of the Pythian Sisters will hold an initiation at 8 o'clock Monday evening in the Junior Order hall on Polk street. The degree staff and officers are to meet at the hall at 6:30 o'clock.

A dance will be given on Wednesday evening at Mayfair Tavern, Winchester road, by the graduating class of the Allegany Hospital School of Nursing, following the graduation exercises at St. Patrick's church.

In charge comprises Misses Frances Lyon, Gladys Conway and Jennie Vodopecic.

Will Get Degree

Wilbur Parker, son of R. R. Parker, 306 Fayette street, will be graduated from the American University College of Liberal Arts, Washington, D. C., with the degree of bachelor of arts at the annual commencement exercises on June 5.

Parker, who was graduated from Allegany high school, was active in music, student government, and the Student Christian Association. During his senior year he was manager of the university chorus and was responsible for bringing the group to Cumberland.

Annual Alumnae Event

Dr. Edward A. Doehler, member of the faculty of Loyola college, Baltimore, will be the chief speaker at the annual dinner-dance of the Alumnae Association of Girls' Central High School, which will be held Tuesday evening at the Clara Club. He will discuss "The Catholic Woman, Her Position and Influence in the Community."

Mrs. John R. Wilkinson, chairman of the dinner committee, will open the dinner program and introduce Mrs. Bergeron as toastmistress. Mrs. C. J. Everline, president, will make the address of welcome. Miss Catherine Tierney will give the toast to alma mater and a summary of progress will be made by the Rev. Francis J. McKeon, moderator.

Miss Mary Alice Raphael is chairman of the dance committee. Jay Van's orchestra, will play for the dance.

Victory Ball

Members of the Maryland Classified Employees Association will hold a Victory ball in the auditorium of the Springfield State hospital Friday, June 9. Several from Western Maryland will attend.

The ball will celebrate the signing of the state employees' Sick Leave bill and the bill to standardize the salaries of the classified employees, which were recently passed by the legislature.

Governor Herbert R. O'Connor, state officials and members of the legislature have been invited to attend. Arrangements for the ball are in charge of Mrs. Alice E. Coombs.

The dance will begin at 8:45 p. m.

Dance Party

Miss Alice Parks of Greene street gave a party at her home on Friday evening, with dancing and refreshments. Those present were: Misses Virginia Robinson, Jane Williams, Mary Downey Reinhart, Elizabeth Ann Low, Dixie Rafter,

New Under-arm Cream Deodorant safely Stops Perspiration

ARRID

1. Does not rot dresses—does not irritate skin.

2. No waiting to dry. Can be used right after shaving.

3. Instantly stops perspiration for 1 to 3 days. Removes odor from perspiration.

4. A pure white, greaseless, stainless vanishing cream.

5. Arrid has been awarded the Approval Seal of the American Institute of Laundering, for being harmless to fabrics.

15 MILLION jars of Arrid have been sold. Try a jar today!

ARRID

39¢ a jar At all stores selling toilet goods (also in 10¢ and 25¢ jars)

Hoofs Howling?

ALICE FAYE... wears proper shoes and avoids foot troubles.

THIS IS the time of the year when the little footies protest. They twinge and burn and there is no health in them. You wish you were an acrobat so you could walk on your hands, give your poor hoofs a rest.

When they are in a state of torment, don't soak them in hot water; you'll just annoy them. Get out the cold cream jar, give them a brisk massage. Rub each pink toe separately. Thumb the upper portions of your feet and the soles. Stroke with flattened fingers, up and down, up and down. Clasp your fingers together under the waist of the foot and press with the thumbs on the instep. All this is soothing and comforting.

Wring a turkish towel out of ice cold water, wrap around your feet, hold it there until the flesh begins to steam. Repeat several times. Dry well, dust with borated talcum.

Put on fresh hosiery and a different pair of shoes. Change the shoes frequently during the summer days. Chuck the spiked heels for the season. The best shoe for hurty feet is a good oxford that provides support as frail straps never do. Put a little foot powder in the shoes every morning; it will absorb moisture that causes discomfort to the flesh.

Sit far back in your chair. Keep your feet flat on the floor. Twining them around the chair legs is not according to beauty. Sit tall with no loops in your spinal column; you will have an appearance of elegance.

Watch the attitudes of the customers in any restaurants and you will discover that there are a lot of ways one should not comport oneself. And with street skirts out short it is just as well to be sure that knees are covered.

HAVE YOU any beauty problems? Let the Beauty Box Editor help you solve them. Address all inquiries regarding beauty to the Editor of the Beauty Box, care of this newspaper. Be sure to enclose an addressed, stamped (three cents) envelope for reply.

Annette Fossett, Alice Sutton, Frank Wright, Robert Apsey, Orville Wright, Brandon Fuller, William Chandley, Robert Youngblood, William Bender, Robert Serf, Harold Muma and Edward Turner.

Stacy-Dodd

Miss Eleanor Dodd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilson Dodd, of

Spank If It's Necessary

A Safety Problem: How To Keep a Child From Using Carpenter Tools As Weapons

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

Young children, like savages, tend to fight with weapons. When the toddler begins to use such tools as hammer and saw he, unless he has learned adequate restraint, is perilous to another young child.

Many a child from two to six is not given tools at all to play with in the home because his parents say he would break up the furniture or injure the baby. But that's absurd. Why rob him of good education from the use of tools, and training in character?

Such parents doubtless have believed the pernicious doctrine of no-spanking, or have failed to employ punishment intelligently.

Any child using tools needs careful watching, and on the first instance and every one thereafter, when he strikes or threatens to strike another person with a tool or with any other object, he should experience immediate punishment, preferably a good, sound spanking. Let him learn early that he never must strike another except with his fists, and then only in self-defense.

There may be times, of course, when he should be encouraged to use his fists to defend himself, even shown how to do so. Some children, boys or girls under ten, should be given boxing lessons as a means of keeping them from being quarrelsome on account of physical fears. But draw the line, strictly

Washington, D. C., and formerly of Cumberland, became the bride of William Arthur Stacy, of Washington, yesterday afternoon at the Takoma Park Presbyterian church.

The ceremony was performed on the twenty-seventh anniversary of the bride's parents and on the fourth wedding anniversary of her sister, Mrs. Frank L. Mansuy. The Rev. R. Paul Shearer officiated.

Mrs. Mansuy was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Paul M. Prosser, of Norman, Okla.; Miss Sophie Gurevich and Miss Elizabeth Zoll, of Washington; and Miss Christine Stacy, sister of the bridegroom. Frank L. Mansuy was best man and the ushers were Earl Stacy, brother of the bridegroom; Audrey Marshall, his uncle; Charles Jorse, of Washington, and Randall of Silver Spring.

The bride is a graduate of the school of Dental Hygiene of Georgetown university; is president of the District of Columbia Dental Hygienists' Association, and is a member of Kappa Gamma sorority. She is connected with the Warfield family, on her maternal side being a descendant of Charles Alexander Warfield, hero of the burning of the ship, Peggy Stewart, in the Revolutionary war.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Robinson, 822 Shriver avenue, this city, attended the wedding.

Married at Parsonage

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Marguerite Virginia Dellinger, Mount Jackson, Va., and David Stanley Kager, Edinburg, Va., which took place Saturday morning at the parsonage of the First Brethren church, West First street, with the Rev. Charles H. Wakeman, pastor, officiating.

The bride is a daughter of V. L. Dellinger, funeral director, Mount Jackson, and a friend of the Rev. and Mrs. Wakeman.

Sheets-Varner

Miss Mary Varner, daughter of Mrs. Delphia Varner, 452 Goethe street, and Gerald Sheets, of Potomac Park, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sheets, Barnackville, W. Va., were married at 6:30 o'clock Friday evening at the Potomac Park Community church. The ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. George E. Baughman, pastor of the First Methodist Protestant church, Cumberland, was the first to be solemnized in the Community church.

The attendants included the Misses Dolores Roy, Wanda Weller, Freda and Pauline Grove, Mary Er and Martha Clymer as bridesmaids; Mrs. Bruce Thompson, sister of the bride, as matron of honor; Bruce Thompson, brother-in-law of the bride, best man; and the Misses Colleen and Pauline Horst, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Horst, flower girls.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy, uncle and aunt of the bridegroom.

Mr. Sheets, a laboratory assistant at the Celanese plant the last four years, is a graduate of the Shinnston high school at Shinnston, W. Va., where he was captain of his basketball team for three years. The bride attended Ridgeley high school.

After a brief trip to points in West Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. Sheets will be at home at 316 Fayette street.

Wilson-Kaiser

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kaiser, Emily street, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Helen, to David E. Wilson, Jr., Williams road, which took place Friday morning at the rectory of St. Patrick's Catholic church with the Rev. Thomas A. Hardesty officiating.

The attendants were Miss Veronica Murray and Charles Kaiser, Jr., brother of the bride.

Following a wedding dinner served at the home of the bride's parents,

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE By Shepard Barclay "The Authority on Authorities"

BID IT THREE TIMES

MAJOR SUITS of six cards or more in length do not pop up any too frequently. When they do, it generally will pay you to tell your partner the news, either by bidding that suit twice before naming another, or else by bidding that suit three times. If it is the only biddable one you hold, this is especially true in match point duplicate, in which the difference in score between a major and minor contract can be the deciding element.

♠ K J 10 9 7 6 2
♥ 10
♦ K Q 3
♣ 4

♠ A 4 3
♥ Q 8 3 2
♦ J 8 6 2
♣ K 3

♠ 5
♥ 7 5 4
♦ 10 7 5 4
♣ J 9 6 5 2

♠ Q 8
♥ A K J 9 6
♦ A 9
♣ A 10 8 7

(Dealer: East. North-South vulnerable.)

North and South got off on the right foot with this deal, but wound up on the wrong one. South opened quite naturally with 1-Heart, to which North responded with 1-Spade. When South then bid 2-Clubs, North forced with 3-Spades. This bid, following his failure to force on the first round, indicated that he did not feel confident of game until he heard the club bid, and also that the distribution and fit of the hands was likely to prove a factor.

South then bid 4-Hearts, giving

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Father, Who Has Given All, Is Entitled to Recognition

By Beatrice Fairfax, Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage—Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

There's a single guest of honor at a great country-wide feast. The guest is the American Father. Father isn't used to it. It gives him a queer, happy feeling. Is he really being so conspicuously honored, just because he's a father? He can hardly believe it, if he does deserve it. Are you sure you've done your part?

Modesty is characteristic of this American Father. Nobody asks so little and gives so much. What he gives is, in fact, his whole life. And in return, he has—what?

Well, sometimes he has children who are affectionate and attentive. Who joy in sharing and doing things with him. Who love him and tell him so. This is all that Father's warm heart desires. It's a complete reward. He's happy and his life is justified.

But children sometimes forget. Even good children.

Old Bonds Slacken

They're distracted by school duties or youthful gayeties. A new job demands a big amount of time and thought. They've just married and the old bonds are slackening just a little. "Father? Why, he's all right, isn't he? He's always all right. When we get a chance, we'll call him up or something. But there's so little time."

Father's busy, too, year in and year out. He has to be. But he never forgets. Not for a second does it ever slip his mind that Junior is not only the pride of his life, but an extremely remarkable young man in every way. "That boy will show them some day!" And his feeling for young Jane, who, of course, couldn't possibly be as beautiful and sweet and gifted as he thinks she is, is nothing short of adoration.

the bridal pair left for a honeymoon trip in eastern cities. They will make their home at Bedford, Pa.

Personals

Mrs. Edward Coulehan, 330 Cumberland street, is spending the weekend at the home of Miss Eleanor Rowles in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Bayard Clifton, of Scarsdale, N. Y., is visiting her mother, Mrs. A. H. Amick, 503 Washington street.

Mrs. Ruth Dailey, of Hagerstown, is visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Groves.

Mr. and Mrs. Peyton Brown, 838 Greene street, are spending the weekend at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Carper in Morgantown, W. Va.

Louis Stein, son of Clarence H. Stein, 324 Cumberland street, was home over the weekend from Penn State college, Pa., where he will return today for his graduation exercises.

Miss Virginia Lippold, of Aviret

NEURITIS

Relieve Pain In Few Minutes or Money Back

To relieve recurring pain of Rheumatism, Neuritis, Neuralgia, or Lumbago in a few minutes, get NURITO, the splendid formula, used by thousands. Dependable—no opiates. Does the work quickly. Must relieve, or your money back. Don't suffer. Ask your druggist today for NURITO on this guarantee.

Advertisement

Look Lovelier—Last Longer

ORMOND

SILK STOCKINGS

RUNS REPAIRED FREE

105 Baltimore St.

a very clear picture of his holding, with five of that suit and only four of the club suit, and also the additional strength to justify a "reverse" in naming his higher ranking suit at such a level. Right at this point North went wrong, bidding 4-No Trumps, in its natural meaning, since no slam conventions were being used. South thereupon hopped to 6-No Trumps, a contract which was defeated by a club lead.

Had North, after the 4-Hearts, squeezed in a third bid of his suit at 4-Spades, South would have known it was at least six cards in length and that his spade doubleton was ample support. South's next call then would naturally have been 6-Spades, which could not have been beaten, as an early club discard could have been obtained on the hearts.

Tomorrow's Problem

♠ K J 9 8 3
♥ Q 10 4 3
♦ K 10 6
♣ None

♠ A 10 7 5
♥ None
♦ A Q 9 5 4
♣ 10 8 5 4

♠ 6 2
♥ A K J 8 7 2
♦ J 8 7
♣ 3 2

(Dealer: North. North-South vulnerable.)

What is the best bidding on this hand?

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

from Gettysburg, Pa., to her home in Frostburg, Md.

Miss Dorothy Perdue, Rose Hill avenue, spent June week at Maryland university.

Miss Billie Jane Rittase, 123 Allegany street has returned home from Maryland university.

Misses Mary Lee and Maxine Cramblitt, 527 Louisiana avenue have returned from Maryland university.

Thomas H. Steele has returned from Georgetown Law School in Washington, D. C.

F. Grahame Ort, 416 Fayette street, arrived home Saturday morning from Lehigh, Bethlehem, Pa.

Miss Helen Gassaway, nurse at the Church Home hospital, Baltimore, is a guest of Mrs. H. B. Marley, Luteman road.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Rowe have returned from a visit in Detroit, Mich.

Miss Peggy Stalnaker, Washington, D. C., is spending a few days at her home, 817 Gephart drive.

Miss Betty Lee Gracie, 630 Washington street, has returned home from the Rinehart School of Sculpting, Baltimore.

Miss Mary La Manca left Saturday night for New York city, where she has accepted a position. She will have an apartment with Miss Maryland Sowers of this city, at 35 West Ninety-sixth street.

Miss Katherine Poling, 67 Greene street, is home from Allegany hospital, where she underwent an operation for appendicitis.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert H. Macy, Braddock road, have returned from Cleveland, where he was a delegate from the Baltimore Presbytery at the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States.

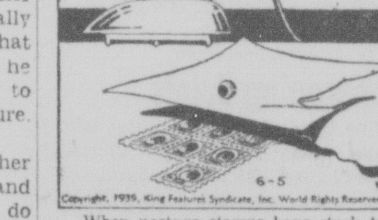

Mr. and Mrs. Chaney Frazee, Mr. and Mrs. B. Goodlin and Mrs. Freeman, of Wilmering, Pa., have returned to their homes after visiting the former's mother, Mrs. A. W. Frazee, of "Hillcrest Farm", Flintstone.

Los Angeles Family Talks Esperanto at Home

Los Angeles (AP)—The family of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Chomette, which consists of the parents and two small girls, speaks Esperanto exclusively about the house. Esperanto is an artificial language intended for worldwide communication.

The children are named Lillo (Esperanto for Lily) and Dianio (Esperanto for Carnation). The first lesson they give young playmates is "P signifikas pomo." That's the old copybook phrase, "A stands for Apple."

Wife Preservers

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc. World Rights Reserved

Children's WHITE SHOES

featuring Style and Wear

Smith's

TENDER FEET SHOE SHC

Cor. Baltimore and George Sts.

Rosenbaum's

WEDNESDAY, 8 P. M.

and THURSDAY, 8 P. M.

You're Invited To Attend

Rosenbaum's 6th Annual

BEACH WEAR

REVUE

CELANESE POOL

Attractive Models! Aquatic Sports! Stunts! Music! Fun!

You Can Borrow From

$25 to $300

All loans quickly and privately arranged

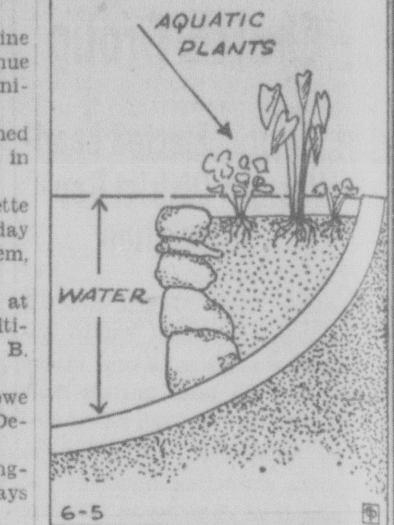

CITIZEN'S

FINANCE CO.

WELDON W. SKILES, Mgr.

72 Pershing St., PERRIN BLDG., Room 4, Phone 377

Today's GARDEN-GRAPH

6-5

Aquatic plants in outdoor pool

By PEAN HALL DAY

The garden pool is often the center of interest during the Summer months, due to the unique plant and animal life it supports. If one desires to make a hobby of a great variety of aquatic plants this can be done by incorporating a water garden in connection with the pool.

How to include a water garden in a pool is shown in today's Garden-Graph. By building up a natural wall of rocks set in cement on one or both sides of a square rectangular or circular pool, a "garden pocket" is formed which can be filled with soil, which, in turn, will be covered with water to a depth of two or three inches when the pool is filled.

Aquatic plants which can be set into this water-covered soil include the following: Egyptian Lotus, Parrot Feather, Sweet Flag, Arrowhead, Pickerel Rush, Cattail, Wild Caila, Water Cress, Water Poppy, Cardinal Flower, Umbrella Palm or Spiral Palm.

Fire Hazard Fought

A series of fire schools is being conducted in western national parks, with a view to averting forest fires this summer. The fire hazard season arrived more than a month ahead of schedule this year, because of small snowfall and consequent lack of moisture.

Grandmother at 33

Oakland City, Ind. (AP)—Mrs. E. McMillen is a grandmother at 33. Her daughter, Mrs. William Dyson, 17, has a new baby girl.

Social Items and Ideas of Interest for the Women

Birthday Luncheon of Hadassah Chapter Is Event of Tuesday

Plans have been completed for holding the second annual birthday luncheon of the Cumberland chapter of Hadassah at 1 o'clock Tuesday at the Ali Ghan Country Club. Mrs. M. R. Sacks will be toastmistress.

The program will include the installation of newly elected officers, reports from committee chairmen and a play, "The Crystal Gazer," in which Mesdames Louis Lutz, Meyer Abramson, Leo Schor, Michael Beerman, A. Green, M. Maslin, Joseph Feldstein and M. Wallrich will have parts with Mrs. S. M. Jacobson as director.

The officers to be installed are Mrs. Herman Richmond, president; Mrs. John Yankelwitz, first vice president; Mrs. Leonard Falk, second vice president; Mrs. Louis Lutz, secretary; Mrs. I. Martin, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Harold Hersch, treasurer, and Mrs. Irwin Pariser, auditor.

Tournament to Open

The spring championship tournament of the Women's Golf Association of the Cumberland Country Club will be opened at the meeting of the group Tuesday at the club grounds.

Fourteen members have posted qualifying scores and the competition will consist of a title flight of eight and a second flight of six. All first round matches must be completed by Tuesday evening.

Tea for Nurses

Honoring the visiting nurses here for the annual convention of state organizations of nurses, a tea was given at 4 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Cumberland Country Club by the Allegheny - Garrett County Medical Society, with approximately 200 in attendance, including a number of doctors.

Mrs. W. R. Hodges, Sr., and Mrs. H. L. Tolson received at the door. Mrs. Knight Reynolds presided at the punch bowl. The committee which assisted in serving comprised Mrs. A. H. Hawkins, Mrs. George Henderson, Mrs. H. B. Marley, Mrs. H. T. Robinson, Mrs. H. L. Tolson and Mrs. W. R. Hodges, Sr.

Winners Are Feted

Winners of the annual Rotary-Kiwanis annual bowling match, which was taken by the Kiwanis, were honored with the traditional victory dinner Friday evening at the Ali Ghan Shrine Club.

Charles A. Piper, of the Rotary, presided as toastmaster with Elmer I. Pearson as chairman of the Kiwanis team and Thomas E. Gilchrist as chairman of the Rotary team. James W. Beacham was the prize winner of the three matches of both clubs. William A. Douglas held the high score for the Rotary Club and Weldon Skyles held high score for the Kiwanis Club.

Will Receive Degree

Hugh Mulaney, of the Windsor hotel, will receive a bachelor of science degree in business and public administration at the one hundred and fortieth annual commencement of Georgetown university this afternoon.

Five hundred and twenty-five degrees will be conferred at the commencement, which is to be held on the college lawn and of which Charles H. English, Erie, Pa., will be the chief speaker.

Dinner Dance Set

This year's graduates of the Allegheny Hospital Nurses' Training School will be honored with a banquet and dance June 14 at the Clary Club by the nurses' alumnae association.

Miss Mary Margaret Lee will be toastmistress, Miss Ursula Brode will make the invocation, Miss Willa Harrington will introduce the nurses and Miss Nora McGeady will give some reminiscences. The committee

Monday's Special!

Washable House Coats
Sizes 12 to 20 $1. Colors
Regular $1.98 Values

Hollywood Shops
31 Baltimore St.

AT THE NEW YORK WORLD'S FAIR
Visit the FORWARD MARCH OF AMERICA

FREE TOUR SERVICE
Ask Our Local Office
POTOMAC EDISON CO.

ARRID
39¢ a jar
At all stores selling toilet goods (also in 10¢ and 50¢ jars)

Events in Brief

The Homemakers' Chorus will hold its final rehearsal of the season at 7:30 o'clock this evening at the Central Y. M. C. A. The concert planned to be given by the chorus at the First Church of Christ, Bedford street, has been postponed.

A wicker roast was given last evening at Constitution park in compliment to Mrs. Helen Barnhart Hardy, of Berkeley Springs, W. Va., who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Barnhart, 20 Pennsylvania avenue.

Miss Louise Cowherd, 747 Washington street, was hostess at a cocktail party Saturday night at her home in honor of Miss Jane Goldstein, Miss Elizabeth Somerville and Miss Margaret Reinhart, brides-elect.

The Bowling Green Homemakers Club will meet at 11:30 a. m. Tuesday with Mrs. J. E. Tritt for a covered dish luncheon. Following the luncheon the club will join other clubs on a garden tour.

Manhattan temple No. 8 of the Pythian Sisters will hold an initiation at 8 o'clock Monday evening in the Junior Order hall on Polk street. The degree staff and officers are to meet at the hall at 6:30 o'clock.

A dance will be given on Wednesday evening at Mayfair Tavern, Winchester road, by the graduating class of the Allegheny Hospital School of Nursing, following the graduation exercises at St. Patrick's church.

tee in charge comprises Misses Frances Lyon, Gladys Conway and Jennie Vodepovic.

Will Get Degree

Wilbur Parker, son of R. R. Parker, 306 Fayette street, will be graduated from the American University College of Liberal Arts, Washington, D. C., with the degree of bachelor of arts at the annual commencement exercises on June 5.

Parker, who was graduated from Allegheny high school, was active in music, student government, and the Student Christian Association. During his senior year he was manager of the university chorus and was responsible for bringing the group to Cumberland.

Annual Alumnae Event

Dr. Edward A. Doehrer, member of the faculty of Loyola college, Baltimore, will be the chief speaker at the annual dinner-dance of the Alumnae Association of Girls' Central High School, which will be held Tuesday evening at the Clary Club. He will discuss "The Catholic Woman, Her Position and Influence in the Community."

Mrs. John R. Wilkinson, chairman of the dinner committee, will open the dinner program and introduce Mrs. Bergeron as toastmistress. Mrs. C. J. Everline, president, will make the address of welcome, Miss Catherine Tierney will give the toast to alma mater and a summary of progress will be made by the Rev. Francis J. McKee, moderator.

Miss Mary Alida Raphael is chairman of the dance committee. Jay Van's orchestra, will play for the dance.

Victory Ball

Members of the Maryland Classified Employees Association will hold a Victory Ball in the auditorium of the Springfield State Hospital Friday, June 9. Several from Western Maryland will attend.

The ball will celebrate the signing of the state employees' Sick Leave bill and the bill to standardize the salaries of the classified employees, which were recently passed by the legislature.

Governor Herbert R. O'Connor, state officials and members of the legislature have been invited to attend. Arrangements for the ball are in charge of Mrs. Alice E. Coombs.

The dance will begin at 8:45 p. m.

Dance Party

Miss Alice Parks of Greene street gave a party at her home on Friday evening, with dancing and refreshments. Those present were: Misses Virginia Robinson, Jane Williams, Mary Downey Reinhart, Elizabeth Ann Low, Dixie Rafters.

New Under-arm Cream Deodorant safely
Stops Perspiration

ARRID
1. Does not rot dresses—does not irritate skin.
2. No waiting to dry. Can be used right after shaving.
3. Instantly stops perspiration for 1 to 3 days. Removes odor from perspiration.
4. A pure white, greaseless, stainless vanishing cream.
5. Arrid has been awarded the Approval Seal of the American Institute of Laundering, for being harmless to fabrics.
15 MILLION jars of Arrid have been sold. Try a jar today!

ARRID
39¢ a jar
At all stores selling toilet goods (also in 10¢ and 50¢ jars)

ARRID
39¢ a jar
At all stores selling toilet goods (also in 10¢ and 50¢ jars)

ARRID
39¢ a jar
At all stores selling toilet goods (also in 10¢ and 50¢ jars)

ARRID
39¢ a jar
At all stores selling toilet goods (also in 10¢ and 50¢ jars)

ARRID
39¢ a jar
At all stores selling toilet goods (also in 10¢ and 50¢ jars)

Hoofs Howling?

ALICE FAYE . . . wears proper shoes and avoids foot troubles.

By HELEN FOLLETT

THIS IS the time of the year when the little footies protest. They twinge and burn and there is no health in them. You wish you were an acrobat so you could walk on your hands, give your poor heels a rest.

When they are in a state of torment, don't soak them in hot water; you'll just annoy them. Get out the cold cream jar, give them a brisk massage. Rub each pink toe separately. Thumb the upper portions of your feet and the soles. Stroke with flattened fingers, up and down, and up and down. Clasp your fingers together under the waist of the foot and press with the thumbs on the instep. All this is soothing and comforting.

Wring a turkish towel out of ice cold water, wrap around your feet, hold it there until the flesh begins to steam. Repeat several times. Dry well, dust with borated talcum.

Put on fresh hosiery and a different pair of shoes. Change the shoes frequently during the summer days. Chuck the spiked heels for the season. The best shoe for hot feet is a good Oxford that provides support as frail straps never do. Put a little foot powder in the shoes every morning; it will absorb moisture that causes discomfort to the flesh.

Sit far back in your chair. Keep your feet flat on the floor. Twining them around the chair legs is not according to beauty Hoyle. Sit tall with no loops in your spinal column; you will have an appearance of elegance.

Watch the attitudes of the customers in any restaurants and you will discover that there are a lot of ways one should not comport oneself. And with street skirts out short it is just as well to be sure that knees are covered.

HAVE YOU any beauty problems? Let the Beauty Box Editor help you solve them. Address all inquiries regarding beauty to the Editor of the Beauty Box, care of this newspaper. Be sure to enclose an addressed, stamped (three cents) envelope for reply.

Annette Poesett, Alice Sutton, Frank Wright, Robert Apsey, Orville Wright, Brandon Fuller, William Chandle, Robert Youngblood, William Bender, Robert Serf, Harold Muma and Edward Turner.

Stacy-Dodd

Miss Eleanor Dodd, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilson Dodd, of

Spank If It's Necessary

A Safety Problem: How To Keep a Child From Using Carpenter Tools As Weapons

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.
Young children, like savages, tend to fight with weapons. When the toddler begins to use such tools as hammer and saw he, unless he has learned adequate restraint, is perilous to another young child.

Many a child from two to six is not given tools at all to play with in the home because his parents say he would break up the furniture or injure the baby. But that's absurd. Why rob him of good education from the use of tools, and training in character?

Such parents doubtless have believed the pernicious doctrine of non-spanking, or have failed to employ punishment intelligently.

Any child using tools needs careful watching, and on the first instance and every one thereafter, when he strikes or threatens to strike another person with a tool or with any other object, he should experience immediate punishment, preferably a good, sound spanking.

Let him learn early that he never must strike another except with his fists, and then only in self-defense. There may be times, of course, when he should be encouraged to use his fists to defend himself, even shown how to do so. Some children, boys or girls under ten, should be given boxing lessons as a means of keeping them from being quarrelsome on account of physical fears. But draw the line, strictly

Washington, D. C., and formerly of Cumberland, became the bride of William Arthur Stacy, of Washington, yesterday afternoon at the Takoma Park Presbyterian church.

The ceremony was performed on the twenty-seventh anniversary of the bride's parents and on the fourth wedding anniversary of her sister, Mrs. Frank L. Mansuy. The Rev. R. Paul Shearer officiated.

Mrs. Mansuy was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Paul M. Prosser, of Norman, Okla.; Miss Sophie Gurevich and Miss Elizabeth Zoll, of Washington; and Miss Christine Stacy, sister of the bridegroom. Frank L. Mansuy was best man and the ushers were Earl Stacy, brother of the bridegroom; Audrey Marshall, his uncle; Charles Morse, of Washington, and Randall of Silver Spring.

The bride is a graduate of the school of Dental Hygiene of Georgetown university; is president of the District of Columbia Dental Hygienists' Association, and is a member of Kappa Gamma sorority. She is connected with the Warfield family, on her maternal side being a descendant of Charles Alexander Warfield, hero of the burning of the ship, Peggy Stewart, in the Revolutionary war.

Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Robinson, 822 Shriver avenue, this city, attended the wedding.

Married at Parsonage

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Marguerite Virginia Dellinger, Mount Jackson, Va., and David Stanley Kager, Edinburg, Va., which took place Saturday morning at the parsonage of the First Brethren church, West First street, with the Rev. Charles H. Wakeman, pastor, officiating.

The bride is a daughter of V. L. Dellinger, funeral director, Mount Jackson, and a friend of the Rev. and Mrs. Wakeman.

Sheets-Varner

Miss Mary Varner, daughter of Mrs. Delphia Varner, 452 Goethe street, and Gerald Sheets, of Potomac Park, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Sheets, Barracksville, W. Va., were married at 6:30 o'clock Friday evening at the Potomac Park Community church. The ceremony, which was performed by the Rev. George E. Baughman, pastor of the First Methodist Protestant church, Cumberland, was the first to be solemnized in the Community church.

The attendants included the Misses Dolores Roy, Wanda Weller, Freda and Pauline Grove, Mary Errol and Martha Clymer as bridesmaids; Mrs. Bruce Thompson, sister of the bride, as matron of honor; Bruce Thompson, brother-in-law of the bride, best man; and the Misses Colleen and Pauline Horst, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Horst, flower girls.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Roy, uncle and aunt of the bridegroom.

Mr. Sheets, a laboratory assistant at the Celanese plant the last four years, is a graduate of the Shinnston high school at Shinnston, W. Va., where he was captain of its basketball team for three years. The bride attended Ridgeley high school.

After a brief trip to points in West Virginia, Mr. and Mrs. Sheets will be at home at 316 Fayette street.

Wilson-Kaiser

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kaiser, Emily street, have announced the marriage of their daughter, Helen, to David E. Wilson, Jr., Williams road, which took place Friday morning at the rectory of St. Patrick's Catholic church with the Rev. Thomas A. Hardesty officiating.

The attendants were Miss Veronica Murray and Charles Kaiser, Jr., brother of the bride.

Following a wedding dinner served at the home of the bride's parents,

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

BID IT THREE TIMES

MAJOR SUITS of six cards or more in length do not pop up any too frequently. When they do, it generally will pay you to tell your partner the news, either by bidding that suit twice before naming another, or else by bidding that suit three times, if it is the only biddable one you hold. This is especially true in match point duplicate, in which the difference in score between a major and minor contract can be the deciding element.

♠ K J 10 9 7 6 2
♥ 10
♦ K Q 3
♣ Q 4

♠ A 4 3
♥ Q 8 3 2
♦ J 8 6 2
♣ K 3

♠ 5
♥ 7 5 4
♦ 10 7 5 4
♣ J 9 6 5 2

♠ Q 8
♥ A K J 9 6
♦ A 9
♣ A 10 8 7

(Dealer: East. North-South vulnerable.)

North and South got off on the right foot with this deal, but wound up on the wrong one. South opened quite naturally with 1-Heart, to which North responded with 1-Spade. When South then bid 2-Clubs, North forced with 3-Spades. This bid, following his failure to force on the first round, indicated that he did not feel confident of game until he heard the club bid, and also that the distribution and fit of the hands was likely to prove a factor.

South then bid 4-Hearts, giving

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

a very clear picture of his holding, with five of that suit and only four of the club suit, and also the additional strength to justify a "reverse" in naming his higher ranking suit at such a level. Right at this point North went wrong, bidding 4-No Trumps, in its natural meaning, since no slam conventions were being used. South thereupon hopped to 6-No Trumps, a contract which was defeated by a club lead.

Had North, after the 4-Hearts, squeezed in a third bid of his suit at 4-Spades, South would have known it was at least six cards in length and that his spade doubling was ample support. South's call then would naturally have been 6-Spades, which could not have been beaten, as an early club discard could have been obtained on the hearts.

Tomorrow's Problem

♠ K J 9 8 3
♥ Q 9 5 4 3
♦ K 10 6
♣ None

♠ A 10 7 5
♥ None
♦ A Q 9 5 4
♣ 10 8 5 4

♠ 6 2
♥ A K J 8 7 2
♦ J 8 7
♣ 3 2

(Dealer: North. North-South vulnerable.)

What is the best bidding on this hand?

Father, Who Has Given All, Is Entitled to Recognition

By Beatrice Fairfax, Famous Authority on Problems of Love and Marriage—Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

There's a single guest of honor at a great country-wide feast. The guest is the American Father. Father isn't used to it. It gives him a queer, happy feeling. Is he really being so conspicuously honored, just because he's a father? He can hardly believe it, if he does deserve it. Are you sure you've done your part?

Modesty is characteristic of this American Father. Nobody asks so little and gives so much. What he gives is, in fact, his whole life. And in return, he has—what?

Well, sometimes he has children who are affectionate and attentive. Who joy in sharing and doing things with him. Who love him and tell him so. This is all that Father's warm heart desires. It's a complete reward. He's happy and his life is justified.

But children sometimes forget. Even good children.

Old Bonds Slacken

They're distracted by school duties, or youthful gayeries. A new job demands a big amount of time and thought. They've just married and the old bonds are slackening just a little. "Father? Why, he's all right. Isn't he? He's always all right. When we get a chance, we'll call him up or something. But there's so little time."

Father's busy, too, year in and year out. He has to be. But he never forgets. Not for a second does it ever slip his mind that Junior is not only the pride of his life, but an extremely remarkable young man in every way. "That boy will show them some day!" And his feeling for young Jane, who, of course, couldn't possibly be as beautiful and sweet and gifted as he thinks she is, is nothing short of adoration.

the bridal pair left for a honeymoon trip in eastern cities. They will make their home at Bedford, Pa.

Personals

Mrs. Edward Coulehan, 330 Cumberland street, is spending the weekend at the home of Miss Eleanor Rowles in Philadelphia.

Mrs. Bayard Clifton, of Scarsdale, N. Y., is visiting her mother, Mrs. A. H. Amick, 503 Washington street. Mrs. Ruth Dailey, of Hagerstown, is visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Groves.

Mr. and Mrs. Peyton Brown, 838 Greene street, are spending the weekend at the home of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Carper in Morgantown, W. Va.

Louis Stein, son of Clarence H. Stein, 324 Cumberland street, was home over the weekend from Penn State college, Pa., where he will return today for his graduation exercises.

Miss Virginia Lippold, of Aviret

Relieve Pain In Few Minutes or Money Back

NEURITIS
To relieve torturing pain of Rheumatism, Neuritis, Neuralgia, or Lumbago in a few minutes, use NURITO, the splendid formula, used by thousands. Dependable—no opiates. Does the work quickly. Must relieve cramp pain, to your satisfaction, in few minutes or your money back. Don't suffer. Ask your druggist today for NURITO on this guarantee.

Advertisement

Lock Lavelier—Last Longer
ORMOND
SILK STOCKINGS
RUNS REPAIRED FREE

ORMOND
SILK STOCKINGS
RUNS REPAIRED FREE

ORMOND
SILK STOCKINGS
RUNS REPAIRED FREE

ORMOND
SILK STOCKINGS
RUNS REPAIRED FREE

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Theatres Today

Montgomery and Rosalind Russell in "Fast and Loose"

Establishing a new team of mystery comedy stars, Robert Montgomery and Rosalind Russell make their debut in the new field in "Fast and Loose," opening today at the Maryland Theatre.

Although they have appeared together in three previous pictures, Montgomery and Miss Russell have never before portrayed the comedy roles that they reveal in their new picture, a rapid-fire mystery comedy which comes as a sequel to last season's comedy hit, "Fast Company."

They first appeared in the film "Trouble for Two," which was followed by the psychological thriller "Night Must Fall." Their first picture, "Live, Love and Learn," was their first comedy but it was not of mystery.

In "Fast and Loose" Montgomery plays the role of Joe Sloane, the madcap of rare book dealers, in his quest for a rare volume one of his clients, becomes involved in a carnival of mystifying games which he eventually solves as an amateur detective.

Miss Russell steps out of her usual character to play his equally madcap partner, Garda, who only complicates matters by her mirthful meddling and her incidental capture by gangsters.

O'Brien Thriller Strikes New Note in Western Fare

Striking a unique note in outdoor dramas, George O'Brien's latest

Jack Crawford

300 Pounds of Rhythm

— IN PERSON —

And His Pleasing Music and Entertaining ORCHESTRA

— FEATURING —

"BOB" HIGGINS

CARL MILLER

HARVEY CRAWFORD

Thursday

8:30 Until 1:15

ADMISSION 40c

PARK PLAN DANCING

Table Reservations Phone 950

CRYSTAL

BALLROOM

"All-Ways Kooler"

"FAST AND LOOSE" OPENS TODAY

Robert Montgomery and Rosalind Russell in "Fast and Loose," the gay Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture opening today at the Maryland Theatre for a three day engagement. Also starred in the cast are Reginald Owen, Jo Ann Sayers, Ralph Morgan and Joan Marsh.

SOUND ADVICE

Richard Dix and Edward Ellis seen in the newest film "Man of Conquest" which is now showing at the Strand Theatre. Eighteen months were spent in the making of the dramatic film.

screen thriller, "Racketeers of the Range," starting tomorrow at the Liberty is said to be a streamlined Western in that it reveals the West as it actually exists today. In the old days of the West rustlers had to drive their stolen cattle many miles before they could ship and sell them. There was always the danger of pursuit by posses and reprisal. Today, by loading their beef into big, fast motor-trucks at night, rustlers can be hundreds of miles away from the scene by morning, with little chance of detection.

Houston Film Credit To Its Producers

Republic's "Man of Conquest," the life story of Sam Houston, received a grand ovation again yesterday at the Strand Theatre where it will remain for several days.

The story is replete with characters whose names are etched in history's thrilling pages. Richard Dix gives an unforgettable portrayal of Houston; Gail Patrick and Joan Fontaine are lovely and capable. Such crack character performers as Edward Ellis, C. Henry Gordon, Victory Jory, Robert Armstrong, George Hayes, Max Terhune, Robert Barrat, Ralph Morgan, William Benedict, and Janet Beecher enhance every scene.

The story traces Houston's life from the time he left the Cherokee Indian tribe, with whom he had been living for a year, to fight with Jackson in the War of 1812.

We are taken on Houston's violent, exciting campaign for governorship of Tennessee; his tragic love affair with Eliza Allen, his first wife; his long period of despair and neglect in trying to forget Eliza; on through his memorable fight to free Texas from Mexico.

Republic spent two years in research to guarantee historical accuracy. The only liberty taken with actual events is the time of Houston's romance with Margaret Lea, played by Gail Patrick, since the film only takes Houston's life to the time he frees Texas.

Spitfire vs. "Deb" in "Girl from Mexico"

The rivalry between a society girl and a madcap Latin songstress over a successful advertising executive supplies the explosive theme of "The Girl From Mexico," in which the fiery Lupe Velez has the title starring role, with Donald Woods opposite.

The sparkling story has the ad-man contracting temperamental Lupe for his new radio program. Suddenly the high-spirited girl "does" New York in such a high, wide and handsome manner, that Woods, in jeopardy of his career and life, must ward the girl constantly. This arouses the jealousy of his socialite fiancée who now finds the Mexican hot-head a serious romantic rival. The stormy situation is solved in the fast-paced hilarious climax after a laugh-loaded trail of merry complications.

Jack Crawford Band Next Crystal Feature

Featuring a "show within a show," the Jack Crawford orchestra in addition to furnishing the finest type of dance music offers entertainment of the highest calibre. Presenting a revue called "Stars by Proxy," Jack and the entertainers in the band are famous for their clever impersonations.

The music library of Jack Crawford and his orchestra is one of the most complete in existence. Formerly a sweet band, when swing music came into popularity the Crawford organization changed over to the newer style. Given the opportunity to build up a complete swing library, Crawford's arrangers who are some of the country's outstanding swing arrangers, really "went to town." Well-known for their arrangements played by such orchestras as Benny Goodman's,

NOW PLAYING GARDEN

One of the most memorable screen experiences of a lifetime!

Presenting FRANK CAPRA'S

"YOU CAN'T TAKE IT WITH YOU"

JEAN ARTHUR
JANET BARATY
JAMES STEWART
EDWARD ARNOLD
MISCHA AUER
SYLVIA SYDNEY

ADDED SHORT HITS—
Walt Disney's
"The Practical Pig"

Jimmy Dorsey's and others, Crawford has now added these distinctive interpretations to the orchestra.

Jack Crawford's reputation as one of the country's leading outstanding saxophone players has long been established. His unique ability places him at the top with the leading artists on his instrument. It almost goes without saying that Crawford's saxophone section as a group is first rate, each member being a talented instrumentalist.

The Jack Crawford organization of musicians and entertainers come to Crystal Thursday evening through arrangements with Frederick Bros. Music Corporation. Crawford has behind him an imposing list of successful engagements at the major theatres and hotels in America. A brief list of these appearances include the Hotel Lowry, St. Paul; Muehlebach Hotel, Kansas City; Schroeder Hotel, Milwaukee; and Steel Pier, Atlantic City.

"10 Laps To Go" and "Little Tough Guys In Society"

The road of super-charged motors and the tense excitement which surrounds one of the most thrilling events in sport, motor racing, introduced the new Fanchon Royer production which surrounds one of the most thrilling events in sport, "Ten Laps To Go" to a crowded house of eager fans last night at the Embassy Theatre.

Mischa Auer, Mary Boland and Edward Everett Horton, three of Hollywood's foremost comedy stars, have roles ideally suited to their talents in their current appearance with Universal's "Little Tough Guys In Society," now playing to enthusiastic audiences at the Embassy Theatre.

Helen Parrish, who scored as the "meanie" with Deanna Durbin in "Mad About Music," and again with her work in "Little Tough Guy," carries the romantic lead opposite Jackie Searl. Horton is superbly cast as the English butler and Frankie Thomas, young stage and screen favorite, is seen as the leader of the Little Tough Guys. Harris Berger, Hally Chester, Charles Duncan, David Corcoran and William Benedict.

The story depicts the bewildering events which take place after Mary Boland, a dizzy socialite mother, invites a group of underprivileged alley kids to her home upon the advice of Mischa Auer, a psychiatrist, who declares the youngsters will help her spoiled son, Searl, recover his normal zest for life.

Capra Breaks More Rules In New Film

Rules were made for Frank Capra to break. And Frank Capra, when he breaks a rule, breaks it with a bang!

Some of the Hollywood shibboleths Capra has mocked:

A. No actor over 50 can be the central figure of a motion picture story. ("Lady for a Day" demolished that.)

B. No horse racing picture can make money. (Capra made "Broadway Bill," a tremendous success.)

C. Comedy is comedy and romance is romance and never the twin can mix. (The retort to which was: "It Happened One Night.")

D. Social and economic philosophy has no place in entertainment. (It had in "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town," the humor and human qualities of which were vastly enjoyed.)

E. Occult philosophy has no place in entertainment. (Capra filmed "Lost Horizon" and found drama and romance regardless of its utopian message.)

And now Frank Capra has produced "You Can't Take It With You," Columbia screen version of the George S. Kaufman-Moss Hart Pulitzer Prize stage comedy. The film, now at the Garden Theatre, offered the director plenty of opportunity to smash Hollywood's rules.

Edward T. Sargus Will Be Ordained Thursday Morning

(Continued from Page Five) week-end here with his parents, Attorney and Mrs. Horace P. Whitworth.

Stuart Haywood, a student at the University of Maryland, returned here Thursday to spend the summer. His father, Gerald Haywood, motored to College Park for him.

Principal John W. Fisher, of Bruce high school, spent the week-end in Gettysburg, Pa., where he attended the twenty-fifth reunion of his class at Gettysburg college.

Edward S. Moran has been appointed magistrate for Westernport by Governor Herbert R. O'Connor.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rankin and daughter, Nancy, Baltimore, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Derham, Westernport.

The Terra Alta Stock Yards

Terra Alta, W. Va., June 4—Receipts of the last week were good but the market was irregular.

Hogs, choice weights 6.40 to 6.75, light weights 6.20 to 6.70, heavy weights 5.05 to 6.10, shoats 6.00 to 6.50, pigs 2.85 to 3.30 per head.

Calves, good veals 8.75 to 9.60, medium 7.00 to 8.50, light weight and thin calves 6.25 to 7.00.

Cows, medium 4.90 to 5.80, cutter and shelly cows 3.55 to 4.80, milk cows 30.00 to 51.00 per head.

Steers, good 8.50 to 8.55, medium 6.15 to 7.00, heifers medium 5.25 to 6.95, stocker steers and heifers common to medium 22.50 to 30.00 per head, bulls 5.80 to 7.05.

Ewes 2.70 to 3.10.

Concealed Kick

Wichita, Kans. (AP)—Supt. Tommy Casner of the Wichita city farm noticed the wooden leg of a prisoner rattled as he walked about. The prisoner had a loaded 38 caliber weapon inside.

Laura Wheeler Jiffy Crochet Is Outstanding In Simple Beauty

COPY 1939, NEEDLECRAFT SERVICE, INC.

CROCHETED CLOTH

Enhance the beauty of your table with the luxury of this 72 x 96 inch cloth. Done in the easiest of stitches it's worked entirely from charts. You can make a scarf or a smaller cloth, too. Pattern 2204 contains instructions for making cloth; an illustration of it and of stitches;

PATTERN 2204

materials required; photograph of cloth.

Send ten cents in coin for this pattern to The Cumberland News, Needlecraft Dept., 82 Eighth Avenue, New York, N. Y. Write plainly PATTERN NUMBER, your NAME and ADDRESS.

Advice to the Lovelorn

(Continued from Page Three) and the fact that he is fourteen years older than I am.

HAPPY WIFE.

Considering the road to Reno and the thousands of unhappy pilgrims with which it is congested, it seems to me your parents are looking for trouble when they try to break up a conspicuously happy marriage.

Suppose your parents' and your husband's ways of worshipping are different. Why not be tolerant and let each live according to the dictates of his conscience? The difference in age is not insurmountable. Stand pat; don't let your parents interfere.

Meeting Future In-Laws

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

I have just become engaged, and would like to know who makes the first move toward becoming acquainted, the family of the prospective bride or groom? Would it be proper to invite my fiancée's mother to a shower which is going to be given to me? I have known both his mother and sister, for three or four years.

ADVICE NEEDED

If families are unacquainted the groom's family makes the first call on the prospective bride, immediately after the engagement has been announced. Since you have known this young man's mother and sister for the past three or four years, strict formalities are unnecessary.

The family of the groom-elect always give a party of one kind or another, to meet their daughter-in-law to be. By all means, have the friend who is giving you the shower invite your fiancée's mother and sister.

Letters Are Confidential

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

Reading of the plight of the widower in your column the other evening, I would like to take my courage in both hands and apply for the job as housekeeper. I am fully aware that you said it would be useless for anyone to ask for this gentleman's address, that your column was not a go-between among correspondents and you never put anyone, writing to you, in touch with anyone else sending you letters.

My case is so exceptional I've decided to risk breaking a few of your rules. My father was an Episcopal clergyman, pastor of an influential church. I was left a modest fortune, enough to care for me and my widowed mother. But this money has been lost entirely through speculation. Either I or my mother would be willing to care for this gentleman's children and keep house for him.

My mother is 63; I am 31. Object: home, not matrimony.

CLERGYMAN'S DAUGHTER.

Even for a woman of such excellent credentials, the ironclad rule of this column cannot be broken. As you've said in your letter, I never introduce correspondents. Our mission is long-distance suggestions. And mine to you is to apply to the Bishop of your late father's diocese, or some of the societies, preferably those conducted by ladies, connected with the church of which your father was pastor.

There is, if I am not mistaken, an organization in the Episcopal Church which cares for the widows of Episcopal clergymen.

Marriage Is Announced

Thomas, W. Va., June 4—L. M. Bamberger, Thomas, announces the marriage of his daughter, Miss Virginia, to James V. Kedwell, at Morgantown, W. Va., September 5, 1938.

Mrs. Kedwell is the daughter of L. M. Bamberger and the late Beulah Bamberger. She is a graduate of Thomas high school and attended Potomac State college at Keyser.

Mr. Kedwell is the son of Mrs. Alice Kedwell, Davis, and is a graduate of Davis high school and is attending the University of West Virginia at Morgantown.

Cumberland Man Named Moderator By Church Group

(Continued from Page Five)

H. Bickle of the Maryland state police.

Dr. and Mrs. Meyers were unable to leave the hospital Sunday.

Frostburg Briefs

The Junior Chamber of Commerce will meet Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock, at the Gunter hotel.

The Frostburg council of Federated Church Women will hold its annual meeting Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at Zion Evangelical and Reformed church, this city.

Frostburg Personals

William B. Yates returned home after a minor operation at the Maryland General hospital, Baltimore.

Alvin O. Cook is a surgical patient at Miners hospital.

Mrs. Charles Dillon is confined to her home, North Grant street, with injuries received Wednesday night when she fell while attending a celebration of the LaVale Fire Department.

Mrs. Stella Gerlach, Wilmet, O., is a guest of Miss Ina K. Spitznas.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Elias, Sr., are in Westminster, attending the commencement exercises of Western Maryland college. They will be accompanied home by their son, Thomas Elias, a student at the college.

Miss Aldyth Kergan, Wright's Crossing, attended the commencement exercises of the University of Maryland, College Park.

James S. Hunter, a student of the medical school, University of Maryland, is the guest of his parents, Prof. and Mrs. J. Stanley Hunter, East Loo street.

Miss Betty Ellwein, student at Western Maryland College, is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Irene Ellwein, East Main street. She attended the midshipmen's farewell ball at Annapolis.

Ten Persons Fined for Violating Lottery Laws

Princeton, W. Va., June 4 (AP)—Fines totaling $2,300 were imposed on ten persons who pleaded guilty

Rosenbaum's

WEDNESDAY, 8 P. M.

and

THURSDAY, 8 P. M.

You're Invited To Attend

Rosenbaum's 6th Annual

BEACH WEAR REVUE

CELANESE POOL

Attractive Models! Aquatic Sports! Stunts! Music! Fun!

Czechs Settle in Canada

Tupper Creek, B. C. (AP)—Twenty-five Czech families, mostly from industrial areas in their homeland, are trying their hand at farming in the remote Peace River country. The party of 87 persons was welcomed by fellow-countrymen at Edmonton.

THE GRACE M. FISHER THEATRES

TODAY — TOMORROW

EMBASSY

COOLED BY REFRIGERATION

2 Features Daily

NEEDS ON THEIR LIPS!

RANCOR

IN THEIR HEARTS!

DESTRUCTION

IN THEIR FISTS!

MAURICE BOLLAND · HORTON

"LITTLE TOUGH GUYS IN SOCIETY"

WELSH · JACKIE · FRANKIE · PARRISH · SEARL · THOMAS — ALSO —

SIZZLING WITH SPEED AND ACTION

"10 LAPS TO GO"

JOEL SLOANE ... BACK ON THE JOB

FOLKS! ... NEW MURDERS ... NEW PHONE NUMBERS ... AND TWICE AS MUCH FUN AS "FAST COMPANY!"

MARYLAND

TODAY!

OKAY AMERICA! You raved about "Fast Company." So here's another sizzling novel sensation by the same author! It brings Joel and Garda back to screen in new, fast and furious adventures, more rowdy and hilarious than ever! Suave sly fun, hardboiled thrills in best "Thin Man" style!

ROBERT MONTGOMERY · RUSSELL

In Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's Witty, Wicked Sequel to "Fast Company"

"FAST AND LOOSE"

REGINALD OWEN · RALPH MORGAN · ETIENNE GIRARDOT

ALAN DINEHART · JO ANN SAYERS · JOAN MARSH

Directed by EDWIN MARIN • Original Screen Play by HARRY KURNITZ (Maros Page) Author of "Fast Company"

ADDED FEATURES

"Side Show Fakir" Latest Mentone Musical Revue

Lowell Thomas in "Going Places" Latest NEWS EVENTS

STARTS THIS THURSDAY

CLAUDETTE COLBERT and JAMES STEWART

In the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Comedy Hit

"IT'S A WONDERFUL WORLD"

STRAND THEATRE

NOW SHOWING ... THE MILLION DOLLAR EPIC!

MAN OF CONQUEST

American Extraordinary First, Last and Always!

Richard Dix
Gail Patrick
Edward Ellis
Joan Fontaine
and a Cast of Thousands

REPUBLIC PICTURE

ADDED—WALT DISNEY'S "HOCKY CHAMPS"

NEXT ATTRACTION

The second of the exploits of the beloved Bumsteeds assures their place in the hearts of millions of fans!

FRONDO MEETS THE BOSS

PERRY SINGLETON
ARTHUR LACE
LARRY SIMMS

SHIRLEY ENNIS and his Band • A Columbia Picture

to possession and sale of baseball tickets in violation of the lottery laws.

The ten were taken in a raid by fifteen county officers and state police on four Bluefield establishments yesterday and brought here for trial.

The fines were imposed by Magistrate Carl Jones.

AIR COOLED

LIBERTY

LAST TIMES TODAY

SHE LOVES HIM! ... SHE HATES HIM!

(Depends on the weather!)

She dances—sings—WOW! Caramba! Sizzling sonorita and big strong man with "Iceberg" heart! Watch him melt!

LUPE VELEZ

THE Girl FROM MEXICO

DONALD WOODS
LEON ERROL
LINDA HAYES
DONALD MAC BRIDE

RKO RADIO PICTURE

STARTS TOMORROW

ARIZONA ACTION!

Gun war for a fortune in cattle! A wisp of a girl and a fighting man against an outlaw band!

GEORGE O'BRIEN

RACKETEERS OF THE RANGE

CHILL WILLS
MARJORIE REYNOLDS

ADDED

EDGAR KENNEDY in BABY DAZE

DEVIL DRIVERS

A NOVELTY

Theatres Today

Montgomery and Rosalind Russell in "Fast and Loose"

Establishing a new team of mystery comedy stars, Robert Montgomery and Rosalind Russell make their debut in the new field in "Fast and Loose," opening today at the Maryland Theatre.

Although they have appeared together in three previous pictures, Montgomery and Miss Russell have never before portrayed the comedy roles that they reveal in their new picture, a rapid-fire mystery comedy which comes as a sequel to last season's comedy hit, "Fast Company." They first appeared in the film "Trouble for Two," which was followed by the psychological subject involving a murderous maniac "Night Must Fall." Their picture, "Live, Love and Learn," was their first comedy but it was not of mystery.

"Fast and Loose" Montgomery plays the role of Joe Sloane, the madcap of rare book dealers in his quest for a rare volume one of his clients, becomes involved in a carnival of mystifying events which he eventually solves as an amateur detective.

Miss Russell steps out of her usual character to play his equally madcap partner, Garda, who only complicates matters by her mirthful meddling and her incidental capture by gang-

Brien Thriller Strikes New Note in Western Fare

Striking a unique note in outdoor dramas, George O'Brien's latest

Jack Crawford

300 Pounds of Rhythm

— IN PERSON —
And His Pleasing Music and Entertaining ORCHESTRA

— FEATURING —
"GUB" HIGGINS
CARL MILLER
HARVEY CRAWFORD

Thursday

8:30 Until 1:15

ADMISSION 40c

PARK PLAN DANCING

Table Reservations Phone 390

CRYSTAL

BALLROOM
"All-Ways Kooler"

"FAST AND LOOSE" OPENS TODAY

Robert Montgomery and Rosalind Russell in "Fast and Loose," the gay Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture opening today at the Maryland Theatre for a three day engagement. Also starred in the cast are Reginald Owen, Jo Ann Sayers, Ralph Morgan and Joan Marsh.

SOUND ADVICE

Richard Dix and Edward Ellis seen in the newest film "Man of Conquest" which is now showing at the Strand Theatre. Eighteen months were spent in the making of the dramatic film.

screen thriller, "Racketeers of the Range," starting tomorrow at the Liberty is said to be a streamlined Western in that it reveals the West as it actually exists today. In the old days of the West rustlers had to drive their stolen cattle many miles before they could ship and sell them. There was always the danger of pursuit by posses and reprisal. Today, by loading their beef into big, fast motor-trucks at night, rustlers can be hundreds of miles away from the scene by morning with little chance of detection.

Houston Film Credit To Its Producers

Republic's "Man of Conquest," the life story of Sam Houston, received a grand ovation again yesterday at the Strand Theatre where it will remain for several days.

The story is replete with characters whose names are etched in history's thrilling pages. Richard Dix gives an unforgettable portrayal of Houston; Gail Patrick and Joan Fontaine are lovely and capable. Such crack character performers as Edward Ellis, C. Henry Gordon, Victory Jory, Robert Armstrong, George Hayes, Max Terhune, Robert Barrat, Ralph Morgan, William Benedict, and Janet Beecher enhance every scene.

The story traces Houston's life from the time he left the Cherokee Indian tribe, with whom he had been living for a year, to fight with Jackson in the War of 1812.

We are taken on Houston's violent, exciting campaign for governorship of Tennessee; his tragic love affair with Eliza Allen, his first wife; his long period of despair and neglect in trying to forget Eliza; on through his immortal fight to free Texas from Mexico.

Republic spent two years in research to guarantee historical accuracy. The only liberty taken with actual events is the time of Houston's romance with Margaret Lea, played by Gail Patrick, since the film only takes Houston's life to the time he frees Texas.

Spitfire vs. "Deb" in "Girl from Mexico"

The rivalry between a society girl and a madcap Latin songstress over a successful advertising executive supplies the explosive theme of "The Girl from Mexico," in which the fiery Lupe Velez has the title starring role, with Donald Woods opposite.

The sparkling story has the ad-man contracting temperamental Lupe for his new radio program. Suddenly the high-spirited girl "does" New York in such a high, wide and handsome manner, that Woods, in jeopardy of his career and life, must ward the girl constantly. This arouses the jealousy of his socialite fiancée who now finds the Mexican hot-head a serious romantic rival. The stormy situation is solved in the fast-paced hilarious climax after a laugh-laden trail of merry complications.

Jack Crawford Band Next Crystal Feature

Featuring a "show within a show," the Jack Crawford orchestra in addition to furnishing the finest type of dance music offers entertainment of the highest calibre. Presenting a revue called "Stars by Proxy," Jack and the entertainers in the band are famous for their clever impersonations.

The music library of Jack Crawford and his orchestra is one of the most complete in existence. Formerly a sweet band, when swing music came into popularity the Crawford organization changed over to the newer style. Given the opportunity to build up a complete swing library, Crawford's arrangers who are some of the country's outstanding swing arrangers, really "went to town." Well-known for their arrangements played by such orchestras as Benny Goodman's,

Jimmy Dorsey's and others, Crawford has now added these distinctive interpretations to the orchestra.

Jack Crawford's reputation as one of the country's leading outstanding saxophone players has long been established. His unique ability places him at the top with the leading artists on his instrument. It almost goes without saying that Crawford's saxophone section as a group is first rate, each member being a talented instrumentalist.

The Jack Crawford organization of musicians and entertainers come to Crystal Thursday evening through arrangements with Frederick Bros. Music Corporation. Crawford has behind him an imposing list of successful engagements at the major theatres and hotels in America. A brief list of these appearances include the Hotel Lowry, St. Paul; Muehlebach Hotel, Kansas City; Schroeder Hotel, Milwaukee; and Steel Pier, Atlantic City.

"10 Laps To Go" and "Little Tough Guys In Society"

The road of super-charged motors and the tense excitement which surrounds one of the most thrilling events in sport, motor racing, introduced the new Fanchon Royer production which surrounds one of the most thrilling events in sport, "Ten Laps To Go" to a crowded house of eager fans last night at the Embassy Theatre.

Mischa Auer, Mary Boland and Edward Everett Horton, three of Hollywood's foremost comedy stars, have roles ideally suited to their talents in their current appearance with Universal's "Little Tough Guys In Society," now playing to enthusiastic audiences at the Embassy Theatre.

Helen Parrish, who scored as the "meanie" with Deanna Durbin in "Mad About Music," and again with her work in "Little Tough Guy," carries the romantic lead opposite Jackie Searl. Horton is superbly cast as the English butler and screen favorite, is seen as the leader of the "Little Tough Guys," Harris Berger, Hally Chester, Charles Duncan, David Corcoran and William Benedict.

The story depicts the bewildering events which take place after Mary Boland, a dizzy socialite mother, invites a group of underprivileged alley kids to her home upon the advice of Mischa Auer, a psychiatrist, who declares the youngsters will help her spoiled son, Searl, recover his normal zest for life.

Capra Breaks More Rules In New Film

Rules were made for Frank Capra to break. And Frank Capra, when he breaks a rule, breaks it with a bang!

Some of the Hollywood shibboleths Capra has mocked:

A. No actor over 50 can be the central figure of a motion picture story. ("Lady for a Day" demolished that.)

B. No horse racing picture can make money. (Capra made "Broadway Bill," a tremendous success.)

C. Comedy is comedy and romance is romance and never the twain can mix. (The retort to which was: "It Happened One Night.")

D. Social and economic philosophy has no place in entertainment. (It had in "Mr. Deeds Goes to Town," the humor and human qualities of which were vastly enjoyed.)

E. Occult philosophy has no place in entertainment. (Capra filmed "Lost Horizon" and found drama and romance regardless of its utopian message.)

And now Frank Capra has produced "You Can't Take It With You." Columbia screen version of the George S. Kaufman-Moss Hart Pulitzer Prize stage comedy. The film, now at the Garden Theatre, offered the director plenty of opportunity to smash Hollywood's rules.

Edward T. Sargus Will Be Ordained Thursday Morning

(Continued from Page Five)
week-end here with his parents, Attorney and Mrs. Horace P. Whitworth.

Stuart Haywood, a student at the University of Maryland, returned here Thursday to spend the summer. His father, Gerald Haywood, motored to College Park for him.

Principal John W. Fisher, of Bruce high school, spent the week-end in Gettysburg, Pa., where he attended the twenty-fifth reunion of his class at Gettysburg college.

Edward S. Moran has been appointed magistrate for Westernport by Governor Herbert R. O'Connor. Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rankin and daughter, Nancy, Baltimore, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Derham, Westernport.

The Terra Alta Stock Yards

Terra Alta, W. Va., June 4—Receipts of the last week were good but the market was irregular.

Hogs, choice weights 6.40 to 6.75, light weights 6.20 to 6.70, heavy weights 5.05 to 6.10, shoats 6.00 to 6.50, pigs 2.85 to 3.30 per head.

Calves, good veals 8.75 to 9.60, medium 7.00 to 8.50, light weight and thin calves 6.25 to 7.00.

Cows, medium 4.90 to 5.80, cutter and shelly cows 3.35 to 4.80, milk cows 30.00 to 51.00 per head.

Steers, good 2.50 to 3.55, medium 6.15 to 7.00, heifers medium 5.25 to 6.95, stocker steers and heifers common to medium 22.50 to 39.00 per head, bulls 5.80 to 7.05.

Ewes 2.70 to 3.10.

Concealed Kick

Wichita, Kans. (P)—Supt. Tommy Casner of the Wichita city farm noticed the wooden leg of a prisoner rattled as he walked about. The prisoner had a loaded .38 caliber weapon inside.

Laura Wheeler Jiffy Crochet Is Outstanding In Simple Beauty

CROCHETED CLOTH

Enhance the beauty of your table with the luxury of this 72 x 96 inch cloth. Done in the easiest of stitches it's worked entirely from charts. You can make a scarf or a smaller cloth, too. Pattern 2204 contains instructions for making cloth; an illustration of it and of stitches;

PATTERN 2204

materials required; photograph of cloth.

Send ten cents in coin for this pattern to The Cumberland News, Needlecraft Dept., 82 Eighth Avenue, New York, N. Y. Write plainly PATTERN NUMBER, your NAME and ADDRESS.

Advice to the Lovelorn

(Continued from Page Three) and the fact that he is fourteen years older than I am.

HAPPY WIFE.
Considering the road to Reno and the thousands of unhappy pilgrims with which it is congested, it seems to me your parents are looking for trouble when they try to break up a conspicuously happy marriage.

Suppose your parents' and your husband's ways of worshipping are different. Why not be tolerant and let each live according to the dictates of his conscience? The difference in age is not insurmountable. Stand pat; don't let your parents interfere.

Meeting Future In-Laws

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:
I have just become engaged, and would like to know who makes the first move toward becoming acquainted, the family of the prospective bride or groom? Would it be proper to invite my fiancée's mother to a shower which is going to be given me? I have known both his mother and sister, for three or four years.

ADVICE NEEDED

If families are unacquainted the groom's family makes the first call on the prospective bride, immediately after the engagement has been announced. Since you have known this young man's mother and sister for the past three or four years, strict formalities are unnecessary.

The family of the groom-elect always give a party of one kind or another, to meet their daughter-in-law to be. By all means, have the friend who is giving you the shower invite your fiancée's mother and sister.

Letters Are Confidential

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:

Reading of the plight of the widower in your column the other evening, I would like to take my courage in both hands and apply for the job as housekeeper. I am fully aware that you said it would be useless for anyone to ask for this gentleman's address, that your column was not a go-between among correspondents and you never put anyone, writing to you, in touch with anyone else sending you letters.

My case is so exceptional I've decided to risk breaking a few of your rules. My father was an Episcopal clergyman, pastor of an influential church. I was left a modest fortune, enough to care for me and my widowed mother. But this money has been lost entirely through speculation. Either I or my mother would be willing to care for this gentleman's children and keep house for him.

My mother is 63; I am 31. Object: home, not matrimony.

CLERGYMAN'S DAUGHTER.

Even for a woman of such excellent credentials, the ironclad rule of this column cannot be broken. As you've said in your letter, I never introduce correspondents. Our mission is long-distance suggestions. And mine to you is to apply to the Bishop of your late father's diocese, or some of the societies, preferably those conducted by ladies, connected with the church of which your father was pastor.

There is, if I am not mistaken, an organization in the Episcopal Church which cares for the widows of Episcopal clergymen.

Marriage Is Announced

Thomas, W. Va., June 4—L. M. Bamberger, Thomas, announces the marriage of his daughter, Miss Virginia, to James V. Kedwell, at Morgantown, W. Va., September 5, 1938.

Mrs. Kedwell is the daughter of L. M. Bamberger and the late Beulah Bamberger. She is a graduate of Thomas high school and attended Potomac State college at Keyser.

Mr. Kedwell is the son of Mrs. Alice Kedwell, Davis, and is a graduate of Davis high school and is attending the University of West Virginia at Morgantown.

Cumberland Man Named Moderator By Church Group

(Continued from Page Five)
H. Bickle of the Maryland state police.

Dr. and Mrs. Meyers were unable to leave the hospital Sunday.

Frostburg Briefs

The Junior Chamber of Commerce will meet Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock, at the Gunter hotel.

The Frostburg council of Federated Church Women will hold its annual meeting Tuesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at Zion Evangelical and Reformed church, this city.

Frostburg Personals

William B. Yates returned home after a minor operation at the Maryland General hospital, Baltimore.

Alvin O. Cook is a surgical patient at Miners hospital.

Mrs. Charles Dillon is confined to her home, North Grant street, with injuries received Wednesday night when she fell while attending a celebration of the LaVale Fire Department.

Mrs. Stella Gerlach, Wilmet, O., is a guest of Miss Ina K. Spitznagel.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Elias, Sr., are in Westminster, attending the commencement exercises of Western Maryland college. They will be accompanied home by their son, Thomas Elias, a student at the college.

Miss Aldyth Kergan, Wright's Crossing, attended the commencement exercises of the University of Maryland, College Park.

James S. Hunter, a student of the medical school, University of Maryland, is the guest of his parents, Prof. and Mrs. J. Stanley Hunter, East Loo street.

Miss Betty Ellwein, student at Western Maryland College, is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Irene Ellwein, East Main street. She attended the midshipmen's farewell ball at Annapolis.

Ten Persons Fined for Violating Lottery Laws

Princeton, W. Va., June 4 (P)—Fines totaling $2,300 were imposed on ten persons who pleaded guilty to possession and sale of baseball tickets in violation of the lottery laws.

The ten were taken in a raid by fifteen county officers and state police on four Bluefield establishments yesterday and brought here for trial.

The fines were imposed by Magistrate Carl Jones.

AIR COOLED

LIBERTY

LAST TIMES TODAY SHE LOVES HIM!... SHE HATES HIM!

(Depends on the weather!)

She dances—sings—WOW! Caramba! Sizzling sonorita and big strong man with "iceberg" heart! Watch him melt!

LUPE VELEZ THE Girl FROM MEXICO

DONALD WOODS LEON ERROL LINDA RAYE DONALD MAC BRIDE

STARTS TOMORROW ARIZONA ACTION!

Gun war for a fortune in cattle! A wisp of a girl and a fighting man against an outlaw band!

CHILL WILLS MARJORIE REYNOLDS

ADDED EDGAR KENNEDY in BABY DAZE

DEVIL DRIVERS A NOVELTY

THE GRACE M. FISHER THEATRES

TODAY — TOMORROW EMBASSY

COOLED BY REFRIGERATION
2 Features Daily
SNEERS ON THEIR LIPS!
RANCOR IN THEIR HEARTS!
DESTRUCTION IN THEIR FISTS!

"LITTLE TOUGH GUYS IN SOCIETY"

JOEL SLOANE... BACK ON THE JOB FOLKS!... NEW MURDERS... NEW PHONE NUMBERS... AND TWICE AS MUCH FUN AS "FAST COMPANY!"

ROBERT MONTGOMERY · RUSSELL

(of "The Citadel")

"FAST AND LOOSE"

In Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's Witty, Wicked Sequel to "Fast Company"

REGINALD OWEN · RALPH MORGAN · GIRARDOT

ALAN JO ANN JOAN DINEHART · SAYERS · MARSH

Directed by EDWIN MARIN • Original Screen Play by HARRY KURNITZ (Marco Page) Author of "Fast Company"

ADDED FEATURES

"Side Show Fakir"

Mentone Musical Revue

Lowell Thomas in "Going Places"

Starts this Thursday

CLAUDETTE COLBERT and JAMES STEWART

In the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Comedy Hit

"IT'S A WONDERFUL WORLD"

MARYLAND

ROBERT MONTGOMERY · RUSSELL

(of "The Citadel")

"FAST AND LOOSE"

In Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's Witty, Wicked Sequel to "Fast Company"

REGINALD OWEN · RALPH MORGAN · GIRARDOT

ALAN JO ANN JOAN DINEHART · SAYERS · MARSH

Directed by EDWIN MARIN • Original Screen Play by HARRY KURNITZ (Marco Page) Author of "Fast Company"

ADDED FEATURES

"Side Show Fakir"

Mentone Musical Revue

Lowell Thomas in "Going Places"

Starts this Thursday

CLAUDETTE COLBERT and JAMES STEWART

In the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Comedy Hit

"IT'S A WONDERFUL WORLD"

STRAND THEATRE NOW SHOWING... THE MILLION DOLLAR EPIC!

MAN OF CONQUEST

American Extraordinary First, Last and Always!

Richard Dix Gail Patrick Edward Ellis Joan Fontaine and a Cast of Thousands

ADDED—WALT DISNEY'S "HOCKY CHAMPS"

NEXT ATTRACTION

The second of the exploits of the beloved Bumstead assures their place in the hearts of millions of fans!

SKINNY BOY and his Band • A Columbia Picture

THE BOSS

FRANK SINATRA ARTHUR LAKE LARRY SIMS

ADDED SHORT HITS—

Walt Disney's "The Practical Pig"

Colts Lose Fourth Straight to Westvaco

Stevenson Bows To Harry Fields In Mound Battle

Westvaco Flinger Allows Colts but Three Hits in Fast Tilt

Cumberland Gets Only Two Past First -- Fielding Features

The Cumberland Colts dropped their fourth straight game in the Bi-State Baseball League yesterday afternoon at Community Park, bowing to Westvaco 1 to 0.

Westvaco scored the run on a sacrifice fly by Second Baseman Harber, sending in High from third. The game was a pitching duel between Harry Fields of the Pulpmen and Jim Stevenson of the Colts, both right-handers. Fields led the Dobbins down with three hits, all singles and two of them by Joe McGinn. Stevenson twirled a six-hitter, struck out seven and didn't issue a pass. Fields walked three.

Pulpmen Score in Sixth

The Pulpmen got the game's only marker in the sixth chapter. High poked a single to right with one out and on a steal went all the way to third when Eddie Diehl, Colt second sacker, failed to cover the bag on Catcher Hubert Radcliffe's throw. The play was scored a stolen base for High and an error for Diehl. Joe Buskey popped a bunt to Stevenson and beat it out for a hit but High held third. Harber then sent a long fly to "Shine" Boor in right field and High easily scored after the catch Strauss fanned to end the inning.

As far as third base. That was in as far as third base. That was in the initial stanza when Diehl dribbled a hit through shortstop, stole second and moved over to the hot corner on McGinn's infield hit. In the fourth McGinn lined a single to left and took second as Pete Horworth juggled his drive but he was out trying to take another cushion. Horworth to Buskey to Mosser. After that inning Fields had the Colts at his mercy. He permitted only three local hitters to reach first base, all on walks, and forced subsequent batters to go out without advancing runners past that base.

Fielding Outstanding Feature
Although three errors were charged in the game, two against Westvaco and one against Cumberland, the fielding of both teams was an outstanding feature of the tussle. Westvaco's Moser and Buskey and "Neb" George and Diehl of Cumberland in the infield, and Sullivan of the Pulpmen and Cumberland's McGinn in the outfield contributed nice defensive plays.

Cumberland's fielding was especially fine in the first frame. High the first batter of the game stroked a double to left-center but was out at third on the tilt's only double play, George throwing Buskey out at first and Harold Nestor receiving to Adam Sterne at third who tagged out High enroute from second.

High and McGinn were the only batters to get more than one hit. Cumberland had six left on bases and Westvaco four. The box score:

Colts	AB	R	H	E	A	K
High	4	0	1	0	0	0
Buskey	4	0	1	0	0	0
Diehl	4	0	1	0	0	0
Harber	4	0	1	0	0	0
Stevenson	4	0	1	0	0	0
McGinn	4	0	1	0	0	0
Radcliffe	4	0	1	0	0	0
Sullivan	4	0	1	0	0	0
Fields	4	0	1	0	0	0
Totals	32	0	7	0	0	0

Batted for Nestor in ninth:
Westvaco..... 000 000 1-0
Runs batted in—Harber, Two-base hit—Harber, Sacrifice—Harber, Double play—George to Nestor to Sterne, Base on balls—George 2, Strike outs—Fields 3, Stevenson 7, Left on base—Cumberland 4, Westvaco 4, Umpires—Dunn and Bailey, Time of game—1:51.

Frostburg Defeats Hyndman Nine 4 to 1

Frostburg defeated Hyndman in a fast Bi-State League game at Frostburg yesterday, 4-1, with the Mountain City team collecting ten bingles and playing a fast defensive game featured by three snappy double-plays.

Herring limited Hyndman to five safeties, two of them by Shaffer, third-baseman for Hyndman, who drove Baker over in the ninth for the only tally.

Scarpelli led the Frostburg assault on Sams, getting a double and two singles in four times at bat while Pat Corrigan had a double and single in four tries. Joe Geatz, at short, and Urbas, at third, played good fielding games for the winners, Geatz handling seven chances. Urbas made a spectacular play when he retrieved a deflected hit off Herring's glove and, while lying flat on his face, threw to first to retire Widows, the batter.

Downey handled eight of nine chances to earn a share of the spotlight in a well played game.

Score by innings: 000 000 0-1 3
Frostburg..... 101 010 014-4
Hyndman..... 000 000 0-1 0

From the PRESS BOX

Late Game Almost Called On Account of Daylight

BY JOHN LARDNER

(Released by North American Newspaper Alliance)

New York, June 4.—A review of the week's baseball, brought to you through the courtesy of that golden, crispy, crunchy motor oil that all the champions eat for breakfast:

For the first time in the history of major league baseball, a game was almost called on account of daylight. Locked in a deadly struggle till long after midnight, the Chicago Cubs and the Brooklyn Dodgers played fourteen innings beneath Mr. Leland Stanford MacPhail's handsome chandelier in Brooklyn (courtesy of the Gen'l Electric Co.).

"We cannot play night ball in the daytime," roared Mr. MacPhail in considerable anguish, as the twelfth and thirteenth innings flew by. "Methinks I heard the cock crow twice. This is a h-l of a note."

The milkman was hammering on the door with Leland Stanford's maternal stien of grade A when Eugene Moore, Brooklyn outfielder, saved the franchise by stealing home with the winning run. The game was over, but Charlie Root, Cub pitcher, wound up to throw again.

Tribute to Illumination
"Wait a minute, Charlie," yelled his manager, Gabby Hartnett. "It's all over Moore just stole home."

"Moore?" said Mr. Root, surprised. "I didn't even know he was on third base."

This stirring tribute to Mr. MacPhail's lighting system was lost in the rush of the crowd, as it hurried home to breakfast. Mr. MacPhail, when last seen, was turning off the lights with his own hands and multiplying wait-hours under his breath.

"These Cubs act like they were my relatives," muttered Mr. MacPhail. "I ask them in for the evening, and they stay all night."

The classic beauty of Yankee baseball was illustrated by Anthony Lazzeri, new third baseman of the New York Giants, last week, much to the confusion and annoyance of Bill Terry, Giant manager.

The St. Louis Cardinals had men on first and second, and the batter, Gutierrez, bunted. Mr. Terry has drilled his boys always to make this play to third base, for the force-out. However, Mr. Lazzeri charged in on the bunt, and there was no one to cover third, and the Cardinals went ahead, 1 to 0.

"My God, Tony, you gave 'em a run!" yelled Mr. Terry.

"So what?" said Mr. Lazzeri, the old Yankee. "We will get it right back."

Terry Gets an Apology
"Listen," said Mr. Terry earnestly. "Pull yourself together, my fine Italian hand. You have changed your uniform. Remember? You are now a Giant. And how the hell do you expect this club to score a run?"

Mr. Lazzeri saw the justice of William's point, and apologized. It takes these old Yankees a little time to get accustomed to conditions in the poorhouse, where a run is a day's work and not part of an epidemic.

You have heard the announcer posting baseball crowds through his loudspeaker on changes in the lineup, etc. The announcer down at Washington has just developed a new formula. Alexandra Carrasquel, the Monolingual pitcher from Venezuela, was facing a hitter he hadn't seen before, and Manager Bucky Harris wanted to tip him off on how to pitch. So he sent his outfielder, Robert Estalella, to the rescue.

"Estalella now interpreting for Carrasquel," barked the announcer.

"If Estalella was a spy for Cleveland, he could cause me a lot of trouble," mused Manager Harris. "I trust him implicitly, or I would learn Spanish in six easy lessons tomorrow."

"He manage the Tigers?" said Mr. Henry Greenberg, in the course of an interesting and wholesome interview. "Heaven forbid!"

And I hope you don't think Mr. Greenberg was kidding.

Social Note: Mrs. Poffenberger's boy, Cletus, came home for a short vacation from the city. Cletus says it's a longer time between drinks in the city than in the country. He says the city is overrated. Cletus is a real Williamsport booster. Attabo, Cletus.

Midland Tops Coney 2-0
Midland defeated Lonaconing 2 to 0 at Midland yesterday afternoon in a Bi-State League game which drew a large crowd. It was played in an hour and 15 minutes. Midland made only three hits off Thomas, and Bolger held the visitors to one single. Only two other Lonaconing boys reached first base and none saw second.

The score:
Midland..... 000 000 10-2
Lonaconing..... 000 000 0-0 1
Batteries: Midland, Bolger and Porter, Lonaconing, Thomas and Laughlin.

Pekin Girls Win 4-1
Lonaconing, Md., June 4.—The girls' softball team of Pekin, near here, defeated the Ellerslie lassies by a score of 4 to 1. MacMillan, pitcher for the Pekin lassies, gave the visiting team only two hits. Two errors by the Pekin girls resulted in the one run for the visitors. The score: Pekin, 4 runs, 3 hits, 2 errors; Ellerslie, 1 run, 2 hits, 8 errors.

Pittsburgh and Brooklyn Split In Doubleheader

Rizzo's Homer in Eighth Gives Pirates First Game

Brooklyn, June 4 (AP)—The Dodgers divided a doubleheader with Pittsburgh today by crushing the Pirates 14 to 1 in the second game after losing the opener 7 to 3.

Johnny Rizzo decided the first game in Pittsburgh's favor by hitting a home run with two on in the eighth inning and the Pirates added three more for good measure in the ninth.

The nightcap was as remarkable as the score. The Dodgers drubbed Bob Klinger and Ken Heintzelman for 19 hits, nine of them doubles but nothing worse. Every man in the Brooklyn lineup got at least one hit and one run.

(FIRST GAME)

PITTSBURGH	AB	R	H	E	A	K
Wagner	4	0	0	0	0	0
Vaughan	4	0	0	0	0	0
Rizzo	4	1	1	0	0	0
Diehl	4	0	0	0	0	0
Harber	4	0	0	0	0	0
Stevenson	4	0	0	0	0	0
McGinn	4	0	0	0	0	0
Radcliffe	4	0	0	0	0	0
Sullivan	4	0	0	0	0	0
Fields	4	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	32	0	0	0	0	0

(SECOND GAME)

PITTSBURGH	AB	R	H	E	A	K
Wagner	4	0	0	0	0	0
Vaughan	4	0	0	0	0	0
Rizzo	4	1	1	0	0	0
Diehl	4	0	0	0	0	0
Harber	4	0	0	0	0	0
Stevenson	4	0	0	0	0	0
McGinn	4	0	0	0	0	0
Radcliffe	4	0	0	0	0	0
Sullivan	4	0	0	0	0	0
Fields	4	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	32	0	0	0	0	0

London Expected To Get Olympic Games
Only 17, Dorothy Leonard of Worcester, Mass., stands out as a prominent U. S. Olympic hope for the 200-meter free style event. Miss Leonard recently won the National A. A. U. title in Chicago.

Baseball Summary
YESTERDAY'S RESULTS
NATIONAL LEAGUE
Cincinnati 4, New York 1
Chicago 14, Philadelphia 4 (first game); second game called off third due to Pennsylvania Sunday law.
St. Louis at Boston, doubleheader postponed, rain.
AMERICAN LEAGUE
New York 4, Detroit 4
Cleveland 10-1, Boston 2-7
Philadelphia 7-1, Brooklyn 5-11
Washington 4-3, St. Louis 5-11

STANDING OF CLUBS
NATIONAL LEAGUE
Cincinnati..... 28 14 667
St. Louis..... 23 14 587
Chicago..... 22 19 537
Philadelphia..... 17 23 428
New York..... 16 23 407
Brooklyn..... 12 27 358
Pittsburgh..... 10 27 318
Cleveland..... 10 27 313
Detroit..... 10 27 313
Washington..... 10 27 313

AMERICAN LEAGUE
New York..... 23 14 622
Cleveland..... 20 19 513
Philadelphia..... 17 23 428
Detroit..... 17 24 415
Washington..... 15 24 386
St. Louis..... 13 29 311

CHARLES TOWN
FIRST RACE—Paper Girl, Negoci, Sep-
Piper Girl..... 108 Pompeys Rose..... 107
High Rose..... 110 Negoci..... 115
Kio, Max..... 107 Xpellee..... 108
Long Pass..... 107 Nancie Best..... 113
Dark Ace..... 110 Engles Wonder..... 112
Stella, Wm..... 102 Miss Plunger..... 108
Sepin..... 113 Doctors Nurse..... 107

BELMONT PARK
FIRST RACE—Watch Over, Dicky Step,
THIRD—Dodge, Weigh Anchor, Boston
Yard..... 108
FOURTH—Journey On, Unhatched, Little
Sheet..... 107
SIXTH—Capt. Andy, Watersplash, War
Moon..... 108
SEVENTH—Even Up, Tow Rope, Rosar-
ian..... 109

SUFFOLK DOWNS
FIRST RACE—Escalator, Eye High, The
Trot..... 108
SECOND—General Howes, Proud King,
Butterman..... 109
THIRD—Panjab, Miss Mogul, Satin
Rider..... 110
FOURTH—Goldman, Glenbrook, Crowning Glory..... 111
FIFTH—Halcyon Boy, Pass Out, Ambus-
cade..... 112
SIXTH—Peter Argo, Love Day, Bailin-
derry..... 113
SEVENTH—My Gracious, Blackbird, Time
to Go..... 114
EIGHTH—Sir Reg, Liberty Torch, Nijo
Gaucha..... 115

LINCOLN FIELDS
FIRST RACE—Bargain Hunter, Red
Moss, Egyptian Belle..... 110
SECOND—Mashille, Patroness, Sweet
Diana..... 111
THIRD—Colonel Ed, Broadkill, Aglow..... 112
FOURTH—Threadneedle, Shining Sun,
Wild Pigeon..... 113
FIFTH—Patan, Peggy's Peggy, Ron..... 114
SIXTH—Maggie Key, Blaze Around, Don
Moat..... 115
SEVENTH—Boston Sound, Moonbow
Miss, Martin Barton..... 116
EIGHTH—Incomira, Butter Beans,
Black Girl..... 117

TAYLOR FIELD
Pajama Girls..... 527 103 3-18 23 3
Candy Kitchen..... 527 103 3-18 23 3
Batteries: P. O. Buckalew and Stott;
C. K. Broadstock and Barkman.

SOUTHERN ASSOCIATION
Nashville 2-4, Atlanta 1-11
Knoxville 8-3, Chattanooga 2-4
Memphis 3-4, New Orleans 3-6
Birmingham 11-2, Little Rock 5-6

INTERNATIONAL LEAGUE
Syracuse 5-3, Montreal 4-1
Rochester 7-8, Newark 4-2 (first game 13 innings)
Buffalo 4-7, Baltimore 6-13
Quebec City 3, Toronto 1

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION
Louisville 5-3, St. Paul 4-8
Toledo 5-11, Milwaukee 8-3
Minneapolis 5-7, Indianapolis 3-3
Kansas City 5-2, Columbus 4-1

MID-ATLANTIC
Akron 6-8, Erie 0-7

MT. STATE LEAGUE
Huntington 8-3, Logan 4-2
Williamson 5-7, Welch 4-1 (11 innings)
Bluefield 10-7, Ashland 2

Baseball's Big Six
(By The Associated Press)
BATTING (Three Leaders in Each League)
Player, Club G AB R H Pct.
Archie, Phillies..... 56 374
Dickey, Yankees..... 39 145 40 52 359
McQuinn, Browns..... 42 168 34 70 357
Higgins, Tigers..... 31 70 35 87
Hansen, Reds..... 35 123 14 42 341
McCormick, Reds..... 42 168 30 36 333

AMERICAN LEAGUE
Wright, Senators..... 37
Williams, R. Sox..... 38
Belkirk, Yankees..... 35
HOME RUNS
National League
Greenberg, Tigers..... 11
Selkirk, Yankees..... 10
Williams, R. Sox..... 9
McCormick, Reds..... 9
Leonard, Reds..... 9

OLYMPIC HOPE
Only 17, Dorothy Leonard of Worcester, Mass., stands out as a prominent U. S. Olympic hope for the 200-meter free style event. Miss Leonard recently won the National A. A. U. title in Chicago.

Baseball Summary
YESTERDAY'S RESULTS
NATIONAL LEAGUE
Cincinnati 4, New York 1
Chicago 14, Philadelphia 4 (first game); second game called off third due to Pennsylvania Sunday law.
St. Louis at Boston, doubleheader postponed, rain.
AMERICAN LEAGUE
New York 4, Detroit 4
Cleveland 10-1, Boston 2-7
Philadelphia 7-1, Brooklyn 5-11
Washington 4-3, St. Louis 5-11

STANDING OF CLUBS
NATIONAL LEAGUE
Cincinnati..... 28 14 667
St. Louis..... 23 14 587
Chicago..... 22 19 537
Philadelphia..... 17 23 428
New York..... 16 23 407
Brooklyn..... 12 27 358
Pittsburgh..... 10 27 318
Cleveland..... 10 27 313
Detroit..... 10 27 313
Washington..... 10 27 313

AMERICAN LEAGUE
New York..... 23 14 622
Cleveland..... 20 19 513
Philadelphia..... 17 23 428
Detroit..... 17 24 415
Washington..... 15 24 386
St. Louis..... 13 29 311

CHARLES TOWN
FIRST RACE—Paper Girl, Negoci, Sep-
Piper Girl..... 108 Pompeys Rose..... 107
High Rose..... 110 Negoci..... 115
Kio, Max..... 107 Xpellee..... 108
Long Pass..... 107 Nancie Best..... 113
Dark Ace..... 110 Engles Wonder..... 112
Stella, Wm..... 102 Miss Plunger..... 108
Sepin..... 113 Doctors Nurse..... 107

BELMONT PARK
FIRST RACE—Watch Over, Dicky Step,
THIRD—Dodge, Weigh Anchor, Boston
Yard..... 108
FOURTH—Journey On, Unhatched, Little
Sheet..... 107
SIXTH—Capt. Andy, Watersplash, War
Moon..... 108
SEVENTH—Even Up, Tow Rope, Rosar-
ian..... 109

SUFFOLK DOWNS
FIRST RACE—Escalator, Eye High, The
Trot..... 108
SECOND—General Howes, Proud King,
Butterman..... 109
THIRD—Panjab, Miss Mogul, Satin
Rider..... 110
FOURTH—Goldman, Glenbrook, Crown-
ing Glory..... 111
FIFTH—Halcyon Boy, Pass Out, Ambus-
cade..... 112
SIXTH—Peter Argo, Love Day, Bailin-
derry..... 113
SEVENTH—My Gracious, Blackbird, Time
to Go..... 114
EIGHTH—Sir Reg, Liberty Torch, Nijo
Gaucha..... 115

LINCOLN FIELDS
FIRST RACE—Bargain Hunter, Red
Moss, Egyptian Belle..... 110
SECOND—Mashille, Patroness, Sweet
Diana..... 111
THIRD—Colonel Ed, Broadkill, Aglow..... 112
FOURTH—Threadneedle, Shining Sun,
Wild Pigeon..... 113
FIFTH—Patan, Peggy's Peggy, Ron..... 114
SIXTH—Maggie Key, Blaze Around, Don
Moat..... 115
SEVENTH—Boston Sound, Moonbow
Miss, Martin Barton..... 116
EIGHTH—Incomira, Butter Beans,
Black Girl..... 117

44,190 See Game As Yanks Defeat Detroit 8 to 4

Ruffing Held Tigers to Six Hits before Injury Forced Him Out

Detroit, June 4 (AP)—A finger injury prevented big Charley Ruffing from pitching the full route but he got credit for his eighth victory of the season today as the New York Yankees downed the Detroit Tigers, 8 to 4, before a crowd of 44,190.

Ruffing, who limited the Tigers to six hits, was hurt while catching a line drive from the bat of Barney McCosky in the fifth inning. He walked from the hill after George Tebbetts led off with a single in the Tiger eighth and Johnny Murphy finished, holding Detroit hitless.

(FIRST GAME)

YANKEES	AB	R	H	E	A	K
Wagner	4	0	0	0	0	0
Vaughan	4	0	0	0	0	0
Rizzo	4	1	1	0	0	0
Diehl	4	0	0	0	0	0
Harber	4	0	0	0	0	0
Stevenson	4	0	0	0	0	0
McGinn	4	0	0	0	0	0
Radcliffe	4	0	0	0	0	0
Sullivan	4	0	0	0	0	0
Fields	4	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	32	0	0	0	0	0

(SECOND GAME)

YANKEES	AB	R	H	E	A	K
Wagner	4	0	0	0	0	0
Vaughan	4	0	0	0	0	0
Rizzo	4	1	1	0	0	0
Diehl	4	0	0	0	0	0
Harber	4	0	0	0	0	0
Stevenson	4	0	0	0	0	0
McGinn	4	0	0	0	0	0
Radcliffe	4	0	0	0	0	0
Sullivan	4	0	0	0	0	0
Fields	4	0	0	0	0	0
Totals	32	0	0	0	0	0

London Expected To Get Olympic Games
Only 17, Dorothy Leonard of Worcester, Mass., stands out as a prominent U. S. Olympic hope for the 200-meter free style event. Miss Leonard recently won the National A. A. U. title in Chicago.

Baseball Summary
YESTERDAY'S RESULTS
NATIONAL LEAGUE
Cincinnati 4, New York 1
Chicago 14, Philadelphia 4 (first game); second game called off third due to Pennsylvania Sunday law.
St. Louis at Boston, doubleheader postponed, rain.
AMERICAN LEAGUE
New York 4, Detroit 4
Cleveland 10-1, Boston 2-7
Philadelphia

Eight Bout Amat Fight Card Here Tonight

Lynch Jackson, Vince Browning in Feature Bout

Lynch, Jackson and Sensaugh Other Local Boys on Program

Meet Connellsville Scrappers; Ten Percent for Nursery

Four of Western Maryland's outstanding amateur leather slingers will face scrappers representing the Connellsville (Pa.) Recreation Center and Green Spring, W. Va., this evening at Community Park here in a Shamrock Athletic Club's boxing show which will start at 8 p. m.

Prostburg's Homer Jackson, South Atlantic Association A. A. U. midweight king who tills the beam 160 pounds, will try his pugilistic skill against Vince Browning, rug-knockout artist from Connellsville. It will be Jackson's first appearance in a Cumberland ring since he was long before he copped the Atlantic laurels in Baltimore several months ago.

Johnny Lisanti, of the South Cumberland sector, recognized as one of the best in district 128 and circles, will oppose Ralph Emmel, of Connellsville, who will be about 126.

Lynch Faces Constable
Lynch, 122, one of the favorites of local fight followers, will swap leather with "Joey" Constable, of Connellsville, in the main preliminary bout. The Lisanti-Emmel scrap will be the semi-final of the Jackson-Browning skirmish feature.

Emmel has built up quite a name for himself in Connellsville, Greensburg, Uniontown and other cities that section and his bout with Lisanti is expected to be packed to action.

Other pairings follow: Billy Norwood, Shamrock A. C., vs. "Chuck" Richter, 138, Connellsville; Harry Hart, 150, Cumberland, vs. George Newhouse, 152, Cumberland; Joe Robinson, Shamrock A. C., vs. George Bennett, Frostburg. Two bouts will wind up the program.

Officials will be "Chis" Charuhas, "Buddy" Crass, judges; Jack Beck, referee; "Bobby" Cavanaugh, referee, and Bill Niland, announcer.

Percent of the gross receipts will be turned over to the Keating North Day Nursery, according to Niland, president and matchmaker of the Shamrockers.

Huntington Aces Have
Lynch Sign on Leaders

Bluefield, W. Va., June 4 (AP)—No, no, no, the Huntington Aces are some sort of sign on the Bluefield of Bluefield.

They are in front in the Mountain State League race, the Bluefield Club has collected 23 victories, only three from the Aces.

and Huntington — fourth rank — has marked up a fourth at the Bluefield.

The Aces have been bad news to the other top-running teams, coming from them more times than the tail-enders.

Outdoor Club Wins 5-4
The Cumberland Outdoor Club 5-4 over the Maryland Avenue members in an East Side League yesterday behind the steady swing of Gehauf who hung up fourth win in a row and has to taste defeat. Bittner, Conner and Cosgrove carried off bat-honors for the winners with hits while Lobbie and Snyder had home runs for the Plumb-

EASY FOR HIM—Don Mike, with L. Balaski up, romps home ahead of the field at Hollywood Park, Inglewood, Cal. now open.

Browns Take Two From Senators and End Losing Streak

St. Louis Wins Double-Header after Dropping 11 Straight Games

St. Louis, June 4 (AP)—The St. Louis Browns finally broke their 11-game losing spell today by taking a doubleheader from the Washington Senators, 5 to 4, and 11 to 3. Buddy Lewis, Taft Wright and George Case hit homers for the Nats.

X-Batted for Kelly in 9th.										bats, counting four runs off the latter in the ninth.
ST. LOUIS										(FIRST GAME)
Laubs, cf	4	2	3	5	0					BOSTON	AR	R	H	E	W
Canada, cf	4	0	0	0	0					Dorner 2b	4	0	0	0	0
McQuinn, 1b	4	1	1	1	7					Cramer cf	4	0	0	2	0
Clift, 3b	4	0	2	2	1					Vosmik lf	4	0	0	3	0
Sullivan, 2b	4	0	0	0	0					Fox 3b	4	0	0	0	0
Glenn, c	5	0	1	1	4					Williams rf	2	0	1	2	0
Berardino, 2b	4	0	1	2	4					Cronin as	4	1	1	1	0
Kramer, p	1	0	0	0	0					Tabb 3b	4	0	0	0	0
Mills, p	2	1	1	0	0					Peacock c	3	0	0	2	0
										Wade 2b	2	1	2	0	0
Totals	35	5	13	27	8					Finney a	0	0	0	0	0
Washington					612	000	001	-4		Totals	31	2	6	24	8
Louisville					600	000	000	-3		X-Batted for Wade in 8th
Error—Glenn. Runs batted in—Wright, Lewis 2, Gelbert, Clift 3, Hoag, Sullivan, 1. Base hits—Laubs, Sullivan, 2.										CLEVELAND
Three base hits—Berardino, Hoag, Kramer. Wright, Lewis. Stolen base—Case. Sacrifices—Estalera, Gelbert. Double play—Kramer, Hoefner and Sullivan. Errors on bases—Washington 8, St. Louis 13. Bases on balls—off Chase 6, off Kelly 1; off Kramer 2; off Sullivan 1; off Clift 1; off Chase 5; by Kramer 1; by Mills 1. Hits—off Chase 10 in 7 innings; none out in 10; off Kelly 10 in 7; off Sullivan 10 in 7; off Clift 10 in 7; off Chase 10 in 7; off Sullivan 10 in 7; off Clift

EVERYDAY MOVIES

By Denys Wortman

"Listen, Henry. Before we take another step, let's decide on a place to meet if we get lost."

GRIN AND BEAR IT

By Lichty

"Nope, she's the star—I just take character parts!"

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Registered U. S. Patent Office

By STANLEY

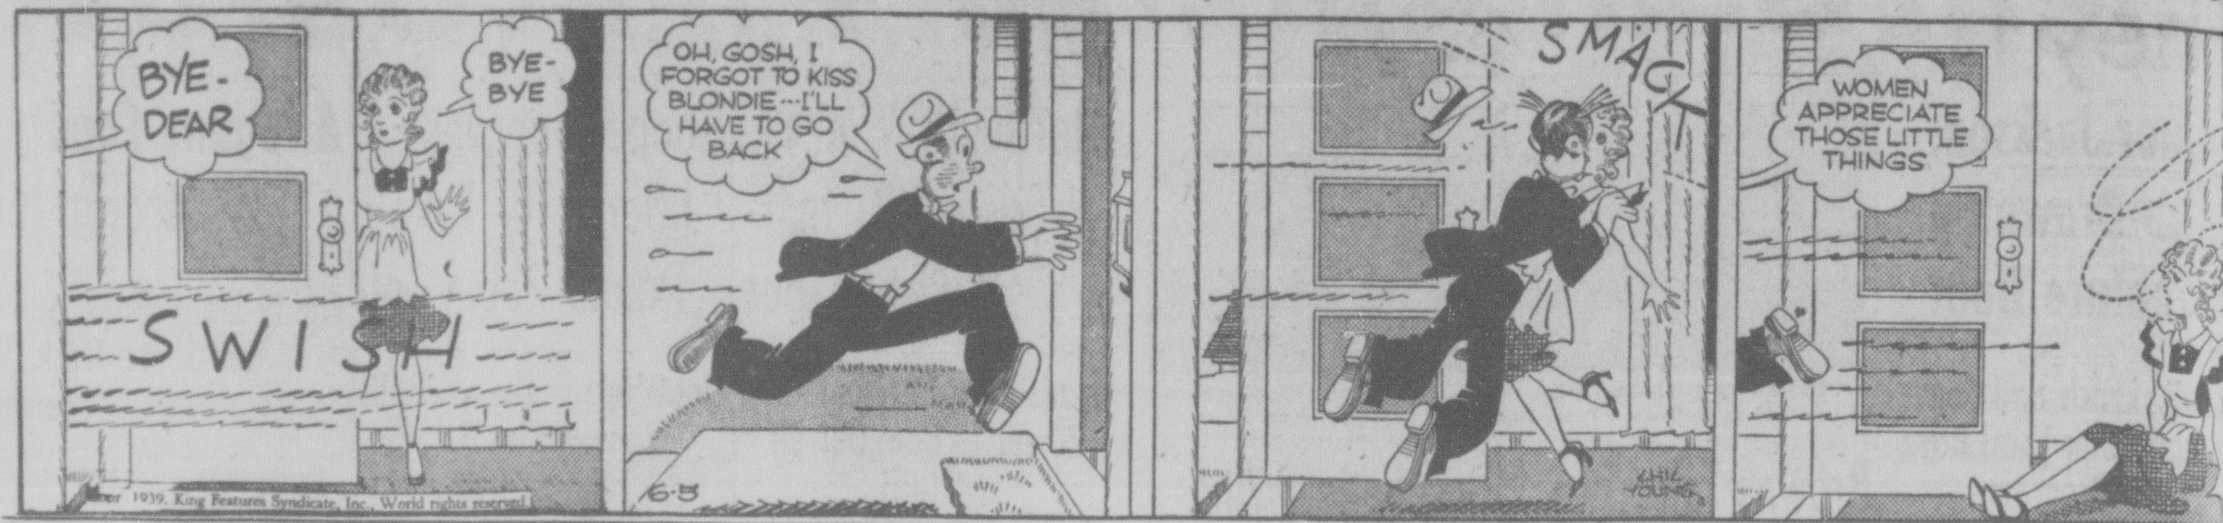

1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
11
13
17
26
30
37
41
45

- ACROSS
- Who is the Prime Minister of England?
 - Thin slice of bacon
 - A fairy-tale monster
 - An esker
 - Piece out
 - Small inclosure
 - Chinese sauce for fish
 - Standard deviation (abbr.)
 - Doctrine
 - Skip, as a stone over water
 - Beautiful
 - Land held in absolute independence
 - Organ of hearing
 - Large body of water
 - Above
 - Shortened form of though
 - Sick
 - Exclamation of delight
 - Leaping amphibian
 - To begin a water voyage
 - Name given to the Sunday before Ash Wednesday
 - Performer
 - A beverage (pl.)
 - A university
 - Break sharply and suddenly
 - Reddish-brown aromatic gum resin
 - A subdivision of police
 - Contusion
 - Scheme
 - Tobacco kiln
 - Possess
 - River in Germany
 - Monetary unit of Lithuania
 - (prefix)
 - Chinese coin
 - Exclamation of delight
- Answer to previous puzzle
- | | | | | | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| W | I | V | E | S | B | O | A | S | T |
| A | R | A | D | | | | D | U | K |
| R | I | C | H | E | S | | E | D | E |
| P | S | I | | A | I | M | | A | W |
| L | O | S | T | | A | C | | I | |
| I | N | L | A | | | | | | |
| N | E | A | R | | | | | | |
| C | O | T | | F | A | T | | | |
| E | L | I | A | | | | | | |
| P | I | N | G | | | | | | |
| T | O | G | A | S | | | | | |
| I | D | O | L | | | | | | |
- DOWN
- Handle of a whip
 - Healthy
 - Stupid
 - A unit of conductance
 - Exist
 - Greek god of love
 - Hear!
 - Grow old
 - Annoys
 - Required

BLONDIE

It's Blondie's Weakness, Too!

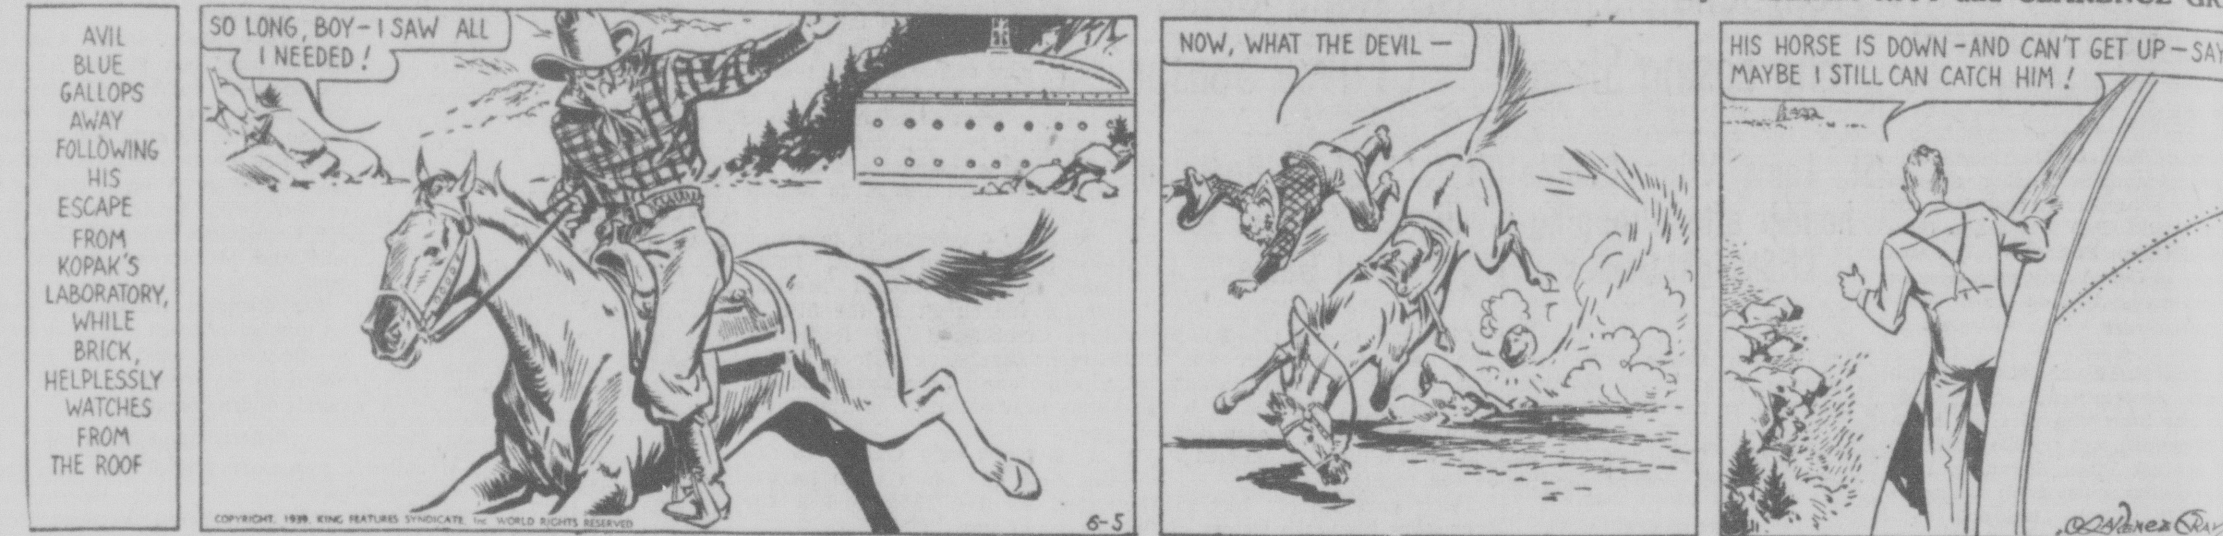

By CHIC YOUNG

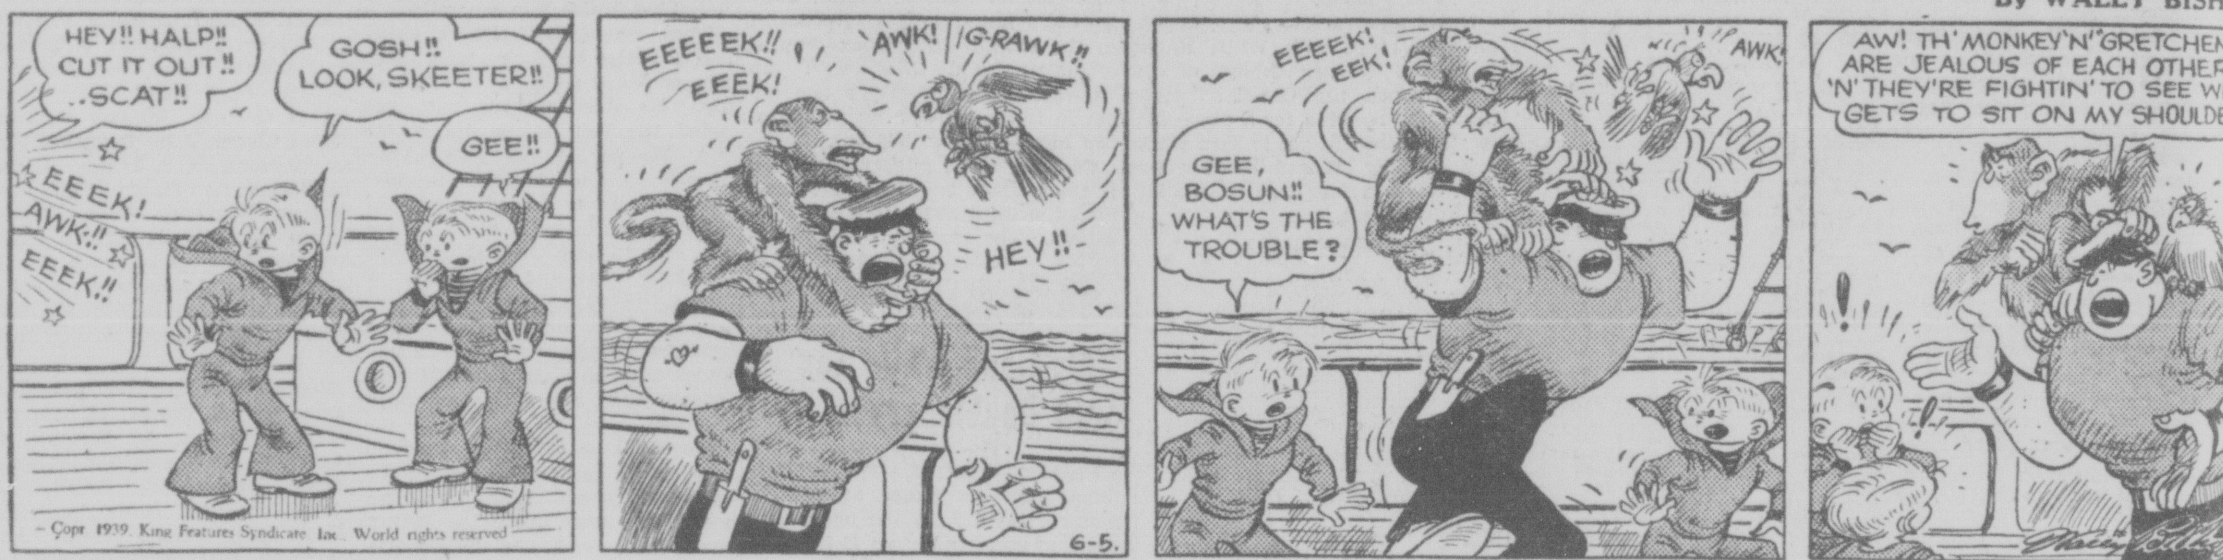

BRICK BRADFORD—And the Metal Monster

Registered U. S. Patent Office

By WILLIAM RITT and CLARENCE C.

MUGGS AND SKEETER

BIG SISTER

Registered U. S. Patent Office

By LES FORGRAV

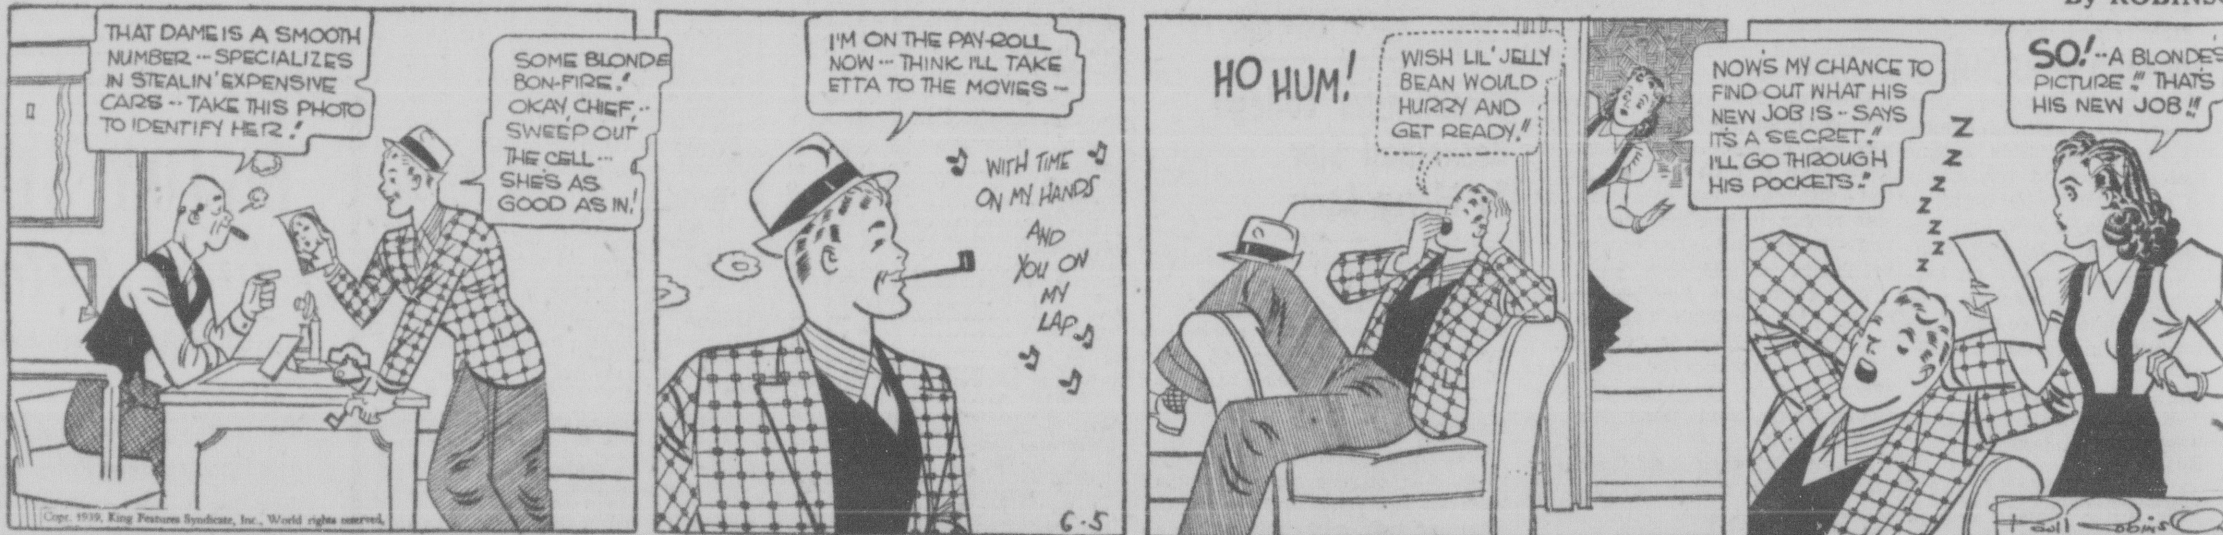

"BARNEY GOOGLE AND SNUFFY SMITH"

Not a Happy Reminder

By BILLY DeBECK

ETTA KETT

TILLIE THE TOILER

Registered U. S. Patent Office

Mac Presumes too Much

By WESTOVE

EVERYDAY MOVIES

By Denys Wortman

"Listen, Henry. Before we take another step, let's decide on a place to meet if we get lost."

GRIN AND BEAR IT

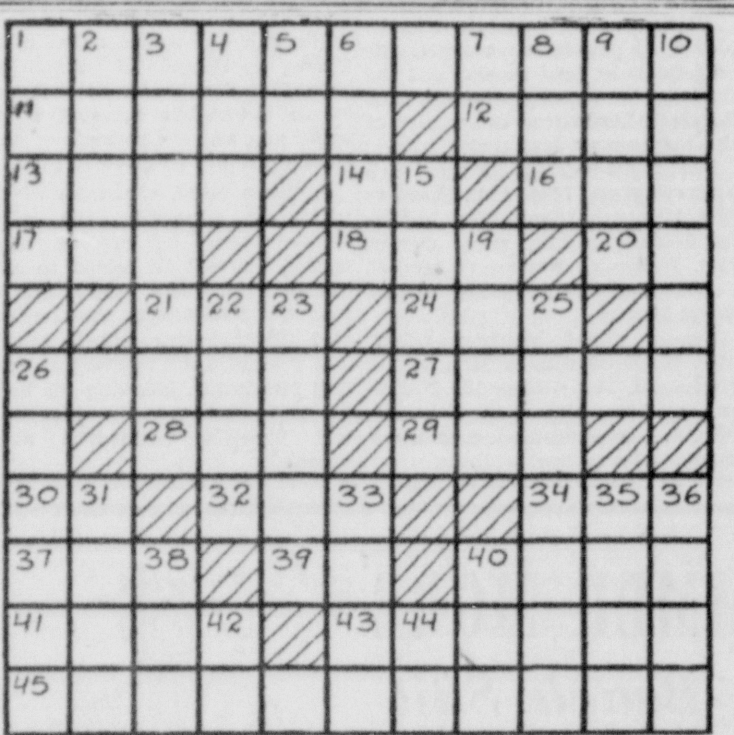

By Lichty

"Nope, she's the star—I just take character parts!"

THE OLD HOME TOWN

By STANLEY

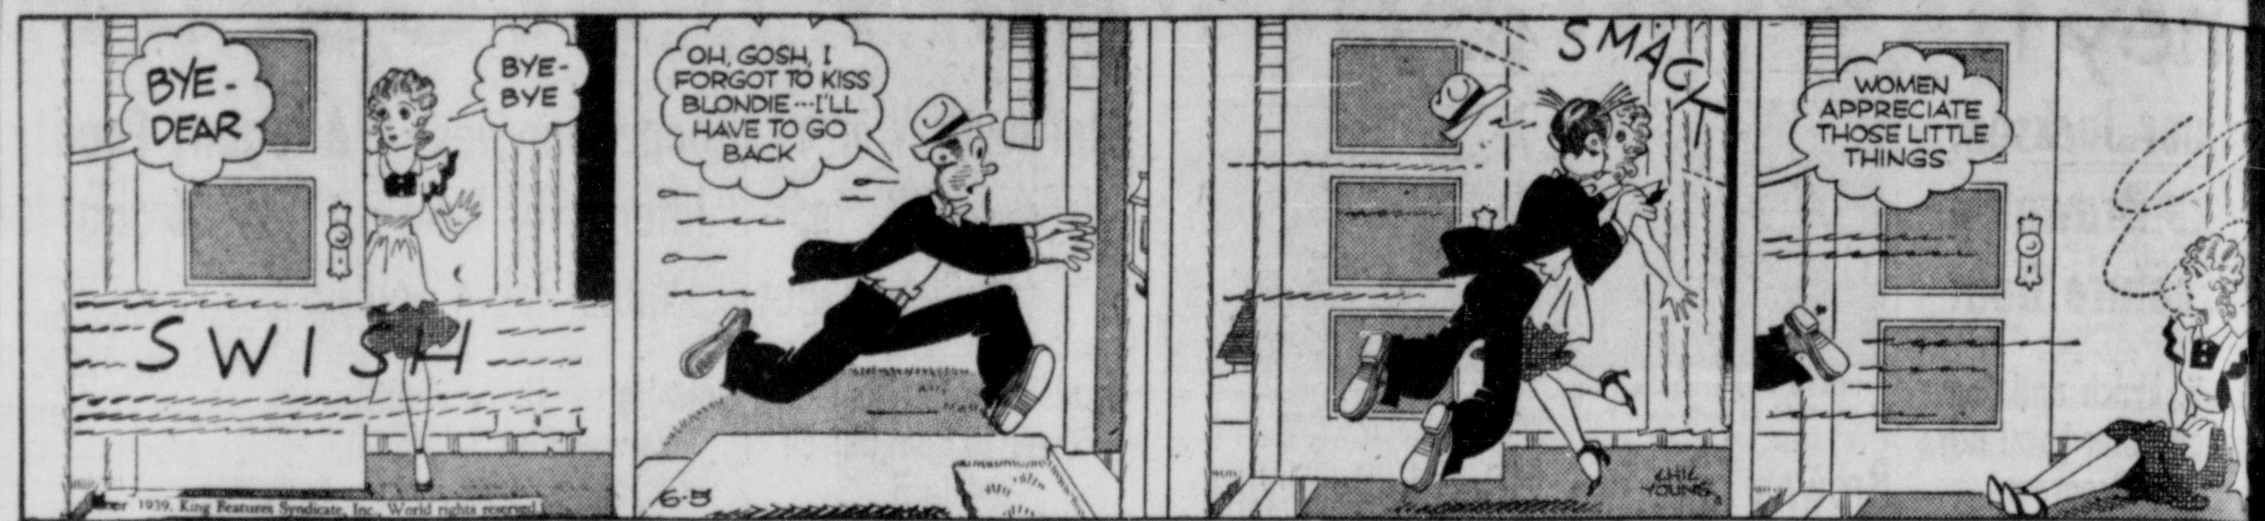

- ACROSS
- 1—Who is the Prime Minister of England?
 - 11—Thin slice of bacon
 - 12—A fairy-tale monster
 - 13—Potpourri
 - 14—An esker
 - 16—Piece out
 - 17—Small inclosure
 - 18—Chinese sauce for fish
 - 20—Standard deviation (abbr.)
 - 21—Doctrine
 - 24—Skip, as a stone over water
 - 26—Beautiful
 - 27—Land held in absolute independence
 - 28—Organ of hearing
 - 29—Large body of water
 - 30—Above
 - 32—For
 - 34—Shortened form of thought
 - 37—Sick
 - 39—Exclamation of delight
 - 40—Leaping amphibian
 - 41—To begin a water voyage
 - 43—Name given to the Sunday before Ash Wednesday
 - 45—Performer
- DOWN
- 5—Exist
 - 6—Greek god of love
 - 7—Hear!
 - 8—Grow old
 - 9—Annoys
 - 10—Required
 - 15—A beverage (pl.)
 - 19—A university
 - 22—Break sharply and suddenly
 - 23—Reddish-brown aromatic gum resin
 - 25—A subdivision of police
 - 26—Contusion
 - 31—Scheme (pl.)
 - 33—Tobacco kiln
 - 35—Possess
 - 36—River in Germany
 - 38—Monetary unit of Lithuania
 - 40—Three (prefix)
 - 42—Chinese coin
 - 44—Exclamation of delight
- Answer to previous puzzle
- | | | | | | | | | | |
|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|---|
| W | I | V | E | S | B | O | A | S | T |
| A | R | A | D | D | U | K | E | | |
| R | I | C | H | E | S | E | D | E | N |
| P | S | I | A | I | M | A | W | N | |
| L | O | S | T | A | C | I | | | |
| I | N | L | A | I | M | A | I | S | |
| N | A | R | D | U | R | O | | | |
| C | O | T | F | A | T | U | S | E | |
| E | L | I | A | M | E | R | S | E | |
| P | I | N | G | | O | L | L | A | |
| T | O | G | A | S | I | D | O | L | S |
- Copyright, 1939, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

BLONDIE

It's Blondie's Weakness, Too!

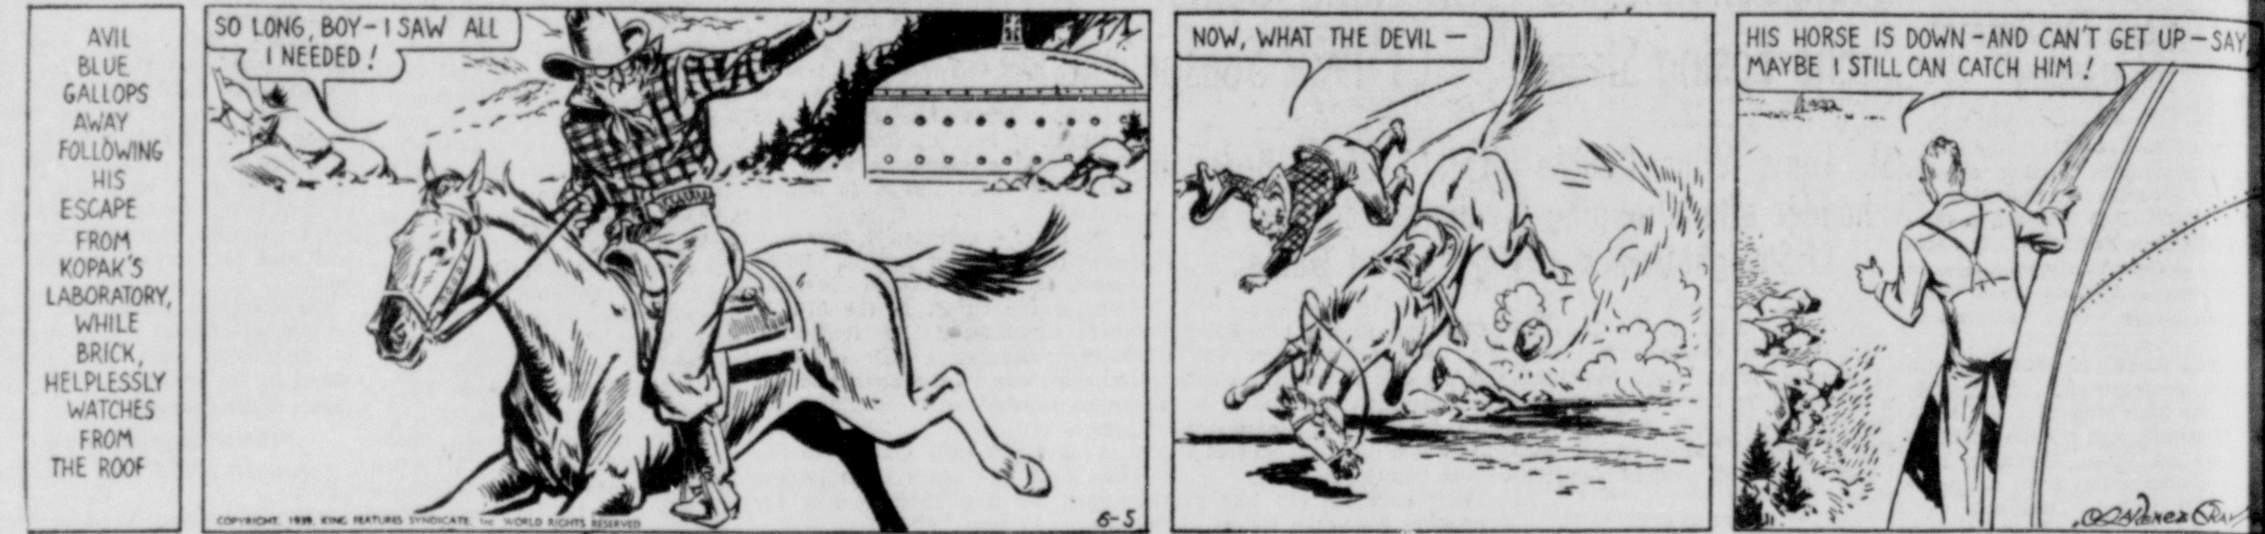

By CHIC YOU

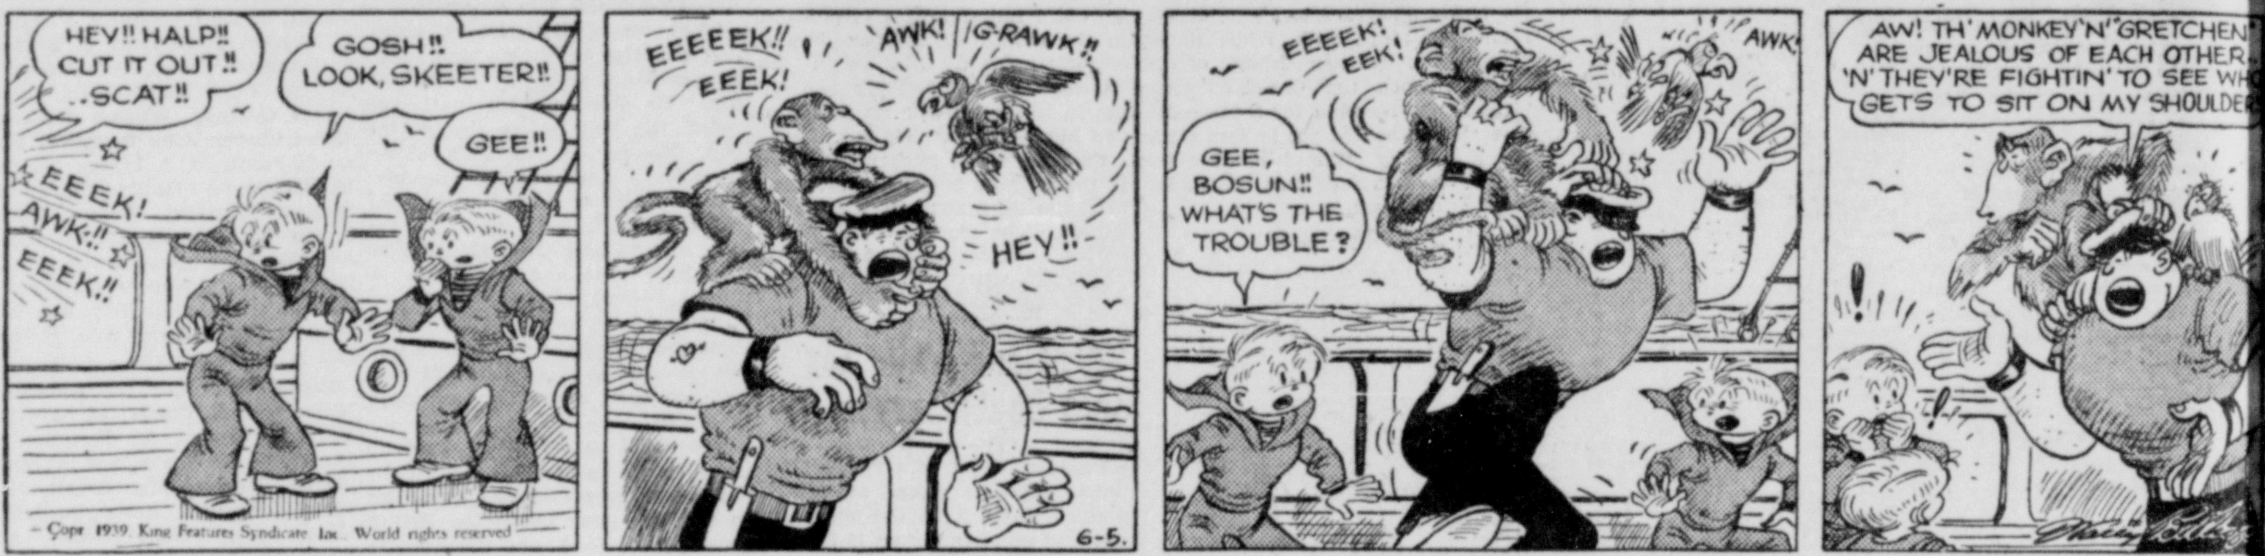

BRICK BRADFORD—And the Metal Monster

Registered U. S. Patent Office

By WILLIAM RITT and CLARENCE GRAY

MUGGS AND SKEETER

BIG SISTER

Registered U. S. Patent Office

By LES FORGRAVE

"BARNEY GOOGLE AND SNUFFY SMITH"

Not a Happy Reminder

By BILLY DeBECK

ETTA KETT

Registered U. S. Patent Office

Mac Presumes too Much

By ROBINSON

TILLIE THE TOILER

Registered U. S. Patent Office

Mac Presumes too Much

By WESTOVER

They're Sure To See Your Ad Here—Phone 732 For Results

Funeral Notice

WARD—Mrs. Ella, 85, widow of Wm. Ward, died at the home of her son, James Ward, 311 Rock St., Westport, Md., with whom she was residing Sunday, June 4. Funeral Mass will be Tuesday at 9 a. m. from St. Mary's Church. Interment will be in Pine Hill Cemetery. Arrangements by the funeral service. 6-5-11-T

Card of Thanks

We are taking this means to thank our friends and neighbors for the kindness and sympathy shown to us during the illness and death of our beloved wife and mother, Mary (Rain) Jack. Also to those who offered floral tributes and donated to the funeral service.

JOHN JACK, JR. & FAMILY, Lake, Md. 6-3-11-TN

Automotive

Eiler Chevrolet Inc.
S. Mechanic St. Phone 143 Open Evenings

Taylor Motor Co.
THE BEST IN USED CARS
OPEN EVENINGS
S. Mechanic St. Phone 395

SPOERL'S GARAGE, Inc.
S. George St. Since 1891 Phone 307

Fletcher Motor
Plymouth — DeSoto
N. Centre Phone 380 Open Evenings

Frantz Oldsmobile
Bedford St. PHONE 1994

PACKARD
WESTERN MD. MOTORS, INC.
Packard Sales & Service
N. Mechanic St. Phone 2665

STEINLA
MOTOR AND TRANSPORTATION
COMPANY, INC.
S. Mechanic St. Phone 2580

WE PAY CASH FOR LATE MODEL USED CARS
ELCAR SALES
New Post Office Phone 344

CERTIFIED USED CARS
3 Day Trial — 30 Day Guarantee
Leigh Motor 150 UNION ST

1939 Buick Trade-ins
Thompson Buick
S. Mechanic St. Phone 1470

SED Ford CARS
ST. GEORGE MOTOR CO.

Glisan's Garage
Dodge and Plymouth Cars

Reliable Motors Co.
Dealers in Guaranteed Used Cars
VE SIGEL, ART KAMENS
120 Harrison Street

ED CARS at Cumberland's Low
Prices. M. G. K. Motor Co.
2-26-11-T

ED CARS, Hyndman Motor Co.
12-9-11-T

ome In And See The finest Selection of
Used Cars In Western Maryland

Plymouth Sedan
Oldsmobile 6 Sedan
DeSoto Sedan
Pontiac Sedan

Oldsmobile 6 Sedan
Chrysler 6 Sedan
Dodge Sedan
Packard 6 Sedan

Chevrolet Town Sedan
Willys Sedan
Chevrolet Sedan
Pontiac Sedan

30 Others To Choose From
Taylor Motor Co.
N. Mechanic St. Phone 395

aking the Gamble
Out of Used Car
Buying

Plainly Pricing All Cars
Supplying Written Guarantees
Honest Reconditioning
Giving Lowest Financing Rates

Pontiac 4-D Tr. Sedan
Packard 4-D Sedan, Radio, Heater

Pontiac 4-D Tr. Sedan
Packard Sport Coupe, Radio, Heater
Ford Fordor Tr. Sedan, Heater

Chevrolet 2-D Tr. Sedan, Radio, Heater
Chevrolet 2-D Sedan
Nash 4-D Sedan, Heater

Ford V-8 Roadster, Heater
Pontiac 2-D Sedan

Other Quality Used Cars
To Select From
SPOERL'S GARAGE, Inc.
S. George St. Phone 307
SINCE 1897

2—Automotive

1936 FORD 1 1/2-ton, new tires, Weisel's Race Station, Park and Union Sts. Will finance. 4-14-11-T

SUPREME QUALITY — At reasonable prices. Heiskell Motor Sales Phone 79. Frostburg Ford Dealer. 7-9-11

OLDSMOBILE Sales and Service. St. Cloud Motor Phone 14, Frostburg. 2-16-11-T

CHRYSLER - PLYMOUTH, Oscar Gurley, George and Harrison Sts. Phone 1852. 7-30-11

Unredeemed
1937 Buick Sedan Deluxe. Radio and Heater, good tires. Will sell for unpaid balance. Cumberland Loan Co. Phone 607-M 42 N. Mechanic St.

Watch This Space For Special Announcement

Thompson Buick Corp.
429 N. Mechanic St. Phone 1470

Just Bring Tag Money

With a good position and a year or more steady employment, just bring tag and title money. No more down payment needed for one of these fine cars listed below:

33 OLDSMOBILE $16.68 Monthly
34 STUDEBAKER $14.95
37 WILLYS $20.95
36 STUDEBAKER $14.95 Down
5 Days Trial 30 Days Guarantee

Leigh Motor 150 UNION ST

Check the Value Not

Just the Price

1937 Chevrolet Sport Sedan.....$545
1937 Plymouth Sedan.....$445
1937 Willys Coupe.....$395
1936 Chevrolet Sport Sedan.....$395
1934 Plymouth Coupe.....$195
1937 Ford Sedan.....$485

Come In and See For Yourself
Eiler Chevrolet, Inc.
219 N. Mechanic St.

Ten Highest Quality Used Cars
Attractively Priced

1936 Olds 4 Dr. Sedan
1938 Olds 4 Dr. Tr. Sedan
1938 Chevrolet Town Sedan
1938 Plymouth 2 Dr. Tr. Sedan
1937 La Salle 4 Dr. Tr. Sedan
1937 Chevrolet Town Sedan
1937 Olds 2 Dr. Tr. Sedan
1937 Dodge 4 Dr. Tr. Sedan
1937 Chevrolet 2 Dr. Tr. Sedan
1936 Chevrolet 4 Dr. Sedan
STOP IN OR CALL

FRANTZ Oldsmobile Co.
163 Bedford St. Phone 1994 Cumberland, Md.

Greatly Reduced Prices
Large Selection of High Grade Used Cars As Ever Offered

1939 Plymouth Deluxe Sedan
1938 Packard Touring Sedan, Radio equipment like new 1938 Oldsmobile Touring Sedan
1938 Oldsmobile 5 Pass. Coupe
1937 Plymouth Touring Sedan, radio equipment, same as new
1937 Chevrolet Town Sedan
1936 Oldsmobile 5 Pass. Coupe, radio equipment nice shape
1936 Plymouth Touring Sedan, radio equipment wonderful shape
1936 Chevrolet Touring Sedan
Many Others to Select From
Good Easy Terms
Open Evenings

ELCAR SALES
"The Home of Good Used Cars"
Opp. New Post Office Phone 334

3-A—Auto Glass

4—Repairing, Service Sta.

6—Used Tires, Parts

IN FINANCING a home, a car, furniture, or anything else that you buy on terms you know that there will be a steady drain on your income for a year or more. Why not cover this additional expense by renting a room furnished or unfurnished? Want ads will keep it filled.

SCHRIVER'S ONE STOP. Phone 172. 9-9-11

SILVERTOWN STORES, 112 South Centre. 10-10-11-T

24—Houses for Rent

29-A—Funeral Service

40—Metal Weatherstrip's.

41—Moving, Storage

42—Painting, Paperhanging

43-A—Professional Service

43-B—Photography

44—Piano Tuning

46—Radios, Service

47—Real Estate For Sale

36—Instructions

37—Musical Instruments

38—Lost and Found

39—Miscellaneous

49-A—Typewriters, Service

50—Upholstering

51—Wanted to Buy

52—Wanted Miscellaneous

53—Wanted To Rent

8—Awnings

AWNINGS—Houses and Stores. E. W. Armstrong Co., 28 N. Liberty. Phone 3270. 3-24-11-T

9—Baby Chicks

BABY CHICKS—Custom Hatching. Houser's Hatchery, Romney, W. Va. Phone 88. 10-17-11

10—Beauty Parlors

PEARL'S PERMANENTS, $3.00. $5.00. Guaranteed. 3237-W. 10-18-11-T

11—Business Opportunities

AN OPPORTUNITY is offered you to become a success through the medium of a most sensational merchandise machine which is revolutionizing an entire industry. A route of these machines in choice locations will make you financially independent. $500 minimum investment. It costs you nothing to investigate. COINS-WORTH, 450 Equitable Bldg., Balto., Md. 6-4-S-M-T

FIRST-CLASS restaurant fully equipped, ready for business. Apply 35 Baltimore St. 6-4-11-T

OPPORTUNITY TO GO INTO BUSINESS FOR YOURSELF

In a Western Auto Associate Store

Western Auto Supply Company, largest and most successful in its line, 30 years in business, had a sales volume of 36 million dollars in 1938. We are now offering you an opportunity to own and operate a Western Auto Associate Store, in towns of 1,500 to 20,000. There are over 1000 such stores in operation. You can become the owner and operator of a "Western Auto Associate Store" for as little as $2,700 in the smaller towns, which pays for merchandise and fixtures and everything necessary to start business. We train you in our successful merchandising methods.

Western Auto Supply Co. Associate Store Division
21-29 Central Ave., East Newark, N. J.

15—Elec. Work, Fixtures

ELECTRIC WORK
MOTOR repairing, wiring and fixtures. Queen City Electric Co., 158 Frederick St. Phone 117. 10-22-11-T

COOK ELECTRICALLY
Clean, quick, automatic, the most modern cooking method ever enjoyed by mankind.

See Your Electric Dealer or Potomac Edison Company

16—Money To Loan

AUTO LOANS
Let us refinance your car today and loan you what additional cash you need. Lower Payments. Easier Terms. NATIONAL LOAN CO. 301 So. George at Harrison. Phone 3017. Lester Millenau, Mgr.

McKAIG'S
• LOANS
• MORTGAGES
• FINANCING

MONEY LOANED on Real Estate. Morris Baron, Attorney Law Building. 2-1-11-T

LOANS on Real Estate. Hughes, Heskett, Attorneys, Clark-Keating Bldg. 11-22-11-T

17—For Rent

OFFICE ROOMS, Commercial Savings Bank. 11-15-11-T

STOREROOM AND OFFICE, rent reasonable, 323 Baltimore Ave. 5-17-31-T

19—Furnished Apts.

FOUR ROOMS, bath, heat, janitor service. Frantz Apartments. Phone 2544. 6-1-11-T

FOUR ROOM modern apartment, Cresaptown. Phone 4038-P-5. 6-3-11-T

THREE ROOMS, modern, 1404 Virginia Ave. 6-3-11-T

MODERN FOUR room and bath, $45, adults only, 221 Baltimore St. Phone 1619-J. 5-11-11-T

FOUR ROOMS, modern, adults, 606-R. 5-19-11-T

FURNISHED APARTMENT, 3 rooms; 3-room unfurnished apartment; and 3-room bungalow. Phone 2481-W. 5-27-11-T

TWO ROOMS, adults, 521 Fayette. 5-24-31-T

TWO-ROOM APARTMENT, 218 Walnut Place, rear 319 Beall St. 5-29-11-T

THREE ROOMS, 312 Beall St. 6-31-31-T

LOVELY APARTMENT, 312 Park St. 5-31-11-T

TELEPHONE

YOUR WANT AD

Just call 732—An ad-taker will help you with your ad and quote you the price.

Try A
TIMES-NEWS

Greater Result - Getting Want Ad
.... NOW

19—Furnished Apts.

THREE ROOM apartment, garage, 605 Hilltop Drive. 6-1-11-T

TWO ROOMS, garage, 656 Fayette, 1055-M. 6-2-31-T

TWO ROOMS, first floor, adults, 114 Harrison. 6-3-11-T

MODERN — Private bath, 3348-J. 6-5-21-T

HUNDREDS OF people placed thousands of want ads in the Times and News classified columns last year. Now those same people and many others are daily placing more ads. Times and News want ads have proved themselves to them; let them prove themselves to you.

20—Unfurnished Apt's.

FIVE ROOMS, porch, heat furnished, 319 Williams St. 5-20-11-T

FOUR ROOMS and bath, in Colonial, Narrows Park. Phone 3244-J. 5-3-11-T

THREE LARGE ROOMS, 112 Humbird St., $15. Phone 3244-J. 5-5-11-T

SECOND FLOOR DUPLEX, Apply 13 N. Waverly Terrace after 4 p. m. 5-11-11-T

MODERN 3 room apartment, La-Vale Apartments. Phone 3151. 6-16-11-T

SECOND FLOOR duplex, heated, 422 Fayette, 6 to 8 P. M. 5-24-11-T

THREE ROOMS, private bath, gas, electric, heat all included, $35, 154 Bedford St. 5-18-11-T

MODERN FIVE-ROOM apartment, Phone 162-W. 5-8-11-T

GREENE-LEE, 105 S. Lee, 3 rooms and sunparlor, $32. Phone 889. 5-23-11-T

MODERN three large room apartment, 101 Washington. Phone 93. 5-24-11-T

FOUR ROOMS, bath, 101 Park St. Phone 1793. 5-27-11-T

NICE COOL APARTMENT, Sperry Terrace, rent reasonable. Reinhardt Furniture Store. 5-27-21-T

THREE OR FOUR-ROOM apartments, each with bath, 115 Frederick St. Phone 3030. 5-29-11-T

THREE ROOMS, modern, 1626 Bedford Road. 5-31-11-T

APARTMENT ABOVE Cut Rate Shoe Store, adults. Phone 1336-M. 6-1-31-T

FOUR ROOMS and bath, heat and hot water furnished. Apply Macfarland Bldg. 6-3-21-T

MODERN FIVE ROOMS, heated, adults, 404 Walnut. 6-3-21-T

IT'S HARD to place your first want ad just the same as it is hard to make any other momentous decision and you'll find that placing your first want ad is momentous because after that you will be inclined to turn to the want ads for your every want. They will bring you quicker and more economical results.

21—Apartments

TWO, THREE, and four rooms, furnished and unfurnished, 49 E. Main St., Frostburg. Phone Frostburg 197. 5-18-31-T

EVERY NOW and then you'll find that you're too busy, or the weather is too bad, or some other little thing will keep you from carrying on your usual sale activities. That's just when a want ad will do the most good for your business. When you place an ad for a month your ad goes to 25,000 families every day in the month.

22—Furnished Rooms

TWO HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS, 24 WAVERLY Terrace. 2-7-11-T

TWO OR THREE light housekeeping rooms, 313 Pennsylvania Ave. 5-29-11-T

HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS, 226 Emily St. 5-8-31-T

THREE ROOMS, adults, 111 Pennsylvania Ave. 5-31-11-T

GENTLEMEN ROOMERS, Phone 1304. 5-1-11-T

TWO HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS or sleeping room, West Side. Phone 1614-J. 6-2-11-T

TWO LIGHT housekeeping rooms, 13 Weber St. 6-2-31-T

BEDROOM, 874 Maryland Ave. 6-3-11-T

TWO NICELY furnished rooms with all conveniences, private entrance, 59 Greene St. 6-3-11-T

HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS, adults, 12 N. Mechanic. 6-3-11-T

TWO HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS, modern. Phone 3314-R. 6-3-21-T

BEDROOM and kitchenette, 315 Maryland Ave. 6-3-11-T

TWO HOUSEKEEPING rooms, 126 Bedford. 6-4-11-T

SLEEPING ROOM, 634 Elm St. 6-4-31-T

THE BIGGEST local news of any day is what is changing financially within your city. Scandals, trials, other news comes and goes without altering the average person's life, but the rentals, sales, employment ads with their constantly changing values are what change your city and you. Keep up with the want ads, read them daily.

23—Unfurnished Rooms

HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS, 316 Harrison St. 6-2-11-T

THREE UNFURNISHED rooms, 918 Glenwood St. 6-3-21-T

ANY TIME is Want Ad time. You can place your ad any time, in any kind of weather and still get the same amazing results. If the weather is bad use your phone number. If the weather is good use your address and let your prospects come to see what you have for sale or rent.

26—For Sale Misc.

"GIFTS"
FOR BRIDE & Graduate that give pleasure for a lifetime
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS convenient terms
MUSIC SHOP, INC.
5 S. Liberty St.

24—Houses for Rent

THREE ROOM cottage. Apply Broadwater house, McMullen Highway. 6-4-31-T

MODERN SIX-ROOM BRICK garage, $40, 505 Franklin St. Possession June 1st. Phone 2955. 5-23-11-T

MODERN SIX room house, 302 Grand Ave. 6-1-41-T

617 MONTGOMERY AVE. modern six rooms, $45. Immediate possession. Call 729-W. 5-31-11-T

HOUSE, 307 Bond St., $23 month. Phone 3322. 6-2-31-T

FIVE ROOM house, 120 Hanover St. Phone 2962-R. 6-3-21-T

FIVE ROOMS, bath, hot water heat, $25, 15 Bellevue St. Schmutz-Vandegrift-Weich. 6-3-21-T

BE MODERN in your buying, selling, and renting. Twenty, ten, even five years ago the large twenty-five thousand subscriber Times-News daily market was not available to the advertiser. It is available now—place your ad today.

25—Rooms With Board

ROOM AND BOARD. Phone 254-W. 5-27-11-T

CELANESE girl boarders, 410 Foster Place; also washings done. 6-3-21-Su-M

ROOM AND BOARD, 67 Greene. 6-4-11-T

They're Sure To See Your Ad Here—Phone 732 For Results

Funeral Notice

WARD—Mrs. Ella, 85, widow of Wm. Ward, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Howard, 311 Rock St., Baltimore, Md., with whom she was residing Sunday, June 4. Funeral Mass will be Tuesday at 9 a. m. from St. Mary's Catholic Church. Interment will be in Palisades Cemetery. Arrangements by J. J. P. Funeral Service. 6-5-11-N

Card of Thanks

We are taking this means to thank our friends and neighbors for the kindness shown to us during the illness and bereavement of our beloved wife and mother, Mary (Blair) Jack. Also to those who offered floral tributes and donated to their automobiles.

JOHN JACK, JR. & FAMILY
Lafayette, Md.
6-5-11-N

Automotive

Eiler Chevrolet Inc.
Mechanic St. Open Evenings
Phone 143

Taylor Motor Co.
THE BEST IN USED CARS
OPEN EVENINGS
Mechanic St. Phone 295

SPOERL'S GARAGE, Inc.
George St. Since 1895
Phone 307

letcher Motor
Plymouth—DeSoto
Cent. Phone 380, Open Evenings

Frantz Oldsmobile
Bedford St. PHONE 1994

PACKARD
WESTERN MD. MOTORS, INC.
Packard Sales & Service
N. Mechanic St. Phone 2665

STEINLA
TOR AND TRANSPORTATION
COMPANY, INC.
DRON GRAHAM INTERNATIONAL
Mechanic St. Phone 2580

WE PAY CASH FOR LATE MODEL USED CARS
ELCAR SALES
New Post Office Phone 344

CERTIFIED USED CARS
Day Trial — 30 Day Guarantee 190
leigh Motor UNION ST

1939 Buick Trade-ins
Thompson Buick
Corporation
Mechanic St. Phone 1470

Ford CARS
ST. GEORGE MOTOR CO.

Disan's Garage
Dodge and Plymouth Cars

Reliable Motors Co.
Sellers in Guaranteed Used Cars
WE SIGEL ART KAMEN'S
105 120 Harrison Street
USED CARS at Cumberland's Lowest Prices. M. G. K. Motor Co.
2-26-11-T

ED CARS. Hyndman Motor Co.
12-9-11-T

ome In And See The
Finest Selection of
Used Cars In Western Maryland

Plymouth Sedan
Oldsmobile 6 Sedan
DeSoto Sedan
Pontiac Sedan
Oldsmobile 6 Sedan
Chrysler 6 Sedan
Dodge Sedan
Packard 6 Sedan
Chevrolet Town Sedan
Willys Sedan
Chevrolet Sedan
Pontiac Sedan

Others To Choose From

Taylor Motor Co.
N. Mechanic St. Phone 395

aking the Gamble
Out of Used Car
Buying

Plainly Pricing All Cars
Supplying Written Guarantees
Honest Reconditioning
Giving Lowest Financing
Rates

Pontiac 4-D Tr. Sedan
Packard 4-D Sedan, Radio,
Heater
Pontiac 4-D Tr. Sedan
Pontiac Sport Coupe
Radio, Heater
Ford Fordor Tr. Sedan, Heater
Chevrolet 2-D Tr. Sedan,
Radio, Heater
Chevrolet 2-D Sedan
Nash 4-D Sedan, Heater
Ford V-8 Roadster, Heater
Pontiac 2-D Sedan

Other Quality Used Cars
To Select From

SPOERL'S
GARAGE, Inc.
George St. Phone 307
SINCE 1897

2—Automotive

1936 FORD 1 1/2-ton, new tires
Wetzel's Auto Station, Park and Union Sts. Will finance. 4-13-11-T

SUPREME QUALITY — At reasonable prices. Heiskell Motor Sales
Phone 79. Frostburg Ford Dealer
7-9-11-T

OLDSMOBILE Sales and Service
St. Cloud Motor Phone 14, Prost-burg. 2-16-11-T

CHRYSLER - PLYMOUTH, Oscar
Gurley, George and Harrison Sts.
Phone 1852. 7-30-11-T

Unredeemed
1937 Buick Sedan Deluxe. Radio and Heater, good tires.
Will sell for unpaid balance.

Cumberland Loan Co.
Phone 607-M 42 N. Mechanic St.

Watch This Space For Special
Announcement

Thompson Buick Corp.
429 N. Mechanic St. Phone 1470

Just Bring Tag
Money

With a good position and a year or more steady employment, just bring tag and title money. No more down payment needed for one of these fine cars listed below:

33 OLDSMOBILE $14.85 Monthly
34 STUDEBAKER 14.85
37 WILLYS 20.85
38 STUDEBAKER $14.85 Down
5 Days Trial 30 Days Guarantee

156
Union
Fligh Motor

Check the Value
Not
Just the Price

1937 Chevrolet Sport Sedan.....$545
1937 Plymouth Sedan $445
1937 Willys Coupe $295
1936 Chevrolet Sport Sedan.....$395
1934 Plymouth Coupe $195
1937 Ford Sedan $485

Come In and See For Yourself
Eiler Chevrolet, Inc.
219 N. Mechanic St.

Ten Highest Quality
Used Cars
Attractively Priced

1935 Olds 4 Dr. Sedan
1938 Olds 4 Dr. Tr. Sedan
1938 Chevrolet Town Sedan
1938 Plymouth 2 Dr. Tr. Sedan
1937 La Salle 4 Dr. Tr. Sedan
1937 Chevrolet Town Sedan
1937 Olds 2 Dr. Tr. Sedan
1937 Dodge 4 Dr. Tr. Sedan
1937 Chevrolet 2 Dr. Tr. Sedan
1936 Chevrolet 4 Dr. Sedan

STOP IN OR CALL FRANTZ
Oldsmobile Co.
163 Bedford St.
Phone 1994 Cumberland, Md.

Greatly
Reduced Prices
Large Selection of High Grade Used
Cars As Ever Offered

1939 Plymouth Deluxe Sedan
1938 Packard Touring Sedan, Radio equipment like new
1938 Oldsmobile Touring Sedan
1938 Oldsmobile 5 Pass. Coupe
1937 Plymouth Touring Sedan, radio equipment, same as new
1937 Chevrolet Town Sedan
1936 Oldsmobile 5 Pass. Coupe, radio equipment nice shape
1936 Plymouth Touring Sedan, radio equipment wonderful shape
1936 Chevrolet Touring Sedan
Many Others to Select From

Good Easy Terms
Open Evenings
ELCAR SALES
"The Home of Good Used Cars"
Opp. New Post Office Phone 334

3-A—Auto Glass
AUTO GLASS. National Plate
Glass, 415 Henderson Blvd. Phone
112. 6-3-11-N

4—Repairing, Service Sta.
SCHRIVER'S ONE STOP. Phone
172. 9-9-11-T

6—Used Tires, Parts
SILVERTOWN STORES, 112 South
Centre. 10-10-11-T

IN FINANCING a home, a car, furniture, or anything else that you buy on terms you know that there will be a steady drain on your income for a year or more.
Why not cover this additional expense by renting a room furnished or unfurnished? Want ads will keep it filled.

8—Awnings

AWNINGS—Houses and Stores. E.
W. Armstrong Co., 28 N. Liberty.
Phone 3270. 3-24-11-N

9—Baby Chicks

BABY CHICKS—Custom Hatching.
Houser's Hatchery, Romney, W.
Va. Phone 88. 10-17-11-T

10—Beauty Parlors

PEARL'S PERMANENTS, $3.00.
$5.00. Guaranteed. 3237-W.
10-18-11-T

11—Business Opportunities

AN OPPORTUNITY is offered you to become a success through the medium of a most sensational merchandise machine which is revolutionizing an entire industry.
A route of these machines in choice locations will make you financially independent. $500 minimum investment. It costs you nothing to investigate. COIN-
SWORTH, 450 Equitable Bldg.,
Baltimore, Md. 6-4-S-M-T

FIRST-CLASS restaurant fully equipped, ready for business. Apply 35 Baltimore St. 6-4-11-T

OPPORTUNITY TO GO INTO BUSINESS FOR YOURSELF
In a
Western Auto Associate Store

Western Auto Supply Company, largest and most successful in its line, 30 years in business, had a sales volume of 36 million dollars in 1938. We are now offering you an opportunity to own and operate a Western Auto Associate Store, home owned, in towns of 1,500 to 20,000.
There are over 1000 such stores in operation.

You can become the owner and operator of a "Western Auto Associate Store" for as little as $2,500 in the smaller towns, which pays for merchandise and fixtures and everything necessary to start business. We train you in our successful merchandising methods.

Western Auto Supply Co.
Associate Store Division
21-29 Central Ave., East Newark, N. J.

15—Elec. Work, Fixtures
ELECTRIC WORK
MOTOR repairing, wiring and fixtures. Queen City Electric Co.,
158 Frederick St. Phone 117.
10-22-11-T

COOK
ELECTRICALLY
Clean, quick, automatic, the most modern cooking method ever enjoyed by mankind.
See Your Electric Dealer or Potomac Edison
Company

16—Money To Loan
AUTO LOANS
Let us refinance your car today and loan you what additional cash you need.
Other Companies Paid Off
Lower Payments Easier Terms
NATIONAL LOAN CO.
301 So. George at Harrison Phone 3017
Lester Millerson, Mgr.

• LOANS
• MORTGAGES • FINANCING
McKAIG'S
MONEY LOANED on Real Estate.
Morris Baron, Attorney, L. W.
Building. 2-1-11-T

LOANS on Real Estate. Hughes,
Heskett, Attorneys, Clark-Keating
Bldg. 11-22-11-N

17—For Rent
OFFICE ROOMS, Commercial Savings Bank 11-15-11-T

STOREROOM AND OFFICE, rent reasonable, 323 Baltimore Ave.
5-17-31-T

19—Furnished Apts.
FOUR ROOMS, bath, heat, janitor service. Frantz Apartments,
Phone 2544. 6-1-11-T

FOUR ROOM modern apartment,
Cresaptown. Phone 4036-F-5
6-3-11-T

THREE ROOMS, modern, 1404 Virginia Ave. 6-3-11-T

MODERN FOUR room and bath,
$45, adults only, 221 Baltimore St.
Phone 1619-J. 5-11-11-N

FOUR ROOMS, modern, adults,
606-R. 5-19-11-T

FURNISHED APARTMENT, 3 rooms; 3-room unfurnished apartment; and 3-room bungalow.
Phone 2481-W. 5-27-11-T

TWO ROOMS, adults, 521 Fayette.
5-24-31-T

TWO-ROOM APARTMENT, 218
Walnut Place, rear 319 Beall St.
5-29-11-T

THREE ROOMS, 312 Beall St.
5-31-31-T

LOVELY APARTMENT, 312 Park
St. 5-31-11-T

TELEPHONE

YOUR WANT AD

Just call 732—An ad-taker will help you with your ad and quote you the price.

Try A
TIMES-NEWS
Greater Result - Getting Want Ad
....NOW....

19—Furnished Apts.
THREE ROOM apartment, garage,
605 Hilltop Drive. 6-1-11-N

TWO ROOMS, garage, 656 Fayette.
1055-M. 6-2-31-T

TWO ROOMS, first floor, adults,
114 Harrison. 6-3-11-T

MODERN — Private bath, 3348-J.
6-5-21-N

HUNDREDS OF people placed thousands of want ads in the Times and News classified columns last year. Now those same people and many others are daily placing more ads. Times and News want ads have proved themselves to them; let them prove themselves to you.

22—Furnished Rooms
TWO HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS,
24 Waverly Terrace. 2-7-11-T

TWO OR THREE light housekeeping rooms, 313 Pennsylvania Ave.
5-29-11-T

HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS, 226
Emily St. 5-8-31-T

THREE ROOMS, adults, 111 Pennsylvania Ave. 5-31-11-T

GENTLEMEN ROOMERS, Phone
1304. 5-1-11-T

TWO HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS
or sleeping room, West Side.
Phone 1614-J. 6-2-11-T

TWO LIGHT housekeeping rooms,
13 Weber St. 6-2-31-T

BEDROOM, 874 Maryland Ave.
6-3-11-T

TWO NICELY furnished rooms with all conveniences, private entrance, 59 Greene St. 6-3-11-T

HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS, adults,
12 N. Mechanic. 6-3-11-T

TWO HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS,
modern. Phone 3314-R. 6-3-21-T

BEDROOM and kitchenette, 315
Maryland Ave. 6-3-11-T

TWO HOUSEKEEPING rooms, 126
Bedford. 6-4-11-T

SLEEPING ROOM, 634 Elm St.
6-4-31-T

THE BIGGEST local news of any day is what is changing financially within your city. Scandals, trials other news comes and goes without altering the average person's life, but the rentals, sales, employment ads with their constantly changing values are what change your city and you. Keep up with the want ads, read them daily.

23—Unfurnished Rooms
HOUSEKEEPING ROOMS, 316
Harrison St. 6-2-11-T

THREE UNFURNISHED rooms, 918
Glenwood St. 6-3-21-T

ANY TIME is Want Ad time. You can place your ad any time in any kind of weather and still get the same amazing results. If the weather is bad use your phone number. If the weather is good use your address and let your prospects come to see what you have for sale or rent.

Dick Tracy—Interior View

24—Houses for Rent

THREE ROOM cottage. Apply
Broadwater house, McMullen
Highway. 6-4-31-T

MODERN SIX-ROOM BRICK
garage, $40, 505 Franklin St.
Possession June 1st. Phone 2955.
5-23-11-T

MODERN SIX room house, 302
Grand Ave. 6-1-11-N

517 MONTGOMERY AVE. modern six rooms, $45. Immediate possession. Call 729-W. 5-31-11-T

HOUSE, 307 Bond St., $23 month.
Phone 3322. 6-2-31-N

FIVE ROOM house, 120 Hanover
St. Phone 2962-R. 6-3-21-T

FIVE ROOMS, bath, hot water heat, $25, 15 Bellevue St. Schmitz-
Vandegriff-Weich. 6-3-21-T

BE MODERN in your buying, selling, and renting. Twenty, ten, even five years ago the large twenty-five thousand subscriber
Times-News daily market was not available to the advertiser. It is available now—place your ad today.

25—Rooms With Board
ROOM AND BOARD. Phone 254-W
5-27-11-T

CELANESE girl boarders, 410
Footer Place; also washings done.
6-3-21-Su, M-N

ROOM AND BOARD, 67 Greene
6-4-11-T

EVERY DAY your house, apartment or room is vacant it costs you more than a result producing rental ad would for that day.
Every week without an ad means dollars lost. Spend a few pennies today and have your vacancy filled by tomorrow.

26—For Sale Misc.
"GIFTS"
FOR Bride & Graduate that give pleasure for a lifetime
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS convenient terms
MUSIC SHOP, INC.
5 & 6 Liberty St.

TABLE TOP gas range, tapestry living room suite, glider, Reed swing, etc., 415 Louisiana, 1746-R.
6-4-31-T

COLDSPOT ELECTRIC Refrigerator,
301 Pennsylvania Ave. 5-28-31-T

NEW, USED vacuum cleaners, all makes, $5 up. Phone 3245-W.
5-6-31-T

SCREEN DOORS and windows made to order. Phone 1323-R.
5-13-11-T

USED RADIOS, Switzer, Phone
1536-W. 5-15-31-T

UNREDEEMED BARGAINS in diamonds, watches, jewelry, etc., at tremendously low prices. Cumberland Loan Co., Pawn Brokers,
42 N. Mechanic St., open until
8 p. m. 4-13-11-T

MATTAGS — Rebuilt, guaranteed.
Cumberland Maytag Co., 66 N.
Mechanic, Phone 848. 4-18-11-T

COAL, WOOD, general hauling.
Phone 1591-R. 5-29-31-T

WESTERN VENETIAN BLINDS
DA-ROL WINDOW SCREENS
BAMBOO SUN SCREEN SHADES
DURO-CHROME FURNITURE
Use our Time Pay Plan.
Geo. P. Porter, Phone 912-M.
2-23-11-T

TURKEY FEEDS—A. A. Fertilizer,
Salt, Quality Feeds, Flour, Seed
Headquarters, no parking problem. Cumberland Feed and Supply Co., Canal St. 5-19-31-T

Singer Sewing Machines, $5.00 to $15.00. Used, Guaranteed, at Rosenbaum's. 5-21-11-T

POOL, TABLE, balls, cues. Phone
3395-W after 5 P. M. 6-3-61-N

LARGE WOODEN boxes. Simpson
Co., 116 Henry St. 6-3-31-T

ONE FORD '36 pick-up; 3 small electric light plants; big type chester. White bear. Phone
4013-F-3. 6-3-21-T

TWO HOT AIR furnaces, cheap.
Apply 224 N. Lee St. 6-5-31-T

CATCH your buyer morning and evening with a morning and evening Times-News Classified Ad.

26-A—Pets
FLOWERS BOPPS. Phone 2582.
10-17-11-T

SOWERS PET SHOP, 111 N.
Centre St. Complete line of birds puppies, etc. Phone 2168. 6-27-11-T

29—Furniture, Stoves Window
Awning Specials
Sunfast, Painted
Colorful Stripes $1
30 or 36 inch
E. V. COYLE'S
45 Baltimore St.

29-A—Funeral Service

BUTLER FUNERAL HOME calls answered promptly, day or night, ambulance service. Phone 119.
4-16-11-T

YOU CANNOT accurately figure the value of a prospect brought to you through the want ads. If your work is satisfactory he will undoubtedly call you again and again. If you sell him once and he likes the way he's been treated, he will buy from you again.

30—Building Supplies
BEAUTIFUL OAK FLOORS
For price of floor coverings, Grants-ville Planing Mill, Cumberland 2751
6-6-31-T

WHEN YOU'RE "Up Against It" for some Ready Cash—It's time to place a Times-News For Sale
Ad. Just make survey of your property, pick some pieces of furniture, implements or tools that you no longer use and sell them with a want ad.

32—Help Wanted Female
GIRL for general housework, stay nights. Call 370-J. 6-3-21-T

OPENINGS FOR experienced maids
Apply in person, Maryland State
Employment Service, Public Safety
Bldg. 6-4-11-Su, M-N

INVESTIGATE every want ad that interests you whether you are ready to rent or buy at once or not. Remember if it is a home or car for sale, it can be financed.
If it is a house or apartment for rent it may be vacant later when you are ready to move.

33—Help Wanted, Male
YOUNG MAN to assist manager on route. See Mr. A. B. Rudolph,
Allegany Inn, 8 a. m. 6-2-31-T

The J. R. Watkins Company wants an ambitious man 25 to 35 years old with car to take over 900 family route in Allegany Co. No cash bond necessary. Write E. E.
Ruhke, Box No. 367, Newark,
N. J. 6-5-21-M, W-N

34—Salesmen Wanted
EXPERIENCED SALESMEN to open up new territory. Drawing account

Council Balks Airport Plan in Surprise Move

WPA-Built Port Gets Thumbs Down From City Heads

Irvine Takes Lead In Opposing Project; Koon Is Lone Backer

Cumberland, an important communications and transportation center during most of the nation's history, will remain without an adequate, up-to-date airport unless City Council changes its mind.

In a surprise move Saturday, Council threw out the window any further consideration of the plans for a WPA-built airport less than three miles from the center of the city.

Cost to City About $32,000

It had been estimated that a first class port which would bring main-line planes here on their regular runs could be built by the WPA for $200,000, with the city's share only $20,000 plus about $12,000 for the necessary land.

Council refused Saturday even to authorize further surveys which are necessary before an accurate estimate of the project's cost can be made.

Mayor Thomas W. Koon, who is in favor of getting on the aviation bandwagon during the present era of expansion, brought up the subject. He said WPA projects would be needed for Cumberland's idle and that the airport project would be a good one to keep the men busy when the cross-town water line is finished.

Commissioner Harry Irvine led the attack on the airport plan.

No Money, Irvine Says

"We haven't got the money for an airport now," he said.

Commissioners William J. Edwards, Edgar H. Reynolds, and Thomas P. Conlon also expressed themselves as being against the construction of a modern airport in Cumberland, a city which saw the first improved highway to the west, one of the first great railways, and one of the early waterways, but which is now off America's air map completely because adequate landing facilities are lacking.

Many citizens who have been working for years to help Cumberland get a modern airport were shocked at the news which came from Council Saturday.

Council's veto of airport action was entirely unexpected.

WPA, CAA Favor Plan

The finding of a suitable location in the middle of the Alleghenies was regarded as the one big obstacle, especially since the WPA is eager for the project and the Civil Aeronautics Authority and the big commercial airlines want a first class port in Cumberland, midway between the capital and Pittsburgh and the Ohio prairies.

Good Site Found

What was termed by the CAA as an ideal spot for an airport in Western Maryland was recently discovered on a bluff overlooking the Potomac just below Wiley Ford.

An option on it was taken by the Chamber of Commerce airport committee and great satisfaction was expressed both over the low cost of the land and the facilities the site offers.

Few cities in hilly or mountainous country have such an exceptional location for an airport, with mile-long runways possible, the CAA reported.

Irvine Adamant

Commissioner Irvine declared last night that he was opposed to spending money on an airport because there were still a number of city streets torn up and unfinished.

"We'll have to get money to finish these streets first," he said. "The taxpayers are raising hell about their streets being torn up. That will take $4,000 or $5,000."

Irvine has been a consistent foe of city-sponsored WPA projects. The mayor, on the other hand, has continually pointed out that the idle men have to be kept busy at something.

"The other councilmen are all with me in opposing this airport," Irvine said last night.

Daughters of America Elect New Officers

Elizabeth Brady is the newly-elected head of Our Flag Council No. 100, Daughters of America.

Other officers of the group include Edna Swick, past councilor; Claire Ritchie, associate past councilor; Marguerite Knepp, associate councilor; Johanna Weimer, vice-councilor; Pearl McDonald, associate vice-councilor; Anna Cessna, warden; Ruth Weber, conductor; Mary Hudson, treasurer; Viola Hudson, financial secretary; Eleanor Marple, assistant financial secretary.

Josephine Biggs, recording secretary; Bessie Lookabaugh, assistant recording secretary; Aileen Conway, inside sentinel; Sarah Barnhart, outside sentinel; Anna Sal-yards, representative; Ethel Creighton, and Gertrude Wilks, alternates; and Bessie Griffith, trustee.

Driver Arrested

Royce R. Rice, of 104 Decatur street, was the lone motorist taken into custody over the week-end by city police. He was released under $10 bond after being arrested Saturday night by Officers George W. Deffenbaugh and Frank A. Shober for careless driving on Decatur street. He is scheduled to be given a hearing Wednesday morning in Police court.

Allegheny High School To Sponsor 'Star Gazing' in New Observatory

Cumberland citizens will become "star gazers" if Harry Footer and Ralph R. Webster have anything to do with it.

Mr. Footer, president of the Peoples Bank and the city's No. 1 amateur astronomer, has presented to Allegheny high school a powerful five-inch refracting telescope and other equipment for astronomical study.

Meanwhile, Mr. Webster, principal of the school, announced plans for lectures on astronomy for students and the general public. At the same time, it is expected that the

Queen City Draws Praise as Host

Over 200 Nurses Close Successful Conference

Two hundred nurses from throughout the state were loud in their praise of Cumberland as a host Saturday night as they brought to a close a two-day conference here.

Delegates were enthusiastic over their reception and the facilities provided.

The last event on the program of the convention of the Maryland State Nurses Association, the Maryland League of Nursing Education, and the Maryland State Organization for Public Health and Industrial Nursing was a dinner at the All Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Maud M. Gardner, president of the Maryland Association presided at the banquet, held in the gaily-decorated main dining room. Principal speakers were Virginia K. Betzold, director principles and practice of nursing, Johns Hopkins Hospital School of Nursing, Baltimore, and Helen Gassaway, chairman of the State committee of the Red Cross Nursing Service, Dorothy Lindsay and Elizabeth Rosenmerkle sang.

Discussion of maternity care and the value of professional organization featured the session of the public health group in the afternoon. The late afternoon was marked by a tea at the Cumberland Country Club given by the Allegheny-Garrett County Medical Society.

Two semi-humorous skits and demonstrations of nursing technique were on the program at a session in the morning at Memorial hospital. Allegheny hospital nurses presented a playlet, "We Had the Ammonia," which showed in a humorous manner the symptoms, nursing care, and new treatments of pneumonia. The prologue and synopsis were given by Catherine Peeney, instructor at Allegheny.

Health teachings were explained in a sketch entitled "The Country Doctor." Participants were Anna Ketzner, Anna Claire Murphy, Catherine McDermott, Joyce Zembower, Mary Sullivan, Joseph Carabine, and John Cope.

The demonstrations of nursing technique were presented by members of the Memorial hospital staff. A talking picture was also shown.

Collegiate 'Who's Who' Lists Former Resident

Gustavus Warfield, son of Mrs. Eleanor Warfield, of College Park, former Cumberland residents, is listed in "Who's Who among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Warfield, a graduate of Allegheny high school, received the Bachelor of Arts degree from the College of Arts at the University of Maryland commencement exercises Saturday. He was editor of the yearbook, vice-president of the student government association, and a member of the Pi Delta Epsilon.

Conclude Examination Of Pre-School Children

Physical examinations for children who will enter school for the first time next fall will be concluded this week, according to Dr. Joseph P. Franklin, county health officer.

The schedule for the week follows:

Today, 1:30 p. m., Oldtown; 3 p. m., Sulphur Springs and Green Ridge, at the Sunday School.

Tuesday, 9:30 a. m., McCoole; 10:30 a. m., Luke.

Wednesday, 9:30 a. m., Mt. Royal City Hall; 11:00 a. m., Spring Gap, City Hall; 1 p. m., Corriganville; 2:30 Ellerslie.

Gephart Playground Group To Meet Wednesday Night

Officers will be elected and plans discussed for a festival June 23 at a meeting Wednesday night of the Gephart Playground Association.

The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock at the Gephart school on Frederick street, according to W. J. Cabbage, chairman of the committee in charge. A full attendance is urged.

To Get Certificates

Seventeen members of the night school class in practical nursing will be presented with certificates by H. M. James, supervisor, tomorrow at 8 p. m., following a concert given by the class in the Frederick Street school auditorium. Miss Lillian Lee is class instructor.

observatory will be made available to interested citizens as well as to students.

The telescope donated by Mr. Footer was built by Alvin Clark, who constructed the famous Lick and Yerkes telescopes and the one used at the U. S. Naval Observatory in Washington, D. C. The instrument is regarded as one of the builder's best small telescopes.

In addition to the telescope, which will be housed in an observatory on the roof of the school, Mr. Footer has offered to the school an aluminum dome with an electric revolving device. At present, the dome is on the roof of Mr. Footer's observatory at his Dingle home, but it will be transferred to the school as soon as an observatory can be constructed to house it.

Another gift will be a 24-hour clock to enable the users of the telescope to read sidereal or star time.

The equipment is valued at more than $1,500.

Mr. Footer, who has been interested in astronomy throughout his lifetime, expressed the hope that through his gift, others might appreciate the splendor and the wonder of the heavens.

County Teachers End Long Service

Two Veterans To Retire After Nearly 50 Years

Two teaching careers spanning almost a half-century each will be brought to a close with the end of the current school term, according to Charles L. Kopp, county superintendent of schools.

The veteran teachers are Miss Julia Anne Wagner, English teacher at Bruce high school, Westernport, and Miss Agnes M. McGinn, principal of Detmold school. Both have taught only in Allegheny county.

Miss Wagner, a teacher for 43 years, began her career in 1896. She taught at Stony Run, Luke, and Barton before going to Westernport, where she has been for the past 22 years.

A veteran of 46 years, Miss McGinn taught at Little Orleans, Koonitz, and Jackson before going to Detmold, where she has been principal for 19 years.

Ridgeley Citizens Cast Ballots Tomorrow

Ridgeley voters will go to the polls tomorrow to elect officers of their municipal government.

Mayor Paul K. Morgan, seeking reelection, is opposed by Councilman W. D. Biddinger.

Four councilmen are candidates to succeed themselves, but in the race with them are six other citizens. Only five of the ten candidates can win.

Incumbents running are R. A. Biggs, J. S. Hutton, J. P. Valentine, and James W. Vandegrift. Other councilman candidates are Arthur Brant, Robert Carter, M. F. Edenhart, Ben Randall, E. E. Carr, and F. A. Decker.

Recorder W. Merle Cornelius, also seeking reelection, is opposed by J. D. Brehany.

Game Wardens Nab Two For Fishing Violations

A Midlothian man was jailed and a McCoole man was arrested last week for violation of fishing regulations.

Alexander Stevy, Midlothian, was sentenced to jail in default of a fine of $25 when he was found guilty of exceeding the number of fishing lines an angler is permitted to use at a hearing before Magistrate George Pool at Kitzmiller.

Galen Ruthpoth, of near McCoole, is to be given a hearing this week on charges of fishing with an improper license. The men were arrested by Deputy Game Wardens Theodore Thorrig and Joseph A. Minke.

Unusual Book Reviews Scheduled Tomorrow

Two unusual books will be reviewed at the noon breakfast of the literature group of the Women's Civic Club tomorrow at Central YMCA, according to Mrs. W. H. Blake, chairman.

"The Sword in the Stone" will be reviewed by Mrs. William Claus, and Mrs. T. L. Richards will review "Unforgotten Years," the story of a self-imposed exile. Mrs. H. T. Robinson is also scheduled to speak.

Heads Coal Company

William L. Sherman is the new president of the Cumberland Parker Seam Coal Corporation. He was elected at a stockholders' meeting Saturday to succeed Milton Bernstein, who resigned. Other officers named are A. M. Little, vice-president; and Camille J. Sherman, secretary-treasurer.

To Give Operetta

Costumed children of the first, second, third, and fourth grades of Frederick Street school will present an operetta at 8 p. m. Friday. Mrs. Edith Bracey and Miss Lela McLintyre are in charge of the production.

Rawlings Man Bitten By Copperhead Snake

The quick thinking of a 40-year-old Kelly-Springfield Tire Company rubber-worker probably saved his life yesterday after he was bitten by a snake near his home.

The man, Robert Noel, of Rawlings, was admitted to Allegheny hospital last night at 7 o'clock with a badly swollen right hand.

Hospital attaches said Noel told them "a snake bit me about 6 p. m., and I just kept sucking my hand until I thought all the poison was out." He said, "I think it was a copperhead."

He was detained for further observation.

'Noble Women' World's Need, Seniors Told

Ursuline Academy Graduates Hear Father Boniface

The world today needs "noble women," the Rev. Father Boniface, O. M. Cap., told members of the graduating class of Ursuline Academy in the baccalaureate sermon yesterday at St. Peter and Paul church.

Father Boniface stressed the need of the present age for "women who have the courage to live up to their Christian training and to stand out as an inspiration to all."

The graduates and members of the Alumnae Association heard the sermon after receiving Communion in a body at the 8:10 mass.

Breakfast Served

Following the mass, the class, faculty, and alumnae were served breakfast in the school cafeteria, attractively decorated in the class colors of green and gold.

Miss Lucille Ley, general chairman of arrangements, welcomed the graduates into the Alumnae Association, and Miss Kathleen Klenhofer responded on behalf of the class. The Rev. Father Agatho, O. M. Cap., was the principal speaker.

Yesterday's activities marked the opening of commencement week, which will be climaxed Friday at 8 p. m. by the graduation exercises at St. Peter and Paul church. Class night is to be celebrated tonight under the auspices of the Ursuline Auxiliary, while the annual picnic is scheduled Wednesday at Aiverno.

Graduates Listed

Members of the graduating class are Misses Mary Becker, Beverly Cowgill, Verlyis Dixon, Mary Edith Fannon, Betty Foreman, Jane Gallagher, Nancy L. Goebel, Catherine Hagib, Helen Hughes, Joan Kerr, Kathleen Klenhofer, Angela Laing, Mary Jo Logsdon, Catherine McKenzie, Margaret McNamee, Doris McDermott, Winifred Muir, Pceem Noonan, Edna O'Brien, Louise Santora, Agnes Schaffer, Betty Singer, Rosemary Soehner and Dorothy Welsenmiller.

Others present at the breakfast-meeting were the Rev. Fathers Boniface and Agatho; Sisters Jeanne Teresa, Agnes Marie, Leonita, Charles, Angelina, Josetta, and Eunice; Mesdames W. L. Keller, DeSales Glick, Walter Ensminger, George L. Long, Samuel Morgan, Walter Flender, Peter Carpent, James McCreary, George Garlitz, W. D. Wolford, H. C. Martin, Perry Ambrose, Thekla D. Price, Mary C. McNamee.

Mesdames Bob Neely, Louis H. Knight, M. E. B. Owens, Anita S. Robinette, Jos. Kelly, Stephen Taylor, of Philadelphia, Pa., Joseph O'Neill, Virginia E. Minke, Percy Campbell, R. P. Shireman, Thomas P. Moore, Walter Spring, of Washington, D. C., Wellington Wheeler, Carl L. Soethe, Russell Ponton, Wade Coffey, Leroy Zarger, A. L. Miller, Harry Sluss, Winifred Browning, and Charles G. Smith.

Misses Helen Stakem, Madelyn Wallace, Rita Frantz, Eleanor Long, Lucille Ley, Romona Simpson, Marjorie E. McCormick, Teresa Friele, Mary Catherine Ley, Louise Stegmaler, Margaret King, Elhel Bender, Edith Ruppenkamp, Mary C. Ruppenkamp, Jeanne Mooney, Anne Young, Doris Gunther, Kathryn F. Doerner, Verna Hager, Evelyn Martz, Helen Jones, Matilda M. Clarke, Thekla Price, Mary Lou Doerner, Madelyn W. Price, Dorothy Finnan, Louise Porter, Rose Schmutz.

Misses Mary Lawler, Marian Boyland, Dorothy Wallace, Agnes Gerdeman, Kate M. Lippold, Margaret A. Laing, Mary Ward, Mary Elizabeth Gallagher, Ursula Hartman, Helen McKenzie, Regina Felton, Marianne Tole, Josephine Schute, Rosalind Lippold, Margaret Welsenmiller, Rita Welsenmiller, Margaret Fulton, Alice Stakem, Dorothy Hartman, Helen Welsenmiller, Ruth Barry, Elizabeth Lippold, and Mary Frances Mosser.

Playing of Grieg's Peer Gynt Suite will feature a concert to be presented at Fort Hill high school Thursday night by the High School Alumni Orchestra.

The program, scheduled to start at 8:15 p. m., will also include "Die Fledermaus" overture by Strauss; Irish Tune from County Kerry by Grainger; and Juba Dance by Dett.

Invitations to the affair may be obtained without charge from members of the orchestra, members of the Rotary club, which sponsors the organization, or by mailing applications to Director Victor H. Baumann at Fort Hill.

The group consists of twenty outstanding former members of high school orchestras and is expected to be the nucleus of a "little symphony."

Deaths

J. Raymond H. Morehead

Funeral services for John Raymond Howard Morehead, 47, who died Wednesday night at his home, 534 Greene street, were conducted Saturday morning at St. Peter and Paul Catholic church. The Rev. Father Boniface, pastor, was celebrant at the requiem mass. Interment was in the church cemetery.

The pallbearers were Edgar A. Dashiell, John H. McCullough, Norman E. Sell, Leonard Little, Edward M. Sell, and James L. Newman.

EAGLE ATTACKS GIRL—This giant eagle was shot not far from the Oldtown road yesterday afternoon after it attacked 13-year-old Dorothy May Stallings, shown above. Her father, Raymond Stallings (center) shot the bird. Deputy Game Warden William L. McKenzie is at the left.—News Staff Photo.

Baccalaureate Speaker Named

LaSalle Class To Hear Westminster Pastor

The Rev. Father William Kelley, pastor of St. John's Catholic church, Westminster, will be celebrant and give the sermon at the baccalaureate mass for the graduating class of LaSalle high school, Sunday at 9:15 a. m. at St. Patrick's Catholic church, Brother Dacian Stephan, principal, announced last night.

Frank A. Getty, principal of Grantsville high school, will be speaker at the commencement exercises to be held Sunday evening at 8:15 o'clock in Carroll Hall. A feature of the program will be an oratorical contest in which Joseph Stakem, Edward Neus, and John Coyle will compete after being selected in preliminary contests. Judges will be James E. Spitznas, Dr. Francis P. O'Neill and Frank Lee Carl.

Awards for the highest average in various subjects, for the past four years, will be awarded individual students, and Robert E. Lewis, class valedictorian, will deliver his address.

The Rev. Father John Mountain, assistant pastor of St. Patrick's church, will preside at the exercises.

Girl Scouts To Hold Camp Rally Tonight

A pageant depicting the early history of this area will feature a Girl Scout camp rally at 7 o'clock this evening at the State armory.

The pageant, entitled "Cal-U-Tu-Cuc"—Cumberland's Indian name, was written by Miss Phyllis Holmes of Troop 4. Scenery and costumes will be furnished by Troops No. 2, 9, and 17, and members of Brownie Packs will participate under the direction of Mrs. Howard Reese and Mrs. R. B. Stanford.

All troops of the city will attend the rally. Refreshments will be served by Troops 19, 13, and 5.

Alumni Orchestra To Give Concert Thursday Night

Playing of Grieg's Peer Gynt Suite will feature a concert to be presented at Fort Hill high school Thursday night by the High School Alumni Orchestra.

The program, scheduled to start at 8:15 p. m., will also include "Die Fledermaus" overture by Strauss; Irish Tune from County Kerry by Grainger; and Juba Dance by Dett.

Invitations to the affair may be obtained without charge from members of the orchestra, members of the Rotary club, which sponsors the organization, or by mailing applications to Director Victor H. Baumann at Fort Hill.

The group consists of twenty outstanding former members of high school orchestras and is expected to be the nucleus of a "little symphony."

Seek Electric Organ

Plans for installation of an electric organ in the new auditorium being built at Allegheny high school are being made by the Alumni Association, according to The Alumni Mirror, student newspaper.

Lad, 12, Hits Truck, Lands in Hospital

Twelve-year-old Arthur E. Beaulieu Jr., made news Saturday with a variation of the "man bites dog" theme. It is almost an everyday occurrence for children to be struck by motor vehicles, but Arthur reversed the procedure.

Arthur suffered a compound fracture of the left leg when he ran out of an alley near his home and into the side of a moving delivery truck.

The lad, who is a student at St. Peter and Paul Parochial school and lives at 118 North Smallwood street, told Allegheny hospital attendants that "I didn't see the truck coming."

Mr. and Mrs. Beaulieu said the driver of the truck, belonging to Stacey's Market, brought the boy home. He was later taken to the hospital after being examined by a physician.

Allegheny Teachers Plan Active Vacations

It will be an active vacation for most Allegheny high school teachers, with traveling and attending summer school heading the list, reports show.

Miss Virginia Dixon will go to the Philippine Islands; Miss Dorothy Willison will tour Norway, Sweden, and Denmark; while Miss Mary Rice will visit Japan, China and Hawaii.

Miss Jeanette Holzhau will visit the Navajo reservation in Arizona, and Miss Eleanor Welsh will go to California.

Those planning to attend summer school include Miss Ann Nicht, Miss Marie Richmond and Herman Ball, University of Maryland; J. Lee Delaney, Miss Mary Sowerby and Mrs. Anna Higgins, Columbia University; Albert Loper, Winona Teachers' College; Miss Helena Palmer, Ohio University; Mrs. Ellen McKenzie and Miss Rose Schmutz, Western Maryland College; John A. McCullough and Jack Platt, Penn State College; Mrs. Vivian Kline and Lewyn Davis, Johns Hopkins University; Miss Marie Lapin, New York University; and William Noland, University of Chicago.

Those planning to attend summer school include Miss Ann Nicht, Miss Marie Richmond and Herman Ball, University of Maryland; J. Lee Delaney, Miss Mary Sowerby and Mrs. Anna Higgins, Columbia University; Albert Loper, Winona Teachers' College; Miss Helena Palmer, Ohio University; Mrs. Ellen McKenzie and Miss Rose Schmutz, Western Maryland College; John A. McCullough and Jack Platt, Penn State College; Mrs. Vivian Kline and Lewyn Davis, Johns Hopkins University; Miss Marie Lapin, New York University; and William Noland, University of Chicago.

Eastern Star Party Scheduled Tonight

Mrs. Alban G. Crabbe, president of the Past Matrons and Past Patrons Association of Western Maryland, Order of the Eastern Star, will be hostess to members of the group and their friends at 8 o'clock tonight at her home in Hyndman, Pa. Bridge, five hundred, and dominoes will be played.

Revival Opens

The Rev. Nimrod Park, New York evangelist, last night opened a three-week revival at the Assembly of God church, 21 Elder street. Services will continue each evening through June 25, according to the Rev. C. H. Jacobs, pastor.

Townsendites Meet

Townsend Club No. 1 of Cresaptown will be addressed tonight at 7:30 o'clock by Joseph W. Martin, of Lonaconing.

Keating Nursery 'Public Economy'

Attorney General Walsh Backs Drive for Funds

Maintenance of the Keating Memorial Day Nursery "is really a public economy," Attorney General William C. Walsh declared in a radio plea here last night for $3,000 for the nursery.

The nursery takes care of about 100 children while their mothers are working, he explained. "If the nursery is discontinued, the mothers of these children will not be able to work, and both they and the children will become dependent on the public."

Describing the work of the institution as "partly charitable, partly educational, and partly character-building," he asserted that "it would certainly be a tragedy if the work stopped."

Mr. Walsh's talk was the first in a series of addresses to be made in behalf of the drive for funds for the nursery. The attorney general pointed out that the institution's income has been decreased by a cut in the State appropriation and it must obtain public support if it is to continue to operate.

Activities in behalf of the campaign include a boxing show tonight at the ball park, with part of the proceeds going to the nursery; a tag day June 17; and a dance at Crystal Park June 26 under the auspices of the Shamrock Club. Coin containers will be placed in public places and donations sought in theatres from June 11 to 17, which has been designated "Day Nursery Week."

Marriage Causes Mix-up In Family Relationship

Family relationships became almost hopelessly complicated when a Cresaptown woman became the bride of her brother's step-son.

The mix-up was disclosed Saturday with the announcement of the marriage of Miss Maxine Zella Oss to Kenneth Harrison Swartzwelder, a Cleveland worker, of Potomac Park. Swartzwelder is the step-son of L. W. Oss, of Harrisburg, Pa., who is the bride's brother. Thus Oss is Swartzwelder's brother-in-law and step-father-in-law at the same time.

Mrs. L. W. Oss, the bridegroom's mother, is her sister-in-law's mother-in-law.

George Oss, of North Liberty street, who is the bride's father, becomes a step-grandfather to his son-in-law. And so it goes. The family admitted that the relationship was quite a puzzle and said that a little time was needed to figure it all out.

The couple was married May 20 at Winchester, Va. After a visit to Harrisburg, Mr. and Mrs. Swartzwelder will reside in Cresaptown.

To Speak on Fair

Several illustrated talks on "How to See the New York World's Fair on a Limited Budget" will be presented by Harry R. Vogtman, faculty member of Fort Hill high school, this week here and in neighboring towns. He will lecture at Bruce high, Westernport, today at 8 p. m., and at the Fort Hill auditorium tomorrow night at the same time.

Giant Eagle Shot After Attacking Frog Hollow Girl

Council Balks Airport Plan in Surprise Move

WPA-Built Port Gets Thumbs Down From City Heads

Irvine Takes Lead In Opposing Project; Koon Is Lone Backer

Cumberland, an important communications and transportation center during most of the nation's history, will remain without an adequate, up-to-date airport unless City Council changes its mind.

In a surprise move Saturday, Council threw out the window any further consideration of the plans for a WPA-built airport less than three miles from the center of the city.

Cost to City About $32,000

It had been estimated that a first class port which would bring main-line planes here on their regular runs could be built by the WPA for $200,000, with the city's share only $20,000 plus about $12,000 for the necessary land.

Council refused Saturday even to authorize further surveys which are necessary before an accurate estimate of the project's cost can be made.

Mayor Thomas W. Koon, who is in favor of getting on the aviation bandwagon during the present era of expansion, brought up the subject. He said WPA projects would be needed for Cumberland's idle and that the airport project would be a good one to keep the men busy when the cross-town water line is finished.

Commissioner Harry Irvine led the attack on the airport plan.

No Money, Irvine Says

"We haven't got the money for an airport now," he said.

Commissioners William J. Edwards, Edgar H. Reynolds, and Thomas F. Conlon also expressed themselves as being against the construction of a modern airport in Cumberland, a city which saw the first improved highway to the west, one of the first great railways, and one of the early waterways, but which is now off America's air map completely because adequate landing facilities are lacking.

Many citizens who have been working for years to help Cumberland get a modern airport were shocked at the news which came from Council Saturday.

Council's veto of airport action was entirely unexpected.

WPA, CAA Favor Plan

The finding of a suitable location in the middle of the Alleghenies was regarded as the one big obstacle, especially since the WPA is eager for the project and the Civil Aeronautics Authority and the big commercial airlines want a first class port in Cumberland, midway between the capital and Pittsburgh and the Ohio prairies.

Good Site Found

What was termed by the CAA as an ideal spot for an airport in Western Maryland was recently discovered on a bluff overlooking the Potomac just below Wiley Ford.

An option on it was taken by the Chamber of Commerce airport committee and great satisfaction was expressed both over the low cost of the land and the facilities the site offers.

Few cities in hilly or mountainous country have such an exceptional location for an airport, with mile-long runways possible, the CAA reported.

Irvine Adamant

Commissioner Irvine declared last night that he was opposed to spending money on an airport because there were still a number of city streets torn up and unfinished.

"We'll have to get money to finish these streets first," he said. "The taxpayers are raising hell about their streets being torn up. That will take $4,000 or $5,000."

Irvine has been a consistent foe of city-sponsored WPA projects. The mayor, on the other hand, has continually pointed out that the idle men have to be kept busy at something.

The other councilmen are all with me in opposing this airport," Irvine said last night.

Daughters of America Elect New Officers

Elizabeth Brady is the newly-elected head of Our Flag Council No. 190, Daughters of America.

Other officers of the group include Edna Swick, past councilor; Claire Ritchie, associate past councilor; Marguerite Knepp, associate councilor; Johanna Welner, vice-councilor; Pearl McDonald, associate vice-councilor; Anna Cesna, warden; Ruth Weber, conductor; Mary Hudson, treasurer; Viola Hudson, financial secretary; Eleanor Marple, assistant financial secretary.

Josephine Biggs, recording secretary; Bessie Lockbaugh, assistant recording secretary; Aileen Conway, inside sentinel; Sarah Barnhart, outside sentinel; Anna Salvars, representative; Ethel Creighton, and Gertrude Wilks, alternates; and Bessie Griffith, trustee.

Driver Arrested

Royce R. Rice, of 104 Decatur street, was the lone motorist taken into custody over the week-end by city police. He was released under $10 bond after being arrested Saturday night by Officers George W. Deffenbaugh and Frank A. Shober for careless driving on Decatur street. He is scheduled to be given a hearing Wednesday morning in Police court.

Allegheny High School To Sponsor 'Star Gazing' in New Observatory

Cumberland citizens will become "star gazers" if Harry Footer and Ralph R. Webster have anything to do with it.

Mr. Footer, president of the Peoples Bank and the city's No. 1 amateur astronomer, has presented to Allegheny high school a powerful five-inch refracting telescope and other equipment for astronomical study.

Meanwhile, Mr. Webster, principal of the school, announced plans for lectures on astronomy for students and the general public. At the same time, it is expected that the

Queen City Draws Praise as Host

Over 200 Nurses Close Successful Conference

Two hundred nurses from throughout the state were loud in their praise of Cumberland as a host Saturday night as they brought to a close a two-day conference here.

Delegates were enthusiastic over their reception and the facilities provided.

The last event on the program of the convention of the Maryland State Nurses Association, the Maryland League of Nursing Education, and the Maryland State Organization for Public Health and Industrial Nursing was a dinner at the All Ghan Shrine Country Club.

Maud M. Gardner, president of the Maryland Association presided at the banquet, held in the gaily-decorated main dining room. Principal speakers were Virginia K. Betzold, director principles and practice of nursing, Johns Hopkins Hospital School of Nursing, Baltimore, and Helen Gassaway, chairman of the State committee of the Red Cross Nursing Service, Dorothy Lindsay and Elizabeth Rosenmerkle sang.

Discussion of maternity care and the value of professional organization featured the session of the public health group in the afternoon. The late afternoon was marked by a tea at the Cumberland Country Club, given by the Allegheny-Garrett County Medical Society.

Two semi-humorous skits and demonstrations of nursing technique were on the program at a session in the morning at Memorial hospital. Allegheny hospital nurses presented a playlet, "We Had the Ammonia," which showed in a humorous manner the symptoms, nursing care, and new treatments of pneumonia. The prologue and synopsis were given by Catherine Peeney, instructor at Allegheny.

Health teachings were explained in a sketch entitled "The Country Doctor." Participants were Anna Ketzner, Anna Claire Murphy, Catherine McDermott, Joyce Zempower, Mary Sullivan, Joseph Carabine, and John Cope.

The demonstrations of nursing technique were presented by members of the Memorial hospital staff. A talking picture was also shown.

Collegiate 'Who's Who' Lists Former Resident

Gustavus Warfield, son of Mrs. Eleanor Warfield, of College Park, former Cumberland residents, is listed in "Who's Who among Students in American Universities and Colleges."

Warfield, a graduate of Allegheny high school, received the Bachelor of Arts degree from the College of Arts at the University of Maryland commencement exercises Saturday. He was editor of the yearbook, vice-president of the student government association, and a member of the Pi Delta Epsilon.

Conclude Examination Of Pre-School Children

Physical examinations for children who will enter school for the first time next fall will be concluded this week, according to Dr. Joseph P. Franklin, county health officer.

The schedule for the week follows:

Today, 1:30 p. m., Oldtown; 3 p. m., Sulphur Springs and Green Ridge, at the Sunday School.

Tuesday, 9:30 a. m., McCoole; 10:30 a. m., Luke.

Wednesday, 9:30 a. m., Mt. Royal City Hall; 11:00 a. m., Spring Gap City Hall; 1 p. m., Corriganville; 2:30 Ellerslie.

Gephart Playground Group To Meet Wednesday Night

Officers will be elected and plans discussed for a festival June 23 at a meeting Wednesday night of the Gephart Playground Association.

The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock at the Gephart school on Frederick street, according to W. J. Cabbage, chairman of the committee in charge. A full attendance is urged.

To Get Certificates

Seventeen members of the night school class in practical nursing will be presented with certificates by H. M. James, supervisor, tomorrow at 8 p. m., following a program given by the class in the Frederick Street school auditorium. Miss Lillian Lee is class instructor.

Rawlings Man Bitten By Copperhead Snake

The quick thinking of a 40-year-old Kelly-Springfield Tire Company rubber-worker probably saved his life yesterday after he was bitten by a snake near his home.

The man, Robert Noel, of Rawlings, was admitted to Allegheny hospital last night at 7 o'clock with a badly swollen right hand.

Hospital attaches said Noel told them "a snake bit me about 6 p. m., and I just kept sucking my hand until I thought all the poison was out." He said, "I think it was a copperhead."

He was detained for further observation.

'Noble Women' World's Need, Seniors Told

Ursuline Academy Graduates Hear Father Boniface

The world today needs "noble women," the Rev. Father Boniface, O. M. Cap., told members of the graduating class of Ursuline Academy in the baccalaureate sermon yesterday at St. Peter and Paul church.

Father Boniface stressed the need of the present age for "women who have the courage to live up to their Christian training and to stand out as an inspiration to all."

The graduates and members of the Alumnae Association heard the sermon after receiving Communion in a body at the 8:10 mass.

Breakfast Served

Following the mass, the class, faculty, and alumnae were served breakfast in the school cafeteria, attractively decorated in the class colors of green and gold.

Miss Lucille Ley, general chairman of arrangements, welcomed the graduates into the Alumnae Association, and Miss Kathleen Kienhofer responded on behalf of the class. The Rev. Father Agatho, O. M. Cap., was the principal speaker.

Yesterday's activities marked the opening of commencement week, which will be climaxed Friday at 8 p. m. by the graduation exercises at St. Peter and Paul church. Class night is to be celebrated tonight under the auspices of the Ursuline Auxiliary, while the annual picnic is scheduled Wednesday at Alverno.

Graduates Listed

Members of the graduating class are Misses Mary Becker, Beverly Cowgill, Verlyis Dixon, Mary Edith Fannon, Betty Foreman, Jane Gallagher, Nancy L. Goebel, Catherine Hagib, Helen Hughes, Joan Kerr, Kathleen Kienhofer, Angela Laing, Mary Jo Logsdon, Catherine McKenzie, Margaret McNamee, Doris McDermott, Winifred Muir, Rose McNamee, Edna O'Brien, Louise Santora, Agnes Schaffer, Betty Singer, Rosemary Soehner and Dorothy Weisenmiller.

Others present at the breakfast-meeting were the Rev. Fathers Boniface and Agatho; Sisters Jeanne Teresa, Agnes Marie, Leonita, Charles, Angelina, Josteta, and Eunice; Mesdames W. L. Keller, DeSales, Glick, Walter Ensminger, George L. Long, Samuel Morgan, Walter Pfender, Peter Carpentel, James McCreary, George Garlitz, W. D. Wolford, H. C. Martin, Perry Ambrose, Thekla D. Price, Mary C. McNamee.

Mesdames Bob Neely, Louis H. Knight, M. E. B. Owens, Anita S. Robinson, Joe Kelly, Stephen Taylor, of Philadelphia, Pa.; Joseph O'Neill, Virginia E. Minke, Percy Campbell, R. P. Shireman, Thomas P. Moore, Walter Spring, of Washington, D. C.; Wellington Wheeler, Carl L. Soethe, Russell Ponton, Wade Coffey, Leroy Zarger, A. L. Miller, Harry Sluss, Winifred Browning, and Charles G. Smith.

Misses Helen Stakem, Madelyn Wallace, Rita Franz, Eleanor Long, Lucille Le, Romana Simpson, Marjorie E. McCormick, Teresa Pirle, Mary Catherine Le, Louise Stegmaler, Margaret King, Ethel Benner, Edith Ruppenkamp, Mary C. Ruppenkamp, Jeanne Mooney, Anne Young, Doris Gunther, Kathryn P. Doerner, Verna Hager, Evelyn Martz, Helen Jones, Matilda M. Clarke, Thekla Price, Mary Lou Doerner, Louise W. Price, Dorothy Pinan, Madelyn Porter, Rose Schmutz.

Misses Mary Lawler, Marian Boydland, Dorothy Wallace, Agnes Gerdeman, Kate M. Lippold, Margaret A. Laing, Mary Ward, Mary Elizabeth Gallagher, Ursula Hartman, Helen McKenzie, Regina Felton, Marianne Toie, Josephine Schute, Rosalind Lippold, Margaret Weisenmiller, Rita Weisenmiller, Margaret Fulton, Alice Stakem, Dorothy Hartman, Helen Weisenmiller, Ruth Barry, Elizabeth Lippold, and Mary Frances Mosser.

Unusual Book Reviews Scheduled Tomorrow

Two unusual books will be reviewed at the noon breakfast of the literature group of the Women's Civic Club tomorrow at Central YMCA, according to Mrs. W. H. Blake, chairman.

"The Sword in the Stone" will be reviewed by Mrs. William Claus and Mrs. T. L. Richards will review "Unforgotten Years," the story of a self-imposed exile. Mrs. H. T. Robinson is also scheduled to speak.

Heads Coal Company

William L. Sherman is the new president of the Cumberland Parker Seam Coal Corporation. He was elected at a stockholders' meeting Saturday to succeed Milton Bernstein, who resigned. Other officers named are A. M. Little, vice-president; and Camille J. Sherman, secretary-treasurer.

To Give Operetta

Costumed children of the first, second, third, and fourth grades of Frederick Street school will present an operetta at 8 p. m. Friday. Mrs. Edith Bracey and Miss Lola McIntyre are in charge of the production.

EAGLE ATTACKS GIRL—This giant eagle was shot not far from the Oldtown road yesterday afternoon after it attacked 13-year-old Dorothy May Stallings, shown above. Her father, Raymond Stallings (center) shot the bird. Deputy Game Warden William L. McKenzie is at the left.—News Staff Photo.

Baccalaureate Speaker Named

LaSalle Class To Hear Westminster Pastor

The Rev. Father William Kelley, pastor of St. John's Catholic church, Westminster, will be celebrant and give the sermon at the baccalaureate mass for the graduating class of LaSalle high school, Sunday at 9:15 a. m. at St. Patrick's Catholic church, Brother Dacian Stephan, principal, announced last night.

Frank A. Getty, principal of Grantsville high school, will be speaker at the commencement exercises to be held Sunday evening at 8:15 o'clock in Carroll Hall. A feature of the program will be an oratorical contest in which Joseph Stakem, Edward Neus, and John Coyle will compete after being selected in preliminary contests. Judges will be James E. Spitznas, Dr. Francis P. O'Neill and Frank Lee Carl.

Awards for the highest average in various subjects, for the past four years, will be awarded individual students, and Robert E. Lewis, class valedictorian, will deliver his address.

The Rev. Father John Mountain, assistant pastor of St. Patrick's church, will preside at the exercises.

Girl Scouts To Hold Camp Rally Tonight

A pageant depicting the early history of this area will feature a Girl Scout camp rally at 7 o'clock this evening at the State armory.

The pageant, entitled "Cal-U-Tu-Cue"—Cumberland's Indian name, was written by Miss Phyllis Holmes of Troop 4. Scenery and costumes will be furnished by Troops No. 2, 9, and 17, and members of Brownie Packs will participate under the direction of Mrs. Howard Reese and Mrs. R. B. Stanford.

All troops of the city will attend the rally. Refreshments will be served by Troops 19, 13, and 8.

Alumni Orchestra To Give Concert Thursday Night

Playing of Grieg's Peer Gynt Suite will feature a concert to be presented at Port Hill high school Thursday night by the High School Alumni Orchestra.

The program, scheduled to start at 8:15 p. m., will also include "Die Fledermaus" overture by Strauss; Irish Tune from County Kerry by Grainger; and Juba Dance by Deit. Invitations to the affair may be obtained without charge from members of the orchestra, members of the Rotary club, which sponsors the organization, or by mailing applications to Director Victor H. Baumann at Port Hill.

Deaths

J. Raymond H. Morehead, funeral services for John Raymond Morehead, 47, who died Wednesday night at his home, 534 Greene street, were conducted Saturday morning at St. Peter and Paul Catholic church. The Rev. Father Boniface, pastor, was celebrant at the requiem mass. Interment was in the church cemetery. The pallbearers were Edgar A. Dashiell, John H. McCullough, Norman E. Sell, Leonard Little, Edward M. Sell, and James L. Newman.

Lad, 12, Hits Truck, Lands in Hospital

Twelve-year-old Arthur E. Beaulieu Jr. made news Saturday with a variation of the "man bites dog" theme. It is almost an everyday occurrence for children to be struck by motor vehicles, but Arthur reversed the procedure.

Arthur suffered a compound fracture of the left leg when he ran out of an alley near his home and into the side of a moving delivery truck.

The lad, who is a student at St. Peter and Paul Parochial school and lives at 118 North Smallwood street, told Allegheny hospital attendants that "I didn't see the truck coming."

Mr. and Mrs. Beaulieu said the driver of the truck, belonging to Stacey's Market, brought the boy home. He was later taken to the hospital after being examined by a physician.

Allegheny Teachers Plan Active Vacations

It will be an active vacation for most Allegheny high school teachers, with traveling and attending summer school heading the list, reports show.

Miss Virginia Dixon will go to the Philippine Islands; Miss Dorothy Willison will tour Norway, Sweden, and Denmark; while Miss Mary Rice will visit Japan, China and Hawaii.

Miss Jeanette Holshush will visit the Navajo reservation in Arizona, and Miss Eleanor Welsh will go to California.

Those planning to attend summer school include Miss Ann Nicht, Miss Marie Richmond and Herman Ball, University of Maryland; J. Lee Delaney, Miss Mary Sowerby and Mrs. Anna Higgins, Columbia University; Albert Loper, Winona Teachers' College; Miss Helena Palmer, Ohio University; Mrs. Ellen McKenzie and Miss Rose Schmutz, Western Maryland College; John A. McCullough and Jack Platt, Penn State College; Mrs. Vivian Kline and Lewyn Davis, Johns Hopkins University; Miss Marie Lapin, New York University; and William Noland, University of Chicago.

Eastern Star Party Scheduled Tonight

Mrs. Alban G. Crabbe, president of the Past Matrons and Past Patrons Association of Western Maryland, Order of the Eastern Star, will be hostess to members of the group and their friends at 8 o'clock tonight at her home in Hyndman, Pa. Bridge, five hundred, and dominoes will be played.

Revival Opens

The Rev. Nimrod Park, New York evangelist, last night opened a three-week revival at the Assembly of God church, 21 Elder street. Services will continue each evening through June 25, according to the Rev. C. H. Jacobs, pastor.

Townsendites Meet

Townsend Club No. 1 of Cresaptown will be addressed tonight at 7:30 o'clock by Joseph W. Martin, of Lonsconing.

Keating Nursery 'Public Economy'

Attorney General Walsh Backs Drive for Funds

Maintenance of the Keating Memorial Day Nursery "is really a public economy," Attorney General William C. Walsh declared in a radio plea here last night for $3,000 for the nursery.

The nursery takes care of about 100 children while their mothers are working, he explained. "If the nursery is discontinued, the mothers of these children will not be able to work, and both they and the children will become dependent on the public."

Describing the work of the institution as "partly charitable, partly educational, and partly character-building," he asserted that "it would certainly be a tragedy if the work stopped."

Mr. Walsh's talk was the first in a series of addresses to be made in behalf of the drive for funds for the nursery. The attorney general pointed out that the institution's income has been decreased by a cut in the State appropriation and it must obtain public support if it is to continue to operate.

Activities in behalf of the campaign include a boxing show tonight at the ball park, with part of the proceeds going to the nursery; a tag day June 17; and a dance at Crystal Park June 26 under the auspices of the Shamrock Club. Coin containers will be placed in public places and donations sought in theatres from June 11 to 17, which has been designated "Day Nursery Week."

Marriage Causes Mix-up In Family Relationship

Family relationships became almost hopelessly complicated when a Cresaptown woman became the bride of her brother's step-son.

The mix-up was disclosed Saturday with the announcement of the marriage of Miss Maxine Zella Oss to Kenneth Harrison Swartzwelder, a Celanese worker, of Potomac Park. Swartzwelder is the step-son of L. W. Oss, of Harrisburg, Pa., who is the bride's brother. Thus Oss is Swartzwelder's brother-in-law and step-father-in-law at the same time.

Mrs. L. W. Oss, the bridegroom's mother, is her sister-in-law's mother-in-law.

George Oss, of North Liberty street, who is the bride's father, becomes a step-grandfather to his son-in-law. And so it goes. . . . The family admitted that the relationship was quite a puzzle and said that a little time was needed to figure it all out.

The couple was married May 20 at Winchester, Va. After a visit to Harrisburg, Mr. and Mrs. Swartzwelder will reside in Cresaptown.

To Speak on Fair

Several illustrated talks on "How to See the New York World's Fair on a Limited Budget" will be presented by Harry R. Vogtman, faculty member of F.C. Hill high school, this week here and in neighboring towns. He will lecture at Bruce high, Westernport, today at 8 p. m., and at the Port Hill auditorium tomorrow night at the same time.

Giant Eagle Shot After Attacking Frog Hollow Girl

Child Escapes Unhurt Father Kills Huge Bird With One Shotgun Blast

A giant eagle swooped down, attacked a 13-year-old school girl, the yard of her Frog Hollow road yesterday afternoon, but the father shot the hungry bird with one blast from an ancient shotgun.

The girl, Dorothy May Stallings, a seventh grade pupil in the town school, was not injured. Children had been playing in the yard of the home just a few minutes before, however.

The eagle was shot by 64-year-old Raymond Stallings, whose flies on the Frog Hollow road, the game refuge and about two and a half miles off the Oldtown road.

Eagle Dives at Child

The eagle made its swoop in middle of the afternoon, Dorothy May was on her way to the yard to untie the family dog, which had been penned up while Stallings grandchildren were playing in the yard.

Suddenly the eagle dived at her, beating its heavy wings about her head. The girl screamed, and her father, who was nearby, cried to wife, "Quick, bring the gun, it's quick!"

Frightened by the cries, the eagle flopped off and landed in a yard. Mrs. Ella Stallings snatched her husband's single-barreled shotgun from behind the door of their story log home.

Shoots at Sixty Paces

The farmer grabbed it and fired up the road. At sixty paces the grouse-eagle, he stopped, fired. A shot through the eagle killed the eagle.

"I break wild turkey necks, eighty or ninety paces," said Stallings. "Now I've shot about everything there is, except a man, I've come near to shooting a cow of them."

The eagle measured six feet six inches from wing tip to tip, and weighed exactly six pounds. Its sharp talons were more than an inch and a half long.

"It would have weighed twenty-fourteen pounds if it had had wings to eat," said Stallings. "That was a hungry bird, to attack a person like that."

To Mount Bird

Curtis Moore, a neighbor connected with a CCC camp at Frederick, bought the dead eagle from Stallings for $1. He said he would take it to Frederick to be mounted, and then would add it to a wild life exhibition at the camp.

Dorothy May was wearing a bright red-and-white checkered dress, which it is believed attracted the eagle's attention to her. Three-year-old Paul Nazeiro had been playing in the yard a few minutes before.

Stallings used a Phoenix shotgun, which he said he has used for more than fifty years, which formerly belonged to his father, who was shot to death in a quarrel in Carter's store at Oldtown.

Second Instance

About a year ago, the story was told of a giant bird which attacked a child on an isolated farm near Little Orleans. At that time the bird was frightened away.

Deputy Game Warden William McKenzie identified the bird as Stallings shot as an "American eagle."

He said that small game is plentiful in the region and was lost to explain why the creature would attack a person almost grown.

Couple Unable To Wed Here Hurt in Wreck

Uniontown, Pa., June 4 (AP)—Collision of two automobiles, one of them a 1937 Packard, near the town of Summit Mountain near Port Saturday injured eight persons, including a young couple who planned to be married in Cumberland, Md., but were balked by a two-day waiting law.

The injured were Joseph V. Leech, 43, his wife, Evelyn 40, and their daughter Joan, 12, all of Leech City, Utah; and Mrs. Loretta Christenson, 43, of Ogden, Utah, passengers in one automobile; Donna A. Thomas, 18, Emil Leech, 20, and Mr. and Mrs. Michael Geibel, all of Weirton, W. Va., in another.

Leech and Mrs. Christenson employed by the Department of Interior and were returning to Washington. Marshall said he and Mrs. Thomas had planned to be married in Cumberland but learned that they would have to wait two days after making application for a license.

Mrs. Leech, whose left knee was fractured, and Miss Thomas, who was badly cut, were the only ones detained at a hospital for further treatment.

U. D. C. To Meet

McNeill Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, will meet at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the home of Mrs. John McMakin, 525 L. S. avenue, Cumberland residence eligible to join the U.D.C. are invited to attend.

Births

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hartman of Ridgeley, announce the birth of a daughter yesterday morning at Allegheny hospital.